Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, FEB. 19, 1880.

There have been four deaths in Chestertown during the last week.

The Town School cleared by the Philip Phillips entertainment the sum of $35, towards the organ fund.

Constable Jacoby requests us to state that he has not appointed a colored deputy, as reported in our local department last week.

Messrs. Kennard & Connolly have a preparation for cleaning glass, jewelry, silverware, &c., which they claim to be unsurpassed by any other preparation for the same purpose, to be found anywhere. It is a chemical compound, to which they have given the name of "Chromoline." We have tried it and found it to be as represented.

The Valentine market took a tremendous tumble on Saturday, so that six valentines could be purchased for a cent. The juveniles profited by the looseness of the market, and invested heavily. As it cost entirely too much money to send them through the P. O., they adopted the very original method of distributing them at doors.

Mr. John Ringgold, one of our oldest citizens, and for the past eighteen years toll-gate keeper at Chester river bridge in this town, on Thursday, after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Ringgold was a man of unquestionable integrity, and possessed the confidence and esteem of the entire community. He had attained to the advanced age of eighty years, six months and twelve days.

Philip Phillips according to announcement, made his appearance at the Court House last Friday evening. Quite a large and select audience was in attendance. Many of the selections sung were old and familiar. The singer would generally preface his songs with anecdotes illustrating the origin or application of the song. Those in attendance, for the most part, went away well pleased with the entertainment.

Delegates to Conference.—The following delegates, from Kent county, to represent their respective stations, in the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, which meets in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, March 10, have been recently elected:

Kennedyville—Delegate, Tilghman Shafer; alternate, William J. Hurlock.

St. James—Delegate, Robert Nicholson; alternate, Howard Meeks.

Chestertown—Delegate, Willard Melvin; alternate, William Vannort.

Baltimore Grain Market.—From the Sun, of Tuesday, we make the following quotations:

Southern Wheat is in demand, and the market is firm, with sales of common to fair Fultz at 1 46@$1 45, and prime long-berry at $1 55. No. 1 Maryland red sold at $1 55.

Southern Corn was firm and higher for white and steady for yellow; sales at 60@62 cents for white and 58@58½ cents for yellow.

Newspaper Purchase.—J. H. Emerson, editor of the American Union, published at Denton, Caroline county, has purchased, in connection with H. C. Conrad, the Wilmington Morning Herald. The name and politics of the paper will be changed, and next month it will appear as a Republican morning daily. Mr. Conrad is well known as a member of the New Castle bar and is at the head of the educational work in behalf of the colored people of Delaware. Mr. Emerson is a newspaper man of long experience, and a good practical printer.

Herrings.—Last year, some one gifted with wisdom as to the peculiar notions entertained by herrings concerning the state of the weather, reported that herrings were much in favor of having it cold, and last winter being cold enough even in our latitude, to satisfy the most exacting sort of a herring, it was thought that when the herrings once commenced to run, they would come with a rush. Somehow or other the herrings did not come with a rush. This winter we have had an altogether different sort of a winter. Any herring out in search of cold weather will not be likely to steer in this direction, but perhaps after all the man who originated that cold weather yarn about herrings was not as well acquainted with the herring as he thought he was.

The Kent Guards are to have a benefit supper next Monday evening, the 23d inst. The company has got somewhat behindhand with its finances, and takes this method of raising money to pay off what debts it may have incurred. The company has received liberal donations of pigs, turkeys, &c., and the supper promises to be in every way a success.

The company will engage in a target match on Monday, and the successful marksman is to be presented with a silver cup.

On Sunday, the 22d inst., the company contemplate going in a body to the M. E. Church.

The price of tickets to the supper is 50 cents, and it is hoped that those who wish well to the company will purchase a ticket, even though they cannot attend themselves. Ladies are especially invited.

Growth of Chestertown.—During last year there were quite a number of dwelling houses erected in Chestertown, and there promises to be quite as much, if not more activity in building, during this year than there was last. A new street has been opened on the right of High street, going out toward the depot, upon which three dwellings are about finished, three more will be commenced within a week or ten days, and eight other building lots have been sold, upon which the owners will probably build some time during the year—making in all fourteen new houses to be erected upon one street. There are, we understand, a number of dwelling houses to be erected in other parts of the town, and several buildings for business purposes.

A Great Religious Revival at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Galena, has been going on for nearly six week, and is of a more extended character than any similar meeting that has been held there for years past. Mr. and Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. Kenney, the well known revivalists, have been laboring there for the past few days, and will remain during the present week. People of all denominations, both white and colored, throughout the surrounding country, flock to the church every night. It is said that last Tuesday evening there was an attendance of at least seven hundred persons, a much larger number than the edifice would hold. The evangelists have been very successful.

A Grand Social Visit to the Parsonage was made, on Tuesday evening last, by a large majority of the members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chestertown. The visitors took with them all sorts of appropriate presents for the household and larder. The good things, also, as well as articles of utility, were provided in the greatest variety and abundance. The evening was spent in social enjoyment, and everything passed off delightfully. These social visits to the parsonage, on the part of the members and friends of the M. E. Church in this place are, we believe, annual occurrences; but the present, we are informed, was on a more extensive scale than any of its predecessors. To the faithful Minister of the Gospel such manifestations of the high esteem and affectionate regard of the members of his charge must be very gratifying; and no doubt they are not only highly appreciated but always pleasantly remembered.

Death of Col. George A. Hanson.—After a lingering illness of several months, Col. George A. Hanson died at his home in Chestertown, on last Friday evening, at seven o'clock. Colonel Hanson was the son of Col. A. B. Hanson, and was born in the upper part of Kent county, near Sassafras, where he resided until about eight years of age, when he removed with his father to Frederick city, where he studied law, and spent the greater part of his after life. About 1871 Col. Hanson returned to Kent county and purchased "Radcliffe Hall," near Chestertown. After residing here a few years, he disposed of the estate and went to Baltimore to live. In 1877 Colonel Hanson again returned to Kent county, and purchased the Chestertown Transcript in July of that year. In May 1878, he disposed of the Transcript, and devoted himself to the practice of law. Colonel Hanson was author of the work entitled "Old Kent," and was in 1876 a member of the Maryland State Centennial Board. At the time of his death he was in the fiftieth year of his age.

Orphans' Court, TUESDAY, Feb. 17, 1880.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

On application of Chas. H. Baker, administrator of Wm. Gale, he was authorized to sell the personal estate of said deceased at private sale.

On application of James B. Willson, executor of Henrietta E. Willson, the distribution of the proceeds of the real estate was postponed until Tuesday, the 24th day of February, 1880.

J. J. Hurlock, administrator of John S. Hurlock, returned his first administration account, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

Dr. Samuel G. Fisher, executor of Stephen Kendall, returned his first and final administration account, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

W. N. E. Wickes, guardian to Frank Wilkins, returned his guardian account for 1879, which was examined, passed and ordered to be recorded.

Mary M. Baker, guardian to John F. Hodges, Mary J. Hodges, and Wm. R. Hodges, returned her guardian account for the years 1878 and 1879, which was examined and passed as stated and ordered to be recorded.

A Visit to Baltimore will prove highly advantageous by inspecting Messrs. C. M. OEHM & Son's immense one price Clothing establisment, a grand assortment of Men's overcoats, ulsters and suits from $5 to $30 is now on exhibition, embracing all leading novelties for the present season. Their handsome boys and childrens overcoats, ulsters and suits for school and dress at $2.50 and upwards are the delight of the little folks. Genuine low prices for well-made garments is their motto, and we advise every one before purchasing to call on C. N. OEHM & SON 230 W. Pratt St.

DYEING.—The old dyeing establishment branch office, 110 West Baltimore street, is as ever, prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, with neatness, cheapness and dispatch. The superior character of their work enables them to please the most fastidious, and save the frugal many a dollar. The attention of our lady readers is specially called to their Balto. Branch office.

A GOOD NEWSPAPER

Is the CHEAPEST LITERATURE.

It is a remarkable fact that the general appreciation in prices consequent upon the revival of prosperity throughout the United States finds an exception in the cost of literature of every kind. This is emphatically an era of cheap literature, and newspapers, after all, are the cheapest of literature. A journal like the Philadelphia Weekly Times, the fifty-two numbers issued in a year being equivalent to several octavo volumes, is easily within the reach of the most depleted purse. The Weekly Times is a newspaper, but something more than a newspaper.—While all the news of the day is fully covered by special correspondents stationed at all the great centres of population, and all other approved agencies for the collection of news are employed, equal pains are taken to occupy other fields of intellectual activity. Fiction, poetry, sketches of travel, adventure and biography, essays in popular science, the latest aspects of modern thought, are given adequate treatment from week to week. All topics of political, commercial, religious, social and general interest are fearlessly discussed in the editorial columns; the critical departments, musical, dramatic and literary, are in competent hands; matters of domestic economy have special attention, and the press of all countries is made to pay tribute in its best things for the entertainment of American readers. These assertions are broad, but they are justified by the nearly unanimous verdict of the press and people that the Philadelphia Weekly Times is the best family newspaper now published. In calling attention to the remarkably liberal terms which are offered to subscribers for the year 1880—a year that is likely to be memorable in American history—we feel that we are doing good service to all who wish to enjoy during that year the visits of a newspaper which, while having all the characteristics of the advanced journalism of the day, is so thoroughly imbued with a wholesome spirit that it may be admitted into any family with certainty that it will become a favorite alike with father, mother and children. The Weekly Times is now offered at $1.25 per copy when sent in clubs of twenty, and for $6 three copies together with "The Annals of the War," a volume of 800 pages, beautifully illustrated, are sent postage free to any address.

The World for 1880.

DEMOCRATS everywhere should inform themselves carefully alike of the action of their party throughout the country and of the movements of their Republican opponents. A failure to do this in 1876 contributed greatly to the loss by the Democracy of the fruits of the victory fairly won at the polls.

The year 1880 promises to be one of the most interesting and important years of this crowded and eventful century. It will witness a Presidential election which may result in re-establishing the Government of this country on the principles of its constitutional founders, or in permanently changing the relations of the States to the Federal power. No intelligent man can regard such an election with indifference. THE WORLD, as the only daily English newspaper published in the city of New York which upholds the doctrines of constitutional Democracy, will steadily represent the Democratic party in this great canvass. It will do this in no spirit of servile partisanship, but temperately and firmly. As a newspaper THE WORLD, being the organ of no man, no clique and no interest, will present the fullest and fairest picture it can make of each day's passing history in the city, the State, the country and the world. It will aim hereafter, as heretofore, at accuracy first of all things in all that it publishes. No man, however humble, shall ever be permitted truly to complain that he has been unjustly dealt with in the columns of The World. No interest, however powerful, shall ever be permitted truly to boast that it can silence the fair criticism of The World.

During the past year The World has seen its daily circulation trebled and its weekly circulation pushed far beyond that of any other weekly newspaper in the country. This great increase has been won, as The World believes, by truthfulness, enterprise, ceaseless activity in collecting news and unfaltering loyalty to itself and to its readers in dealing with the questions of the day. It is our hope and it will be our endeavor that The World's record for 1880 may be written in the approbation and the support of many thousands more of new readers in all parts of this Indissoluble Union of Indestructible States.

COPY OF ORIGINAL TESTIMONIALS.

Baltimore, Jan. 31, 1879.

MR. J. S. KNAPP—Sir:—I have made a thorough test of the London Food and recommend it to the public as a good Improvement Food for horses. I will use it in preference to any condition powders I know of.

[They have 390 head of horses.]

Respectfully, R. PRICE,

Supt. of Citizens Line Street R. R.

Carrollton, Feb. 11, 1879.

Carroll county, Md.

JOHN S. KNAPP—Sir:—Having used the London Horse and Cattle Food on both my horses and cows, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a good condition food for the horse and a profitable condiment for cattle, as it will cause cows to give more milk and make at least 20 per cent more butter than any condition powders I ever used. Hoping this will induce my friends to try it, after which I am convinced they will bear the same testimony as to its merits as I do.

Yours Respectfully,

March 6, 1879. JACOB M. HOFF.

VOSHELL HOUSE.

THE UNDERSIGNED takes this method of tendering his heartfelt thanks to his old friends and the public generally for the liberal support and sympathy so generously extend to him under the recent adverse circumstances by which he has been surrounded, and takes great pleasure in informing them that the house, in a few days, will be in first-class condition, the repairs and improvements thereto being made under his own supervision.

THE STABLING,

which is commodious and in excellent condition, is now under his control, and those entrusting their horses and carriages to his care may rest assured that they will be faithfully attended to by trusty and experienced hostlers.

as heretofore, will always be found supplied with substantials and delicacies of the season, and will be under the experienced management of his wife, who will see that no pains are spared to make it, in every respect, first-class.

With the fixed purpose of leaving nothing undone on my part which will conduce to the comfort of my guests, I respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

JOHN C. VOSHELL.
