Chestertown Transcript.
THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1880.

Wheat Harvest, it is thought, will commence about the fifteenth of June.

The Rain of Saturday and Sunday has freshened up the growing crops.

Primaries.—Next Saturday is the day for the primaries in Kent. Read the political notice at the beginning of our opposite page.

Festival at the Catholic Church in Chestertown next Tuesday and Wednesday. Bountiful provision made for the reception of the public.

Ice.—The failure of the ice crop in our latitude last winter, has rendered ice exceedingly scarce this season. William Perkins, of the Rising Sun Saloon, has imported a cargo from up North.

Mrs. Kate Gill in another column, to-day, calls the attention of our lady readers to her new stock of seasonable millinery, fancy goods, ladies' slippers, etc.

Mr. J. R. Beck presented the TRANSCRIPT office, last Tuesday, with a couple of baskets of very fine strawberries,—fine in size and fine in flavor. Mr. B. will accept our thanks.

Hot.—Yesterday and Tuesday the thermometer struck into the nineties. As the thermometer went up, shirt collars went down, and a cool breeze and a shady place were at a high premium.

The Sunday School Centennial will be observed in the M. E. Church in this town, next Sabbath. Services appropriate to the occasion both morning and evening. The public are invited.

The M. P. Sunday School, of Centreville, will have an excursion to Annapolis, on Friday the 4th of June. The steamer will leave Chestertown at 7:30 on that morning and stop at all the wharves on the route.

In Season.—Soft crabs, green peas, crampcolic, ice-cream, strawberry festivals, gallant young men, Sunday School excursions, pic-nic parties, sun-strokes, shady groves, rippling streams, mosquitoes, red-hot people, perspiring people, and profanity.

A Rifle Team of twenty men (says the Annapolis correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, of Monday,) has been selected from the Governor's Guards to shoot with the Kent Guards, at Chestertown, on the 9th of June, in a competitive target practice.

Strawberries and Cherries, the latter in small quantities, however, have been in market this week. Strawberries are abundant, of fine quality, and sell at a reasonable price. The rains will make the plants more productive and also increase the size of the berries.

A Fair and Festival, at the Town Hall, by the ladies of the Methodist Protestant Church, will be held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and night, 28th and 29th instants. The ladies expect to make it the best and most attractive affair of the kind that they have ever undertaken. See advertisement.

Centennial Anniversary.—The Methodist Protestant Sunday School of this town, will hold appropriate centennial anniversary exercises, next Sunday afternoon. The altar will be decorated with flowers, and the children will recite some appropriate selections. The exercises will be interspersed with good singing.

A Show, consisting of a four-legged chicken, an educated pig, and other remarkable curiosities, was open to seekers of the marvelous in Chestertown the latter part of last week and the first of this. It has now removed to Centreville, and has doubtless succeeded ere this in increasing the wisdom of the youth of that town.

Subscription Bills.—We send out this week quite a number of back subscription bills. Our friends will please not forget to give us a call and square up. Though each bill is small, yet in the aggregate they make a very respectable amount. A few of our patrons have allowed their bills to run for two years, and will therefore find the amount doubled on them.

Hymenial.—Dr. W. Frank Hines, a popular young physician of Chestertown, was last week united in marriage to Miss Mollie Emory, formerly of Chestertown, but latterly of Queen Anne's county. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's P. E. Church, Centreville, by Rev. James A. Mitchell. Many friends of the bride and groom from Kent, Queen Anne's and Baltimore, were in attendance.

Rasin's Line to Tolchester commenced running last Thursday with a new and pleasant-riding vehicle and a good pair of horses, and will continue during the season, making connection with the steamer "Pilot Boy" morning and evening, and also furnishing through tickets at reduced rates. Rasin's line affords, also, a pleasant and cheap opportunity to visit the Park and Beach.

Baltimore Grain Market.—The Sun of Tuesday says, Southern wheat is in good demand, and the market is firm at 1 25a$1 28 for Fultz and $1 30 for long-berry. No. 1 Maryland red is quoted at 1 30a$1 31. Southern corn is easier for white and firmer for yellow. The sales are at 54 cts. for mixed, 55a56 cents for white, and 54¼a54½ cents for yellow. Maryland Oats sold at 42a44 cents, the latter for choice light. Rye is nominal at 95 cents per bushel.

An Old Horse.—Last Tuesday afternoon, the photographers, Messrs. Horning & Davis, took a large size picture of a gray mare, now over thirty years old, the property of Mr. V. B. Hendrickson. The animal has been a very useful and faithful creature, always kind and gentle, and was the first horse Mr. Hendrickson ever owned. The old mare is quite a pet with Mr. H., and he had his two little sons, George and Percy, seated on the animal's back when the photograph was taken. It is a very good picture, and will be handsomely framed.

Tolchester.—This noted summer resort was thrown open to the public last Thursday, very much enlarged and greatly improved in many respects. From the pavilion on a bold knoll at the water's edge a grand view of the Chesapeake Bay is presented, the enjoyment of which is, alone, worth double the cost of a visit. The cool shady walks through the Park, the pavilions, beautiful flower beds, and the refreshing breezes from the bay, all combine to render Tolchester a delightful place of resort. The steamer "Pilot Boy" has been thoroughly renovated, the main saloon has a new and handsome carpet, and the boat has an abundant supply of comfortable seats. Mr. Eliason gives his personal attention to the running of the boat and is untiring in his care for the comfort and safety of the passengers. Mr. Lloyd, who was so popular with our people last season, is again in charge of the park and beach. Last summer Tolchester was very largely patronized, but the indications are almost unmistakable that during the present season its popularity as a summer resort will be much greater. See advertisement in another column.

A Fracas at Morris' Station.—On Monday of Whitsuntide holidays, two men from the Blackbird Delaware forest, named respectively Culley and Darrell, got into a fracas at Morris' station, in which the former badly cut the latter. It seems that the two were in partnership in the sale of whiskey to the darkies who had assembled at the station on that day, and that they also partook of the beverage pretty freely themselves, until they got into such a jovial humor as to be possessed with a desire to punch each other's heads. Culley got the worst in the punching process, and commenced operations on a different system by using a jack-knife. He stabbed Darrell in the back, and broke the blade of his knife off in the wound, where it remained until removed by Dr. Carroll of Sassafras. Culley seems to be a pretty desperate sort of a fellow. Constable Jacoby has had a writ for his arrest for some time, for cutting a man last fall; and a few weeks ago, this same Culley while on a visit at the house of Joseph Morris at Morris' Station, got into an altercation with Morris, and fired a pistol twice in Morris' house, breaking a looking-glass and doing other damage, and when Morris attempted to drive him out with a stick, he drew a knife and threatened to cut him.

Orphans' Court, TUESDAY, May 25, 1880.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Wilson.

Cornelius J. Scott, administrator of James B. Hance, deceased, returned inventory and appraisement of personal estate, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Aug. L. and Samuel Vannort, administrators of E. Adams Vannort, filed their releases from Wm. J. Vannort, J. H. Simpers and Mary A. H. Simpers, which were received and ordered to be recorded.

Thomas Gale and John N. Usilton, executor of John Gale, filed their releases from Mrs. Sarah A. Gale, John Gale and Wm. R. Gale, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

BASE BALL.

[COMMUNICATED.]

A lively game of base ball occurred on May 15th, between the Blue Stocking Nine of Washington College, and the Pomona Nine of Quaker Neck, resulting in an overwhelming victory for the former, by a score of 45 to 17. Some positions were played admirably on both sides, especially the catcher's on the side of the Pomona, and the left fielder's and pitcher's on the College Nine.

At Sudlersville, on May 22d, a match game of base ball was played between the Blue Stockings and Actives, which could not be finished on account of rain, the score standing, on even innings, Active 5, Blue Stockings, 16. The Blue Stockings extend their thanks for the excellent repast prepared for them by the Sudlersville boys.

A match game of ball will be played between the Quicksteps of Galena, and the Blue Stockings, on the grounds of the latter, on Saturday next. The Blue Stockings have an engagement with the Active, the latter part of next week, on the College Grounds. The public are invited.

RICHTER.

DOWN IN KENT.

In company with a friend, we recently journeyed by carriage from Middletown to Chestertown, Md., and we can say, without hesitation, that we have never seen a more beautiful and fruitful appearing country than that through which we passed. Through a small portion of the very garden spot of New Castle county, Del., across an end of the far-famed "Sassafras Neck," in Cecil, and down through Old Kent, we saw only scenes that would charm the eye even of the agriculturist from the very gardens of the most widely lauded West. On either hand, one sees broad fields of waving wheat, looking at a distance like the ocean's billows, and alternated with thrifty orchards hanging with clusters of little peaches that promise the grower an abundant crop and a full purse. And then the brown corn fields, as smooth as a table, showing straight and regular rows of green just peeping above the ground, adds new charms to the rural landscape. For nearly the whole distance we traveled we found the road skirted with thrifty and well trimmed osage hedges.—The farm houses, usually standing well back from the highway and half hidden by the foliage of many shade trees, look like the abodes of plenty, peace and happiness. The out-buildings, though frequently not pretentious, are neat and well painted and the impress of the thrifty and progressive farmer is seen about the surroundings of almost every rural home in this most favored section of our healthful and fruitful Peninsula. A number of villages dot the way, some old and time worn, others young and hopeful of future growth. The fame of some is fast passing away, while their larger neighbors attract the trade that in former years made them widely known as thrifty business centres. One of the glories of the Peninsula is her churches. In Old Kent the traveler will see many neat and substantial houses of worship standing near the wayside and embowered in a grove of grand old trees. Here the people for miles around gather of a Sunday morn to worship, while the tuneful birds in the trees send forth joyous songs, and the perfume-ladened air from the flower-clad fields floats in at the open windows of the sanctuary.

Chestertown, our objective point, was reached, about noon, and he who enjoys a good dinner could not reach Chestertown at a more seasonable hour. The county seat of Kent makes no pretentions to being a pretty town, but she can boast of her age, she can point with pride to the noble river that flows past to the broad Chesapeake, she can show you a house in which the Father of his Country stayed all night, and her people can beat the whole world making an oyster pie. The town overflows with that old time Eastern Shore hospitality, that is proverbial with all who know the Eastern Shore, and she can show more babies to the square yard than any other town on the Peninsula. "Crescite et Multiplicamini," says the great seal of the State of Maryland, and that's what Chestertown is doing. She knows that latin phrase wasn't put there for nothing; she knows it means something. Of the public buildings the court house is the most notable. It stands on high ground, near the centre of the town, with a sloping green, shaded by thick foliage of maples, in front. We envy Chestertown this green. It looked so cool and inviting upon the sultry day that we saw it, we had half a mind to steal it and bring it to Middletown. Ah, that green! how pleasant to look upon, and how enticing to a man who has nothing to do, and is tired, and wants to sit down and rest.—Chestertown is well supplied with churches, two of which, the M. E. Church and the Catholic house of worship, are of recent construction, both showing much architectural taste. A Town Hall, the want of which has long been felt, is soon to be built, and we were much surprised to hear that it was going to be a wooden structure.

In company with brother Sullivan, of the Transcript, we viewed the water front and walked over the bridge that spans the Chester, as the connecting link between Kent and Queen Anne's. This is the favorite evening promenade of the young folks who go off in pairs to talk about the National Debt, the Geneva Award, and similar subjects. It is a toll bridge, and upon these evening promenades the young men probably always take toll from the lips of their companions, but the man that sits at the gate don't take this kind of toll, we have been told. He charges twenty-five cents (hard money) for single teams and five cents for foot passengers. No charge for promenading, and one can walk over to Queen Anne's and back as often as one pleases without paying a cent. But, as we said before, there is a good deal of toll collected on these evening promenades.

We found Messrs. Horning and Davis, the photograpers, who are well known to our Middletown people, pleasantly situated in their car. They look as large as life, (particularly Mr. Davis) and were glad to hear from their old friends.—They are not going to Tolchester this summer. They had a little set to with a Tolchester chill last summer and the Tolchester chill was the best man, though it had a couple of weighty subjects to shake up and our friends don't wan't to do it any more.

Chestertown is reported healthy, though it is abundantly supplied with drug stores, and several new ones about to open. The county has a "local option law," and no houses are licensed to sell liquor. If a man wants a bottle of whiskey for snake bites, he has to send to Baltimore for it or get a prescription for a doctor in order to obtain it from a druggist. This is a slow and unsatisfactory way of getting relief from snake bites, and those liable to snake bites, it is said, prepare for the worst by always carrying a prescription in their pocket.

Upon the whole, we were most favorably impressed with the county seat of Kent and her good people. Her citizens seem to be enterprising, and the town appears to be marching on, and it has two excellent newspapers that are liberally encouraged by the people of the county. The town might spare a few hundred dogs, though, and not miss them to any great extent. Byron said:

"'Tis sweet to hear the watch-dog's honest bark," but Byron never stayed a night in Chestertown. If he had, he would have heard more "honest bark" than he wanted. We never heard so much "honest bark" before, in one night, as we did in that town. We may not like "honest bark" as well as Byron did. Tastes differ, but it isn't our fault.

As we said before, we never found more hospitable people than those of Chestertown, but one treat we had promised ourselves failed to come. We fully expected that the brass band would turn out and serenade us. We had a speech all ready prepared, which must now be laid away for another occasion. We have been good to that band. We have mentioned it time and again, and now when it had an opportunity to pay its obligations, it didn't embrace it. But we forgive it.—Middletown Transcript.

LITERARY REVIEW.

Eclectic Magazine.—The steel engraving in the June number of the Eclectic, just out, is a fine portrait of Anthony Trollope, of whose life and work the Editor gives in the letterpress a brief but appreciative sketch. The initial article of the number is a very striking paper by Dr. Carpenter on "The Deep Sea and Its Contents," describing the results achieved and the problems solved by the recent Challenger Expedition around the world. This is followed by a caustic and very able paper on "Metternich," by Dr. Karl Hillebrand; and this in turn by Mr. James Payn's little essay on "Sham Admiration in Literature," which has provoked so much discussion both in this country and in England. Perhaps the most remarkable paper in the number is one entitled "Backsheesh," in which an Englishman describes the processes of bribery and corruption by which he secured a "Concession" from the Turkish government; and scarcely less interesting is an English lady's "Letters from Constantinople." Other noteworthy papers are "Days in the Woods," (describing moose-hunting in Nova Scotia,) by the Earl of Dunraven; and a number of other excellent articles. The editorial departments are as usual well filled with interesting news in literature and science.

Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single number 45 cts; trial subscription for three months, $1.

Scribner's Monthly.—The catholicity of SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY is well illustrated by the June number, which must certainly appeal to a wide range of literary tastes. For lovers of light reading there are papers on "Rocky Mountain Nights;" "Spring Hereabouts;" "Thackeray as a Draughtsman;" "Life in Florence;" "My Friend, Mrs. Angel." The current political interest is appealed to by H. J. Raymond's journal of "The Philadelphia Convention of 1866," and Henry King's picturesque sketch of "A Year of the Exodus in Kansas," and indirectly by Principal Grant's third paper on "The Dominion of Canada," dealing with its political and social history in an interesting and able manner. There are other papers of more solid and of a curious interest. The departments contain many articles of special or timely interest."

The June St. Nicholas is a splendid number for the young people to begin the summer on. Mr. Daniel C. Beard tells the boys (and girls too), in an article with more than twenty pictures, just how to camp out,—how to select the ground, build a hut, make ovens, easy-chairs, tables, and everything down to rustic knives and forks. There is a paper descriptive of the Children's Aid Society's summer home at Bath, L. I., with sketches by Jessie Curtis; and there are continuations of Noah Brooks's serial base-ball story for boys, "The Fairport Nine," and of Miss Alcott's charming "Jack and Jill;" an entertaining description of the Rosetta and Moabite stones; "The 'West Wind's' Last Cruise"; and many more things to delight the boys and girls. The price of St. Nicholas is 25 cents a number, $3 a year. Scribner & Co., New York.

Two Interesting Matters.—That all Village families, and many city residents, will find health, comfort, great economy, and profit in keeping their own cow, and how to do it, are clearly shown in the American Agriculturist for June; and every family should get this paper and look into it. Another article brings out a simple, cheap method of using iron fence posts that will be worth millions to the country. These two chapters, with the hundred other practical, instructive articles, and over 60 original engravings, make this the most important number ever issued of this always valuable Journal. 15 cents a number, $1.50 a year. Orange Judd Company, Publishers, 245 Broadway, New York.

The Leaders of Fashionable Dress and Low Prices.—C. N. OHIM & SON, proprietors of the largest one-price double Clothing House, Baltimore, now occupy two entire three-story buildings with their splendid stock of Men's, Youth's, Boy's and Children's Clothing. Having bought and manufactured their entire stock before the great advance of woolens, they are selling great bargains in every department for spring and summer wear, which none can afford to overlook. We feel it our duty to call the attention of our readers to this truly famous and reliable establishment, corner of Pratt and Hanover Sts. No one in need of clothing, ready-made or made to order, should fail to call on OHIM & SON and see the low prices at which the most choice and perfect fitting garments are selling.

M. B. Roberts' Horse Powders have been used with astonishing results in the stables of Mr. Pierre Lorillard, so much so, that the Englishmen have been ordering it in large quantities; since Parole, Wallenstein and other American horses, have won thousands of dollars for their owners.

No more sick Chickens. Save your poultry and cure them of disease, by using Roberts' Poultry Powder. It has never failed to cure Cholera, and all diseases to which fowls are subject. Price 25 cents per package.

How often do we hear the remark: O, he only took a slight cold at first, and he thought it would go as it came! He took nothing for it, and it fastened on his lungs, and now he is in the last stages of consumpeion. Prevention is better than cure. Sine's Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Lung Affections. It has a reputation of over 40 years. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Your druggist has it.

A life of torture is often endured by the rheumatic; their pangs may, however, be relieved by the use of the old reliable remedy, Roberts' Embrocation. Sold over 50 years. No mushroom growth, its reputation excels all other remedies. Price 35 cents per bottle. Try it just once.

Mothers, before giving your little babe cough or croup medicines, remember that Sines' Syrup of Tar, Hoarhound and Wild Cherry, is the only cough preparation that contains no opium, morphine, nor any other narcotic.

To make a good broil; leave a letter for one of your old sweethearts where your wife can find it: and to avoid any bodily injury have a horse ready saddled that has taken Roberts' Celebrated Horse Powders. Price 25 cents per package.

Sines' Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound is very pleasant to the taste, and the oldest and best remedy in the market for coughs and colds. A splendid medicine for the baby. Try it. For sale by all druggists.

Chicken cholera and gapes can be cured with M. B. Roberts' Poultry Powder. Try it and be convinced.

KENNARD & Co's "Sterling Phosphate,"
$23.00 CASH or $25.00 TIME.
—:O:—
HAVING been used with such great success last Spring on Corn and Vegetables, we have enlarged our Factory, added new and improved machinery thereto and again offer it to the farmers with every confidence in its great worth. We also announce the fact that our capacity will enable us to fill promptly and without a failure, all orders for our goods.
The following are a few of the many testimonials as to the benefits derived from the use of the "STERLING PHOSPHATE" last Spring:

Chestertown, Md., February 21st, 1880.
Dear Sirs: Your Phosphate that I used on my corn last Spring, gave me great satisfaction. I also used your wheat Phosphate last Fall, it is now looking as well as other phosphates on the same land at a higher figure. I expect to use your goods next Spring.
Yours truly, COMEGYS BROWN.

Chestertown, February, 1880.
KENNARD & Co.: In reply to your question regarding the action of your Fertilizer, I will just state that I have only tried it on sugar beets. I applied it to my beets last Spring, putting it in the drill before I planted the seed, and notwithstanding the unfavorable circumstances to which the beets were subjected, the yield was far ahead of my most sanguine expectations.
Yours, &c., I. C. TAYLOR.

Chestertown, Md., March 5th, 1880.
MESSRS. KENNARD & Co—Gentlemen: I used your Phosphate last Spring on my corn; applied it at the rate of one handful to three hills, and where I put it the yield was about twenty-five bushels to the acre, and where I did not put any the yield was about ten bushels to the acre. On a portion of the same land I applied barn-yard manure, and the result was about twelve bushels to the acre. Where I used your stuff, the ear was large, well filled and I could not find a worm in a hundred ears, the grains were large and close together. Where I did not use the Phosphate a great many ears were wormy and poorly filled. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will use more this Spring.
Truly Yours, GEORGE W. LONG,

We also keep on hand at all times a full line of Pure Dissolved and Raw Bone and other Chemicals for manipulating, and respectfully invite the farmers to procure our prices before purchasing elsewhere.

OHIO CHILLED PLOW,
The Victor!
Read the Plowman's Opinion and Come and Purchase of KENNARD & CO.
Actual Results as compared with other Plows:
SYNOPSIS OF REPORT
OF JUDGES TO THE KENT COUNTY AGRICULTURAL CLUB.
The "OHIO CHILLED" plow was the lightest, and the "Advance" was the heaviest.
The "OHIO CHILLED" was 27.03 lighter to the cubic foot than the "Oliver Chilled," 33.57 lighter to the cubic foot than the "Roland Chill," and 169.08 lighter to the cubic foot than the "Advance."
and letters to and from plowman:

Chestertown, Md., March 6th, 1880.
J. E. NEWCOMB, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You having been selected, by the Judges, as plowman in the late plow contest held on the farm of Mr. Wm. Morris, Tuesday, the 2d inst., we would be pleased to have your opinion of the "Ohio Chilled" and "Imperial" plow, entered by ourselves. Respectfully requesting an early reply, we remain, Very truly yours, KENNARD & CO.

Worton Station, March 8th, 1880.
MESSRS. KENNARD & Co—Gentlemen: In answer to your question of March 6th about the plows tried at Mr. Wm. Morris's of which I was plowman, I will simply state to you what I said to the Kent County Agricultural Club this afternoon, that of all the plows I handled, viz: the Advance, Roland, Oliver Chilled, Ohio Chilled and Gibb's Imperial, that the Ohio Chilled and Gibb's Imperial as sold by you were the best that I have ever handled. I state this in justice to your plows, not being pleased with them at first, am glad to say I was agreeably disappointed.
Very truly yours, J. E. NEWCOMB.

We also intend carrying a full line of Agricultural Implements,
and are satisfied that it would be to the purchaser's interest to first examine our Stock and prices.
