Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, JAN. 5, 1882.

Ice for next summer is a possibility.

Mark it out, and write it over again 1882.

Mother Shipton is below par. We have yet got a world to live in.

The Fair by St. Dennis' congregation, is still open at Galena.

This year, 1882, begins on Sunday and ends on Sunday. Fifty-three Sundays.

The L. G. Cannon after this week, will lay off her trips until further notice.

The Tolchester line discontinued trips last Tuesday, and will not rsume till further notice.

Monday was general moving day. There was much changing around in town and throughout the county.

Some valuable stock is advertised by Mr. Wm. Ford, to be sold next Tuesday in Voshell House yard, Chestertown.

A change in the weather. Something like winter. Chester River was frozen over at Chestertown last Tuesday morning.

Joe Parsons, after luxuating on Chestertown oyster pie for a month, has returned to Middletown.—Middletown Transcript.

Sale of a Farm.—R. Hynson, att'y, has sold the farm of Wm. H. Lambert, in Quaker Neck, containing 120½ acre to R. H. Rouse for $5,250 cash.

All who are indebted to the Transcript or to the late firm of Sullivan & Woodall, will please settle as soon as possible, so that the affairs of the firm may be squared up.

Constables.—The County Commissioners have made the following appointments of Constables. No other applications were received: 1st district, Geo. W. Jacoby; 3d, Thomas J. Parsons; 4th, C. H. Davis, S. L. Rawleigh; 5th, J. Frank Wheatley, Nathan Voshell.

A Four-in-hand.—Mr. Wilkins Register created somewhat of a sensation last Saturday, by a four-in-hand turnout, to a light piano box buggy. He made several turns of the town, starting out at about half-past three, and finishing his trip at about five. Quite a crowd gathered in front of the Voshell House to witness the start, and gave Mr. Register and his blooded team a send off with cheers.

Memorial Services.—The M. P. Sabbath school of Chestertown held memorial services last Sunday afternoon, out of respect to the memory of S. E. Sullivan, who was a teacher in that school. Short and appropriate addresses were made by Revs. W. J. Nepier, T. L. Bowers, and Messrs. W. B. Usilton and J. W. Collins. A suitable selection was read by a young lady of Mr. Sullivan's class.

Baltimore Grain Market.—Last Monday was observed on change as a holiday. The latest grain quotations are of Saturday, the offering of Southern Wheat is too light to make a market, and the quotations are nominal at 1 40 a $1 42 for long berry and 1 35a$1 39 for Fultz. No. 1 Maryland red sold at $1 46. Southern Corn was active and firmer, but closed easy for white. The sales were at 70½a71 cents for prime dry white and 69a70 cents for off lots, and 68a68½ for dry yellow and 67½ cts. for off

A Chestertown Paper Mill.—There has been some talk, more or less definite, in and around Chestertown, of starting a paper mill, by a stock company and on a large scale. There is plenty of capital in and around Chestertown, and the manafacture of straw paper, is an industry that has local advantages that would seem to insure a good interest on capital invested. This is a great wheat growing county, and straw may be had in abundance, and comparatively cheap. It has been stated in the Easton papers that the paper mill recently established in Talbot county, had paid more than forty per centum net on capital invested, and that the mill had been worked constantly up to its capacity to fill orders. It manufactures straw board, principally.

Chestertown is admirably located for manufacturing industries, and if a paper mill were established, it would stimulate the starting of other enterprises. If employment were given to home people, and young men were encouraged to remain at home, Chestertown might soon become a thrifty, thriving, prosperous town.

Dewees and Wm. T. Hepbron were appointed to appraise the personal estate, and also to appraise the real estate of said deceased.

December 31, 1881.

EDS. TRANSCRIPT—A dastardly act was committed in lower Broad Neck on the night of Dec. 27th. Mr. Thomas A. Lamb was on his way home from the store in his neighborhood, between 7 and 8 o'clock; and, while opening his outer gate, he was attacked by some unknown person or persons, who cut a slit downward in the back of his coat and through his vest and then made their escape. Mr. Lamb's vision being impaired, he was unable to recognize who it was.

This is the second attack which has been made upon him. Several weeks ago he was struck in the back of the head with some heavy object. Mr. Lamb is a deaf mute, and this fact adds to the wickedness of the attack.

He is a quiet, inoffensive man, and his friends are at a loss to discover a motive that would prompt the attack. It is presumed that both acts were perpetrated by the same party, who should suffer the extreme penalty of the law.

IN MEMORIAM. AN ACROSTIC.

SAMUEL E. SULLIVAN.

So sudden and so soon! Oh, cruel Death!
Alas! thou comest in a day and hour
Most unexpected; like the fiery breath,
Unfolding in the swift and baleful power
Engenderd by the fierce Serocco's blast,
Leaving sad desolation in its track.
Each heart so rudely shock'd must stand aghast
Sorrow assume its own funerel black, * * *
Unto the sacred cross we turn
Lifting our aching hearts and eyes.
Lo! the blast changes! No more we mourn,
Insatiate Death itself now dies,
Vanquish'd by Faith. Love conquers now,
And guided to bright realms above,
Naught else he knows or feels but Love.

AMICUS.

A Fraternal Tribute to S. E. Sullivan.—To the heads of most of the Peninsula journals the late senior editor of this paper was very well known, and there have been many kindly expressions of regret at his unexpected death. The Middletown Transcript pays to his memory the following cordial tribute:

"THE sudden death of Mr. Samuel E. Sullivan, of the Chestertown Transcript, on Thursday of last week, must have caused a feeling of deep regret among Peninsular journalists. There was no more popular newspaper man than he between the bays, and to know him was to be his friend. He was a practical printer and loved his art. His first journalistic venture was the Centreville (Md.) Times, which he published for several years, but afterwards sold. He purchased the Chestertown Transcript about four years ago, and with Mr. Woodall, to whom he sold an half interest in 1879, greatly improved that paper, making it one of the best weeklies on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Sullivan was one of the writer's first journalistic acquaintances on the Peninsula and we knew him as a sincere friend, a gentleman and a christian. His rare social characteristics made him a pleasant companion and his presence at the meetings of our Peninsula Press Association was always greeted with delight by his brethren. Mr. Sullivan was an active member of the M. P. Church of his town and was especially interested in the Sunday School, in which he had a large and interesting class of young ladies. He had arranged to dispose of his interest in the Transcript on January 1st and to engage in farming in Queen Anne's county.

"NOTES BY THE WAY."

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS. THE UNCERTAINTY OF LIFE. SABBATH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT, &c., &c.

The old year, with its joys and sorrows, has gone. To all we wish a happy New Year.

The beginning of the new year is the time for new resolves. It is well that it is so, though few are ever kept. New Year resolutions are like those of the man on a fevered couch, when health and strength returns, they are forgotten. In health is the time for men to be thoughtful.

Many have been the changes since last new year. Friend after friend has gone. Homes have been made desolate; ties have been broken; alas! may be forever. It is a sad thing to think of the past. Our duty calls us to look to the future with hope and joy.

The death of Mr. Sullivan was a shock to his many friends in this section. Our deepest sympathies are extended to his family in their bereavement.

Still Pond M. E. Sabbath School held its Christmas festival last Wednesday evening. The Christmas carol sung by the school, the address on "Wagons," by Rev. J. B. Merritt, and the personation of "Old Chris" by Mr. G. W. Harper, were enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

The past year has been a tight one (financially) on most farmers. The light crop of grain, failure of the fruit crop and high wages, has made it difficult for farmers to meet their engagements. The prospect at present was never better for a good crop of wheat and fruit this year.

This day one year ago the mercury was 10° below zero, and the peach buds were killed.

The Still Pond Pool Club have erected a neat room for their table.

Kennedyville has a "Carambolette" table.

Dr. Jacobs is convalescing slowly.

Mrs. Lewis Hepbron is very sick.

I. Z. Clark is convalescing from a severe attack of neuralgia.

Theo, Butler, an estimable colored man of the Big-woods, died a few days ago, of cerebro spinal menengitis.

There has been more wild fowl in the river and bay this season than for many years. Sink-box gunners have been very successful.

Now is the time to petition the legislature for a game law.

J. C. Roseberry has opened a store at the head of Still Pond Creek.

The prevalence of small pox in this country should put people on their guard when travelling. Thorough vaccination is the only safeguard against this loathsome disease.

New Year, 1882.

LETTER FROM KENNEDYVILLE.

NEW YEAR'S CHANGES. THE ORGANIZATION OF A CAVALRY COMPANY. KENNEDYVILLE SWAINS IN TROUBLE. "ALL ON ACCOUNT OF ELIZA."

Kennedyville still exists, and is the same lovely lively place it hath ever been. With the New Year some changes have been made.

E. G. Benjamin, our telegraph operator and R. R. agent, leaves for New York this week. Who is to take his place is not yet known. Mr. L. C. Vansant goes to Galena. Henry Meredith builds a new house, the one he now occupies being taken by Ed. Young who also takes a charming young lady of the place, as permanent housekeeper. Peter Stevens, blacksmith, goes to Galena. J. M. Pennington takes the house now occupied by him. Josh. Vansant takes the house left vacant by Pennington. Josh. tried Phila., but had to come back to his old love, and now sings with right good will there is no place like Kennedyville. Our enterprising young men have organized a cavalry company with the following named officers:

H. C. Wallis, Captain; John Medders, 1st Lieut.; W. T. Jones' 2d Lieutenant; Garrett Foxwell, 3d Lieutenant; J. Horton Kelly, Surgeon; J. W. Holden, Orderly Sargent; John C. Rambo, 1st Sargent; John E. Willis, 2d Sargent; John Dumpsey, 3d Sargent; Myers Jester, 4th Sargent; Edward Sanders, 1st Corporal; Daniel Webster, 2d Corporal; John Jester, 3d Corporal; C. W. Rambo, 4th; A. G. Bartlett, Bugler.

The organization is quite large already, and is constantly receiving accession to its membership. H. C. Wallis, the Captain, is doing everything possible to make the undertaking a success, and under his excellent management the Kent Dragoons will no doubt prove themselves a credit to both their county and State. Dr. Jacobs is still improving and now has a fair chance of ultimate recovery. A party was held in the Hotel on the 27th at which there were quite a number of very pretty young ladies. The gentlemen were of course all handsome (save those who were not.) The evening passed off very pleasantly and every one seemed to have a good time. Our very efficient teacher, Mr. Taylor, has much improved the school since taking it under his charge. We do not know if he is proficient in astronomy or not, but as to gastronomy he is the most efficient exponent of that delightful science, we have ever had the good fortune to meet. The streets of our village still remain in a muddy condition, not as bad as they used to be, but worse than they ought to be. The valliant little warrior tecumseh is our principal champion against the grim destroyer, death, and has won in the past year, many a hard-fought battle. Uncle Jimmie has had a severe attack of christmas pneumonia, but is reported recovering. We hope his jolly red face may serve to illuminate many a dark day for us yet. There are several charming young ladies visiting the neighborhood from North, South, East and West. One from the sunny South, the Tuckahoe district, the scene of the poem Evangeline. We fear she will leave some heart-broken lads when she takes her departure. There is at this time of writing a fair prospect of getting some ice if the cold weather continues a short time longer. Those who intend filling houses should avail themselves of the first opportunity, for the first will likely be the last. There is some talk of starting a reading club in the village. It begins with two members we believe. Don't know if there is more to be admitted or not. Wishing you a happy New Year, and lots of prompt-paying subscribers I remain the same.

Dover, Del., claims to be inhabited by 1,000 dogs.

A Milford, Del., colored man shipped evergreens to "Mr. Philedelefy Pensilvana,"

Many of our exchanges celebrated Christmas with half sheets, and some celebrated with no sheets.

Eastern capitalists are negotiating for a ten acre lot, at Middletown, Del., upon which to build a plaque factory.

Congressman Covington went home to spend the holidays, and was confined to bed by a deep cold. He is getting all right again.

Noah Cuff, a colored man of Worcester county, was buried to the chin by the caving in of a well which he was digging. He was dug out without sustaining serious damage.

An apple, forty years of age, and slightly specked, has been added to the Elkton museum. This apple may doubtless be placed in the same catalogue with the old people that are always turning up, who knew George Washington when he was a small boy.

Smyrna, Del., is very much stired up, and a part of Smyrna at least is very indignant at a personal article that appeared in the Wilmington Morning News concerning the manner in which Wilmer B. Smith treated his deceased wife, while she was yet alive.

There is to be a contest over the will of the rich Mrs. Bourne, who recently died at New Port, R. I. She was a native of Caroline county, Md. She left a large fortune in Boston and New Port, and an estate in Caroline county valued at upwards of $100,000.

The burning of charcoal is an important industry of Sussex county, Del. It is burned from pine wood. Between one hundred and two hundred men are employed in the industry, and as many as five vessels, each carrying 10,000 bushels each trip, are continually employed in freighting the charcoal to New York city.

The town council of Easton, Md., has determined to obtain an act of Assembly authorizing the issueing of the bonds of the town to the amount of its outstanding indebtedness, $10,000, and also to get legislative authority to levy a special tax of 12½ cents on the hundred dollars of assessable property, to pay the interest on the bonds, and to provide for a fund for their ultimate redemption.

Col. Henry H. McComb, Delaware's richest man, died suddenly last Friday morning. He was a native of Wilmington, the son of a blacksmith, and started in life poor. He began business for himself as errand and roller boy in a newspaper office,—or in other words as a printer's devil. He afterward became apprenticed to a carrier, and learned that trade, and at the age of nineteen went into the leather business for himself. He was a hard worker in all his business undertakings. He got his start in the leather trade, but made his money out of railroad speculations. He was only fifty-three years of age at the time of his death, and leaves a fortune estimated at from three to five million dollars.

COAL HODS, SHOVELS and POKERS, At J. K. ALDRIDGE'S

NEW YORK SUN FOR 1882.

THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, but and little, mean and gracious, contented and happy. Republican and Democratic depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for mankind and womankind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1868 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN'S example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.

THE WEEKLY SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequal merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literature, with the best poets of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor—matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:

For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.
