Invitation.

Srangers are invited to visit oir store, when in Philadelphia, to leave packages there aid to make a convenience o it generally. It is a handy pace, right by the new City Hall, at the very center of the ciy. It answers our purpose tewelcome you, and to provie for such of your wants aswe can.

The store is about twice aslarge as it was two or thee years ago; made so by diging under ground and buding overhead, and by extetion on Chestnut street. Pts of the store are about asomfortable as any place ca be; and one of the most cofortable parts is now beingot ready for the rest and retshment of strangers.

ne of the pleasant things abit the store always has bei the fact that you can wa all over it, either alone or ith a guide, without ever beg asked to buy a thing. Wknow very well that most of ou come to us for a good sha of your supplies; why shdd we spoil your visit by intding goods upon your attion, when you come to sehe place?

It perhaps you are not cong to Philadelphia just no Very well; take a cooler ie. It's cool enough in theore, when you get here. Yoan write for any goods thayou may happen to wa and get them, probablyust as well as if you weon the spot. Any how, youknow, you can return whaver you get that you dolike.

V sell more sorts of thir than we can put into an ertisement. So, whateveou want, suppose you drois a line. We'll help youwe can.
