People who Make History.

Not long ago, we listened to an argument from a gentleman who was trying to prove that a certain other gentleman should be nominated to a certain office. Said the speaker, waving his hand gracefully above his head,—"I tell you, gentlemen, that Mr. —— has made history, and a man who makes history should be honored by the people." The argument was a new one to us, and since then we have frequently thought of it. What the speaker meant by "making history," was the doing of something or somethings that the records should deem worthy to bear down to future generations.

The argument "that makers of history deserve to be honored by the people" will not always, or indeed, generally, hold good. For instance, Chas. J. Guiteau was a maker of history, and his name will live as long as that of James A. Garfield. John Brown lit the torch that blazed into the great Civil War. He was hanged, but he made thousands of pages of history.

That makers of history always deserve honor of the people is, perhaps, a mistake, but that makers of history, if they escape hanging and the penitentiary, generally do receive honor is perhaps nearer true. And this would seem to be true of the scoundrels, as well as of the honest men, who make history. Secor Robeson, while secretary of the treasury under Gen'l Grant, squandered millions of dollars in a pretense of building the American navy. He left the navy in a worse condition than he found it, and there is almost indisputable evidence that he pocketed hundreds of thousands of dollars himself, and put millions in the pockets of jobbers who assisted him. In doing all this he made himself notorious, and made history. He was greatly talked about in the public prints, but he escaped the penitentiary. His notoriety, bad though it was, seems to have established him as a great man in the eyes of his party. He figured as the leader of his party in the last lower house of Congress, and he will probably go back to the next Congress and be the leader again. But to take, as a better illustration, a case nearer home, Richard Harrington, of Dover, Del., was tried, during the Grant Administration, for conspiracy to defraud the government. As in the case of Star-route Brady and Dorsey, the jury disagreed, but Harrington's criminality was as undoubted by the general public as is the guilt of the two notorious characters above mentioned. If Richard Harrington had not made a noise with his rascality, he would probably have sunk quietly into oblivion, but by his safe burglarly record, he made himself famous over the whole country,—he made history, and will henceforth and forever remain an historical character. Probably it is because he is a maker of history that his party in Delaware are disposed to honor him. Certain it is that Richard Harrington is at the front as the leader of the Republican party in that State.

One of the surest, indeed, it might almost be said the only, ladder to political success in this age is notoriety, and even a bad notoriety seems to be more popular than no notoriety at all. A man who becomes widely known as a fool, had as well go hang himself, but with any other sort of notoriety, it would seem, he can manage to make himself respected, if not respectable.

This doctrine, that making history, even though it be the dark pages of history, may win the respect of the world, should not lead any ambitious young man to become a disreputable history-maker as a method of success. He should remember that such history-makers sometimes get hung, and frequently take up in the penitentiary,—much more frequently than they get into Congress, or sit in the President's cabinet.

THE Democratic Congressional Convention met in Easton on last Thursday, and unanimously renominated the Hon. George W. Covington. All the counties in the district were represented, save Kent. What had happened to Messrs. Wm. H. Pennington, John F. Beeks and W. F. Baker, who composed our Kent delegation, that not one of them put in an appearance that day?

NEW YORK POLITICS.

THE REPUBLICAN SITUATION.

From the Albany Evening Journal, the leading Republican organ at the State Capital.

The future contains nothing more positively probable than the overwhelming defeat of Folger. The opposition to his candidature in the Republican party is something absolutely bewildering. Nothing like it has been seen in the past.

From the Utica Morning Herald, the leading Republican organ in Oneida.

Mr. Folger's letter is a disappointment and a sorrow. Because it is the broadest and most convincing argument of which the case admits, because it concentrates every consideration on which Mr. Folger himself believes the Republicans of New York must act in the coming canvass, it is the most eloquent protest against the action of the Saratoga Convention. It becomes the irresistible demonstration that they were right who declared that the Administration must keep its hands off of the canvass in this State, and that no man, however eminent, could render its dictation and its methods acceptable to the electors.

From the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, the leading Republican organ in Monroe.

Think of a man of Judge Folger's character and record compelled to denounce the dishonesty practised on his behalf, and at the same time constrained to stand by the results of that dishonesty, and gravely to balance the pros and cons of the antecedent frauds and the resultant duty! That he reaches the inevitable conclusion that he must accept the consequences does not render his humiliation less complete.

From the New York Times, Republican.

The Republican party of New York has received a blow in the house of its friends which is a purely gratuitous trifling with its strength, and which will do more than anything which has happened in the last ten years to diminish its capacity for growth, and to leave it without the sympathy or respect of those who looked to it as the exponent of political morality and the champion of administrative reform.

ON THE LATE hasty homeward flight from Philadelphia of Mr. Tug Wilson, famous as the man who declined to be knocked out by Mr. Sullivan in four rounds, it was carefully explained that he would return in October, to train for his projected fight with Mr. James Elliott. He was to bring back his wife and children with him, so that domestic ties might not wholly be broken during attention to professional business. But on arriving in England, it seems, he found himself an international hero, like Sir G. Wolseley or Sir H. Halford, and the incense of admiration for his accomplished exploits seemed pleasanter to enjoy than training for war and uncertain laurels. As Tug is reputed to have saved $5,000 for himself, besides what he earned for his employers during his brief transatlantic tour, he will probably reappear here after a time, with an increased appetite not only for those pecuniary sweets which he was wont to call sugar. Meanwhile, he may be writing a volume of travels in America, with a critical description of American institutions.—N. Y. Sun.

THE comet has brought thousands of North Carolina negro sinners to repentance. They regard it as a forerunner of the world's end, and are making their preparations accordingly.

THE JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

NOMINATION OF JUDGE STUMP.

The bitter and hotly-fought contest for the judicial nomination from Cecil, which resulted in sending a Cruikshank delegation to the Convention, which met here yesterday, did not end with the primaries in Cecil. Tuesday evening, not only the Cruikshank delegation put in an appearance from Cecil, but a large number of the personal and political friends of Judge Stump also came down to look after his interests. Outside the regular delegation, there were also numerous friends of Mr. Cruikshank.

Delegates and visitors were also present, on Tuesday evening, from Caroline, Talbot and Queen Anne's. The headquarters of the delegates was at the Voshell House, and up till 12 o'clock there were kept up many animated side discussions of the situation. As early as Tuesday evening, it was pretty evident to any who had doubted before, that the old bench would be nominated, as a whole, and on Wednesday morning, when the full delegation from Queen Anne's came in, the matter was settled beyond a doubt.

About nine o'clock on Tuesday evening, the Excelsior band took position in front of the Voshell house, and played several airs in compliment to the visitors. A large crowd soon assembled and Gov. Thomas was called for a speech. The Gov. responded by stepping out on the balcony, and making a short address. Constable was loudly called for, but refused to respond. W. H. Legg from Queen Anne's was then called for, and appeared upon the balcony and assured the listeners that the convention of Wednesday would nominate a bench that would take care of the property, the lives, and the wives and children of all there assembled.

Among visitors to the convention outside the regular delegates, we note the following:—Messrs. Thos. C. Cruikshank, A. Magraw, H. H. Stump, Isaac F. Vanandale, Dr. H. H. Mitchell, C. McCullough, C. Walmsey, J. M. Miller, G. W. Oldham, R. L. Thomas, W. T. Hammond, John S. Rossell, Thos. C. Crothers, D. F. Davis, H. D. Miller, Dr. R. C. Maker, H. S. Cowdon, Joseph Cowdon, W. Scott Price and John Piser, all of Cecil. From Caroline, Luther Gadd, clerk to county court, M. S. Machler of Caroline Democrat, George T. Melvin, Denton Journal, J. F. Dawson, Clinton Cook and M. H. Gray. From Talbot George Hadaway of the Easton Ledger, J. Frank Turner, clerk to circuit court, Col. Low, John W. Martin and W. R. Martin. From Queen Annes, P. B. Hopper of Centreville bar, W. Scott Roberts of the Centreville Record, W. W. and C. E. Busteed of the Centreville Observer and W. Hopper Gibson.

THE CONVENTION.

At twelve M., on Wednesday, the convention was called to order by M. deK. Smith, who appointed George H. Moore of Caroline county as temporary chairman. H. J. Hopkins of Talbot was appointed temporary secretary. On motion of John B. Brown, from Queen Anne's county, the chair appointed one delegate from each county as a committee on credentials and permanent officers, composed as follows,—Cecil, J. S. Wirt; Kent, Robert Nicholson; Queen Anne's, Dr. Washington Finley, and Talbot, Gen. E. F. Hardcastle; Caroline, H. F. Willis.

The committee reported as permanent officers G. H. Moore of Caroline county for president, and D. P. Davis, of Cecil, and Mordecai Price of Queen Anne's as vice-presidents, H. J. Hopkins as secretary. The following delegations were reported,—from Talbot, P. F. Thomas, E. F. Hardcastle, John W. Martin and H. J. Hopkins.

From Cecil, Albert Constable, Dr. R. C. Mickel, John S. Wirt and David P. Davis.

Caroline, George H. Moore, Enoch George and Dr. Willis.

Queen Anne's John B. Brown, Mordecai Price, Washington Finley and W. H. Legg.

Kent, James A. Pearce, Cornelius J. Scott and Robert Nicholson.

On the chairman announcing nominations as in order, Gov. P. F. Thomas rose, and in a short speech nominated John M. Robinson as chief judge, and Joseph A. Wickes and Frederic Stump as associates. He said that for nearly fifteen years the judicial bench of this circuit has been filled by these gentlemen, and that they have displayed not only sound legal learning, but have won for themselves names for purity integrity and fairness. He wished to see harmony prevail throughout the district, but he was but voicing the sentiment of the majority of the voters of the district, in naming these gentlemen as nominees. The Gov. was frequently interrupted by applause during his address.

The nomination was seconded by John B. Brown, of Queen Anne's. He said that he spoke, not alone for his delegation, but he voiced the people of Queen Anne's. In the past fifteen years, the legal learning, the thorough integrity, and the unswerving justness of all the three members who now compose the bench of this circuit has been demonstrated to the people of this district. For fifteen years they have been weighed in the balance of public opinion, and not found wanting. Under their jurisdiction, the rights, the property, and the lives of the people are safe. In nominating the old bench, we shall be met on our return home by the approval, "Well done, good and faithful servants."

When Mr. Brown took his seat, Constable, of the Cecil delegation, rose quietly and serenely. The hope of nominating Cruikshank had been given up before the Convention had assembled, but Mr. Constable had a few remarks to make, and he was evidently in a fine frame of mind for making them. For half an hour he held the attention of the whole house, while he presented forcibly Mr. Cruikshank's claims to the nomination in preference to Judge Stump. In reply to the argument, that in insisting upon the nomination of Judge Stump the Convention was not ingoring Cecil, but was acting in accordance with the demands of the people of the whole district, he supposed a case in which either Judge Robinson or Judge Wickes should die, and Cecil county should ask that in addition to Judge Stump, another member of her bar should be elevated to the judiciary. What, in that case, would the other counties say? Certainly, they would say, No. Cecil has already got one judge. But Judge Stump would be the judge of Kent, Talbot, Queen Anne's and Caroline. The people of Cecil had never asked for him. This convention proposed to force upon Cecil a nominee she had rejected. James A. Pearce followed Mr. Constable, seconding the nomination of the old bench. In replying to Mr. Constable's argument, that a candidate should be rejected because he had failed to carry his county, he supposed a case in which each judge had failed in carrying his county, but had carried the four other counties of his district,—then, according to Mr. Constable's logic, the nominating convention should reject the entire old bench because each one had failed to carry his own county, notwithstanding the fact that he had carried four other counties.

A speech endorsing the nomination of the old bench, was also made by W. H. Legg of the Queen Annes delegation.

The voting was by counties, and as Caroline was called first in order, she cast a solid vote for the old bench, John M. Robinson as chief judge. Cecil cast her four votes for Cruikshanks without voting for two other judges. Queen Annes cast a solid vote for the old bench and for John M. Robinson as chief judge, Kent voted for the old bench and for John M. Robinson as chief judge and Talbot also cast a solid vote for the old bench and for Robinson as chief judge. The secretary announced that 14 votes had been cast for John M. Robinson as chief judge and for Joseph A. Wickes and Frederick Stump as associates, and 4 for George W. Cruikshanks. John B. Brown made a motion that the nominations be made unanimous, but the Cecil delegation refused, and the chairman after announcing the nominees, declared the convention adjourned.

THE excuse that an Iowa young man makes for having engaged to marry two girls is that, knowing the fickleness of the sex, he supposed that one or the other would jilt him, and he wanted to be sure of a wife. But neither proved untrue, and, on his choosing between them, the rejected one brings a suit for damages.

Maria, Chills and fever, and Billious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills. Infallible remedy; never fails to cure the obstinate, long-standing cases where all other remedies had failed. They are expressly for malarious sections, in doses two kinds of Pills, containing a tonic, cathartic and chill breaker, sugar coated; containing no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually clean the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequaled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by Physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail, 25 or 50 cent boxes. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 Cents. Standard Cure Co., 114 Nassau Street, New York. For sale by C. F. Stam.

Attention, Kent Guards & Friends.

A military company in our community is a source from which much pleasure and benefit can be derived, and the Kent Guards, having won for themselves a reputation second to no other company in the State, it is very desirable to make the organization a superior one in every respect, and it has therefore been decided to call a meeting on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst., at 7½ o'clock, to which not only the present members, but all old members and those who are at all interested in the welfare of the Kent Guards, are cordially and earnestly invited.

All whose names appear upon the roll of the company, who are not present on that occasion, will no longer be considered as members.

All persons holding any uniforms or parts thereof, hats, caps, rifles, or other property, belonging to the military department of the State, and who no longer desire to remain members of the company, are hereby warned to return same immediately.

We hope to see many at our meeting, and that the result thereof will place the company far ahead of what it has ever been.

AS THE PAINTING SEASON
Is Now Upon Us
It Would be well to Consider:

FIRST—If your Buildings need Paint.

SECOND—What kind of Paint to use.

THIRD—Where To Buy.

The above are matters which demand your especial attention. I therefore ask you to kindly examine my stock. I am quite confident if you do I can convince the most credulous that my prices are low and my goods the

The Best Time

To buy Autumn and Winter Clothing at Oak Hall is at the first of the season, when the stock is full and before cold weather creates a rush of buyers. The woolen market is so short of good materials that the low prices with which we open will be the lowest of the season. One million dollars' worth of clothing and materials await your command. You are equally welcome for a $5 boys' suit or the most liberal custom order.

MONARCH.

C. W. KENNARD & CO., Manufacturers of Fertilizers and Dealers in all kinds of Fertilizing material.

Having removed our factory from Massey's to Chestertown, we are now prepared to furnish the above favorite Brands of High-Grade Super Phosphate for the coming season. These goods have been subjected to numerous critical tests, and in every instance have been Triumphant, and they stand to-day equal if not superior to any fertilizer made. This is no idle boast, it can be proved. They are dry, in perfect drilling condition and are put up in sacks of 167 lbs. each. Having all improved machinery and with unsurpassed facilities for handling and shipping either by water or rail, purchasers can rely upon receiving their goods promptly. We have retained a Warehouse at Massey's under the charge of Capt. L. M. Bean, and will keep constantly in store a full supply of our goods.

We have a High-Grade of Soluble Bone Phosphate and a full line of Fertilizing Chemicals of undoubted purity and all at exceedingly low prices.

A cordial invitation is extended to visit our factory and any information will be cheerfully furnished.
