—Clover seed this spring are at a figure that is depressing to the farmer.

—Wheat is not generally looking as well as it usually does at this season of year.

—The season could not have been more favorable than it has been so far, to the peach prospect.

—The Enterprise made her appearance this week in her remodeled state. Those who boarded her say that she is very handsomely fitted up.

—Joseph Morris, Sr., the father of Joseph Morris who was tried for murder by the Kent county court last fall, died a short time back while staying at his daughter's in Cecil county.

—Mr. N. C. Crow has purchased the store-house and dwelling on the corner of Kent and High Sts., from Mrs. T. B. Elliott for $2,000. The lot is 22 feet front by 104 deep. Mr. Crow already occupies the property.

—Mr. Wm. Ford, who lives near town, lost by accident on Wednesday of last week a valuable young mare. In attempting to jump a fence, she stuck a stake in her right breast and died in less than two hours. She was only five years old, and was valued at $125.

—Notice is given by the lighthouse board that a fog bell, struck by machinery, has been established on the west side of the lighthouse at Bloody Point Bar, Kent Island. During thick and foggy weather this bell will be sounded, giving one blow at intervals of 12 seconds.

—The Centreville Record states that last Thursday Mr. McWhorter, of Chestertown, lost his pocketbook near Pondtown containing $250. It was found during the day by Mr. John T. Newnam, who resides in the vicinity, and promptly returned to the owner. Mr. McWhorter insisted upon liberally rewarding the finder and gave him $25.

—Capt. Thomas Lee, an old and respected citizen of Chestertown, died very suddenly Wednesday morning of German measles. Capt. Lee had been agent for the Chester River Steamboat Company, at Chestertown, ever since the first starting of the company. He had the respect and esteem of all who knew him. The company will find it difficult to fill the place he leaves vacant as acceptably as it was filled by Capt. Lee.

—The Straw-board mill is doing full work every day, and is turning out upon an average 6 tons of manufactured material daily. It is quite an interesting sight to observe all the vast machinery in motion. The mill is manufacturing a No. 1 goods, which commands in the market $45 per ton. This is the lowest figure which a first-class article of straw-board has ever touched. The company hope for a reaction in the market.

—The Kent County Agricultural Club at its meeting last Monday discussed the army worm, and the damage which it does the wheat crop. Opinions differed as to whether the worm which appeared very extensively in Kent county before the reaping of the last crop, caused any considerable loss or not. Some of the debaters held that the worm did no damage whatever to the grain, others thought it caused a shortening of the crop, four or five bushels to the acre.

—The annual conference of the M. P Church met at Westminister, Md., yesterday. Mr. W. B. Usilton, delegate from the Chestertown charge, and the Rev. Mr. Hammond left for Westminister on Tuesday. Mr. Hammond has taken a very close hold upon his congregation during his stay at Chestertown, and there is a great unwillingness that he should leave, but the health of his family has been such that he thinks it best not to return. It is not known who will fill his place.

—Mrs. Susan Eliason, the wife of Mr. T. W. Eliason died suddenly, and without any apparent previous illness, early Thursday morning of last week. Mrs. Eliason was taken before daylight on Thursday with a difficulty of breathing but complained of no pain. She expired before a physician could be summoned. Dr. Perkins, the physician of the family is of opinion that death was caused by paralysis of the heart. The deceased lady possessed a geniality of nature that endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

—Janes' M. E. Church, colored, of Chestertown, has raised twenty-five dollars to help defray the expense of careing for the small-pox in Chestertown. The following is the letter to the town commissioners accompanying the donation:

CHESTERTOWN, March 3, 1883.

To the Honorable

THE BOARD OF TOWN COMMISSIONERS:

Having seen the great affliction that our beloved town has suffered from the small-pox, and the great expense that has been thrown upon it, we thought that the citizens, without distinction of color, should do something, be it so small, to assist you and the town to meet the great burden—and seeing that your Board has done everything that was in their power to alleviate suffering and keep the disease from spreading in the county—our pastor, Rev. G. H. Washington, and myself, considering this, brought the matter before our congregation, without any previous notice, and succeeding in raising the small sum of twenty-five dollars, which we take great pleasure in presenting to you in behalf of the members and congregation of Janes' M. E. Church.

Very respectfully, &c.,

G. H. WASHINGTON, Pastor.

WILLIAM PERKINS, Sec'y.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday, March 13, 1883—present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Wilson.

On application, S. E. Morris was appointed guardian to James Morris.

Wm. B. Usilton, guardian to Mary DeFord, returned his guardian ac't, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

H. Clay Lusby, guardian to Sam'l H. Lusby, filed his release from said ward.

A decree was granted to Marion deK. Smith to sell the real estate of Isaac Cotton, deceased.

An appeal was filed by Vickers & Rowley objecting to the decree granted to Marion deK. Smith to sell the real estate of Isaac Cotton, deceased.

PENINSULA ITEMS.

Seaford has a woman who shaves herself regularly.

An Elkton family last week had fresh ripe tomatoes, raised in a sitting-room plant pot.

A Wilmington firm is proposing to put up a telephone line down the State, providing enough subscribers at $54 per annum can be secured to justify the undertaking.

The Presbyterian Church of Smyrna, Del., has been purchased by the Catholics for $2,000 to be delivered June, the 15th next. The Presbyterians propose to build a new church.

A Milford, Del., young man got married, and paid the preacher $5 "for tying him." The next day he borrowed five dollars from the minister, and has not yet found it convenient to return the loan.

Senator Cavender introduced a bill last week in the Delaware Legislature to grant the Delaware railroad permission to curve the road towards Smyrna at points between Green Spring and Brenford.

A Milford correspondent of Every Evening writes: "A family in town lost a pet dog this week which was buried in a handsome walnut coffin. A few years ago this same family buried a pet dog in a walnut coffin, lined inside with white satin, which cost $16."

Fish Commissioner Hughlett expects to draw the water off his carp ponds at Easton this week. Persons wishing a supply of young carp for their fish ponds should address him at that place. He also has a limited number of brook trout for distribution, and will send small lots of both to persons free of cost except that of transportation.

An energetic movement is being made in Somerset county to elect representatives to the next legislature pledged to the doctrine of taxation of mortgages. The believers in the taxation of mortgages have gone so far as to distribute papers for the signature of voters, pledging not to vote for any candidate who is not pledged to sustain a bill looking to the taxation of mortgages. The Caroline Democrat says that such petitions are also being circulated in Caroline county.

A special meeting of the Delaware Game Protective Association was held at Dover on Monday of last week, President I. N. Mills in the chair and George Churchman, secretary. A resolution was adopted indorsing the bill now pending in the house, introduced by Mr. Lowe, substantially as it stands. A resolution was adopted appropriating $100 for the purpose of purchasing game fish for Delaware streams, and another asking the Legislature to make the close of the season for woodcock the same as for partridges.

A man, by name of Jesse Williams, who hailed from Canada and was bound for Smyrna, Del., with the avowed purpose of buying land, claims to have lost $7,000 in gold, while waiting for a train at the Philadelphia station. He went off with a stranger to take a drink and left his grip-sack in keeping of another stranger. The other stranger kept his $7,000 grip-sack too faithfully. The wealthy editor of the Middletown Transcript explains to those who have not been used to carrying around $7,000 in gold, that that sum would weight thirty-five pounds. He therefore doubts the truthfulness of Williams' statement.

Alfred Robinson, of Drawbridge, Del., started West about two weeks since for the purpose of buying horses and mules which he expected to sell in Delaware. He carried with him two drafts of $2,000 each on the First National Bank of Milford. One of these he attempted to realize upon at a Western bank, but its officials not being satisfied at the identification, refused to honor the draft. Placing it in his railroad guide, Robinson started for Cincinnati. While asleep on the train the buttons were cut from his coat, and the guide, with the draft, stolen, though a pocketbook containing the other draft, and placed beside the guide, was not taken. On learning of his loss, Robinson telegraphed the First National bank in Milford to stop payment. The draft endorsed by a party named Frost, was sent by an Indiana bank to New York for collection. It was not paid, and Robinson may not lose his money.

The meeting to organize a fruit exchange was held at Dover on Monday afternoon of last week, with J. G. Brown as chairman and D. P. Barnard, Jr., secretary. W. P. Corsa presented a copy of the constitution of the New York Produce Exchange for guidance. Wm. Dean, W. P. Corsa and J. G. Brown were selected a committee to draft a charter. The committee was directed to prepare a circular letter setting forth the object of the exchange. Nothing definite was agreed upon as to the cost of membership, but $25 was suggested. Chairman Brown in a speech said that if an exchange were established at Wilmington the growers could net twelve cents a basket on peaches, thus making them the most profitable crop grown. Those present were requested to talk the matter up among their neighbors and secure new members. The outlook is considered hopeful. The name of the association is to be the Delaware Fruit Exchange.—Morning News.

The Centreville Observer gives the following account of a shooting affray that recently took place in Queenstown: "On Friday last Messrs. Jacob H. Calloway and John O'Donnell, of Queenstown, were both badly wounded by pistol shots from the hands of each other. It seems that Mr. Calloway, who owns a house kept by Mr. Edgell as a boarding house, had requested Mr. Edgell to require O'Donnell to discontinue his visits to the same, his presence there not being agreeable to Mr. Calloway. This incensed O'Donnell, and when the two met at Calloway's store-door O'Donnell drew his pistol and fired at Calloway, the ball striking Calloway in the head, breaking the outer table of the skull, and inflicting a serious though not necessarily fatal wound. Calloway drew his revolver and rushing at O'Donnell fired, each party firing three shots, only one of each, however, taking effect. Calloway then rushed upon O'Donnell, and throwing him to the ground, stamped him quite severely. Friends interfered and the affray was stopped. It was found that Calloway was shot in the head, and O'Donnell in the fleshy part of the leg. Both wounds were painful, but neither necessarily fatal. Medical aid was summoned, the balls extracted, and the wounds dressed. Mr. Calloway was able the next day to be out and engage in business. O'Donnell was arrested by Officer Carmine and was committed to jail by Esquire Aker to await trial at the May term of the circuit court."

GALENA, MD., March 13.

Ed. Transcript:—A popular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Georgetown, will take place on Sunday evening, March 18th. A number of ladies of the society will make addresses. Remarks may also be expected from the pastor and other friends of the cause. Special music for the occasion. This rather novel method of infusing enthusiasm in missionary work will doubtless attract a crowded house.

The Small-pox.

The small-pox is well in hand and it is hoped that it will soon be stamped entirely out. Of course it cannot but be expected that some new cases in families that are already afflicted, will develop. There have been three such cases since our last issue, two in families where the disease already had a foothold, and one in a house that stood immediately adjoining a house where there was small-pox. Two of these new cases are white children; one the child of James Kirby (not the florist) and the other the child of John Lynch, who left town recently under a criminal charge, as mentioned in our last issue. All the new cases as well as all the old ones are located in the north western part of the town, removed from the business section. Those living outside need apprehend little danger in coming to town. There has not been a single case where the disease has been communicated to any one visiting town.

New Advertisements.

Mr. A J. Hynson advertises in this issue a sale of his personal property, which includes valuable stock, agricultural machinery and other desirable property. Read the advertisement in another column.

The schedule of the spring arrangement of the Tolchester line will be found published elsewhere. The Pilot Boy is now making two trips a week; stages from Chestertown make regular connections with the steamer. Improvements are continually being made at Tolchester, and it will this summer be a more delightful resort than ever heretofore.

The Galena Odd Fellows propose giving a grand festival at their new lodge room, beginning on the 27th and continuing through the 31st days of this month. The committee announce that they will spare no pains conducive to the enjoyment of those who may attend, and we are willing to guarantee beforehand that the occasion will be a pleasant one. See adver. in another column.

C. N. Ochm & Son, the reliable clothiers of Baltimore, have a new advertisement in this issue.

Messrs. Chapman & Lambert call attention of farmers in an adv. to their plows, plow fixings, &c.

Connelly & DeFord advertise their brand of phosphate for corn.

L. K. Stam advertises Pratt's astral oil.

There are a number of shorter new advertisements to which we direct attention. In fact, to keep up with the times, always read the advertisements.

BARRETT, NEPHEWS & CO., of 43 North Charles street, formerly No. 110 West Baltimore street, the old established dyeing house, is prepared to do all kinds of work in their line with neatness, cheapness and dispatch. In dress goods of all wool and also of cotton and wool, etc., their success is greatly superior to that of a year ago.

The firm lay aside every year a certain amount of their profit to buy the most improved machinery, and during their existence have expended over one half million of dollars in that department alone. This firm calls especial attention to the rapid advances made by them during the past few years in the art of dyeing.

It has been the desire and aim to present to their customers work perfect in every respect.
