—The rain of yesterday was very joyful to the farmers.

—H. W. Vickers, Esq., attorney for Mrs. Rebecca T. Flower, has sold the Morgan Brown farm at private sale to Mr. J. F. Dodson for $5,135.00.

—Gov. Hamilton has appointed ex-sheriff Wm. M. Gilpin, of Galena, register of voters for the first district of this county vice D. C. Blackiston, Esq , removed to Worcester.

—The Kent Cornet Band will meet this Thursday evening at 7½ o'clock sharp. Business of importance demands the presence of every member. Prof. Holland will be present.

—G. W. Jacoby handed in his resignation on Tuesday as constable, and W. R. Miller was appointed in his stead. N. Voshell and S. L. Rawleigh have also resigned, but there are no appointments in their places yet.

—Officer Jacoby brought a young white man to town on Saturday, who had used an opportunity to pick the pocket of his employer of a watch and pocket book The culprit is about nineteen years of age, and hails from foreign parts.

—Mr. Richard J. Foard advertises elsewhere the loss of a pocket book, containing a large sum of money, and beside a number of valuable papers. It cannot be but that this pocket book has been found, and if the finder is honest, it will of course be returned, —The people of the county should take a pride in the county fair, and should endeavor to make it as interesting as possible by exhibiting some product of industry or skill. There is hardly a family that cannot contribute in some way to the success of the fair.

—J. Q. A. Holloway advertises in this issue his standard brands of fertilizers, which have been long used, and are well known in the county.

T. R. Hubbard & Son, and Connelly & DeFord also bring their brands to the attention of the public in this issue.

—The Sunday schools of Galena circuit, M. E. church, announce in this issue an excursion to the Philadelphia Zoo. The Philadelphia Zoological Gardens contain the largest and most varied collection of birds and animals in the United States, and are well worthy a visit.

—The rain of yesterday did not keep people from going on the Cape May excursion. There were quite a number took the train at Chestertown. Another of Col. Gerker's excursions will be run next Wednesday, and an opportunity will be given for a pleasant trip.

—Don't forget the picnic to be given next Tuesday on the grounds of Mr. James Raymonde. There will be made every effort to conduce to the enjoyment of all who attend. The grounds are beautiful, and there will be dancing, boating and other pleasures. A good supper will also be provided.

—Gov. T. F. J. Smith from the upper district, drove into town Tuesday, behind a pair of slashing bays. The Governor pulls down the scales at something like 400 lbs., and would have added great weight to the republican ticket. As a judge of the Orphans' Court, he would fill a chair very majestically, but the Republicans had the bad taste to leave the Governor off their ticket. We predict that their ticket will be beaten, as it deserves to be.

—While the family of Mr. John N. Dodd were at dinner on Tuesday last, they were alarmed by a call from a colored man in the kitchen, who said the house was on fire. The fire caught from a stove in the summer kitchen, to the partition next the kitchen. By an energetic effort the fire was extinguished before it had made extensive headway. The loss however from the fire and the damage done in extinguishing it is estimated at from $75 to $100.

—The M. E. Church at Rock Hall has been repaired and improved in appearance inside and out. A correspondent of the News says of it,—

It has been replastered and very finely frescoed, so that now it presents a very pleasing aspect in accordance with modern taste, which is rapidly discarding the sombre, gloomy, sleep inspiring embellishment of churches, and giving us something more in keeping with the wide awake age in which we live, and which healthy people imagine Heaven will be like. The church was reopened last Sunday by a very able discourse from Rev. Enoch Stubbs of Philadelphia, from the words, "all things are possible to him that believeth;" after which came the usual programme on such occasion, viz: raising money to pay the costs, which was nearly accomplished, so that we can now sit and worship in peace and snap our fingers at disturbing phantoms of angry creditors.

—At the Republican primary held at Edesville on last Saturday, there was a pretty large turn out of colored voters, and whiskey was passed around very plentifully. At Sandy Bottom, on their return from the polls on Saturday, ten or a dozen negros got into a drunken brawl. Peter Wilmer knocked down James Lyles three times with a billy, and as Lyles rose the third time, Sam Wilmer whipped out a razor and slashed at Lyles. The razor took the victim just above the left ear, and passed around under the throat, severing the left ear, and cutting Lyles' throat from ear to ear. It is a mystery that neither jugular was cut into. Lyles was, however, cut very badly, and lost a great quantity of blood, and there is much doubt as to his recovery. The Wilmers have not yet been arrested, but Chas. Wally, John Tilghman and Lewis Washington were arrested and fined five dollars and costs each, for being in the riot.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday, Aug. 14, 1883,—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Richard T. Turner, executor of Annie E. Bowers, filed an additional bond in the sum of $20,000, which was approved and ordered to be recorded.

On application, letters of administration on the personal estate of Joseph Rash were granted and committed unto H. W. Vickers (M. H. Rash and other children of deceased first renouncing) who filed his bond in the penal sum of $2,000, which was approved and ordered to be recorded.

James T. Lamb, administrator of Wm. A. Turner, deceased, returned an additional inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of said deceased.

Geo. T. Williams, surviving administrator of Wm. V. Lucas, filed his release from Elizabeth A. Fowler,

Chas. P. Loper, one of the appraisers, filed the inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Henry Burris, deceased.

Charles T. Westcott filed the last will and testament of Elizabeth Brown, deceased.

Samuel W. Cole, administrator of Lewis F. Cole, deceased, returned his first administration account, which was examined and passed as stated.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.

On Thursday of last week, at his home in Chestertown, the aged and respected citizen, Wm. Vannort, died after a lingering illness. Indeed for a year back Mr. Vannort had been in feeble health, and during the past six months he had been in such a condition that his death might be expected at any time.

As a business man, the deceased has had a more than usually marked record and a more than ordinary success. A native of New Jersey, he came to this county more than fifty years ago, and in 1824, he began the manufacture of carriages in connection with the late John Greenwood, in shops that then stood on Court street, afterward removing to shops on Spring Avenue. He continued in the carriage business in Chestertown until 1846, when he removed to Philadelphia, and engaged in the same business there. He returned from Philadelphia and began merchandising at Turner's Creek, and afterward engaged in farming on the Hanes farm at Worton Heights. Through a long period of more than fifty years, Mr. Vannort devoted all of his active energies to business, and in that time succeeded in accumulating very considerable wealth.

Mr. Vannort was married in 1831 to Miss Catharine Adams and for fifty two years their married life was passed together. The golden anniversary of the wedding was celebrated some two years ago. His wife survives him. He also leaves two sons, W. J. and Samuel Vannort, and a daughter, the wife of Mr. J. H. Simpers. He also leaves a brother and two sisters who are living at a distance. The funeral took place at his late home on last Sunday, and the interment was at Chester cemetery. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance.

EDITOR TRANSCRIPT—Dear Sir: Allow if you please, the correction of a slight error in the news notes of the Transcript of the 9th inst. The new post-office in the 3d election district is not Manitota, but Melitota. The name is derived I judge, from latin 'mel,' honey and totus whole, and is the proper botanical term for 'sweet clover.' The old name was Willis' x Roads. N. Lieberman is Post Master. The department rejects all names of new offices ending in 'ville,' 'burg,' 'town,' 'ton,' 'store,' 'x roads,' &c., and all reduplications of the same name in the State.

CHESTERTOWN, Aug. 15th, 1883.

Mr. Editor Transcript:—In your next "Notes about Town," please call attention to the need of some sanitary measures to perfect the healthiness of the place.

Amongst the cardinal principles of hygiene, there is none more important than pure, fresh air to breathe, and plenty of it day and night.

Our summer winds prevail from the southwest coming across an undrained marsh (at the very edge and skirting the whole distance of the town) filled with the odors of decomposed dogs, offal of the slaughter houses, and more offensive filth ; and malaria from the stagnant pools.

Some action should be taken by the citizens to have these marshes thoroughly drained, and some action by the town authorities to force all impurities to be buried, or so manipulated with dry earth as to render them not unhealthy.

CITIZEN.

An Excursion to the Sea Shore—The Chester River and Kent County—Cape May.

From a Communication to the Hagerstown Mail.

I was so fortunate as to be one of a pleasant party of ladies and gentlemen who left Baltimore on Saturday afternoon last by the steamer Theodore Weems for a trip to Cape May. The route of the excursion party was by this fine steamer across the bay and up the Chester river to Chestertown, thence on the Kent County Railroad to Woodland Beach or Bombay Hook on the Delaware and across the Delaware bay to our destination. The party was comprised of about two hundred Baltimoreans, among whom were representatives of the city press; Mr. Henry Williams, agent of the Weems Line; Mr. B. F. Flemming, superintendent of the Kent County R. R; Mr. David S. Briscoe, of the Baltimore Bar; Mrs. Briscoe, Prof. M. A. Newell and others.

The arrangements had been so admirably made by Mr. Williams and Mr. Flemming that there was not the slightest hitch in the transfers, and everything was quickly and quietly done. At Cape May the personal attention that Mr. Flemming gave to the train and omnibusses in waiting saved the passengers all annoyance.

A delightful ride of two hours on the Weems carried us across the bay to the mouth of the Chester, one of the loveliest of all the beautiful streams that flow into the noble Chesapeake. To our right as we enter the river we saw famous Kent Island, just opposite Annapolis, where Claiborne, 'the evil genius of Maryland,' established his colony in defiance of Lord Baltimore, two hundred and fifty years ago. The lower part of the river is broad and majestic, but as you ascend the banks approach near each other, the course is winding, and we had within easy view the beautiful homesteads and rich fields of Kent and Queen Anne's counties—for which those counties are famous. Back from the river on either hand are eminences, many of them crowned with dwelling houses where families have dwelt generation after generation, even since our own valley was a backwoods. These houses have every appearance of solid comfort. They are surmounted by shade trees and shrubbery and are built after the homely style of architecture which prevailed in Maryland years ago. Among these the beautiful estate of the late Edward Wilkins was pointed out to us. He had one of the largest peach orchards on the Peninsula—I am afraid to say how many trees, but the number is very great. The corn fields are of immense size. Some of them appeared to have as many as a hundred acres, and we did not see one indifferent crop until we passed the Maryland line and were in Delaware. In all the immense peach orchards we passed we saw but few peaches.

Chestertown, the county-seat of Kent, has a lovely situation on the river and is adorned with many beautiful trees, but the town itself is not as attractive in appearance as we expected to find it. That neatness and thorough order which characterizes our own towns and those of the counties of Pennsylvania adjacent to us is absent. Kent county is beautifully undulating and not flat like some of the other counties of the Peninsula. The people are well-to-do, and the deposit account of the Chestertown bank is said to be one of the largest among the county banks of the State. There is no stone or gravel, so the railroads are "mud-ballasted," and are by no means as smooth and substantial as our own. The section of Delaware through which the road passed is not near so attractive or fertile as Kent county.

The cars carried us to the wharf at Bombay Hook and the Steamer Mary Morgan landed us at Cape May Point a few hours later. Here a train of cars was in waiting for us, and in five minutes we were landed at Cape May. Mr. D. Pinkney West, of Baltimore, met us here and conducted a number of us to Congress Hall hotel, where arrangements had been made for the entertainment of the party. Mr. West was exceedingly obliging and contributed much to our enjoyment.

City Trade.

"Yes, sir, I am from the country; but I entertain a modest suspicion that I am sufficiently intelligent to know the difference between ancient and modern styles. What I want is a suit of clothes that was made some time during the present century." "Certainly," says the polite salesman addressed. "You can be accommodated, for you are now at the GREAT CLOTHING EMPORIUM OF C. N. OEHM & SON, where everything is made for the City Trade; consequently there can be no distinction in showing goods to our friends from the country. Here the Styles are set, and, as you see, there is nothing old to select from. All the Patterns new, novel and pleasing, and for Cut, Fit and Finish we are acknowledged without a rival. Your experience has evidently been among the expensive clothing houses, where they devote considerable time to window exhibitions and chromo distributions. With us there is no necessity for such devices. Our goods are all marked in plain figures, and our Prices always lower than any other house in the city."
