Chestertown Transcript

THURSDAY, OCT. 18, 1883.

Subscription $1.50 per year ; 75 cents for six months, in advance.

Advertising Rates.

Transient advertising will be charged at the rate of one dollar per square for first three insertions, and twenty-five cents per square for each subsequent insertion. A space equal to eight lines of brevier, constitutes a square. Figure-work will be charged fifty cents per square additional for first three insertions.

Simple notices of marriages and deaths, inserted free. Obituary notices will be charged at the rate of five cents per line.

JOB WORK.

Handbills, large and small, flyers, dodgers, letterheads, billheads, envelopes, cards, tags, programmes, and other kinds of job work will be done neatly and reasonably.

Correspondence upon matters of local interest desired. Anonymous communications will not be inserted.

It is desirable that communications be in by Saturday night if possible, and in any case not later than Monday night or Tuesday morning —Last Sunday was as mild as summer. On Monday, however, the temperature took a sudden drop.

—The grand jury have brought in a presentment against James S. Leary for the murder of Edward B. Gallup. The case will probably come up for trial some time during the present week.

—The M. E. Church at Still Pond, which has been put through a thorough course of repair, will be dedicated on Sunday, 28th inst. Eminent ministerial help is expected to be present. The church presents a very handsome appearance.

—Samuel J. Randall is to speak at the Democratic Mass Meeting to be held in Chestertown on the 27th inst. And so, also, is Bradley T. Johnson. These two alone should draw 5000 people, not to mention the other distinguished speakers who will be present and address the meeting.

—Quite a number have called on the Transcript during the past three days of court, and settled bills for subscription. We hope there are others who will do likewise. As a special reminder we send out a number of bills with this issue. We shall be obliged to those receiving them if they will call and see us.

—The attention of the reporter for the Transcript was called last week to a beautiful as well as useful arrangement sold by Mr. J. K. Aldridge. It is a handsome fire-place heater, combined with a very ornamental slate mantel. The two together will adorn any room very handsomely, though either may be purchased separately.

—The ladies of the M. E. Church are giving a very pleasant course of entertainments at the Town Hall. On Tuesday evening there was a concert, and on last evening there were tableaux. On both evenings there were lots of lively young ladies who presided at the various tables and bewitched unhappy bachelors into purchasing pin-cushions, sofa-tidies and other such ornaments that are specially sought after by the male sex. This evening there is a Japanese tea-party,—which means in sober English a pleasant supper,—tickets fifty cents. To-morrow evening is the last evening.

—The following judges of election were appointed on last Tuesday by the County Commissioners :

1st District—Eugene Gooding, Geo. A. Ireland, Thos. J. Smith.

2d District—Daniel U. Dewees, H. Creighton Wallis, Wm. P. Norris.

3d District—Robert L. Usilton, Luther Handy, Harrison J. Parsons.

4th District—John R. Gray, J. Evan Thomas, Jas. H. Baker.

5th District—Benjamin F. Beck, Wm. F. Baker, James A Cacy.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday, Oct. 16, 1883.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

On application, letters of administration on the personal estate in this county of John W. Cullen, late of Kent county Delaware deceased, were granted and committed unto Chas. H. B. Day and Samuel Wharton, (Sallie E. Cullen widow of said deceased, renouncing), who filed their bond in the penal sum of $5,000 which was approved and ordered to be recorded.

Jas. H. Baker, administrator of Samuel Derry, deceased, returned his account of sales, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

R. Adelaide Bogle, administratrix of T. Lawrence Bogle, deceased, returned her first and final administration account which was examined, passed as stated and ordered to be recorded.

R. Adelaide Bogle, administratrix of T. Lawrence Bogle, deceased, filed her release from Sallie M. Bogle, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Theodore F. Dill, guardian, filed his release from J. E. and Jane Catharine Newton, formerly Jane Catharine Wood, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Meeting at Piney Neck.

There will be a Democratic rally at Piney Neck on next Saturday the 20th inst. to commence at 2 o'clock P. M. There will be oysters in abundance. The meeting will be addressed by Wm. M. Slay, Esq., Hon. T. A. Hulme, M. deK Smith, Esq., H. H. Barroll, Esq., and J. D. Urie, Esq. A full turn out of the people is asked for.

DEMOCRATIC MASS-MEETINGS.

The following Democratic meetings have been set to take place in Kent and are hereby announced at the points and dates named. At each one there will be prominent speakers.

Piney Neck, Saturday, Oct. 20th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Quaker Neck, Wednesday, Oct. 24th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Chestertown, Saturday, Oct. 27th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Rock Hall, Friday, November 2d, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Betterton, Saturday, Nov. 3d, at 2 o'clock P. M.

An Odd-Fellow Sociable.

Kent Lodge, of Galena, I. O. O. F., paid a social visit to Amicable Lodge, of Chestertown, last Monday evening. After the regular business of Amicable lodge, and initiating in private session, some friendly speech-making in the home and visiting the members of both Hall's hotel, where the lodges adjourned to prepared a pleasant supper in honor of the guests. There were fully fifty odd-fellows present at the supper, which was a bountiful one, consisting of roast fowls, baked meats, chicken salads, oysters in various styles, bay mackerel and other delicacies. Wit and hilarity crowned the occasion. Odd-fellows generally are not odd in the way of being melancholy. On the contrary they are generally a pretty lively and light-hearted set. The Galena odd-fellows do not depart from this rule. The occasion in every respect passed off pleasantly. There were good appetites on all sides, and though good appetites may have been the precursors of bad dreams, that was not a matter under consideration at upper time. The entertainment broke up between ten and eleven o'clock ; most of the Galena odd-fellows returning to their homes, but some remaining over night.

Court Proceedings.

MONDAY, Oct. 15, 1883.—Court met and were present, Hon. Joseph A. Wickes, judge, Robert W. Calder, sheriff and Samuel Beck, clerk. July term called and finally adjourned. October term was called and sheriff sworn. Panel of jurors was returned, and James W. Hurtt was appointed foreman to grand jury. Grand jury was drawn and empaneled. Trial and appeal dockets were called and cases marked for trial.

The grand jury found bills against James S. Leary, for killing Edward B. Gallup, and against Charles V. Lally for stealing a watch and sum of money from W. W. Price.

TUESDAY, Oct. 16th.—Court met and were present Hon. John M. Robinson and Hon. Jos. A. Wickes. Appeal docket was taken up. Case of R. F. Parks vs. Harry L. Boyd, appeal from Vachel Burgess, J. P. ; tried before the Court ; judgment affirmed ; judgment for appellee for $9.87, appellee to pay costs above and below. The case of Marcus Ascher vs. E. Wilkins ; appeal from Sam'l C. Brannock, J. P. ; tried before the Court. Case of John T. Carroll vs. H. L. Boyd ; appeal from Vachel Burgess, J. P. ; motion to quash writ of replevin ; motion granted, and appellee to pay costs above and below. The case of John F. Wilson vs. Robert Latham ; appeal from Arthur B. Wheatley, J P ; tried before the Court ; judgment reversed and judgment for appellee with costs above and below. Case of J. Wesley Perkins vs William Willis, appeal from Isaac R. Starkey, J P ; tried before the Court ; motion to strike out Sarah E, Perkins granted. The case of State vs Charles V. Lally was taken up ; indicted for stealing watch and sum of money from W. W. Price ; plea of guilty by the prisoner ; sentenced by the Court to be sent to the house of correction for 18 months.

The grand jury brought in indictments against Nathan M. Marcuse for violating local option law, also for violating the law by selling goods on the Sabbath, and against Samuel Willmer for assaulting and cutting James Lyle with a razor.

[Went to press too early to get Wednesday's proceedings.]

The Democratic Mass Meeting of the 27th inst.

There will be at Chestertown on Saturday, the 27th day of October, a more than ordinarily distinguished line of speakers to address the Democratic Mass Meeting. The ex-Speaker of Congress, the Hon. Samuel J. Randall, is to be present and to make a speech on that day. To listen to a statesman so distinguished as Mr. Randall, is any day worthy a journey of fifty miles. Gen. Bradley T. Johnson is another speaker of distinguished record, whom the people of Kent county will have a treat in listening to. Our candidate for Governor, the Hon. Robt. M. McLane, is himself a highly polished orator. Mr. McLane took a stand in the very front ranks of debators in the last Congress, and was one of the most graceful and forcible speakers of the body. Hon. Chas. B. Roberts is an ex-member of Congress, and has long been recognized as a lawyer of marked ability. H. H. Keedy, Esq., is a very forcible speaker, and has become especially prominent in recent years as Governor Hamilton's warm personal friend. Hon. James A. Buchanan is a connection of the family of the late President Buchanan, and has himself filled a number of distinguished positions, as representative of the United States government to foreign governments. J. Frank Turner, Esq., the nominee for Comptroller, is a man who has risen by the force of personal merit. He possesses a personal magnetism that gains for him good feeling wherever he goes.

We have ample assurance that all the above named speakers will be present. There will be a genuine, old-time Democratic jubilee. No man should stay at home.

The Tournament.

Ed. Transcript :—About eighteen knights have entered to ride in the tournament at Worton fair grounds next Thursday. Some of the best riders in the State will be here from a distance, and so far the indications are that it will be a big success. The managers are still very busy in seeing that every feature is first-class, and should they hit on a good day we may expect to meet a big crowd. One of the most attractive features of the whole affair, will be the fine music rendered by Weber's grand band of Baltimore during the day, and at night the ball at Fairlee Grange Hall, Fairlee, Md., at which time Weber's orchestra will be in attendance. Young man if you are fond of dancing see that your lady friend attends this delightful ball, as it will be first class in every particular.

Special telegram from Washa Washa to the managers of the tournament at Worton, Oct, 25.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 15, 1883.—Gentlemen—I leave to-day en route for your grand tournament. Will reach Baltimore Wednesday, October 24, in time to take the George Law for Chestertown. The Emperor of our celestial kingdom has already secured my mule. Please have first-class quarters prepared for us on arrival of steamer. WASHA WASHA.

[COMMUNICATED.]

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

In one of the highways running from our town, perhaps some three miles distant, the traveler will observe a handsome farm house. It is painted in modern style, and all the appointments and surroundings are in first-class order. Any tiller of the soil might be pardoned for enjoying a commendable satisfaction in having his broad acres graced with such a house for his worthy spouse and promising heirs. But what chiefly attracts the attention of the passing stranger, and has led us to propound the inquiry at the head of this item, is yet to be stated. In bold lettering, upon a board suspended on a cedar tree near the carriage gate, is this language, "A private burial ground for all agents." Can it be possible that there is danger of a farmer ever being annoyed by one of those gentlemanly, trim, polite men who seek to dispose of their merchandise, etc., by a kind, friendly interview with the head of the establishment, while the teams or plows or steam-engines, as the case may be, are stopped for the time, and too often for an indefinitely long time? Or, who will engage the attention of the responsible directress of household affairs, while the cook impatiently awaits her orders for the bill-of-fare for dinner, or the seamstress grows weary of the necessitated delay in her hurried labors for directions as to style, fit, etc.? Certainly it cannot be any dread of this exceptionally polite chap, who seeks only the public good, and can scarce be numbered for multitude. Is it not true that their labors are confined exclusively to the towns and cities, to the avoidance of the country wastes? Now, Mr. Editor, can your fertile imagination give any solution of the foregoing? If so, we would be happy to hear from you. TRAVELER.

OUR OYSTER INTEREST.

ACTION OF THE CANNED GOODS EXCHANGE—MEASURES OF PROTECTION.

From the Baltimore Sun.

About two months ago the Canned Goods Exchange of this city appointed a committee to inquire into the condition of the oyster beds of the Chesapeake bay. The committee consisted of E. Schoenberg, of E. Shoenberg & Co. ; A. L. Scott, of L. W. Counselman & Co ; A. K. Shriver, of T. J. Myers & Co. ; A. B. Carter, of O. W. Miller & Co., and Robert C. Griffith, of Robert C. Griffith & Co. They sent out inquiries to all the tidewater counties, and met yesterday to read and compare replies. Of over five hundred circulars sent out about 300 were returned with answers.

The first question asked was, "Is the oyster supply in your vicinity increasing or diminishing ?" All the answers stated that the supplies were either "Diminishing," "Diminishing rapidly," or "Diminishing fast." One answer only thought the matter was at "about a standstill." The second question, "If diminishing, what do you consider the cause ;" brought a variety of answers. Some thought the decrease was due to the number of vessels engaged in dredging and the length of the season ; others attributed it to the carrying away of seed oysters ; others laid it on too constant dredging, while others thought that catching oysters in summer time, by both tongers and dredgers, was to blame for the decreasing supply. The third question, as asked by the committee, was "What, in your opinion, is the most applicable and practical way to remedy the evil ?" Nearly all the replies agreed that it could be done by having a shorter dredging season and smaller boats. Others recommended preventing the taking of oysters during certain seasons and strict prevention of illegal dredging. Some favored stopping all catching of oysters from April 1 to October 1. On the question, "Are the present laws and the capability of enforcing them enough to reach the subject ?" the answers were unanimous that the laws were not sufficient for the purpose, and that there was not police force enough to enforce the laws. The committee also asked for any general ideas bearing on the subject, and any further information or suggestions. This brought quite a variety of answers. Suggestions were made to keep foreign dredging boats out of the bay ; to encourage bedding of oysters ; to have a closed season in summer ; to prevent disturbance of the oyster in spawning season by any one, and to stop the canneries near the rivers in the summer months.

The committee estimate that there are 30,000 people who derive a living from the oyster dredging and packing trade of Baltimore. In regard to districting the bay, one of the committee thought that it would result in good oysters one season, inferior ones the next, and the next probably none at all, as the different portions of the bay produced very different classes of oysters. Besides, it would in the best season result in placing the price of oysters so high that they could only be used as a luxury. To suspend dredging for any length of time would be disastrous to the packing interests and throw many persons out of employment. As for cultivating the oyster, it could only be done by sweeping all the dredgers out of existence.

Mr. Schoenberg thought the packing interests of Baltimore of paramount importance. To undermine it would only increase the population of Bayview. What the packers had to do was to impress the importance of the subject on the Legislature. The present laws were not sufficient. Baltimore oystermen were handled like pirates, while outsiders came and carried away the whole bay.

Mr. Carter thought that under the present laws it was only a question of time how soon the oyster beds of the Chesapeake would be extinct. He doubted whether enough oysters would be cultivated to supply the demand. The outside vessels destroyed 100,000 bushels while carrying away 10,000. The general sentiment of the committee appeared to be to shorten the dredging season from eight to six months. They meet again soon to consider the plans for having the laws changed and the advisability of asking candidates to pledge themselves to vote for remedial legislation.

HOME ENTERPRISE.

THE BUSINESS HOUSE OF MR. LOUIS K. STAM.

By invitation, a reporter for the Transcript called in upon Mr. L. K. Stam last week to give some personal inspection to Mr. Stam's line of goods. The reporter was first shown a beautiful line of wall papers. It struck him that no house in Kent county should have rooms that present bleak white walls, when handsome patterns of wall papers can be purchased at figures so low as some named by Mr. Stam. There were really pretty designs of paper that ranged as low as 15 cents for each piece. Of course at this price the paper was not of a very superior quality ; but at 30 cents for each piece Mr. Stam has papers beautiful in design and very fair in quality. With some of the patterns of his thirty-cent paper, a sitting room, bed room or even a parlor could be made very attractive. At fifty cents for each piece, Mr. Stam has still finer papers both in finish and material. Even at this price, the papering of a room is not a very costly matter,—not near so costly as the putting of a handsome carpet on the floor,—whilst who will not acknowledge that the handsome decoration of the walls and ceiling of a room adds as much to its appearance as the carpeting upon the floor. Mr. Stam has some very high grade wall papers that sell as high as $1.25 for each piece.

Window shades also Mr. Stam has in large variety and range of price. Plain shades in more than twenty different tints, and handsome dado and illuminated shades. Mr. Stam's trade in window shades has increased immensely in the past twelve months. One cause for this is doubtless that he keeps such a variety in colors and styles that all tastes can be pleased. Another reason, doubtless, is that Mr. Stam makes it a part of his business, when he sells shades to persons not far away, to put them up properly with spring rollers. Putting up shades properly is not a job that everybody thoroughly understands.

Another specialty in which Mr. Stam has built up a large trade is in picture frames. He keeps in stock a supply of frame mouldings of various designs, and on short notice is prepared to fit a frame to the picture. At times he has had such a rush of pictures to be framed that he has had trouble to fill orders promptly, but by the aid of improved machinery he is able to fit moulding with the greatest speed and accuracy.

A line of goods which Mr. Stam has sold in large quantities, and for which he finds a constantly increasing demand, is that of paints and oils. He has a good-sized back room that is set apart for these materials. He has now more than 400 gallons of mixed paints in stock. He sells principally Masury's paints. He keeps fine coach colors, and a full line of oils and varnishes. Mr. Stam has filled, in various parts of this county and of Queen Anne's county, large contracts for painting.

By the time this article appears in print, he expects to have in the largest stock of furniture he has ever offered to the Kent county public. He extends an invitation to the public to drop in and examine.

Also, within ten days he expects to have in stock a most beautiful line of lamps and chandeliers : hall lamps, library lamps, handsome parlor lamps and every description of lamp.

Mr. Stam also keeps a large line of sample carpeting, which includes many strikingly beautiful patterns and varies in price from forty cents a yard to a much higher figure for some rich moquette and Aixminster patterns. Mr. Stam's stock covers a large variety of other wares that have no record in this article.

There is one matter which he would especially like the public to make a note of, and that is that he keeps two horses, a wagon and a man, and is ready to deliver goods free in any part of the county, whenever the sale is of sufficient importance to warrant it. *—1t.

The "Splendid"

is one of the handsomest, heaviest and most complete Heaters ever offered to the trade. The Fire and Feed Pots are put together in sections and when any part wears out it can be replaced by even a child, without moving stove or taking out a bolt, thus saving considerable expense. It is altogether practical in construction and beautiful in design and finish.

We take great pleasure in offering this Heater to our customers feeling confident of the genuine comfort it will afford them. Mr. R. J. Foard has used two of the above heaters for several years and will recommend them to any one. Call and examine them at Special Notice!

SOMETHING LONG NEEDED SUPPLIED AT LAST

WM PERKINS has fitted up his Lady's Parlor, for the Winter ; and ladies from the country, or elsewhere, will find a warm room, when they come to town with their husbands or friends, and do not wish to wait in the stores, or to call on friends, while their gentlemen companions are attending to business matters, in which they can sit, and read, and pass away their time ; free of charge.

Lunches Served at All Hours.

He also has an upper room, propery fitted up, in which dinner and supper can be privately furnished at all times, at short notice, and moderate prices.

P. S.—All meals served in the upper saloon will be at an extra charge.
