THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 23, 1886.

Subscription $1.50 per year; 75 cents for six months, in advance.

Advertising Rates.

Transient advertising will be charge at the rate of one dollar per s[illegible] for first three insertions, and twenty-five [illegible]s per square for each subsequent insertion. A space equal to eigh[illegible] lines of brevier, constitutes a square. Figure work will be charged fifty cents per square additional for first three insertions.

Simple notices of marriages and death inserted free. Obituary notices will be charged at the rate of five cents per line.

JOB WORK.

Handbills, large and small, flyers, dodgers letterheads, billheads, envelopes, cards, tags programmes and other kinds of job work wil be done neatly and reasonably.

Correspondence upon matters of local interest desired. Anonymous communications will not be inserted.

It is desirable that communications be in by Saturday night if possible, and in any case not later than Monday night or Tuesday morning —Mr. Harry B. Woodall has been appointed to fill the vacant postoffice at Lankford, this county.

—Christmas comes in next Saturday. The Transcript wishes a very happy holiday time to all its readers young and old.

—Tickets for the entertainment next week at Stam's Hall, on sale at Stam's drug store, after twelve o'clock to-day (Thursday, the 23d).

—The Tolchester line continues to make biweekly trips, and Captain Russell's stage has been connecting from Chestertown every Tuesday and Friday.

—Mr. Jos. E. Weer, a leading merchant of Kennedyville, has retired from business, and is succeded by his son and Mr. Chas. Warren, two wide-awake and enterprising young men.

—Capt. Joseph W. Thompson chartered a tug and brought home from Baltimore the schooner of which he has the management, and three other schooners, on Saturday last.

—Mr. S. H. Crawford, of Fairlie, has rented Hall's Hotel for next year, and will be pleased to receive his old friends and the public generally there, after he gets in working order.

—Messrs. W. B. Tilghman & [illegible] quote corn at 46@47 cts. in Baltimore market. Local buyers are offering 40 cts. at home. Fultz wheat is quoted at 92 cents and longberry at 93 cents.

—The fair for benefit of Sacred Heart Catholic Church is now in progress at the armory, and will continue every evening through this week and next week. A number of handsome and valuable articles will be disposed of by chance.

—The Ford made Chestertown a little after her schedule time on Tuesday last, delayed somewhat by heavy freights and ice. The boats of the line have had to contend with much heavy ice this winter, but have kept running in spite of this obstacle.

—Among the grain buyers mentioned last week we did not mention Turner Bros., of Betterton and Green Point, and Joseph Turner of Chestertown. They are among the active buyers of grain delivered on any Kent county waters.

—John H. Vandegrift, the popular Chestertown barber, moves into his new shop on Jan. 1st, which is now being fitted up. John expects to have a gorgeous establishment when he has completed his decorations. Something, he says, which will lay over any other barber shop on this lovely Peninsula.

—The scenery for Stam's Hall has arrived, and a scene hanger is expected to-day who will put it in place. All the scenes are attractive. The drop curtain is of especially handsome design. It represents rich velvetry curtains drawn aside and showing a centre view of a wooded mountainous slope, interspersed with houses.

—The young men of Worton give a social hop at the new Grange Hall at Fairlee next Monday evening. Two hundred invitations have been issued, and the occasion is expected to be quite a pleasant one. The Fairlee Grange Hall is claimed to be the largest hall in the county, so that there will be no lack of dancing room.

—The Transcript is always pleased to publish notes of weddings and other such social occasions, but it must be understood that it must have such notes before it can publish them. We shall be obliged to friends who are present on these happy occasions, if they will furnish us with an outline of the interesting facts.

—Here are some more big hogs, this time hailing from the third district: Mr. P. B. Rasin killed six last week weighing 2464. The four largest weighed respectively, 377, 395, 450 and 460. Mr. Rasin also slaughtered three spring pigs, eight months old, that weighed respectively, 209, 210 and 260 lbs., the three aggregating 679 lbs.

—We were shown on Tuesday last one of the neatest and most perfect yard-sticks in use, patented by one of Chestertown's leading merchants,—Mr. J. B. Burchinal. The patent consists of a thin piece of brass, securely fastened to one end, and extends half an inch, and prevents the measuring of more than a yard, which was the object of the patentee. Often in the measuring of costly goods the tenth part of an inch counts rapidly. Merchants have long felt the need of such a patent, and we are glad to know that the inventor is a member of our community. It is gratifying to state, that wherever the yard-stick has been shown it has met with appreciation. John Wannamaker of Philadelphia, we understand, is using a large number of them.

—Orphans' Court—Tuesday, Dec. 21, 1886. —Present, Judges Walker, Hyland and Stevens. Letters of administration d. b. n. on estate of Abraham Falconer, late of Kent county, deceased, were granted unto Walter DeC. Poultney, of Baltimore city.

Upon application, Wm. S. Scone, adm. of Wm. Scone, was authorized to sell personal estate of deceased at private sale after giving due legal notice.

Letters of administration were granted to Chas. H. Davis upon estate of Harry Walley, deceased. Joseph Wheatley and G. W. Parks were appointed appraisers.

Letters of administration upon personal estate of Clayton W. Wilson were granted to Price W. Wilson.

Personal Notes.

Mr. Ormand Godwin, lately clerk on the Ford, is now located at the Baltimore wharf of the Chester River Company, and Mr. W. Percy McFeely has succeeded Mr. Allan Harris on the Corsica.

Mr. C. W. Kennard is away on business trip to Sandusky, Ohio.

Mr. Thomas Ellis, who has been in impaired health, is in much better condition, and is at his Cross street store giving personal attention to holiday trade.

Washington College closed for the Christmas holidays yesterday. The public schools will close this Thursday evening.

Discharged Under Faulty Commitment.

Eugene Kennard, James Cummings and Joseph Castle—the latter colored—all three under 22 years of age, living in Worton, were arrested last week upon the complaint of Benj. Worrell, colored, who charged them with assault and trespass, and also with stealing a duck—worth about twenty-five cents—from him. Justice Beck, from Worton Station, heard the case and sentenced each of the parties to the House of Correction for four months, and Constable T. J. Parsons brought them to town on Thursday and lodged them in jail. The parties secured the services of J. D. Urie, Esq., who got them out under a writ of habeas corpus for a hearing Friday afternoon before his honor, Judge Wickes. Mr. Urie secured the release of the young men by showing that they were held on a false commitment—having been committed by a magistrate to the House of Correction and not in jail. The affair will [illegible] parties

The Opening of the New Hall.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the advertisement of the first entertainment in the new hall. The stage scenery was ordered from a Chicago theatrical furnisher, and is now ready to be put up It is of artistic finish, and will present a number of interior and outdoor scenes, including parlor, kitchen, street, jail, forest, seaside and other scenes. The company which will exhibit here, comes highly recommended, and they will appear each evening in plays that have had popular runs in the cities. There is no doubt but that a full house will greet the performers each evening. Tickets will be on sale at Stam's drug store to-day.

County Commissioner Notes.

County commissioners met Tuesday, full board, &c.

An order was passed directing the opening of the public roads filled in by snow drifts, under the direction of the commissioner in each respective district, where it is absolutely necessary, and not otherwise. The board will not pay for voluntarily opening roads.

A number of accounts were examined and approved and ordered to be paid by orders on the collectors.

Wooden Wedding Celebration.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 22D, '86.

Ed. Transcript:—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, residing near Chestertown, celebrated on last Tuesday evening the fifth anniversary of their wedding. As many as one hundred and fifty guests were present. The presents were numerous and varied, embracing articles ornamental and useful. The most notable present was that of a handsome piano, made by the groom to his bride. A sumptuous supper was served, in which terrapin, roast turkey, chicken salads and many other delicacies tempted the appetite beyond the point of wisdom. The host and hostess were unceasing in their attentions to their guests, and the occasion was pleasant and enjoyable in every respect. Vocal and instrumental music enlivened the evening. The Pomona Trombones were present and played a number of entertaining airs. Miss Belle Pippin, Miss Fannie Brice, Miss Annie Lambert, Miss Emma Lambert and Messrs. Snowden and Wilbur Thomas also played and sang selections, by request. The list of those present would prove so long, and the presents were so numerous, that your correspondent will not attempt to give you either. Z. Y.

An Engine Falls in a Well.

On Saturday evening, about 9 o'clock, the residents of the vicinity of the engine house at the terminus of the Queen Anne's & Kent R. R were startled by a report resembling the description given in the newspapers at the time of the Charleston earthquake. About one year since, the company put an engine in the house, to be used to pump water into the large tank which furnishes water for the road engines. The pumping engine was placed directly over an old disused well and the rains of the past few days caused the foundation to give away, precipitating the engine to the bottom of the well to a depth of 30 feet. A colored man named Berryman, who tends the house at night, was standing by the engine at the time, and feeling the ground giving away, jumped just in time to save himself from going down with the engine. A wrecking train was immediately telegraphed for, and reached Centreville at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. The wrecking gang, consisting of sixteen men, and the local gang, went to works and with a peculiarly constructed crane succeeded in drawing the engine out of the well. The only parts about the engine damaged were the steam-guage and injector. The engine had steam on at the time it fell, but the fire being smothered by the earth that was carried down, an explosion was prevented. The engine, after being raised, was placed in the southeastern end of the building on a solid foundation, and connection made with the pumps. The operation, of the wreckers were watched all day by an interested crowd, and an amusing incident occurred in the evening, after steam had been started. In place of the blow-off a wooden peg had been driven in, and when the engine had about forty pounds of steam on, the plug was blown out, allowing the steam to escape, filling the house and making a terrific noise. A crowd, largely composed of colored men, was in the house at the time, and they were effectually scattered.—Centreville Observer.

STATE PRESS TALK.

Political Opinions Clipped from Our Contemporaries.

WHERE BOSSES THRIVE.

Bosses are the people's masters, and rings the fetters by which the slaves are bound. But, as long as the spirit of slavishness exists, supply will meet the demand for bosses to control and use the slavish. If those who complain are those who seek substitution of boss-ship, the probabilities are not encouraging. If, on the other hand, the complaint comes from those who are galled by the fetters, there is good ground of hopefulness. As matters now stand, it is generally accepted that the city of Baltimore politically rules the State. The city itself is virtually ruled by its criminal classes. The city seems powerless to change its rulers. The counties on the contrary are only shackled by their own listlessness. The force to overthrow the dynasty must come from the counties. No doubt a great many Democrats share this view. Whether they will make their opinions felt depends on the heartiness with which they attempt it. The meeting on Thursday did not indicate by its numbers that the promise is overwhelming.—Cecil Democrat.

IGNORED.

It does seem hard that the men who were so instrumental in bringing about the nomination of Mr. Cleveland and the change in the administration should be entirely discarded. Not that they should be favored specially above others or that doubtful or bad appointments should be made at their instance; but that they should have no regard paid either to their application for appointments or their recommendations for others, does seem not only hard, as we have said, but inconsistent with the finer virtues that should exist among men in a common cause and purpose.—Hagerstown Mail.

CONCERNING THE RENNERT HOUSE CONVENTION.

The "overhauling" of the party means, when stripped of all its far-seeming and adventitious surroundings, the fanning of the flame of faction, and installing themselves in place and power. This is the true inwardness of the movement. Some of those at the conference are not of state-wide reputation; even, indeed, if known beyond the limits of their counties or election districts. Others are known as active Democrats when they are on the ticket, or when a ticket is made up at their dictation, and as active "kickers" and "assistant Republicans" when circumstances are otherwise. It is a notorious fact that several of them have been and are the most uncompromising and arrogant "bosses" in their counties. When they have the power no man is allowed to be a delegate to a county or State convention or to receive a nomination to the Legislature unless they bear the stamp of their approval, or promise obedience to their dictation; and when the party has at times risen above them and nominated tickets of their own selection, they have either secretly or openly conspired to bring about its defeat. Others have been charged with a full knowledge of the art of manipulating primaries and elections, and the most of them are prominent in State politics because, while professing adherence to Democratic principles, they are continually popping up, under the guise of "reform," as antagonists to the Democratic party. But for their own assertion of self-importance, the public would soon forget their existence.—Democratic Advocate.

SHE IS TO BE REORGANIZED.

We were not aware that the Democratic party in Maryland was in a bad way until Thursday last, when a meeting was held at the Hotel Rennert with closed doors. Ex-Gov. Hamilton was the chairman of the meeting, which was in session for several hours with closed doors. It was decided to call a public general meeting in Baltimore, January 11, the day on which Farmers' State Convention will be held. Committees were appointed to arrange for the meeting, invite speakers and present resolutions. The general meeting is expected to call a State convention to reorganize the Democratic party.—Maryland Journal.

AS TO PARTY ALLEGIANCE.

Just how far a citizen's allegiance to whatever political party he may be a member of should go is a question which at one time or another is sure to trouble all those who understandingly exercise the right of suffrage. * *

When a man is disappointed or disgruntled at the nominations made by his party and has done nothing to prevent such nominations being made he has no just cause to kick or bolt.

But a man or set of men have at all times the right to criticise the methods of their own party and the acts of its leaders, its general policy and management, and acting within the party, and for the good of the party as they see it, they have a right to oppose its leaders and managers where they think they are in the wrong and discuss the matter until in a fair and honest contest the majority decides between them and settles the question as to who is right and who is wrong in the same manner that the people in their majesty decide between the various parties at an election for State, county or national offices.—Easton Democrat.

INVITED TO ASSIST.

A conference of Democrats was held in Baltimore at Hotel Rennert on Thursday last. Several Caroline county Democrats received invitations, which requested the gentlemen to meet General Bradley T. Johnson, State Senator Clarence Lane, of Washington county, and other Democrats, to have a talk upon matters connected with the affairs of the Democratic party. It is said that this was a preliminary meeting toward a future meeting for the purpose of taking active steps toward a reorganization of the party.—Denton Journal.

The New Silver Certificates.

Regarding the new silver cirtificates, the report of the secretary department says:

"In pursuance of the provision in the act of August 4, 1886, authorizing the issue of silver certificates of small denominations, plates have been prepared for the one and two dollar certificates, which are now being printed at the rate of 28,000 sheets, or 113,000 notes a day. The plates for the five-dollar certificates are in hand, and will soon be finished. Ten-dollar certificates of a new design have also been prepared and issued. These certificates are printed upon the new distinctive paper, which is heavier, stronger and more highly finished than that heretofore used. The distinctive feature consists of a blue silk thread embedded in the paper and running lengthwise of the note. The silk fiber scattered through the paper has been abandoned, as it impaired the quality of both the paper and the printing. In design and execution these certificates show improvement upon work formerly produced."

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

Published Monthly

WITH ILLUSTRATIONS.

FIRST NUMBER READY DECEMBER 15th.

Scribner's Magazine will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature, and each number will be fully illustrated.

Some of the most notable papers to appear during the first year are a series of Unpublished Letters of Thackeray of very great autobiographical value; ex-Minister E. B. Washburne's Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris; Glimpses at the Diaries of Gouverneur Morris, Minister to France at the close of the last century, giving descriptions of social life and characters at the time; a collection of contemporary letters describing Early New York and New England Society.

There is much excellent fiction, including a serial by Haroid Frederic; stories extending through several numbers by H. C. Bunner, J. S. of Dale, and others; and short stories by R. L. Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, T. A. Janvier, Miss Jewett, Octave Thanet, H. H. Boyesen, Miss Crosby and a host of others.

Notable special papers to be published very early are General F. A. Walker's on Socialism; Dr. William Hayes Ward's on Babylonian Cylinders; Mr. John C. Ropes' on the Portraits of Cæsar; Captain Green's on Coast Defence, etc.

Scribner's Magazine will be published at $3.00 a year, or 25 cents a copy. Subscriptions may be sent to any newsdealer or bookseller, or to

for young people is what the papers call St. Nicholas. Do you know about it,—how good it is, how clean and pure and helpful? If there are any boys or girls in your house will you not try a number, or try it or a year, and see if it isn't just the element you need in the household? The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features of

Stories by Louisa M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton,—several by each author.

A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has been a great feature in the past year of St. Nicholas.

War Stories for Boys and Girls. Gen. Beauregard, chief-of-staff, biographer and confidential friend of General Grant, and one of the ablest and most popular of living military writers, will contribute a number of papers describing in clear and vivid style some of the leading battles of the civil war. They will be panoramic descriptions a single contests or short campaigns, presenting a sort of literary picture gallery of the grand and historic contests in which the parents of many a boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories include 'Juan and Juanita,' an admirably written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courtenay Baylor, author of 'On Both Sides;' also 'Jenny's Boarding-House,' by James Otis, a story of life in a great city.

Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: 'How a Great Panorama is Made,' by Theodore R. Davis, with profuse illustrations; 'Winning a Commission' (Naval Academy), and 'Recollections of the Naval Academy; 'Boring for Oil' and 'Among the Gas-wells,' with a number of striking pictures; 'Child-Sketches from George Eliot,' by Julia Magruder; 'Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren,' recounted by Brander Matthews 'Historic Girls,' by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contriubtions from Nora Perry, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Joaquin Miller, H. H. Boyesen, Washington Gladden, Alice Wellington Rollins, J. T. Trowbridge, Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, Noah Brooks, Grace Denio Litchfield, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs. S. M. B. Piatt, Mary Mapes Dodge and many others, etc., etc.
