Mrs. Spaulding In New Post; Mrs. Hedgeman To New York

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
For ANP

When Mrs. Alice Jane Spaulding took over her post as the first colored woman ever to serve as an assistant to a cabin et member, she commented with a smile that she was "very happy."

"Of course I am very pleased" she continued. "and I hope to render a very fine service. This is a very important department which touches the lives of millions of people."

Mrs. Anna Arnold Hedgemen, the outgoing assistant to the former federal security administrator, said, "It has been a great privilege to work with FSA which became on Saturday, April 11, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"I am proud to feel that I have helped prepare the ground for this event and at the same time help make it possible for a colored person to serve as an assistant to a member of the cabinet.

"I hope that Mrs. Spaulding will be successful in every way."

Turns Down Offers

Although Mrs. Hedgeman says she has no immediate plans for the future, it was learned that she was offered two jobs and refused another interview on the first day that Mrs. Spaulding came into office.

Mrs. Hedgeman will be on the job until May 13, helping Mrs. Spaulding get oriented. "I might take a job on May 14, if the right thing comes along," she stated confidentially, "but really I need a rest."

Hubby says he hopes the energetic little wife will come home for at least a year—but he fears that she has too much energy to settle down to the task of being just a house wife. "Like her father," he commented, "she's born to serve. And she's only happy while serving others—so I won't attempt to stop her."

Back To New York

It is likely that the Hedgemans will return to New York. Remembering that they came to Washington to stay for one year, they pointed out that they have been here for ten years.

"Please don't leave Washington," pleaded an executive of a national organization to Mrs. Hedgeman, "Washington needs you."

"Then let Washington act like it," quipped the government executive.

Observers who notice that the federal government is leaning definitely to the "right" feel that the liberal thinking Mrs. Hedgeman, who has fought so forcefully for complete integration in American life, would not fit so well into the picture now any way. While they hate to see her go they feel that it might be just as well.
