The Transcript

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, 1887.

—Wheat for July delivery was quoted in the Baltimore market on Tuesday at 94⅜@94⅝ cents.

—The removed case of Pearson versus McCauley, on trial at Centreville, is expected to be concluded to-day.

—Mr. W. Pryor Armstrong, of this county, is among the graduates of the Georgetown, D. C., law school.

—There is a daily mail now by the way of Tolchester, that reaches Chestertown shortly after twelve o'clock.

—The commission card of Messrs. W. B. Tilghman & Co.,—a firm very favorably known in this county—appears in this issue.

—Rev. John Martin, of Princess Anne; Mrs. Tilghman and Miss McKenney, of Centreville, are visiting Miss C. Jacobs, Kennedyville.

—Mr. John F. Godwin desires us to say that BELTON will not make any further new engagements until after the racing season. His book is full and will be closed for the present.

—H. H. Barroll and Wilbur Hubbard left Chestertown yesterday morning on a trip to West Point, where Mr. Barroll's brother, Maurice, is a member of the cadet class of 1889.

—Last Monday evening it rained persistently, and the advertised moonlight excursion was compelled to lay over until a more auspicious occasion. On Monday evening, the 27th of June is the new date.

—Mrs. Belva Lockwood lectures at Stam's Hall to-morrow—Friday—evening. She is very well known over the whole country, from the fact that she ran for President on the Woman Suffragist ticket.

—The Eastern Shore Telephone Line of Queen Anne's was purchased at sheriff's sale on Saturday last by C. T. Westcott, Esq., for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., of Washington. The price paid was $681.

—Tolchester's excursion season is now fully open, and the Emma Giles is making round trip excursions daily. Already large numbers are availing themselves of the opportunity for a day's airing outside the city. Those who have made the trip by the new boat are very much pleased with her.

—Eddie Johnson, a colored boy formerly of Chestertown, in the employ of R. D. Grier, of Milford, Del., was drowned in a mill pond near that place on Monday, 6th inst., while gathering pond lilies. The body was found on Tuesday, and will be sent to Chestertown for burial.

—The remainder of the splendid landed estate of the late G. W. T. Perkins, Esq., will be offered for sale at the Voshell House to-day, beginning at eleven o'clock. For peaches and grain this land ranks with the very best in the county. There will also be offered for sale some very desirable town property.

—On next Tuesday, at the Voshell House in Chestertown, Messrs. James A. Pearce and Richard Hynson will sell the fine home farm and other real estate belonging to the late Robt. H. Rouse. The home farm is the one belonging to the late Dr. T. C. Kennard, and is one of the most desirable in the county.

—The indignation meeting held at Still Pond on Saturday, in reference to the rumored effort to secure a pardon for James S. Leary, passed resolutions expressing strong disapproval and urging upon the Governor the impropriety of such pardon. A committee was appointed to personally lay before the Governor the resolutions and other facts in the case.

—The carrier pigeon shot in Chestertown a short time ago belonged to the Wakefield Homing Pigeon Society, of Germantown, Pa. The bird was liberated at Liberty, Va., 300 miles distant from Germantown, Saturday morning, May 21st. Mr. Chas. H. Sutton, of 4,539 Miller street, Germantown, says they have lost several birds lately and would be glad to hear from them.

—An Indiana farmer, who told his boys to burn every bumble bees' nest they found on the farm, and who was complaining at the failure of his cloverseed crop, was surprised when Maurice Thompson, the naturalist, said: "That is why your cloverseed failed. Bumble bees make your clover seed." It is a fact that a strong nest of bumble bees in a big clover field is worth $20 to the owner; for these insects are the chief agents in fertilizing the blossoms, thereby insuring a heavy crop of seed. In Australia there were no bumble bees, and they could not raise cloverseed until they imported some.

—The town clock and bell were bought and paid for by popular subscription, the list of names to which were published some time back. There is a carpenter's bill, however, for extra work and lumber used in fitting the tower for the clock, amounting to nearly ninety dollars. It is desired by the committee having charge of the clock enterprise to liquidate this last claim. To raise funds for this purpose, an entertainment will be given at the hall next Thursday evening, June 15th. Two plays, presented entirely by home talent, will be the attractions,—"Orange Blossoms" and "The Young Collegian." Both are humorous. It is hoped the enterprise will receive liberal encouragement.

—The Maryland State Teachers' Association will be held this year at Old Point Comfort, beginning July 5th, next, and continuing four days. The following subjects will be considered:

1. Tenure of Teacher's Office.
2. Industrial Education.
3. Courses of Study.
4. Examination and Promotion of Pupils.
5. Teachers' Certificates.
6. Superintendence and Supervision.
7. Faults in our present System and Remedies.
8. Education and Training Necessary for Success in Teaching.
9. English Literature in the Public Schools.
10. Art Decoration in the School Room.

The following mode has been adopted for conducting the meeting: One person will be selected to prepare a paper upon each topic, after which a discussion will be carried on by four persons named in the programme, and then a general discussion.

An unusually large attendance is anticipated.

—County commissioners met on Tuesday, June 7th. Full board present.

Board executed a contract with L. W. Finley, agent of the Wrought Iron Bridge Co., of Canton, Ohio, to erect an iron bridge over Prickly Pear Branch, for the sum of $387.75, which amount was ordered to be provided by levy.

Isaac R. Starkey, J. P., returned an inquisition on the body of a man named Jack Forney, drowned in Sept. last from the steamer Fannie.

The board was further engaged in transferring property and examining and passing accounts for levy.

Adjourned to meet Tuesday, June 14.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday, June 7, 1887—Present, Judges Walker, Hyland and Stevens.

C. G. Hadaway, admr. of Robt. Hadaway, dec'd, returned an inventory of the personal estate of his dec'd, and obtained an order to sell the same.

Julia and Jas. Chambers, adm'rs of Perry Chambers, dec'd, returned inventory of the personal estate of their decedent, and obtained an order to sell.

Williard Melvin was appointed commissioner to take testimony in the case of Geo. M. Hadaway vs. Mary A. Wilson and others.

Wm. H. Bowers, extr. of Wm. L. Bowers, dec'd, filed his bond, which was approved by the court, and Jas. S. Harris and E. M. Bonwill were appointed to appraise the personal estate of said deceased.

An Address Before the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Washington, a representative of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, delivered an address at the Chestertown M. E. Church last Tuesday evening. She talks upon temperance matters in a very interesting manner, illustrating the points she desires to make with many pertinent anecdotes. She is undoubtedly an enthusiast in the cause. She believes that the time has come when temperance people must look to legislation to prevent the sale of intoxicating drinks. In sections where the local option law is in working, in spite of the outcry that it fails to prohibit, wonderful changes for the better have been effected. Mrs. Washington will deliver addresses at a number of points in this and adjoining counties. A large number of temperance unions have been organized under her auspices, and it may be said that the feeling approving local option was never stronger in this county than it is at this time.

A Destructive Wheat Worm.

From different sections of the county come reports of the ravages of the worm in wheat. This worm varies from half an inch to an inch in length, is green in color with brown or black head. Its especial forte is in cutting off the heads of wheat, which it does with an arrangement in the front of its head that works in the same manner as a pair of scissors. The worm makes no attempt to feed on the head, and is charged by many with being simply an instrument of destruction; but the probability is that the object in cutting off the head is to give the worm a chance to suck the juice from the stalk. It is estimated that many fields are damaged one-fourth already. And it still continues its work. This worm first made its appearance in the spring of last year, and works mostly at night. It is seldom that any of them can be seen in the day time. The same sections that were attacked last year are suffering again this. As there seems to be no way to get rid of these pests the probability is that they will become an important factor in determining whether the farmer of Kent county can raise wheat with profit.

The Peach Crop from Fair to Good.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 7.—Every Evening prints to-day 34 letters from correspondents, chiefly peach growers throughout the Peninsula peach region. The indications in the main are for a general yield, ranging from fair to good. A summary of the reports received show 13 good, 15 fair and only 6 poor. The poor reports come entirely from the edges of the peach belt, the reports from the heart thereof being uniformly encouraging, notwithstanding the depredations by rose-bugs, the extent of which cannot yet be determined. This pest was first heard of near Greensborough, and spreading thence to the east and northeast and more slowly westward. Orchards near the bay, which in some short crop seasons proved conspicuously productive, seem generally to have suffered much this year from frogs. The June drop is yet to come in most localities, but appears to be pretty well over in Western Sussex and Southeastern Kent.

The Arrest of Sarah Bradshaw.

On last Wednesday morning Sheriff Hatcherson started to Annapolis for the purpose of securing a requisition on the Governor of N. J. for Sarah Bradshaw, accused of poisoning her grandmother. Gov. Lloyd was not at the capital, but the Secretary of State furnished the necessary papers. Armed with these Mr. Hatcherson started for Camden, N. J., where it was understood Sarah lived. By diligent inquiry it was found that she resided in Salem with her father. To Salem the sheriff next went, and with the assistance of a local officer he affected her arrest. Next the Governor of New Jersey had to be seen. To Trenton he went as fast as cars could take him, only to find that Governor Green resided in Elizabeth. Taking the cars for Elizabeth, the sheriff found himself on a through express that made no stop until New York was reached, and he had the disagreeable experience of being carried through the town at which he wished to stop. From New York he took the back track to Elizabeth, which he reached at 12 midnight. The Governor had retired, but his son after looking at the papers took them up-stairs to him, the Governor affixed his signature, and Sheriff Hatcherson was clothed with the proper authority to bring Sarah to Kent: which he did next day. Sarah is very dark, and claims to be 12 years of age. She is quite intelligent, and protests earnestly that she is not guilty of poisoning "mother," as she called the old woman, who she said had been complaining some time before her death and often said she would not be surprised if she should die quickly some day.

Meeting of the Second District Democratic Club.

The Second District Democratic Club met at their headquarters in the town hall at Kennedyville on Tuesday evening last. The hall was crowded, and Mr. James A. Pearce delivered an eloquent address replete with the truths of Democracy, which was listened to with close attention by all present. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Pearce, after which a large number signed the roll of the club. The members of the club and their guests then repaired to the lower room of the hall, where ice cream, strawberries and cake were partaken of. The club is in a flourishing condition and bids fair to accomplish the objects for which it was organized.

Items From Still Pond.

A large number of citizens of Still Pond and vicinity met at the school on Saturday, the 4th inst. Upon motion, Dr. W. S. Maxwell was made chairman, and Richard T. Turner, Jr., secretary. After organizing, the chairman arose and said, "A petition is circulating through the county having for its object the release of Jas. S. Leary, the murdered of Edward B. Gallop, from the penitentiary, through the pardoning power of the Governor. The crime for which he was sentenced was committed right here in our midst, was premeditated, cold-blooded and atrocious. Here the character of the murderer, his private life are well known. We consider him a factious, quarrelsome, bad and dangerous man to be let upon the community at large, and we are met here to-day, as citizens irrespective of party, to protest with all the indignation which the attempt to foist such a character upon us deserves, with no ill-feeling toward said Leary—against any executive interference with the sentence of our county court, and I would suggest that a committee of five be appointed to draft suitable resolutions to be presented to the Governor indicative of the opinion entertained of Leary by his fellow-citizens in a district where he is best known." The chair appointed J. F. Wilson, Wm. S. Busick, I. R. Starkey, Edward W. Hepbron and E. C. Macnichol. The committee, after an absence of 20 minutes, returned and reported the following, which was read seriatim, discussed and adopted unanimously. To His Excellency Henry Lloyd Governor of the State of Maryland:

WHEREAS, Efforts are now being made by certain parties in the employ of the friends of J. S. Leary, a prisoner in the Maryland State penitentiary; and a petition is already in circulation, asking for the pardon of said J. S. Leary; and

WHEREAS, The said Jas. J. Leary, after a fair and impartial trial before the Hon. Judges of our county court, was convicted of the crime of murder, and for said crime, was sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for 15 years; and

WHEREAS, We have always regarded that in the sentence of the court the quality of mercy was strained to the utmost, and that the sentence of the court was entirely inadequate to the enormity of the brutal outrage of a most horrible crime, which at one foul blow, deprived a defenceless woman and five helpless children of a husband and father, their only means of support;

WHEREAS, The said Jas. S. Leary has served less than one-fourth of the term of imprisonment imposed by the court; therefore, we, the citizens of Still Pond and vicinity in public meeting assembled Resoved, 1st, That we do most emphatically and strenuously oppose the pardoning of Jas. S. Leary.

Resolved, 2d, That we view with alarm and indignation the efforts that are being made to secure his release from imprisonment.

Resolved, 3d, That we do hereby record our emphatic and united protest against the turning loose upon our community, or any other community, such a violent and depraved character as the said Jas. S. Leary; because we believe that his release from imprisonment would bring reproach and dishonor upon the fair name of our beloved county and State; and further we believe that the pardon of said Leary would tend to dispel that wholesome fear among the violent and disorderly of the majesty of the law, which is the safe-guard of our Commonwealth, and essential to the welfare of society.

Resolved, 4th, That we, the citizens of Still Pond and vicinity, do earnestly and most respectfully pray your Excellency to refuse executive clemency to said Jas. S. Leary.

J. FRANK WILSON,
ISAAC R. STARKEY,
E. C. MACNICHOL,
EDWARD W. HEPBRON,
WM. S. BUSICK,
Committee on Resolutions.

On motion, the chair appointed Messrs. J. Frank Wilson, Richard T. Turner, Jr., and E. M. Bonwill, a committee to proceed to Annapolis, and lay this preamble and resolutions before Governor Lloyd.

Yesterday was children's day at the M. E. Church. The body of the church was prettily and tastefully dressed with evergreens and flowers. A bank of evergreens was massed immediately back of the pulpit, in the centre of which was traced the motto, "God Bless the Children's Day" in pink and white roses alternately. In its frame was a well-executed and handsome ivycross, a heavy column of flowers rising upon either side, capped by handsome wreaths of bouquets.

The following programme of exercises, as far as we could get it, was listened to with marked attention by the large and interested audience, which filled the building to its fullest extent: Singing, by the school, 140 scholars and 30 officers; prayer by the pastor; recitation, "Our Heroes," Miss May Parrott; singing, "God's Little Ones," Hattie Barnard; recitation, "Bible Wreath," by six little girls; solo, "Giving Yet Receiving," Venio Baynard; recitation, "Collection Speech," Almeo Jump; address by the pastor. Where all did so well it is almost invidious to particularize, but we cannot forbear to notice a few whose excellence in execution struck us forcibly. "God's Little Ones" was sweetly and pathetically rendered by Hattie Barnard; "Giving Yet Receiving" equally so by Venie Baynard, while Master Roy Roseberry won his first spurs in the opening address. We regret our inability to give the entire programme.

The Agricult. and Horticult. Club met far beyond the usual hour, with but few members present; and therefore but little business was done. The following was read and approved and signed and issued by the officers of the Delaware Fruit Exchange, the Bureau of Distribution and Information, the Still Pond Agricultural Club and many citizens:

"A meeting of the fruit-growers and shippers of Kent county, Md., is hereby called, in the town hall at Still Pond, Thursday, June 16th, 2 o'clock P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to attend this important meeting, and give us the benefit of your calm, deliberate judgment on the vital questions touching the interests of the fruit-growers. We as farmers should awake to the necessity of managing our own business. We are capable, if thoroughly organized, of either selling our own fruit, through the exchange method, at home; or of distributing the same in such a way as to avoid the disastrous gluts and ruinously low prices of the past. We are tired of direction and extortion, and seek now to become our own masters, by organizing and adopting such methods as will best subserve our own interests.

(Signed) A. L. HUDSON,
Pres. Del. Fruit Exchange.
A. N. BROWN,
Sec. Del. Fruit Exchange.
J. P. R. POLK,
Pres. Bu. Infor. & Dist.
N. BARNARD,
Pres. Still P'd Ag. Club.
E. B. PENNINGTON,
Sec. Still Pond Ag. Club.

And the following fruit-growers:

W. D. PENNINGTON,	HENRY KRUSEN,
A. R. PARKS,	JOHN HURLOCK,
L. R. HEPBRON,	M. F. CLARK,
G. W. DAVIS,	G. W. PRICE,
J. FRANK WILLSON,	LEWIN J. USILTON.

N. Barnard said opportunity will be given at this meeting by the officers of the Del. Fruit Exchange to all applicants to form branch exchanges at any wharf or station in Kent county; and by the officers of the Bureau of Information and Distribution to become members of this important organization. Numerous speakers will address the meeting, among whom are Messrs. A. N. Brown, of Wyoming, Del.; J. P. R. Polk, Wilmington; Prof. Wesley Webb, Dover. No fruit-grower can well afford to miss this rare opportunity.

TULLYVEOLAN.

AN EASTON EDITOR ON THE ROAD.

He Makes an Overland Trip from Easton to Chestertown.

From the Easton Star.

Last week the editor of the Star, in company with the editor of the Democrat, made an overland trip from Easton to Chestertown, via Centreville and Church Hill. It has been over 30 years since we rode over the country traversed last week, although we went to Chestertown by rail three years ago.

In Talbot we found the roads well worked and in good condition. Between Wye Mills and Centreville they haven't been worked and are in bad condition. Between Centreville and Church Hill the roads are pretty good, and between Church Hill and Chester river bridge, they have been beautifully worked and are in fine condition.

The Peach trees along the road in Talbot appear to have plenty of fruit on them, but there appeared to be very few peaches on the orchards in Queen Anne's county, especially the upper part of the county.

The wheat all along the route in both Talbot and Queen Anne's look splendid. If no disaster happens to it, there will be an immense crop of wheat harvested. Some fields in Q. A. county are very heavy.

We were surprised at the number of large peach orchards we met with in the upper part of Q. A. county.

Hedges of osage orange have to a large extent superceeded fences in the upper part of Q. A. county, in fact all along the public roads between Wye Mills and Chestertown. In the matter of hedge growing, Q. A. is far ahead of Talbot. Many of the hedges along the road are beautifully trimmed, giving the country a picturesque appearance.

Centreville looks like a growing and thriving town, and house building is by no means at a standstill. A new Methodist Protestant Church has just been commenced, and it is to be the finest church edifice in the town. Centreville has quite a number of very pretty residences, notably that of Col. William McKenney.

At present, the air there is redolent of politics, the clerk and senatorial question overshadowing everything else. It is thought Mr. J. B. Brown will be nominated for the Senate and Mr. Dudley, the present county clerk, for the clerk of the court, although there is no combination between them. Mr. John Godwin, a farmer in the upper part of the county, is Mr. Brown's competitor for the Democratic nomination for Senator, and Mr. Dudley has half a dozen competitors for the clerkship.

We found Church Hill almost if not quite as large as Centreville. It is a beautiful town and looks as if it was built but yesterday. It contains some very pretty cattage residences.

We had no conception of the beauty of the country between Church Hill and Chester river. It has been completely rejuvenated and transformed since we last saw it. The corn is well grown and being thinned, the wheat is heavy, the hedges beautiful, the peach orchards immense, the buildings handsome, and the stock in splendid condition, and everything indicating thrift, independence, taste, wealth and high farming. We had no idea that there was such a splendid country so near us, and yet known to so few Talbot people. We have many good farmers here, but we have none but what might learn something of the thrifty Queen Anne's farmers.

The corn all along the route looks well. The cornfields are nicely cultivated, but we did not see one sulky cultivator in operation in Queen Anne's county. Queen Anne's farmers might learn something of Talbot farmers about the sulky cultivator if they would but pay us a visit.

Chestertown is a delightful old town, situated immediately on the Chester river.—Along the river front there are many handsome residences, and Maple Avenue, on which is situated the beautiful residence of James A. Pearce, Esq., is a very pretty street. There appears to be considerable building going on in Chestertown. Mr. C. F. Stam has just build a new Opera House, in the first story of which is his drug store, as pretty a store as can be found anywhere, in city or town. The Opera House has a seating capacity of 600 persons, and can dine a festival party as big as all out of doors. The building has a town clock in the fourth story or tower, and is truly an ornament to Chestertown, and proves Mr. Stam a live man.

A new Methodist Protestant Church is just being commenced, which, when completed and furnished, including a new organ, will cost $25,000. The Protestant Episcopal Church has recently been rebuilt, and is a very pretty church on the inside. The M. E. Church is a fine $20,000 building and has the appearance of being nearly new.

The straw-board mill, which cost $200,000, is now manufacturing 12 tons of straw-board per day, and is cherished as the great institution of the town, second only to Washington College, which is the pride of Kent county. Chestertown contains many very agreeable gentlemen, representatives of old families which have shed luster on old Kent and the State since colonial times.

We did not have an opportunity to view the farming operations of Kent, on account of the rain, but they claim to be in advance of the Church Hill district of Queen Anne's. About this, of course, we are unable to decide.

You may introduce any topic, agricultural, scientific, political or religious, and the chat is bound to wind up with something about peaches. The peach culture is the great industry that has made Kent county rich.

The clouds that pass over Kent county appear to be different from any we have ever seen. They come in the shape of a saddle, with one flap resting on the Chesapeake bay, the other on Chester river, and the slightest clap of thunder will make the rain pour down on both flaps. Chestertown is just under the edge of the Chester river flap, and it rains there about half the time, at least while we were there.

There are two newspapers printed in Chestertown, the Kent News and the Chestertown Transcript. The former is edited by Messrs. Plummer and Usilton and the latter by Messrs. Woodall and Justis, and four more clever gentlemen cannot be found anywhere.

Should any of our readers be inclined to make a trip to Chestertown, we should fail in our duty if we did not recommend to them the hotel Melvin, kept by Mrs. Melvin, the wife of the deputy register of wills of Kent county. We will guarantee that she will give them a delightful room and an excellent table. Her house is generally filled with boarders from the city during the summer months.

Interesting Letter from Rev. E. W. Gaylord.

GALENA, June 6, 1887.

Eds. Transcript:—The following extract from a private letter of Rev. E. W. Gaylord (former pastor of Westminster and Grace Presbyterian Churches) to a resident of Galena will no doubt be read with interest by his many friends in this county. For the second time within five years Mr. Gaylord has been honored by an election as representative from his presbytery to the great General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of America. This body recently closed its session at Omaha:

THE 99TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

OMAHA, NEB., May 23, 1887.

My journey out to this Chicago of the Missouri R. R. was a most delightful one. By Penna. R. R. to Pittsburg,—Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Che. to Chicago,—C. Burlington and Quincy to Omaha. The appointments of these Western railroads are excellent, and with pleasant weather all the way, there was little to detract from the enjoyment. Omaha is a wonderful city. When I passed through here on my way home from my father's, in 1880, it was a city of about 30,000. Now they claim 90,000 and to be the 13th city in population in the Union. Speculation is running high, and the city is laid out in streets and building lots for a radius of over five miles in every direction. Last Saturday P. M. a prominent real estate agent here took the whole assembly (450 strong) out riding in carriages a circuit of about 25 miles in and around the city. There are buildings both massive and elegant. They have a public school building than which, it is said, there is only one more costly west of the Alleghanies. The assembly contains a great many of the lights of the church. Action has been taken which looks strongly toward union of the Northern and Southern Churches next year, and preparations are being made for celebrating the 100th synod in Phila. next year on a grand scale. But I must stop now to attend a meeting. May add a word before this goes.

Yesterday at a S. S. I heard an an address from a Mr. Chali Charun Chatterjee, a native of India, who appeared on the platform with his wife and a little girl 9 years old, to the great delight of all the children as well as to the grave members of the assembly. We are all delighted with this noble man, and charmed with his lady-like wife. They are Brahmins of the Brahmins, and of the highest and purest descent. Mr. Chattergee is a noble looking man, tall, finely proportioned, a splendid specimen of the genus homo. When he speaks, it is with a complete command of our language, and his words carry conviction. But enough for now. With kind words to all the friends, As ever, yours

E. W. GAYLORD.

In General Debility, Emaciation,

Consumption, and Wasting in Children, SCOTT'S EMULSION of pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite for food, strengthens the nervous system, and builds up the body. Please read: "I tried Scott's Emulsion on a young man whom physicians at times had given up. Since he began using the Emulsion, his Cough has ceased, gained flesh and strength, and from all appearances his life will be prolonged many years. I have been in Hospital Service for the past twenty years, and never have used any preparation with greater satisfaction."—JOHN SULLIVAN, Hospital Steward, Reform School, Morganza, Pa.

HARVESTING MACHINES

We invite inspection by those in need of

BINDERS & MOWERS

for the season of 1887.

WE MAKE FOR OUR MACHINES THE FOLLOWING CLAIMS:

1st.—That they are leaders in all valuable improvements.

2d.—That our machines are better built, we use better material and will outwear, stand heavier work than any machine on the market and run as light as the lightest.

3d.—Some points to consider: We were the first to use malleable instead of cast iron others claimed no good. We next lowered our machine by reducing our driving-wheel. They all cried horse-killer We next made main frame Solid Steel, they claimed wood was better. We now have our Folding-bar Binder, they stand at bay trying to decide how to follow us in this as in the other improvements.

4th.—We have over 200 Machines now in use throughout Kent county, and all of them are settled for.

We invite the Farmers of the 1st and 2d districts to call upon J. W. JACOBY, of Galena, SHAFER & MEDDERS, of Kennedyville, and G. W. ROEDER, of Still Pond, who will be glad to supply their wants.

Those of the 3d, 4th and 5th districts will call

AT OUR WAREHOUSE ON CROSS ST.,

MABLEY & CAREW'S
CHIT-CHAT.

Yes, we will help you to keep cool during these hot and languid days of summer. Why are we in business if it is not to provide for the comfort and dress of our patrons? You will find a marvelous stock of seasonable goods at our store. Lightweights in neatest, most attractive and stylish paterns, all sizes. Can fit the largest man up to 50 inches breast measure. Summer goods for Men, Youths, Boys and Children. Materials that are new and attractive. Better qualities and better made garments at prices 25 to 30 per cent. less than are named by any other concern in Baltimore. In the line of Summer Goods we keep in stock an abundant assortment of genuine and imitation Seersuckers, Drap D'Ete, Suitings in Linen, Alpacas, Mohairs, Crinkled Coats, Pongee Silk Coats and Vests, Serge Suits, Linen Duck Suitings, Light Worsteds, White Vests, Office Coats, Dusters. &c. We couldn't begin to tell you how liberally we have provided for your wants during the summer season. We'll only say you'll not be disappointed for we are bound to have just what you want.

MABLEY & CAREW.

In our Furnishing Goods Department we are selling the braided edge genuine Mexican Hammocks at 98c. each. We have them in plain white and fancy colored cords. These goods are selling elsewhere at $1.50. We sell first-rate, strongly made Hemp Cord Hammocks for 77c. You cannot buy them in other stores for less than $1.25. Now, while we're talking about things in our Furnishing Goods Department, we'll just say that this one department of our business is really a store within a store, so complete and perfect is its assortment and variety of goods. We sell more Men's Furnishings of every description than any three exclusive stores in Baltimore combined. We are Importers, Manufacturers and Buyers, and sell at prices (in many instances) less than small dealers have to pay for their goods. The great success of our Furnishing Department is fully established in the fact that our business in this branch alone has increased three fold since last January. Stock includes goods from ordinary up to the very finest qualities. Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Hosiery, Underwear, Neckwear, Gloves, Umbrellas, in fact everything that you would expect to find in a first-class establishment, and more too.

MABLEY & CAREW.

NOTE—If you wish to buy Furnishing Goods at prices fully 25 per cent. less than are charged elsewhere in Baltimore, send for our Furnishing Goods Price List.

We must say a few words to you about our Children's Department. We have made almost a life-long study of every feature connected with the production of juvenile wearing apparel. The great care we take in the manufacture of children's clothing, the judgment we exercise in selecting materials, the immensity of our display and the wonderful variety of goods we keep in stock, all combine to rank us First in this department as we are leaders in every other branch of our business. We will not bore you with a long enumeration of goods and prices, but we will and do extend a cordial invitation to every parent to visit this model department whenever you come to the city. Our Boys' and Children's Hat Department is also another interesting feature of our business. We have introduced every new style this season in Children's Straw Hats and sell at prices fully a third less than you'll have to pay at Hat Stores.

MABLEY & CAREW.

Complete Base-Ball Outfit, consisting of Bat, Ball, Belt and Cap, presented with every suit sold in our Children's Department.

Make our store your headquarters when you visit the city. Packages checked free at our first-floor bundle counter. Strangers, visitors and everybody always welcome to examine goods whether purchasing or not.

Send us your name and address and we will mail free, our interesting fashion book, "Correct Dress," also rules for self-measurement and set of handsomely colored frosted cards.
