said they found in the Landis home as one bought by a customer in his store on April 15.

Squinting at Landis the salesman stated: "I do not remember the man who bought the shirt."

Landis interrupted the hearing, stating "I have never seen that shirt before in my life."

Mrs. Siegel testified that a man had bought a small child's coat and two pairs of baby shoes with a $20 bill.

Not Positive

"I am not positive that is the man," she said, looking at Landis. "But he was tall like him."

Mr. Tyler stated that a tall man accompanied by a short man had purchased stores in his store last week.

He also stated that he was not positive that Landis had been the tall customer.

"But he was about his height, he added, pointing at the defendant.

Other Baltimore stores where Secret Service agents said they recovered $20 bills were the Exclusive Shop at 322 W. Baltimore st. and the General Men's Store at 310 W. Baltimore st. In all, seventeen $20 bills were recovered, the agent said.

Detective Sgts. Emmett F. G. Gray and Earl J. Huber of the Prince Georges county police testified that they stopped Landis last Thursday in the 1500 block Sheriff rd. ne, and searched him and his car after receiving his permission to do so.

They stated that they found children's clothes, groceries, food, and Easter eggs.

Visit Home

Landis told them he had been in Baltimore doing his Easter shopping the officers testified. They noted the packages and tags which indicated where the merchandise had been bought, they added.

Thomas H. Griffith, special Secret Service agent, and Thomas J. Kelly, assistant special agent in charge of the Washington Secret Service field office, testified that they visited the Landis' home in the 1400 block of 52nd st. ne, the following night.

Landis, already awaiting trial on May 3 on charges of "masterminding the Bureau of Engraving theft, was rearrested on a Baltimore warrant.

Double Jepardy

He was released Saturday under $1,500 bond when his hearing was continued until Thursday. His bond on Thursday remained the same.

Mr. Kelly stated during Thursdays hearing that the bills recently recovered are a part of the bills stolen from the Bureau and were not placed in circulation until after March 15.

It was on March 15 that Landis was freed under bond on the original charges against him in the bureau theft.

"You can't try a man for the same crime twice," Myron G. Ehrlich, attorney for Landis, pleaded after the witnesses had testified Thursday.

"What you're saying in effect," Mr. Ehrlich argued "is that a man is re-stealing money he has already stolen."

Howard Agrees

However, U.S. Commissioner Meatyeard stated that although Landis has been indicted on a blanket charge in the Bureau theft, each passage of one of the $20 bills is a separate offense.

Perry Howard, Washington attorney, told U.S. Commissioner Meatyard that he agreed with the theory that Landis had been charged with the same crime twice.

Mr. Howard is attorney for Charles H. Nelson, a cousin of Landis, who is co-defendant in the Bureau theft and also who was rearrested last week and charged with passing some of the stolen $20 bills.

After Thursday's hearing, Mr. Howard told the AFRO that he was present as an observer on behalf of his client.

ing the passing of the bill, Mr. Di Dominco pointed out.

Some independent labor groups have stated their opposition to the ordinance, but at present, they seem to be in the minority, he said.

Acting Mayor Arthur Price, president of the council, is anxious to see the outcome of the bill.

"I'm glad it's back here," he said. "And I'm glad the committee chairman is taking immediate action. I like to see legislation of this type move along."

Many of the councilmen are withholding their decision of the bill until after the hearing, Tuesday.

Predict Passage

Others are going along with Councilwoman Mrs. Ann Arthur, 3rd district who said with assurance, "I predict it will pass."

The four sponsors of the bill, each boast, "I signed it. There's no doubt where I stand."

They are:- Lyman Schueler, 2nd district; Jacob Edelman, 4th district; Frank Flynn, 5th District and Michael J. McHale, 6th District.

Here's what the others say:

FIRST DISTRICT:

William Bonnett — "I have an open mind on it. I want to attend the hearing, first."

James Duffy — "I'm waiting to hear the arguments, pro and con."

Joseph Bertorelli — "I'm still studying it. I'm waiting for the hearing.

SECOND DISTRICT:

Ambrose Kennedy Jr. — "I want to hear what's said."

THIRD DISTRICT:

C. Meredith Boyce — "I want to wait until the hearing, Tuesday.

J. Joseph Curran — "I'm on the committee. I've had a tremendous amount of correspondence and I want to give it careful consideration."

John Mullin Sr. — "We're all in favor of it. That's the sentiment expressed by everyone in letters."

FOURTH DISTRICT:

Leon Abramson — "I'm favorable toward it."

FIFTH DISTRICT:

Henry Miller — "I want to attend the hearings before I make my decision, but right now I am in favor of FEPC."

—Dr. Walden

$140,000 Community House on an adjoining lot. This new addition will contain a day nursery, medical center, a gymnasium, and a boxing ring which, Dr. Walden says laughingly, will turn out another Joe Louis.

When Bishop George Baber preached Easter Sunday, 400 extra chairs were brought into the auditorium and many members were turned away, he revealed.

Before Dr. Walden left Baltimore in 1944, he was active in community work and was chairman of a committee which went before the Liquor License Board protesting granting additional liquor licenses in an area which was already saturated.

Heads Ill. Committee

He continues his civic activities in Chicago. He is president of the South Side Citizens Committee which has persuaded the Board of Education to purchase 10 acres on South Parkway, Chicago, for a new Technical and Trade School, which is to cost between 4 and 8 million dollars.

The school board paid $1,300,000 for the land alone.

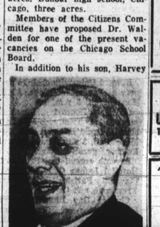
Chicago has the same trouble Baltimore has in getting sufficient acreage for colored schools.

There white schools with a 30-acre campus are common in the white areas.

The DuSable High school, in the colored section, has only five acres. Dunbar high school, Chicago, three acres.

Members of the Citizens Committee have proposed Dr. Walden for one of the present vacancies on the Chicago School Board.

In addition to his son, Harvey Jr., who lives in Baltimore, he has a daughter, Roberta (Mrs. Weldon Davis) and three children who reside in Philadelphia.



DR. HARVEY E. WALDEN

Dr. Walden postored Waters church for nearly 10 years and was greatly beloved by the congregation, which gave him $3,000 when he left here for the West.
