C. G. WOODALL, Publisher.

—Young Smuggler has a card in this issue.

—A "musicale" will be given at the residence of Mrs. Wm. J. Vannort next Tuesday evening. The tickets are limited to the number of eighty-four.

—A slight fire was discovered in one of the rooms of the Crawford House on Monday. It was extinguished without serious damage. Caused by a defective flue.

—Dr. Ewell, an aged minister of the M. P. Church, under whose auspices the church at Sassafras, this county, was built in 1859, died on Saturday at his home at Clayton, Delaware.

—Another reading society, known as the T. H. E., has been organized by young ladies of town. This, as well as the S. H. E., extends no membership to the gentlemen.

—Mr. Joseph Turner makes elsewhere interesting note of large lots of white pine, Hemlock and Cypress fencing, at his Scott's Point yard, which those desiring fencing will do well to call and examine.

—Capt. Wm. T. George, of the police sloop Mary Compton, arrested on March 20th the schooner Puritan. Capt. Joseph Sewell, for dredging in Chester river on Feb. 13 and 14. Were taken before Esq. Davis at Rock Hall, who held the captain and boat for April court.

—The new advertisement of Shafer & Medders calls attention to a number of facts, which that enterprising firm desire to impress upon the general public. All who have tried them give them the commendation, that they do good, honest, reliable work.

Alterations are being made in the interior of the court-room, which will be completed before the spring session of court A railing will be run crosswise about the centre of the room, enclosing the bar, the jury boxes and the bench. There will be railing between the bar and the jury boxes.

—The steamer Corsica arrived at T. R. Hubbard & Son's wharf last Saturday, having made a special trip for them, with lot of materials to be used in their corn and truck fertilizer, which you will read about in their new advertisement in this issue.

—Messrs. C. W. Kennard & Co. advertise in this issue their spring brands of fertilizer. They publish high testimonials concerning their peach orchard goods, and also their corn and truck brands. There will probably be a general disposition in this county this year to use fertilizers on peach trees.

—T. W. Eliason, Jr., advertises in this issue several brands of fertilizer especially formulated for peach orchards, corn, trucks, &c. Mr. Eliason's brands of fertilizers have an established reputation in this county and in other sections where they have been used. He also advertises unmixed materials, such as dissolved bone, raw bone dust, magnesia, potash, &c.

—Sheriff Casey arrested Wm. U. Scoone at Edesville on Tuesday, and brought him to Chestertown from Grey's Inn on steamer Ford. Scoone was indicted by last grand jury for violation of local option law, and avoided trial by running away. He will be held for trial on that charge.

—The steamer Emma A. Ford came over on Saturday, looking very lovely, and Capt. McConnor, Engineer Bush and Purser Harris were all looking—if not quite as lovely as the boat—they looked at least as if the world were doing the fair thing by them. The Emma A. Ford has been painted inside and out, and is in first-rate shape from cellar to garret—the kitchen being the cellar and the pilot-house the garret. The new schedule appears in this issue.

—J. W. Vickers, Esq., as assignee of Magee, will sell to-morrow, Friday, the 23d inst., beginning at 2 o'clock P. M., a small but valuable farm, largely set in fruits, located near Lankford, in the fifth district. The farm has in past years made splendid returns from its orchards. The sale will take place on the premises. For fuller particulars, see advertisement elsewhere.

—County commissioners met Tuesday. Full board present.

The check of Eugene Gooding, collector for first district, for $530, was received to pay levy in his district to meet note for five Pennock road machines; was deposited in bank.

Capt. Wm. H. Palmer, wharf master at Chestertown, filed his annual written report under oath of receipts, amounting to $48.04, after deducting his commissions, which report was accepted, and money deposited.

An order was passed appointing Wm. Morris, president of the board, to act with the committee to improve the court-room in the purchase of desks, tables, chairs and carpets for said room.

Board was further engaged in examining, approving and passing accounts for levy.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday, March 20, 1888—Present, Judges Walker, Fisher and Moffett.

The last will and testament of Geo. W. Elias, was admitted to probate.

Court adjourned to meet March 27th.

Death of Moses Lambson.

Moses Lambson, an old and highly respected citizen of the first district of this county, and the holder of large real estate interests, died at his home, near Lambson's Station, on Saturday last of pneumonia, aged about seventy years. Mr. Lambson came to this county from New Castle county, Delaware, more than twenty-five years ago and purchased a large tract of land near Galena, upon which he resided at the time of his death. The Kent county railroad ran through his farm and Lambson's Station, named after him, is loaated upon it. He was a bachelor, and leaves no near relatives in this county. Giles Lambson, the present sheriff of New Castle county, Del., is his brother, as was also ex-Sheriff William Lambson of the same county. Mr. Lambson possessed an unusually generous disposition, and it is said that he paid in his lifetime more than $25,000 in security moneys. He leaves a large landed estate, which, however, it is supposed will be considerably encumbered. In his death the community loses a good man and a useful citizen.

Personal Notes.

Judge Stump, who has been quite ill at his home in Cecil county, is reported improving. He is not well enough, however, to be in attendance at the Cecil county court, which is now in session.

Rev. Thomas Gardner preached at the M. E. Church, Chestertown, Sunday morning and evening,—interesting sermons on both occasions.

Messrs. John R. Aldridge, J. W. Lambert and B. F. Wilkins left on the Ford Tuesday morning for a point down the river on a ducking expedition.

Prof. T. N. Williams is expected to deliver an address before the Fairlee grange at its meeting this afternoon.

The Rev. J. D. Kemp left for his new charge at Georgetown, Del., early this week. The Rev. Mr. Todd is expected to deliver his first sermon next Sunday morning.

Of the M. P. Church ministers in this county, Rev. W. R. Graham will return, and Rev. Mr. Treadway is also expected to return. The Rev. Mr. Blades has a call elsewhere, which he will probably accept. We have not learned concerning other ministers located in the county.

Miss Annie Hubbard has returned from an extended visit to a school friend who resides in Washington.

The choir of the M. E. Church, Chestertown, gave a supper to the retiring pastor of the church at the residence of Prof. R. K. Pippin, the leader, on Thursday evening last. A pleasant evening was spent.

Mr. P. T. McFeely is visiting Virginia, North Carolina and other Southern points in the interest of the commission house of Wright & Loney, Baltimore. His wife is spending the time of his absence at the home of her parents in Chestertown.

Thomas C. Weeks, Esq., has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address before the Mount Vernon Literary Society of Washington College the last of June.

Two Deaths in One Family Occur Within Less Than Two Hours.

A very distressing event occurred in the family of Mr. T. A. Jacobs on Sunday last, in the almost simultaneous death of his wife and of his wife's mother. Mrs. Stewart, the elder lady, died at 6 o'clock P. M., and at 7:30, an hour and a-half later, Mrs. Jacobs died. Mrs. Stewart was in advanced years and feeble health, and her death at any time was no more than the family was prepared to anticipate, but Mrs. Jacobs was supposed to have only a mild case of pneumonia, and no serious termination was looked for an hour before her death. Her sudden death was therefore a profound shock to her husband and her two daughters, and a cause of grief to the entire community in which she was most highly esteemed. Mrs. Stewart was the mother of and Mrs. Jacobs a sister to Mr. Wm. H. Stewart, residing near Chestertown.

Kent Agricultural Club Meeting.

Monday, March 19th, 1888.

The roads were in bad condition on Monday, but the sun shone bright and clear and the air was pleasant, and there was a good attendance at the meeting of the Kent county agricultural club. The newly elected president made his inaugural address, which was practical, and abounded in good advice. There was a general discussion of the finances of the association. Arrangements will be made to secure money to pay all indebtedness of the association. James Alfred Pearce, Esq., presented to the association, some old and valuable books upon agriculture. The association accepted the gift with a vote of thanks to Mr. Pearce. The propriety of holding a fair this fall will be the subject of discussion next Monday. As the question is an important one, and one in which every member is interested, it is hoped there will be a large attendance. X.

Conference Delegates, &c.

A general meeting of the membership of the Methodist Protestant Church, Chestertown, was held last Thursday evening, when Col. Wm. J. Vannort was elected delegate, and Mr. J. D. Bacchus alternate, to the Maryland Annual Conference, which meets at Broadway Church, Baltimore, April 3d. This church is unanimous in its desire for the return of its present pastor, Rev. W. R. Graham. His pastorate here has been remarkably successful and pleasant; the church under his ministrations was never more prosperous, so that any hint of a change would be met with prompt and earnest protests from the entire membership. The community generally will welcome his continued residence here, and it is no reflection upon him further to say that his estimable wife is equally as popular as the reverend gentleman himself.—News.

"Notes by the Way."

The Department of Agriculture cannot continue the investigation of peach yellows for the lack of funds. The growers should feel enough interest in this matter to petition congress to appropriate sufficient money to carry on the work. The peach tree yields our moneyed crop and it behooves us to do every thing in our power to perpetuate its health and vigor. The cause of pear blight, grape and potato rot have been discovered and there is no reason why peach yellows should not be. We want a systematic investigation continued through years if it is necessary.

The committees of the Maryland State Grange, Ecat Baltimore Business Men's Association and the Still Pond Farmers' Club have leased Brown's wharves at the foot of Broadway in Baltimore for five years. Now the future success of the Fruit Exchange rests with the farmer. These committees have secured us a free wharf and we can have a fair market if we wish. The meeting to be held in Baltimore on the second day of April should be attended by every farmer who is dependent upon water transportation in getting produce to that city.

Magaro & Bros., of Hartford Con., who have a canning house at Spesusia Narrows want to contract for five hundred acres of corn to be grown in this section and delivered at our different landings for $11 per ton. It is probable the contract will be made.

There is more money in raising sugar corn at $11 per ton, providing it will yield two and a-half tons per acre, than there is in raising forty bushels of field corn per acre at fifty cents per bushel. We do not see much money in tomatoes at $6 per ton, for two hundred bushels or six tons per acre is a big crop. The expenses attending the planting, cultivation, worming and marketing an acre of tomatoes is about three times as great as that attending an acre of sugar corn.

Still Pond, March 12th, 1888.

From Kennedyville.

[The following letter was delayed by last week's storm.]

KENNEDYVILLE, March 10, 1888.

The Farmers' Club of Kennedyville met and was called to order by the president, E. B. Pennington. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Committee on cannery reported progress, having secured a suitable site for the building, &c. The building can now be erected at any time. The committee on creamery also reported progress, but had not yet secured a suitable site for building; otherwise were ready to commence operations. The site, however, will soon be decided upon, when the final completion will be pushed forward with the utmost dispatch. A petition urging our Representative Hon. Chas. H. Gibson to use his best energies to secure to the Commissioners of Agriculture such appropriations as they may need to investigate the disease commonly known as peach yellows, was unanimously endorsed. On motion of Mr. Bedford Roe, the following resolution was endorsed, "As the dread disease pleuro-pneumonia has affected a herd of cattle near this place, necessitating the killing of the same to stamp out the plague, which we have every reason to believe has been accomplished, and that no further danger from this source need be feared; and as from evidence in the case the introduction of the disease was directly traced to cattle brought from the Calverton drove yard, Baltimore, in December last, Resolved, that the secretary of the Farmers' Club of Kennedyville be instructed to write to Hon. Alex. Seth, secretary of the State Sanitary Board, and request him to use every precaution in his power to prevent the shipment to this and other counties of the Eastern Shore, which fortunately up to this time have been free from pleuro-pneumonia, any cattle which have not been thoroughly inspected and found entirely free from this disease.

D. U. DEWEES, Sec'y.

Peninsula Notes.

Judge Holland has drafted and put in the hands of our Legislators a new jury law, which we think will meet with general approval. The present law provides that two hundred names of persons, competent and legally eligible for jurors, shall be placed in a box, from which shall be drawn forty-eight to serve as jurors. One of these forty-eight shall be named by the court foreman of the grand jury. Twenty-two others shall be drawn, who, with the foreman, shall constitute the grand jury. The remaining twenty-five shall constitute the petit jury. The method of selecting the two hundred is by apportioning the number to the several districts according to their voting population. When a jury is drawn, forty-eight are again put in the box, taking from each district a sufficient number to make up that district's quota. Judge Holland's provision is that each district's proportion of the two hundred be placed in a separate compartment of the jurors' box, from which shall be drawn the quotas of the several districts. By this method our jurors will be taken from all parts of the county in about the same proportion. Under our present system it is possible to get them all from two or three districts.—Salisbury Advertiser.

Representative Gibson has presented a petition signed by Dr. W. Finley and others urging an appropriation for the improvement of Southeast river, Queen Anne's county. In presenting the petition to the Rivers and Harbors Committee, Mr. Gibson took occasion to state that the annual trade of Southeast river consists of 2,000,000 feet of lumber; coal. 1,000 tons; phosphates, 3,000 tons; general merchandise, $150,000; farming implements, $30,000; grain, 150,000 bushels; lime, fish and wool, $100,000; peaches, 200,000 boxes.

There are three great breakwaters in the world—at Cherbourg, in France; at Plymouth, in England, and at Lewes, Del. At Dover, Eng., and Portland, Eng., are also sea walls of great strength. As to the Delaware Breakwater, the first step taken by Congress in the matter was in 1828, when a Commission was taken to fix upon a harbor. In their report made February 2, 1829, they selected Cape Henlopen as the site of the breakwater. In accordance with report two walls were built—the breakwater proper and the ice breaker. The former is 2,550 feet long at the low water line and is on a course N. N. W. drawn from a pitch of the Cape. The ice breaker is 1389 feet long at the low water line on a course W. by S. ½ S. Trap rock and greenstone were used. The work was begun in 1829 and the last stone was laid in 1869. More than 20,000 vessels annually use the artificial harbor thus formed.

A CALL

For a Convention of Farmers & Fruit-Growers.

IN these days of trusts, combinations and monopolies, it is imperatively necessary, if farmers would guard their interests, that they organize and cooperate in order to secure economy in transit and sale of their productions. The methods practiced in the past in performing this important service, have well nigh stripped them of living profits, while others have received the reward of their labors. Extravagant freights, cartage, commissions and other contingent expenses have almost ruined our business. When the millions of young peach trees, recently planted and contiguous to the waters of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, come into bearing, the gluts and confusion will be complete. We must have method. The advantages to be grained by the adoption of some system are incalculable; and we need but to organize and co-operate to secure them. A location adapted to our purpose has been selected. Farmers, we need your help, your wisdom and judgment in organizing this grand movement.

Therefore, we, whose names are hereunto subscribed, in behalf and by authority of the respective organizations we represent, do hereby call a convention of the farmers of the State of Maryland and the members of the East Baltimore Business Men's Association to meet in Baltimore, at White Hall Building, Bank street, near Broadway, on the 24 day of April, 1888, at 2 o'clock P. M. and continue in session until the business of the convention shall have been concluded.

N. BARNARD,
President Still Pond Agricultural Association.
JAMES BATES,
Pres. East Baltimore Business Men's Association.
H. O. DEVORIES, Agent,
By order of the Maryland State Grange.

All communications may be addressed to I. N. GARDENER, No. 1711 East Balt. St., Baltimore Md.

Literary Notes.

Mr. Kennan's Siberian papers, illustrated by Mr. G. A. Frost, who accompanied Mr. Kennan on his trip through Asiatic Russia, will begin in the May Century. Their appearance has been deferred on account of the author's desire to group in preliminary papers—the last of which will be in the April Century—an account of the conditions and events in Russia directly related to the exile system. This system is now to be minutely described and elaborately pictured; and by way of preface to the first illustrated paper Mr. Kenna will, in a brief statement, answer the question as to how he came to enter upon his arduous and somewhat perilous investigations, and why he and his companion were accorded such extraordinary facilities by the Russian Government itself. In the April Century Mr. Kennan will write of "The Russian Penal Code."

Some idea of the excellence of Harper's Magazine for April may be gained by running one's eye down the column of names on the right-hand side of the table of contents, thus: F. A. Bridgman, William Black, Andrew Lang, Elizabeth Stoddard, Richard E. Burton, C. Coquelin, Joel Chandler Harris, Harriet Prescott Spofford, F. Anstey, Lafcadio Hearn, Charles Dudley Warner, George William Curtis, Charles King, U. S. A., and William Dean Howells. So much for the contributors. Another glance at the titles on the left will show the breadth of the field covered by the articles. The Great West has a liberal portion of space. Dramatic art is discussed by C. Coquelin in "Acting and Authors." The pictorial matter includes the work of Alfred Parsons, F. A. Bridgman, Frederick Barnard, Du Maurier, R. F. Zogbaum, Paul Renouard, C. S. Reinhard and E. A. Abbey.
