C. G. WOODALL, Publisher.

—The Whittington-Hurlock road in the first district is now open to travel.

—Both the Chestertown canneries will be in readiness for the first canning peaches on the market.

—The M. P. Sunday-school left Chestertown yesterday morning for Baker's woods to hold its annual picnic.

—Prof. T. N. Williams and wife left Tuesday morning for a three weeks' trip to the lower counties and Ocean Grove.

—A flock of swan crossed the road between Massey's and Millington just ahead of a first district man on his way to Chestertown, on Tuesday.

—Messrs. J. W. Ivens and H. E. Cooper will run peach dryers at Worton station during the peach season and expect to use from 1,000 to 5,000 baskets daily.

—School Examiner E. F. Perkins, gives notice in this issue, that the annual examination for teachers will be held on Thursday, the 2d day of August.

—A village camp, under charge of the Bethel M. E. Church, colored, of Chestertown, was begun on last Sunday. It will continue each evening of this week.

—J. W. Bordley has in the show window of his clothing store a handsome chromo, showing the heads of the three flyers, J I C, Maud S. and St. Julien.

—Mrs. Thomas A. Hulme, who has been suffering from blood poisoning, is now in Baltimore under treatment, and her friends will be pleased to learn is in greatly improved condition.

—On the outside of this issue we print an interesting tariff article, from the pen of the brilliant Frank Hurd. The article is republished from Belford's Magazine.

—A party of eight or ten from Sassafras expect in a week or so to camp out at Howell's point, and spend several days in perch fishing and other amusements.

—Rev. G. P. Nice, agent of the Maryland Sabbath Association, filled the M. E. pulpit last Sunday morning, and the M. P. in the evening. Rev. Mr. J. France preached at the M. E. Church in the evening.

—The new iron bridge at Millington, over the cypress branch, is completed and open to travel. It is fifty feet long, and in every respect a handsome and satisfactory structure. It cost a total of six $600.

—At a recent meeting of the board of visitors of Washington College it was decided to open the fall term a week earlier than heretofore and to reduce the Christmas holidays to one week.

—Dr. W. Frank Hines, health officer for Kent county, publishes elsewhere certain regulations to be observed during the hot weather. People will do wisely to read these rules, and to carefully observe them.

—The shipment of the earlier varieties of peaches has been begun. Most of the early peaches are small and inferior, and the prices obtained have been for the most part unsatisfactory. The better quality of fruit will not begin to reach market before the first of August.

—The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of Easton, Talbot county, Md., will take place Thursday, July 26. It promises to be an event of interest. Easton at the census of 1880 had a population of 3,005, and was the largest town on the Shore. It has now nearly 4,000 population.

—Miss Lizzie Wickes and a little girl about five years old while out driving Tuesday evening came in collision with another vehicle opposite the M. E. parsonage. Both Miss Wickes and the little girl were thrown out, and the latter badly hurt. The team was not stopped until it reached home, about a mile from town.

—Edward B. Emory, of Poplar Grove, the well-known stock breeder, while standing in front of a thresher, on Tuesday, was badly lacerated about the face by the breaking of some portion of the machinery. Dr. Bordley attended him, and found him not seriously hurt, although badly cut. He will be unable to attend to business for several days.

—The Sunday-schools of the M. E. and Presbyterian Churches of Galena, Locust Grove and Georgetown will give an excursion to Tolchester next Monday, July 23d, on the steamer Chester, leaving Georgetown at 8:30 a. m., and stopping at the various wharves on Sassafras river and Barnard's. Tickets 75 and 35 cents.

—A party consisting of the following ladies and gentlemen will leave Betterton first of next week in bateaux for Spesutia Island, seven miles of Havre de Grace, on a pleasure trip: Misses Susie and Bertie Jump, Nellie and Irene Covington, Mary Stokes, May Price, G. A. Parrott; Messrs. Howard Turner, John and George Parrott, C. Austin, Charley Morris, Thomas Bowers and Harry Dodd.

—The body of Isaac Noblett, who died on Thursday of last week, at 2022 Christain street, was brought to Chestertown Friday night on the steamer Corsica, and buried Saturday in the Union Church yard near Worton Station. Deceased was seventy-four years of age and was born in Wilmington, Delaware. He formerly lived in Kent county, and later in Baltimore. His brother, Mr. W. B. Noblett of Philadelphia, with members of the family accompanied the remains.

—Dr. W. B. Turner has contracted with Worton and Fairlee peach-growers to freight all the fruit delivered him at the four wharves on Worton Creek, namely: Buck Neck, Vannort's, Turner's and Gale's—at four cents per basket, the growers guaranteeing him an average daily shipment of not less than 4,000 baskets, and all of it to go to the Exchange wharves in Baltimore. The freight heretofore has been six cents per basket. The daily shipment from Worton Creek is estimated by some as high as 9,000 baskets.

—NEW YORK, July 13, 1888.

Ed. Transcript:—I notice in a local of your esteemed paper that my name is mentioned in connection with a number of others as one of those who are expected to locate on the line of the Kent county railroad for the purpose of buying peaches. Allow me to say that, while I may have advised some buyers to locate in that section, I shall have this year, as heretofore, all my peaches consigned. I am not looked upon as a peach speculator by my friends, of whom I have quite a number in Kent county. Resp'y. WALTER S. HILL.

—County commissioners met Tuesday. Full board present.

Letter was received from the county commissioners of Queen Anne's county in response to a communication from the commissioners of Kent county proposing that a committee from each county be appointed to examine Crumpton bridge on Friday, the 20th, of July. Messrs. Wm. Morris and H. W. Hill were appointed as the committee from Kent.

On application of Dr. W. B. Turner an order was passed granting him the use of that part of Buck Neck wharf belonging to Kent county, provided he repairs damage done by himself and does not interfere with the use of others.

A matter of ascertaining the necessary amount to liquidate the county charges and to provide for sundry special work and collectors' commissions being under consideration, it was ascertained that 91 cents on the hundred would be required for said purposes, and also for the proportion that is to be paid to the commissioners of Chestertown under law of 1888, chap. 227, relating to the tax limit of Chestertown. The rate for State taxes fixed by the law, 17½, was also ordered for State purposes.

The board was further engaged in examining, approving and passing accounts for levy of 1888.

—Orphans' Court, July 17, '88—present, Judges Walker, Fisher and Moffett.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Philip Nichols, deceased, were granted unto Ann Maria Nichols; and J. H. Greenwood and E. C. Reiche, Jr., were appointed to appraise said estate.

J. W. Hubbard, executor of H. M. Hubbard, passed his final administration acct.

The Kent Fair.

At an adjourned meeting of the executive committee of the Kent County Agricultural Association, last Tuesday, it was determined to hold the 18th annual fair on its grounds at Worton Station, near Chestertown, on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of October, and set apart Wednesday, the 10th, as "children's day," when all children under 14 years of age, accompanied by parents or guardians, will be admitted free. It is hoped that every farmer and citizen of Kent and her sister counties will exert themselves to make this the most successful fair ever held. No catch-penny games nor swindling will be allowed. Premiums liberal and open to all. The above dates do not conflict with any other fairs and will therefore give the Kent fair advantages not heretofore enjoyed.

Wheat Notes.

A number of farmers in this county, have threshed their wheat crops this week. There are very few specially large yields reported, though the general average is fair. The Transcript learned of only a few yields on Tuesday.

Isaac Gibbs living near Sassafras obtained 30 bushel per acre from his fallow, and 25 bushels per acre on corn land. He sold his red wheat at 85 cts. net, and his fultz at 82 cts. net.

Robt. S. Griffith, near Sassafras, obtained 1,848 bushels from 66 acres, an average of 28 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Richard Hynson had finished threshing on only one farm,—the Simmonds farm, in Quaker Neck. On 80 acres he obtained 2,000 bushels, an acreage over all, corn land and fallow, of 25 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Samuel Vannort had only partially finished threshing. He shipped 440 bushels to Baltimore, which sold at 90 cents per bushel. His wheat is of a variety of red wheat. It overran by weight five bushels in every hundred.

In the vicinity of Kennedyville a number of farmers have threshed, but no remarkable yields have been obtained.

Sad Death of a Young Lady.

News reached Chestertown on Monday of the death of Miss Alice Constable, eldest daughter of Albert Constable, Esq., of Elkton. Miss Constable has numerous relatives in this county, and was a frequent visitor here, and was greatly admired and esteemed by all who became acquainted with her. She died about five o'clock Monday afternoon, of typhoid fever. She was in her 21st year. She had been ill for about ten days. She was attended by Dr. Bromwell, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. H. H. Mitchell, of Elkton; Dr. J. V. Wallace, of Chesapeake City, and Dr. J. J. Black, of New Castle, Del., the latter her uncle. Miss Constable was educated in Washington, D. C., and was an accomplished musician and possessed highly cultivated literary taste. She was a close companion of her father, and possessed charming manners that make her a general social favorite. Her death at so early an age is a peculiarly sad one. A number of family connections and intimate friends from this county attended the funeral.

John H. Roberts Will Locate on the Kent Road.

Mr. H. M. Brown, who was with Mr. J. H. Roberts, who purchased peaches in 1886 at the Chestertown station, has received the following letter from him in reference to this season:

Philadelphia, July 16, 1888.

MR. H. M. Brown, Dear Sir:—I have concluded to-day to buy peaches at Chestertown, and will be down sometime between now and the first of August. I think it would be advisable for the farmers to buy baskets if they have not sufficient as they may be higher later in the season. Any fruit that may come in of these early varieties, I think would be better to handle on commission until I come down. It will be advisable for the farmers to let them get good color and fill the baskets well, as they are not worth much anyhow and unless made as good as can be it will not pay to ship. Everything will have our prompt attention until I can make arrangements to come down, which I hope will be soon. Keep me well advised of any important changes, and let the farmers know we will be on hand to take care of their fruit. Hoping we may have a successful year and be able to pay good prices for fruit, I am, most resp'y, JOHN H. ROBERTS.

From Still Pond.

STILL POND, MD., July 16, '88.

Ed. Transcript:—Mr. Johnston and wife accompanied by Miss Olive Harper and our friend Willis Hacket have gone to visit Mr. Johnston's brother in Wenonah, New Jersey. Willis will also visit Dr. Shakespeare, to consult him concerning his eyesight.

The-cramp-colic-kill-a-mule-at-forty-yards peaches have started again on their yearly round, We would advise everyone to keep at a respectful distance from them.

Mr. Oliver Roeder is have a new fence put in front of his yard. There are several others we could mention who would profit by following his example.

JUVENIS.

New Jersey Peach - Growers Complain of High Freights.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission met in one of the cottages of the Elberon at Long Branch on Tuesday to listen to the complaints made by the peach-growers of the western part of New Jersey against the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Commissioners Schoonmaker, Walker and Bragg were present. Mr. Bullock represented the peach-growers. He said that the railroad companies carrying New Jersey peaches to the New York market had combined so as to keep up the rates and that the peach cars earned more money than any other kind of freight cars. The rate to New York from Flemington and other towns in the New Jersey peach district is 11 cents per basket, while apples are carried for less than 6 cents a basket. At the same rate it would cost $7.50 to send a basket of peaches from California to New York. In spite of this the California peaches are brought to New York in refrigerator cars and sold as low as the New Jersey fruit.

Mr. Defrost, on the part of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, asserted that the railroad companies made no money out of their peach traffic.

Peter H. Wyckoff, the general freight agent of the Central Railroad, testified that there was no inter-State traffic over that road eastward, because all the fruit was delivered in Jersey City. The fruit was consigned to New York houses, but delivery was made in Jersey City.

John H. Heckman, the general agent of the Lehigh road, stated that the average daily earnings of a peach car during the peach season is $41.40. Other cars average $10 a day.

Peninsula Notes.

The Executive Committe of the Bureau of Information and Distribution has issued a call for fruit growers' meetings at the following places: Salisbury, Md., Monday, July 16th; Delmar, Del., Tuesday, July 17th; Harrington, Del., Wednesday, July 18th; Cheswold, Del., Thursday July 19th; Viola, Del., Friday, July 20th, and Felton, Del., Saturday, July 21st.

D. Reis has this week contracted for the peaches from several orchards, among the number being those of Gen. C. Van Vorst, Col. M. H. Davis, Col. C. S. Watson and Col. R. H. Williams. The price is 35 cts. per basket. The other canners and evaporators about Milford do not feel disposed to buy at these figures, and no other sales are reported.—Milford News.

This is put down as the latest swindle in connection with the hulless oats and other sharpers. The farmer objects to giving his note and having it discounted for cash. The sharper says: "Oh, we'll keep the note," and writes across the face, "Not transferable." In a short time it is found in the hands of another party with an "e" added to the "Not," which makes it read "Note transferable."—Cecil Democrat.

Early peaches have been sent to market this year in unusual quantities. These are generally known as Alexanders, though there are eleven of these early varieties, viz.: Alexander, Amsden June, Briggs' Red May, Waterloo, Cumberland, Shoemaker, Beatrice, Wilder, Saunders, Musser and Cleveland. Any one who has three trees of early peaches, possesses all these eleven varieties; in fact, all eleven grow on one tree, and serenely rot together unless pulled green. These peaches get red on one side, but remain green on the other. They rot before they ripen, so they are pulled early and shipped. Only an ostrich, an alligator or a city bootblack can eat one of these early peaches and survive; and even the bootblack must not attack one unless he has first toned up his system to the test by eating raw cucumbers. Peaches of this sort have sold in the cities this week at $1 to $1.50 per crate. Only the more poison brands brought the latter figure.—Milford News.

GREENSBORO', Caroline county, Md., July 16.—James Thomas Matthews, a colored man employed with the threshing machine of Henry Booker, of Goldsboro', was killed to-day while at work upon the crop of Wm. A. Jarrell, near this place. Matthews is a feeder and was lying upon the top of the machine awaiting his turn, when his attention was directed to some chaff which had choked the sieves. In his attempt to reach the sieves his foot slipped and was immediately caught by the revolving cylinder. Both legs were drawn through the machine and torn in shreds. He died within thirty minutes after the accident.

The dam of George C. Moore's grist mill, near Hillsborough, but in Talbot county, broke on Saturday forenoon and made a clean sweep of gates, mudsills, piling and fifty feet of dam. The break was caused by the burrowing of muskrats. Loss $1,000 to $1,200.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.—In this season of excursions and reduced fares, it is certainly pre-judicial to your interest not to take advantage of the opportunity to visit Baltimore when you can save money enough on a suit of clothes to pay the expense of the trip by patronizing the great harvest sale for buyers now in full swing at Oehm's Acme Hall, Baltimore's largest clothing and furnishing depot, 5 and 7 W. Baltimore street. One door from Charles. * 1t

Bargains In Clothing!

A Special Offer to the Public During the Next Three Months.

The season for Spring and Summer Clothing having been so backward, I find myself in possession of a great many Suits, etc., that I do not care to carry over, consequently I am determined to adopt some plan by which every suit must go.

THE PLAN.

During the next three months—JUNE, JULY, AUGUST—I will sell to any one, on an approved note, anything in the shape of Clothing or Gents' Furnishing Goods, at Actual Cost.

J. W. BORDLEY.

THE TIME.

The time that these notes are to be drawn can be satisfactorily arranged at the time of purchase. J. W. BORDLEY.

THE STOCK.

The quality of stock kept in my store exceeds that of any other store in Chestertown, as I buy from only reliable houses, and among it will be found Handsome Cutaway Suits, $10 to $25; All Wool Frock and Sack suits, $5 to $20; Complete Line Suit Goods ranging in price from (Men's Suits) $5 to $20. J. W. BORDLEY.

PANTS.

An Endless Variety, comprising Hairlines of the Most Beautiful Quality; Fine Goods in light colors; Cheap Goods for working purposes; Cheap Summer Pants—all of which will be closed out Cheap at J. W. BORDLEY'S.

—:0:—

THE PLACE.

My store is located in Bordley's Brick Corner, immediately opposite the old market house, and adjoins the drug store of M. A. Toulson. Don't make a mistake and get in the wrong place, if you do you will miss a bargain. Respectfully, &c. J. W. BORDLEY.

THE PRICE.

The price shall be Lower than any other house in the county, as I am determined to get rid of this large stock if Low Prices will do it. J. W. BORDLEY.

—:0:—

DON'T DELAY.

In order to secure the cream of this splendid stock of Clothing come at once and don't delay the purchase of a nice suit until others have selected the most desirable goods. Come early and often, to
