How to join

Purpose

The purpose of this campaign is to get all residents in your block to keep a clean home this summer and beautify the block.

A clean block is one in which steps and sidewalks are washed once a day and the street kept free from trash

Woodwork is kept free from fingerprints and vestibules are scrubbed

Windows are kept clean and curtains hung evenly

Garbage and trash cans are removed as soon as emptied

Window boxes have Flowers in them as well as on the porch

A beautiful block must have flowers in it, and must be clean, both back and front.

Window signs

One hundred per cent co-operation of the block residents will be attested by the window signs as well as the improved appearance of the block itself.

Explanation

A block is a row of houses between two cross streets. For the purpose of this campaign, a block includes the houses on both sides of the street. There must be three or more houses before there is a block

Prizes

Special certificates of merit will be given to all persons recommended by the captain.

There will be a cash prize and other gifts.

In many blocks a party is given for all those who worked.

Block organization

1. The captain must try to get all persons in the block to sign up and send their names to the AFRO-AMERICAN.

2. He or she must call a meeting of all adults and children and elect a president who will act as advisor.

3. Have a secretary, who will write down what is done at each meeting and send reports to the AFRO-AMERICAN.

4. Elect a block inspector, who will see that no trash accumulates anywhere in the block.

5. Elect a marshal, who will call out the clean-up brigade at a definite time each day, so that by all working together at the same time, the block will soon improve in appearance.

6. Do not paint trees and curb.

Victory report

All captains in the AFRO's Clean Block Campaign are urged to fill in The Victory Report and return it to the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers.

Friday morning meetings

The captain must attend the Friday morning meetings. He or she must sign the attendance sheet upon entry.

It is suggested that at least three from the block attend weekly meetings.

He could almost hear the crowd cheering as he fingered the battered old trumpet in his hands.

How the Silver Turned to Gold.

Norm stood staring out the window. His mind was already at the supper club. He could almost hear the crowd cheering as he fingered the battered old trumpet in his hands. Tonight he'd have to play better than ever, despite the valves sticking every now and then. Tonight he'd be playing with "Horton's Herd," the best jazz group in town. His uncle "Sweets" had arranged the audition with Gary Horton. Now this would be for the cities.

More than anything, Norm wanted to be a jazz musician like his uncle "Sweets." But his mother and father had been saving for years, buying U.S. Savings Bonds to put him through college so he could be a "somebody." Well, he thought, if he became the musician his teachers said he could be, he could be somebody. Somebody they'd all be proud of.

Norm walked over to the bed, put the horn in its case and snapped the lid shut just as his mother called up the stairs, "C-mon, Honey, it's almost time to go."

As he walked down the stairs, the whole family stopped talking and looked at him with anticipation. His father took him by the arm and led him to the center of the room.

"Tonight you've got an opportunity to play with the best. And so you're gonna play the best." With that he nodded toward Mama, who was holding a black leather case. "Your father has changed some of those Savings Bonds he's been buying...into silver." With that she opened the case.

A silver trumpet. Gleaming like a jewel in its velvet setting. Norm picked it up and held it in his hands, just feeling the luxury of it.

He hardly trusted his voice to say what he felt. Nodding, smiling, biting his lower lip, he tried to express his thanks. This was the greatest night of his young life.

People said the "Herd" never sounded better than they did that night. When it was over, Gary Horton had Norm take a bow. The applause was deafening.

Savings Bonds had helped turn the silver trumpet into a golden dawn.

United States Savings Bonds will help you open the door and let opportunity come marching in. So join the Payroll Savings Plan at work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.
