COLLINS & HOPPER,
EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

THE CONTEST this year is for Congress. Next year it is a State election. Let Democrats get together and regain the House of Representatives.—Mail.

WE BEG LEAVE to differ from the Denton Journal when it states that there are but two candidates for the Congressional nomination in the First District. Queen Anne's has one candidate at the present writing and there are probably one or two more who are considering the advisability of presenting their claims for the nomination.—Centreville Observer.

FOR THE information of our correspondents we would say that all communications must bear the name of the writer or they cannot be accepted. We were forced to leave out an interesting letter last week for the reason that it bore no signature. We are always glad to receive letters from our friends, but must insist upon it, that in each case they bear the name of the writer.

THE HAGERSTOWN Mail, one of the oldest, as also one of the most ably edited weekly journals in the State, has just closed its 62d year. No paper in the State occupies a more enviable position both with the reading public and its more intimate friends, the fraterity of journalists, than does our esteemed contemorary, and we wish it many returns of the anniversary of its extended usefulness.

TARIFF REFORM.

A mammoth Tariff Reform meeting was held in Baltimore on Tuesday, representing the full Tariff Reform organization of the State. The meeting was endorsed by many prominent Tariff Reformers throughout the country. Letters were read from ex-President Cleveland, Breckenridge, Mills, Douglass and others. James A. Pearce was chosen chairman and accepted in the following speech :

"I did not expect to find so many persons present. But we are still comparatively few in number. We are all here from a sense of duty, and not from any expectation of personal advantage. I hope we are the advance guard of an army whose bugle note throughout the land in the selection of Congressmen and of a successor to President Harrison. [Applause.]

"The question of tariff reform is a burning issue. At such a time as this it is the duty of men who are impressed with the importance of this reform to organize and let their representatives in Congress know that the people are alive to the issue. Happily in Maryland the advocates of an oppressive tariff have not obtained much of a foothold. We have but one congressional district, the sixth, in which it has been found possible to set it up, and in that district are some of the most fearless and aggressive tariff reform democrats. The success of McComas in the sixth district may be partly owing to his personal prestige, but there are indications now of his defeat. There is need for concerted action and outspoken words on the part of Democrats to oppose this tariff evil and send their ablest men to Congress." [Applause.]

THE FALL CAMPAIGN.

It is desired by many, and reasonably so, that the coming fall campaign should be short, aggressive and decisive. And it is entirely proper that the Democracy of Maryland be called upon to be alert and watchful. The approaching fight will be a desperate one along the Republican line, and solid squares and unbroken ranks must be placed in the front to meet it. The Congressional contest, however, will have the unique feature of placing its fortunes upon national, independent of local issues, and will be to a great extent made upon broad national questions involving principles of the purest party policy. As between the two great parties, there will be no neutral ground, no independent vote. The lines have been so clearly drawn and the issues so clearly defined by the present administration that the Democrat must establish his Democracy and the republican will be required to take his stand upon the plank of an oppressive tariff and the autoratic doctrine of Speaker Reed or fall in line on the other side. There can be no masquerading of political positions, the move must be decisive and definite. The bold and impudent rulings of Tom Reed, the Reed-McKinley combination, the flagrant usurpation of power, the glaring determination to sacrifice the interests of the masses with a view that the power of the moneyed few may be catered to, have removed every doubt as to the full intent and final result of the further success of the party now intrenched at Washington. With a reckless hardihood and unwarranted effrontery Democratic representatives in the national Congress have been unseated and relegated to private life in order that a dishonestly acquired power may be lodged in the hands of the dominant party. A Force bill has been rushed through by which returning boards and Star Chamber proceedings have been instituted for the purpose of a national suppression of the voice of a people supposed to be in the full enjoyment of the political franchise. The shameless gerry-manderings of the present year have entirely removed all embarrassments in deciding as between the two great national parties and the problem may be easily solved. Says the Democratic Editors' address :

"No State interest will be effected except in a national sense. Purely State matters, therefore, we have no place in the canvass. It is not our purpose in drawing the attention of the Democratic voters of the State to this matter to assert that no reforms are needed at home.

"While holding to the doctrine of home rule, we also recognize that we are a part of the national Democracy. While State laws more closely affect us, still it would be selfish and unpatriotic for us to subordinate national to State interests. Defeat in Maryland might subject the whole country to continued Republican rule, with all its attendant evils. To check or reverse the arbitrary, unconstitutional and wild career of the Republican party in Congress needs earnest and persistent work.

"The stake in the coming contest is the right of the people to elect their own representatives, free from federal interference ; taxation for revenue upon a constitutional basis ; an honest expenditure of the public money—a sound and staple currency ; reform in the civil service. These are the matters upon which the contest of 1890 is to be waged. They affect the whole people, and the importance of the contest cannot be overestimated."

Farmers throughout Germany are alarmed at a report that a swarm of locusts have appeared at Oranienburg in Prussia.

MR. ARCHER'S SENTENCE.

STEVENSON ARCHER is now serving out a term in the penitentiary of the State whose confidence he has violated and whose citizens he has most flagrantly defrauded. Never within the political history of the State has a sadder spectacle been presented, than the fall of Stevenson Archer. This man, who during his entire life enjoyed the most profound confidence of the people, and the warmest personal friendship of a large circle of prominent men in every department of social, political and financial life, is to-day branded and wearing the stripes of a convicted criminal. This man who enjoyed the confidence of all men alike in his State and to whose care was entrusted the most responsible trusts within the gift of his fellow citizens, is to-day expiating his crime in a State prison. Fortune has been unkind and the heavy hand of justice has fallen, and what was supposed to be the royalty of honor and the dignity of an honest manhood is now in ruins. However much we would extenuate Mr. Archer's crime and however much circumstances might tend to excuse the offence, his sentence is a light one. That Mr. Archer is an old man makes the case all the more pitiable, and rather increases than lessens the gravity of his crime. Crowned with the full confidence of his political and social friends, surrounded by the elevating moral influence of a Christian family and having the benefit of more than sixty years' experience to shield him from the pitfalls which might have entrapped younger men, this violation of the people's faith is increased in enormity and the crime intensified. The appropriation of the State's funds was not done to meet the unexpected necessities of the moment but were carried on systematically through several years, and now to add to the wrong done the people Mr. Archer anticipates the results of a trial, and to prevent the disclosure of hidden hands in his transactions, which would possibly have been brought out by a trial, he confesses his guilt and assumes the whole of a responsibility which would in all probability have been shared by others. While we deplore Mr. Archer's misfortunes, we think that he has cause for congratulation, and may thank the court for a most merciful application of the law.

STATE AND PENINSULA.

The population of Wilmington has been placed at 61,000 by the census enumerators.

A farmer in Talbot has sold his half of the peach crop on his farm for ten cents and thinks he made money.

The affliction of the family of Mr. Arthur Thomas, of Harford county, has been of a particular distressing character. Says the Democrat: Miss Mattie, aged 19, went to Wilmington, Del., to visit her brother. That night a child of her brother's died of diphtheria. The remains were brought to Harford for interment and remained for a night in an open coffin at Mr. Arthur Thomas' house at Prospect. Thursday Miss Thomas was taken with the disease and died on Sunday. Several members of the family were stricken with the disease in a more or less severe form, and on the next Sunday night Miss Sallie, aged about 15 years, died. At that time another sister, Miss Maggie, aged about 13 years, was quite ill, and on Monday last she died. Robert and Benny, two boys of the family, had the disease, and one of these died Tuesday afternoon and the other Wednesday morning. The bodies were buried in Mt. Vernon churchyard as speedily after death as practicable, only sufficient persons attending to make the interment, owing to the virulent nature of the disease. Oliver and David, both young men, are now ill of the disease.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The 101st anniversary of the fall of the Bastile was celebrated in Paris with great enthusiasm on July 14.

At Sheffield, the mayor of that city presided over a meeting attended by 12,000 persons, the meeting having been arranged for last week, its object being to protest against the McKinley tariff bill, as seriously affecting Sheffield's manufacturing interests.

A special to the American from Griffin, Ga., says : A fatal race riot occurred at Starr's mill pond, in Fayette county, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Four negroes were killed and six wounded, two of whom are reported dying. Eight whites were shot, but it is thought only one of them fatally, making eighteen in all killed and wounded.

A terrific storm swept over portions of Minnesota, July 13. The steamer Sea Wing, with an excursion party on board, was wrecked on Lake Pepin and fully one hundred lives lost. Eighteen or twenty were either killed or wounded at St. Paul. Near Lake Gervais, several cottages were destroyed and their inmates wounded or killed.

John C. Freemont, the warrior statesman and explorer is dead.

Henry M. Stanley, the explorer, after eleven proposals, has married an American girl.

A MAN who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar ; read what he says :

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

MESSRS. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen :—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence and success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cur Taken internally.

VIENNA, July 14.—Snow covers the Central Alps, and continues falling. In the distaict of Salzkammergut and the adjacent country everything has a wintry appearance. The rivers in the Southern Tyrolese Alps have overflowed their banks. The Adige, from Bozen downward, has flooded the adjacent country. Half of the city of Trent, Austria, which is situated on the left bank of the Adige is submerged.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step in Nervous Prostration. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. YOUNG MAN

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TO MAKE THE WORLD BETTER FOR YOUR HAVING LIVED IN IT?

Are you just eking out an existence—living from hand to mouth from day to day, with no provision for accident, sickness or other emergency of life? Are you treading the well-beaten paths

OF THOUSANDS GONE BEFORE WHO DIED UNHONORED AND UNKNOWN IF NOT PAUPERS?

And You, Young Woman

How is it with you? What is your mission in life? Will you fill it and fill it well? Then seek at once to know what it is and then fill it. We hear some of the timid ones saying, O, I am only a woman,

WHAT CAN A WOMAN DO? WE ANSWER VERY MUCH,

And to substantiate our assertion we have but to refer you to the hundreds of noble, brave, heroic women, who within the last decade have scaled the heights of public prejudice and to-day stand triumphant on the heights of fame

WAVING PROUDLY THE FLAG OF LIBERTY,

And those who have the best interest of mankind at heart say well done. They bid you follow, will you do it? We hear many answer, I would, but how? We answer there are many ways; new avenues are daily opening into which men and women may enter with the full assurance that if faithfully followed success is sure. But to know which of these to enter is the perplexing question, and the best solution of it is a knowledge of the needs of the world and of ourselves. This only can be gained in its fullest sense by contact with and mingling in the active business world, feeling the world's pulse, as it were. A grand opportunity for doing this is now presented right in our midst in the business, It not only gives you this much-desired opportunity, but the company by their very liberal inducements enable you to pay all your own expenses and if industrious, save a surplus while gaining the rish experience which leads to lives of usefulness and fame. Had not Edison taken the humble position of train boy and thus informed himself of the needs of the world, where would the Edison of to-day have been? So Whitney with his cotton gin, Howe with his sewing machine, Goodyear accidentally purchasing his life-preserver. But it is unnecessary, you are familiar with them.

THERE ARE THOUSANDS OF GRAND OPPORTUNITIES AWAITING YOU

Strike out and find them. An interview with W. G. Dunham, general manager for the Garment Cutter company, will give you any information desired in regard to terms, unoccupied fields, etc., etc. He can be found at the Voshell House, Chestertown.
