COLLINS & HOPPER,
EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

QUEEN ANNE'S is one of the counties which will be effected by the operation of the new election law, passed at the last session of the Legislature. The law embodies the requirements of the Australian booth system, and in order that the voters of the county may be educated in the new methods of voting, booths have been put in the court house. Kent, with several other counties, were excepted, and will not be brought within the provisions of the new law.

THE autocratic Tom Reed, of Maine, has been re-elected. Seventeen towns in Reed's district give Reed 5,543, Frank 4,291, scattering 45; Reed's plurality 1,252. Same towns in 1888 gave Reed 6,042, Emery 5,523, scattering 238; Reed's plurality 514. In the State 25 towns give Burleigh 6,939, Thompson 4,069, scattering 274; Burleigh's plurality 2,870. Same town in 1888 gave Burleigh 8,932, Putnam 6,250, scattering 336; Burleigh's plurality 2,682.

IN THE circuit court for Harford county, Judge Watters presiding, Attorney-General W. Pinkney Whyte suggested to the court that the State could not get a fair and impartial trial in that county in the cases against the sureties on the bonds of Stevenson Archer, late treasurer, and asked for their removal elsewhere for trial. He also suggested to the court that, owing to the great number of witnesses and their public official positions as bank officers, clerks, &c., and the necessity for the use of many public documents, as well as the fact that the bar library would be accessible to the attorneys, it would be just to send the case to the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore City. The court will not determine for a day or two to what court the cases will go.

THE Denton Journal says: "The race issue has been raised by the Dorchester Republicans. In Cambridge Saturday open war was declared between the faction supporting N. W. Dixon, of Somerset, and the one supporting Daniel Lloyd, brother of ex-Governor Lloyd, of Cambridge. The Lloyd ticket contained the names of two colored men while that of Dixon was composed entirely of whites. To the surprise of everybody a race issue was made and white men were importuned to vote the white man's ticket. The result was a signal defeat for the Lloyd delegation. Now, the problem before the Dorchester Republicans is, can they whip in line the 1800 colored votes and again carry Dorchester by an 'overwhelming majority.'" This statement has been denied by the Republican press.

AT THE MEETING of the United Brethren ministers, Monday, the question of church fairs and festivals was discussed, the Rev. Dr. J. P. Miller making the leading speech. He was of the opinion that ministers should discourage the practice of holding entertainments for the purpose of making money to support the church, and that they should educate their congregations to give without expecting something in return in the form of pleasure. The president of the Methodist Protestant ministers' meeting, the Rev. R. Scott Norris, read a paper on "Angels," which created an interesting debate, in which all present took an active part. The Baptist ministers, at their meeting, talked about what they had seen and heard and what they did during the summer vacation. The Rev. Dr. A. H. Tuttle, of Mt. Vernon place Church, read an exhaustive paper on "General Deliverances" at the meeting of the Methodists. The Revs. W. T. D. Clemm and George W. Hobbs took an active part in the discussion that ensued. The meeting passed resolutions ordering the address to be printed.

REPRESENTATIVE GIBSON returned to Washington this morning to be present at the concluding proceedings in the Breckinridge contested case. He was subjected to many inquiries about his contest for renomination. His Democratic associates in both houses of Congress expressed the hope that he would succeed in capturing the nomination. Mr. Gibson probably has as large a circle of personal friends as any man in the House. He does not pretend to foreshadow the result of the Ocean City convention, although he believes his friends are prepared to stand by him to the last. He says he confidently believes the rank and file of the Democratic party on the Eastern Shore favors his renomination, but there are several able and ambitious men who desire to come to Congress.

Close behind Mr. Gibson came Mr. Joshua W. Miles, the leader of the Page forces in the Cambridge convention. Mr. Miles had a long and earnest talk with Senator Wilson, who is also a warm personal friend of Mr. Page. Senator Wilson remarked afterwards that Mr. Miles was unable to predict what the outcome of the balloting at Ocean City will be, and he proposes to do everything in his power to secure the nomination of his friend Page. Senator Wilson's attention was called to a report that he was practically leading the opposition to Mr. Gibson. The senator emphatically denies this statement, and says he occupies a neutral position, owing to the candidacy of Mr. Covington. His relations with Mr. Page are most friendly, and as between Messrs. Gibson and Page, he would prefer the latter, who was an active worker for his (Wilson's) re-election to the Senate. He does not blame Mr. Gibson for favoring Governor Jackson's senatoriel aspirations, because Wicomico county gave him the renomination two years ago. Senator Wilson admits that he expected and predicted that Mr. Gibson would be renominated yesterday, but the situation is considerably mixed by the postponement. Mr. Gibson returned to Baltimore in the afternoon.—Baltimore Sun.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions of reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.,

CONGRESSIONAL POLITICS.

The Situation Before and After To-Day's Convention—Mr. Pearce Declines to Run and Mr. Vickers Declares Himself a Candidate.

The deep interest felt in the political world, relative to the decision of James A. Pearce, Esq., as to whether or not he would be a candidate before the Congressional nominating convention in session at Ocean City to-day, has been put at rest by a most positive statement from Mr. Pearce to the effect that he is not a candidate for nomination, and has never entertained any such idea as allowing his name to be presented. So Mr. Pearce is out of (as he has been from the first) the Congressional contest. Kent, however, will be represented in the fight by H. W. Vickers, Esq., who, upon the refusal of Mr. Pearce to allow his name to be used, at the earnest solicitation of a number of Democratic politicians of the county, formally declared himself a candidate on Saturday morning of last week. This determination of Mr. Vickers necessitated his withdrawal from the Kent county delegation, and R. D. Hynson, Esq., was selected to fill the vacancy. Several of the delegates who were first appointed, for various reasons found it necessary to resign, and were succeeded by Hope H. Barroll, Richard D. Hynson, Wm. B. Usilton and John D. Urie; J. Fletcher Wilson and R. Bennett Wilson, of the old delegation, did not resign. The delegates as first selected were: Capt. J. Fletcher Wilson, Dennis J. Nowland, Samuel E. Cooper, Wm. S. Walker, H. W. Vickers and R. Bennett Wilson.

What effect the appearance of Mr. Vickers will have upon the general result of to-day's proceedings it is impossible to say. It will at least do this, that whether the proceedings of the convention do or do not experience the same embarrassment which characterised its work at Centreville, Kent will present a candidate to whom the friends of Mr. Gibson, Mr. Page, and the respective counties having a single candidate may with safety cast their strength. The candidacy of Mr. Vickers of course gives the situation a new phase, which will, it is hoped, instead of further embarrassing the convention, afford a solution to the Congressional puzzle. That great expectations were entertained by some of the candidates at the time of the adjournment it is safe to say positively.

The far-sighted friends of the respective candidates may venture as many theories and conjectures as they please, but they will, nevertheless, be confronted by the stern reality that the great puzzle has not been solved, and the great uncertainty, which has for several months past cast a shadow of unrest upon the political sky of the First Congressional District, has not as yet been removed. The Centreville convention, further than weeding out several of the candidates in the field, was a failure, and the 177 ballots brought no satisfactory answer to the question in regard to the congressional representative on the Democratic side. To the question, will the adjournment help Mr. Gibson or will Mr. Page be the gainer? It is impossible to offer a forecast. The public mind is naturally curious to know which of the respective candidates has the chances in his favor, or whether or not a "dark horse" will be ushered into the contest to make a fight against the field. A solution is made only the more difficult, from the fact that both the Gibson and Page men evidently expect to reap advantages from the adjournment, since the generals on both sides voted for the adjournment and the motion to adjourn was seconded by a Gibson delegate.

Now what is the situation presented? Gibson closed on Thursday with 11 votes. It takes 16 to nominate. Those 11 votes consisted of 3 from Caroline, 4 from his own county (Talbot) and 4 from Governor Jackson's county (Wicomico).

Colonel Page had dropped out of sight for the time being and Mr. Weedon, of Queen Anne's, bobbed up serenely with twelve votes, while ex-Governor Lloyd was reveling "in the soup," and Toadvine was for the moment shelved and his forces hurried across the line to strengthen Gibson and if possible pull him through on the 177 ballot. Weedon's forces were rushed up to the boiling point of enthusiasm and Godwin, the commander-in-chief of his forces, heard with an evident feeling of satisfaction the score piled up to 12, as Secretary McMaster recorded Queen Annes 4 votes, Dorchester 4 and other 4 from Somerset. Joshua W. Miles, one of the shrewdest politicians on the shore, was ready for just such a crisis as presented itself, and when Worcester county placed in nomination the name of James Alfred Pearce, of Kent, and while the wildest excitement prevailed, Miles moved an adjournment, when the Gibson men recognizing as did the Page stalwarts that they had all to gain and nothing to lose by an opportunity to reorganize their scattered forces, and if possibly gain recruits, seconded the motion.

The vote was as follows: For adjournment—Dorchester, 4; Queen Anne's, 4; Somerset, 4; Worcester, 4—16. Against—Caroline, 3; Kent, 3; Talbot, 4; Wicomico, 4.

Kent, after having honored herself in a sturdy adherence to Mr. Gibson throughout the stubborn fight, was not slow in recognizing her duty when the name of James A. Pearce was presented, she fell into line and added her three votes to Worcester's 4 for her most honored son. The Baltimore Herald says:

"Besides getting themselves in a hole, Worcester seems to have placed James A. Pearce in an equally uncomfortable position. If he expresses a willingness to become a candidate he will incur just the same criticism that ex-Governor Henry Lloyd has brought down upon his head.

"Ex-Gov. Lloyd proclaimed himself a Page man, but 'for harmony's sake' he proclaimed himself a Congressional candidate. He saw his mistake and took it all back.

"Politicians and the public in general are wondering if Mr. Pearce will attempt to play the same role as Mr. Lloyd. Will he also, after having admitted that the sentiment of Kent county is for Mr. Gibson proclaim himself a candidate 'for harmony's sake.'"

The Herald's query is easily answered. There can be no analogy between the position of Gov. Lloyd and Mr. Pearce, because Mr. Pearce was never a candidate "for harmony's sake" nor on any other ground. He was put in nomination without his knowledge or consent. He never contemplated remaining in nomination, and gave as prompt a declination as due respect for those who placed him in nomination would permit. We are authorized to say that had he been at home when he was placed in nomination his declination would have been telegraphed as soon as known to him.

The question asked of Queen Anne's is, will she continue to play second fiddle to the forces of Mr. Page. If not, will she wheel in line for Gibson and continue that gentleman as a most formidable rival against the field? That might perhaps be good politics, but will they do it? These queries may possibly have been answered before some of the TRANSCRIPT'S readers have heard of the change in the political tide, but they are questions which have been of serious concern to the politicians of the first district, during the past week. The lower counties, or those below the Choptank, played a prominent part in the convention, and should they see proper, may continue the deadlock. The present contest is an intensely interesting one, and one which affords the student of political science a rare field for speculation and conjecture. The political wires have been kept in constant motion and unexpected changes have marked this contest in view of the superabundance available Congressional timber in the first district.

INTERESTING NOTES.

The Farmers' Alliance and Politics—Peach Talk, Etc.

"Osceola" in an interesting letter to Farm and Home, gives the following general review of affairs in Kent, political and otherwise:

"The present wet season is but a repetition of what we have had since August, 1886. A great deal of the peach wood is already injured and the prospect of a large crop of this fruit next year is not as good as it was a month ago. I notice the fruit on the Newington and Salway are cracking and rotting just as they did in '86 and '88. Cold winters and dry springs will insure peaches, but until that happens the Peninsula grower had better not depend upon them as a money crop.

"The yellows are gaining on us. One of our most successful growers told me last night that he had fifty trees with yellows this year against twenty-five last year. This gentleman takes out all effected trees every year. Along the water the increase is greater. If Mr. Hale, of Connecticut, would come here we can show him vigorous four-year-old trees, full of the wiry shoots; these trees have been treated with allopathic doses of bone and potash in the springs of '89 and '90. This treatment may do on the worn-out hills of Connecticut but it won't do here.

"We transplanted some asparagus crowns about two weeks ago, and are growing nicely. We are satisfied that August is the time to plant them to escape the ravages of the beetle. If planted now the crowns will become rooted before winter and the stalks will come up strong in the spring and resist the beetle a great deal better.

"Growers who ploughed under barn yard manure have a larger yield so far than where commercial fertilizers were used. A clover sod manured in the fall will give the best results. A farmer that can grow ten tons of tomatoes per acre and get six dollars per ton near by, will net more than he will from corn. However, we ought to get seven dollars or start canneries of our own.

"The Farmers' Alliance is here. Seven have been organized in this county during the past ten days. A County Alliance was organized the other day. A member told me it was a good thing. If this organization holds out it looks as if a great many of the politicians, etc, of the county will have to seek some other employment. A leading Alliance organizer remarked the other day that their object was to give the farmer equal representation in State and national legislatures; or, in other words, the farmer must have one-half of the representatives in all legislative bodies. I don't believe Maryland has a single farmer in either house of Congress, yet the farmer supports everything in the State. Did you read Dr. Ellzey's address at the Farmers' Alliance held at the seventeen-mile stone on the Baltimore and Frederick turnpike on August 27? It is a good address except it is too hard on the lawyers. Lawyers are a useful class of citizens, at the same time there are too many of them in our legislative bodies. The Alliance must let them down by degrees. The southern and western farmers mean business, and they are going to play an important part in making the platforms of the two old parties in '92. The party that nominates a silver man for President will win. He will have to come west of the Blue Ridge. What a mistake Cleveland made. If he had advocated the free coinage and other legislation for the farmer, along with his free trade theories, he would win in '92. But tariff reform alone will not win. Wall street must be crushed or in ten years the farmers of this land will be no more than serfs. The financial policy of the country since 1860 has been making the rich, richer and the poor, poorer."

Shall Women Be Delegates?

The question of woman suffrage and equal representation continues to agitate the public mind, if not in one form then in another. From the political stage the masculine minds of a few women and the more effeminite minds of a smaller number of men have forced the issue into the affairs of church, and though the matter has been given the seal of disapprobation throughout the greater part of the world, it has assumed a new form and the church will soon be asked to pass judgment upon the question of whether or not women shall be eligible as delegates to the Electoral and General Conferences.

All members in full connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, of 21 years and over, throughout the world, will, in October and November, vote upon the eligibility of women as lay delegates to the electoral and General Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in New York, in May, 1888, the question of admitting women was brought up, and the three or four ladies who had been elected as delegates from Western conferences were refused admission. The committee to whom the matter was referred, of which Rev. John Lanahan, of the Baltimore Conference was a member, reported unanimously against their admission, and the General Conference adopted the report. This brought the whole matter before the general body, and it was finally decided to refer the subject to a vote of all the members not less than 21 years of age throughout the world, including those in India, Japan, China and Africa. Each congregation will have one election, conducted by its pastor and two laymen. The laymen are to be chosen by the quarterly conference of each official charge. It will require two-thirds of all the members within the jurisdiction of the General Conference to insure the admission of female delegates. There are nearly 100 annual conferences which send delegates to the General Conference, and the vote is to be by both ministers and laymen. The next General Conference will meet in Omaha in May, 1892. The vote of the members is expected to be known before the delegates to the next General Conference are elected. The annual conferences which meet in the autumn will have to elect their delegates in the fall of 1891, but the spring conferences which meet prior to May, 1892, need not elect their delegates until the spring of that year. The Baltimore Conference meets in March each year, so the delegates from that conference need not be elected until 1892. Dr. John Lanahan, who has been a member of nine consecutive General Conferences, covering a period of 36 years, says the question is absurd, and that the vote in favor of admitting female delegates will be very small, except perhaps in some of the Western States.

DEMOCRATIC primary elections were held throughout Cecil, Anne Arundel, Alleghany and Howard counties Saturday for the selection of delegates to the Congressional conventions. The delegates from Anne Arundle county are reported to be all in favor of the nomination of Hon. Barnes Compton. In the fourth district, the home of the late Michael Bannon, there was a lively contest between the Bond-Bannon side and the Anderson-Turner party. The former combination was successful.

Mr. George M. Russum, who was nominated for Congress last week by the Republicans of the first district, has been tendered the position of assistant to Attorney-General Miller, but has not yet concluded to give up his practice in Caroline in order to accept the post.

Pride of England,

IMPORTED

Cleveland Bay Stallion,

REGISTERED NO. 161,

is of a beautiful Cleveland Bay color, stands 16 hands 1½ inches, and will weigh thirteen hundred pounds in condition. He is stylish, fine action and perfectly quiet. In the combined qualities of action, beauty and endurance, he is acknowledged to stand unequaled as a stock horse for farm and carriage purposes. He comes down a long line of the best producers.

The American Farmers' Stock Book, in speaking of the most desirable strains of horses which have been the result of careful and scientific breeding, in coming to the Cleveland Bays, says: "We come next to a class of horses always held in the highest esteem for their many valuable qualities. It is a horse that is now bred to a degree of perfection that leaves little to be desired in all that goes to constitute size, style and ability to perform any labor that may be required, except the heaviest dradgery. The Cleveland Bays are good carriage horses, good and stout wagon or plow horses, and they match together about as easily as Devon cattle, combining as they do, plenty of staunch thorough blood with excellent size and constitutional vigor. Unfortunately they are rare in the United States, but since their introduction into the West, they have been steadily growing into favor. They are remarkable for their pure bay color, dashed only at the fetlocks and in the forehead with white. We have good authority for our admiration of this splendid animal. Canada has of late years become celebrated for finely-bred and finely-matched carriage horses, which is due to the sagacity of some Canadian breeders, in selecting Cleveland Bay Stallions for sires."

and do your own sewing, and it will save you hundreds of dollars, besides giving you a nice fitting garment and save much time and worry.

SOUTHERN OPINION

OF THE

National Garment Cutter

The Johnson City (Tenn.) Enterprise says they taught several large classes during their stay here, among whom were our best citizens, many of whom are now in the field teaching this grand method. "Those of whom we have heard say anything at all about it—and they are many.—speak of it in the loudest praise and say they would not do without it for ten times its cost.

And so it goes receiving the highest endorsement from all, nor Could It Be Otherwise When It Fills the Greatest Need at This Time.

A correct system that is simple and can be correctly learned by the people. It is impossible to estimate the value to the public of such a work. The Americus Record, of Georgia, gives about the same account of the Cutter in that State, and says many of their best citizens are selling the System and making money. So it is on this Shore, the agents in Dorchester, Caroline and Somerset counties are all making money. Now, we brought the first System in the State a little over a year ago, and there is over twenty agents now at work in the State, and all well pleased with it. Now, the time draws near when we must go to new fields, and you that want to learn the Cutter or go in the work, delay not or you may be too late, for the company is urging me to other fields, and soon I must go, and then your opportunity will be gone for either the Cutter or the work, so take warning in time and improve this grand opportunity. Call and see us at the Voshell House.
