EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

FOR CONGRESS:
HON. HENRY PAGE,
OF SOMERSET COUNTY.

Election November 4.

ONE of the most suggestive echoes of the victory of Mr. Page, a "below-the-Choptank" man is, where will the United State's Senatorial cloak fall? We say in Kent, and advance the name of James A. Pearce as that of a man who would reflect honor upon this people and magnify his office.

HON. CHARLES H. GIBSON, so soon as the result of the Ocean City convention became known, telegraphed his congratulations to Mr. Page, and assured him of his earnest support and the support of his county. The retiring congressman will lay aside his robes of office and retire to the duties of his profession carrying with him the full respect and appreciation of a most friendly constituency.

IN THE NOMINATION of Hon. Henry Page, of Somerset county, the Ocean City convention, though not fulfilling the wishes of the people of Kent county in setting aside the claims of both Mr. Vickers and Mr. Gibson, made under the circumstances one of the best possible selections. In Mr. Page, the First Congressional District will be represented by one of the most thoroughly capable gentlemen of the State. A lawyer of superior ability, a fluent and eloquent speaker, a man of culture and varied information, he will stand as a worthy successor of Mr. Gibson, whose record in the national House of Representatives has been so eminently satisfactory. We extend to Mr. Page the congratulations, and a hearty endorsement of his nomination by the Democracy of Kent, and assure him of an earnest and undivided support. Kent's last fall record removed her from the column of doubtful counties, and she will join hands with Talbot and roll up a handsome majority for the party's nominee.

CHESTERTOWN'S SANITARY CONDITION.

The sanitary condition of Chestertown should, under all circumstances, be a matter of first importance to each and every citizen as well as to those to whose care have been entrusted the supervision and guardianship of the public health. That the sanitary condition of Chestertown is in a miserable state, is too evident to be questioned, and unless some prompt and energetic measures are taken, serious results may be the outgrowth.

Numerous complaints have been made, and it were a gross and unpardonable dereliction of duty to suppress or withhold the voice of warning from a community which is seemingly unconscious of the evils which threaten to poison and destroy its health. Without meaning to directly or indirectly cast any unnecessary obstacles in the way of our canning industries, we are forced to call special attention to the miserable condition of affairs which have been produced by refuse from these establishments being thrown into the dock along our water front. This waste is washed on shore where it is deposited by high tides and remains a source of pestilence and disease. The atmosphere on portions of Water street, during the nights when but slight wind prevails, is nauseous and almost unbearable. This can and should be remedied.

The upper portion of town also enters complaint. Some of the backyards of the town have been reported as being so foul, that they amount to nothing more nor less than prolific sources of sickness and discomfort. The premises are neglected, and by the thoughtlessness of a few, many are forced to undergo the inconvenience of illness, unnecessary suffering and expense. To add to the general uncared-for sanitary condition of the community, a vast pond of mud mars the beauty of the surroundings in the centre of the town, and lends its quota of miasmic poisons to the general fund.

Will not the town commissioners give this matter their prompt attention, and see if some means of counteracting the effects of this state of affairs cannot be introduced. Would it not be better, instead of occupying the time of several men and at times a team it cutting and removing the grass from portions of the streets, to put them at work removing the refuse and accummulated waste from places where such attention is sorely needed?

Would it not be better to take a step backward, if such an introduction might be so termed, and have it incumbent upon some specified town official to make visits of examination at stated intervals and report the condition of the various sections of the town? Let each and every piece of property be visited, and if needs be a suitable fine imposed upon every one allowing their premises to get in such a condition as to endanger the public health. These are facts which merit the attention of every citizen of the town and community.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The opening of the public schools on Sept. 1, was an event the importance of which it were difficult to overestimate. And however much we may regret to say it, this importance is apparently unappreciated by the masses of the community, who consider their duty to the child and themselves, as well as to the State, as having been discharged when the boys and girls are hurried off to school. It matters not what the relation occupied, whether it be in the capacity of parent, scholar or teacher, the event presents itself as one worthy of, and demanding consideration. The happiness of the home, as well as the individual welfare of the child, forces the question of a proper education of the children of the country to the front as of supreme importance. Then to the broader consideration of the more symmetrical moral and physical growth of the commonwealth, comes in as a vast moment, and a high standard of education has long since been recognized as being conducive to national strength and intelligence.

While our public school system has reached a standard of effectiveness commanding the admiration of every advocate of progressive education and intellectual development, it is as yet far from being a complete system. Thoughtful educators throughout the country are daily striving to overcome defects as they may present themselves, and this fact alone gives promise of a more perfectly rounded system than at present exists.

The following from the Philadelphia Record is worthy of a careful consideration by the parents and teachers of Kent county:

"No teaching can be worthy of the name unless it develops individuality, and sharpens and brightens the intellectual faculties. The majority of children in large cities are compelled to leave school when they are about 14 years of age, and therefore there is a paramount necessity for an education which shall not aim at imparting too much knowledge by superficial methods, but will rather seek to make two or three studies well and thoroughly understood, so that the knowledge may remain through life with the learner.

"It may readily be admitted that we must have system and method in our schools; but we must have something besides. We use examinations as gauging lines, but our percentages do not show true values. We get bits of information and progressive series of bits, but the child's mind, instead of being developed, has too often been flooded. We bind all the schools together in a series of grades, apportion the hours for all work, set a thousand machine-moved teachers in the schools, and then pour in an overcrowded throng of children, and begin to examine them, without one thought as to instruction, character-building and true mental growth. We cannot 'fit' boys and girls for special professions or avocations; all that we can undertake to do in our public schools is to train the intellect and develope the character of the pupils so that they shall be intelligent, industrious, contented and virtuous citizens. To awaken the minds of the children, to stimulate their thirst for knowledge, to train them in habits of inquiry—this is the great end to be attained; and the successful teacher is the one who makes his or her pupils think patiently and independently and stirs them up to original investigation.

"But it is doubtful if this can be accomplished so long as we shall persist in following the high-pressure system which ignores individuality in children and gauges them all by an inflexible cast-iron rule. To determine the relative standing of pupils in a class on a scale of one hundred not only undermines the teacher's value, but it treats the children as if they were all endowed with the same aptitude. The youthful mind is not a mere-knowledge-box, arranged in carefully labeled compartments, the contents of which are to be brought out and displayed on a monthly examination. The same criticism may be applied to the too great reliance of teachers and pupils on text-books. We hear children talk about co-relative conjunctions, numeral adjectives, subordinate prepositions and the like before they can give an intelligent account of any event or utter a simple thought without doing violence to their mother tongue. They have simply swallowed their mental food, not digested it, and such mechanical methods are utterly opposed to all natural and rational laws. Our educators should realize that they must teach according to natural laws, and stimulate all the powers of the human being; and that the child—not examinations, promotions nor courses of study—should be the objective point of all teaching."

EX-GOV. CAMERON, OF VIRGINIA.

He Publishes a Letter Withdrawing from the Republican Party.

Ex-Governor Wm. E. Cameron, of Petersburg, Va., yesterday published a letter in which he renounces his allegiance to the Republican party, both State and national. It was his intention to have prepared this letter several weeks ago, but a painful illness interferred with his plans. Ex-Governor Cameron is considered to be one of the most brilliant men in the State and was elected Governor over Senator J. W. Daniel in the memorable campaign of 1880. He justifies his action in withdrawing from his old party as follows:

"The Republican party preserves no longer the semblance of speaking for the entire country, but bases its claim to supremacy on sectional prejudices and sectional interest, pure and simple. Not only is this so, but the directors of its policy have not hesitated in the attainment of their ends to prostitute the plighted faith of the party in sight of all the world, and to renounce in their congressional enactments the promises solemnly made in the Chicago platform. They stand self-convicted not only of false pretense and punic faith, but of mathematical malignancy in seeking to retain power by reinvoking the war sentiment at the North and West, and by resurrecting all the stock phrases of fanaticism and sectionalism which could stir the South into resentment and retort.

"Their object was and is to force the fighting as between a solid North and a solid South, and at the same time to use the small contingent of Southern Republicanism in Congress to minimize the power of the South by such political abominations as the Lodge bill, and by so framing a tariff law (under pretext of protection to American labor and American products) as to increase every burden of the customs upon the weaker section and as to leave in force, in all its shameless inequality, the revenue tax upon tobacco."

In closing Colonel Cameron says:

"President Harrison has done nothing south of Mason and Dixon's line since his inauguration except to recognize with reluctance that any such country existed. His appointments, with just few enough honorable variations to prove the rule, have been of men not representatives in character, influence or capacity. He has shown utter inaptitude to square his actions with his utterances, his performances with his promises, his principles with his prejudices, or his status with his stature. He has been the instrument, willing or unwilling, of the machine elements of his party, and for the want of bold and brave catholic action he has made himself responsible for the fact that in the North and West there is a divided Republican party and that in the South there is none worthy of the name."

Is Consumption Incurable.

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says., "Was dowm with Abcess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Comsumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to over see the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made.

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at Colin F. Stams's Drugstore,

EXCURSIONS TO HISTORIC BATTLEFIELDS.—A series of special excursions to the Battlefields of Cedar Creek (Middletown), Winchester and Harper's Ferry, under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic are announced for September 16 and October 16, 1890, affording a rare opportunity to visit the Historic Ground where the contending hosts struggled for victory.

Tickets for these excursions will be sold from all ticket stations on the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. east of the Ohio river at one fare for the round trip on September 15 and 16, 1890, valid for return journey ten days including day of sale.

For the accommodation of those desiring to visit the Battlefields of Antietam and Gettysburg, the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. Co. will place on sale excursion tickets at one fare for the round trip to these points at Hatper's Ferry and Weverton, to be sold Sept. 16 to 24 inclusive good to return until Sept. 25 inclusive. Oct. 16 to 24 inclusive good to return until Oct. 25 inclusive. For rates and time of trains call on or address Agents B. & O. R. R.

SOME THINGS ABOUT TOWN.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Your correspondent sometimes walks about town, and he observes that whenever in putting down pipes in the streets a crossing is displaced, it is never replaced properly. A year or so ago a sewer was put down the main street and the stone crossing at Water street was torn up. It has never been replaced. Within the memory of man, a pipe was laid in Spring avenue, and the crossing from the old M. E. Church building to the Voshell House has never been replaced. During hard rains, old men, at the imminent risk of breaking their shanks, are compelled to leap the ditch.

The pipe put down near the house lately occupied by Mrs. Wilmer, at least one year ago, is marked by a mound that is not only unsightly but dangerous under some circumstances.

Those who put down pipes in the streets pay nothing for the privilege, I believe, is it not as little as they can do to restore the street to a proper condition? Should not the town commissioners make this a condition precedent to undertaking the work? Where will you find another incorporated town that permits such liberties with the streets without a special permit under conditions? Have our commissioners eyes, but they see not?

The sanitary condition of the town is not of such a character as to challenge the pride of our citizens. September suns and the moist-laden air of this season soon convert into poison, the murk deposited in certain SCOWS, which are somewhat like the widow's barrel of meal, never get empty; and though continually increased, never get full.

Have our commissioners, or rather their bailiff, a nose and smells not?

It is a certain practice in another part of the town for dirty suds to be thrown from the second-story window on the pavement, where it is left to breed under the September suns disgusting nosegays for the passers by.

Some one will receive some day one of these delightful showers on his head, and burning with just indignation, drag the offender before the magistrate to defend a damage suit.

It is not a very pleasant duty, but if our commissioners will some day put on their spectacles, leave their saltz bottles at home and, accompanied by their bailiff, take a general walk around, they might add something to the town exchequer in the way of fines, and probably save some fellow-townsman from a long spell of typhoid fever.

The little article in the last News on the health of the town ought to be magnified, reinserted and put where some one would be likely to see it. Q.

THE CONVENTION'S CHOICE.

What Our Exchanges Say of Our Representative.

As the convention could not be induced to renominate him (Mr. Gibson) it is a matter of general congratulation that its choice fell upon so worthy and capable a gentleman as Mr. Henry Page, a tariff reformer of the Cleveland type, an able lawyer, an engaging speaker and a man of culture and varied information. Mr. Page has long been regarded as one of the leading men of the Eastern Shore, and there can be no doubt that he will prove an intelligent and highly-creditable representative of Maryland in the national Legislature.—Balto. Sun.

It becomes our duty then in this district, and this state, to send men to Congress skilled and strong enough to meet the advocates of the Plutocrat's policy in the Congress of the nation, to measure swords with them in that arena and overthrow them without hope. We have such men, and Henry Page is one of them.—Princess Anne Marylander.

After one of the most remarkable contests ever known in this district, the Democratic nominating convention at Ocean City on Thursday last nominated the Hon. Henry Page, of Somerset county, as a candidate for Congress. Without disparaging any or the honorable gentlemen whose names were before the convention, for they were good and true men and Democrats, no better man could have been found in the district for our standard bearer.—Easton Star.

We think Col. Page will make a useful and faithful member of Congress, and that if he will only perform his duty as well as Mr. Gibson has done the people will be satisfied. Of course, we sadly regret the defeat of Mr. Gibson, and desired his renomination, not only as an act of justice to him who had so well performed his duty but because we believe that the best interests of the people of the first district would have been best served by his renomination and election. However, as a true democrat, we raise to our mast head the name of Henry Page and will faithfully support him.—Easton Democrat.

The Sunday School Census.

The following communication has been received from Mr. William A. Baker, State Supt., Maryland S. S. Union, of Baltimore:

DEAR SIRS;—As an appropriation has been made for the purpose of gathering the Sunday school census of the country, and the various State Sunday school organizations have volunteered to do this work in the eleventh census, H. K. Carroll, of Plamsfield, N. J., has undertaken this work for Maryland; therefore the co-operation of pastors, superintendents and secretaries of Sunday schools and postmasters as well, are asked; If any Sunday school fails to receive blanks they will please send the following information to the undersigned: name of superintendent, name of Sunday school and denomination (white or colored), in or near what town located, and number of officers, teachers and scholars. Please let us know of any new Sunday school in or near your neighborhood, with name of superintendent and address. It ought to be the pride of every Sabbath school worker to have a full census of all the Sunday schools in Maryland.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions of reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.,

Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Pride of England,
IMPORTED
Cleveland Bay Stallion,
REGISTERED NO. 161,

is of a beautiful Cleveland Bay color, stands 16 hands 1½ inches, and will weigh thirteen hundred pounds in condition. He is stylish, fine action and perfectly quiet. In the combined qualities of action, beauty and endurance, he is acknowledged to stand unequaled as a stock horse for farm and carriage purposes. He comes down a long line of the best producers.

The American Farmers' Stock Book, in speaking of the most desirable strains of horses which have been the result of careful and scientific breeding, in coming to the Cleveland Bays, says: "We come next to a class of horses always held in the highest esteem for their many valuable qualities. It is a horse that is now bred to a degree of perfection that leaves little to be desired in all that goes to constitute size, style and ability to perform any labor that may be required, except the heaviest drudgery. The Cleveland Bays are good carriage horses, good and stout wagon or plow horses, and they match together about as easily as Devon cattle, combining as they do, plenty of staunch thorough blood with excellent size and constitutional vigor. Unfortunately they are rare in the United States, but since their introduction into the West, they have been steadily growing into favor. They are remarkable for their pure bay color, dashed only at the fetlocks and in the forehead with white. We have good authority for our admiration of this splendid animal. Canada has of late years become celebrated for finely-bred and finely-matched carriage horses, which is due to the sagacity of some Canadian breeders, in selecting Cleveland Bay Stallions for sires."

PEDIGREE:

Sire, Mark T. by Moonstone, by McQueen's Rattler, by Horn Pipe, by Fox Hunter. Dam, by McQueen's Rattler, second dam by Horn Pipe, third dam by Fox Hunter, fourth dam a superior coach mare.

WANTED:
All the NEW WHEAT
I CAN BUY,

Delivered at any station on the Railroad, for The Wm. Lea & Sons Co., Brandywine Mills, Wilmington, Delaware.

FARMERS, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST!

And allow me to make an offer on your Grain before you sell. As I am buying direct for the manufacturer with a low rate of freight to Wilmington, it is reasonable to suppose I can pay more for Grain than those who buy to sell again and do your own sewing, and it will save you hundreds of dollars, besides giving you a nice fitting garment and save much time and worry.

SOUTHERN OPINION OF THE
National Garment Cutter

The Johnson City (Tenn.) Enterprise says they taught several large classes during their stay here, among whom were our best citizens, many of whom are now in the field teaching this grand method. Those of whom we have heard say anything at all about it—and they are many—speak of it in the loudest praise and say they would not do without it for ten times its cost.

And so it goes receiving the highest endorsement from all, nor Could It Be Otherwise When It Fills the Greatest Need at This Time.

A correct system that is simple and can be correctly learned by the people. It is impossible to estimate the value to the public of such a work. The Americus Record, of Georgia, gives about the same account of the Cutter in that State, and says many of their best citizens are selling the System and making money. So it is on this Shore, the agents in Dorchester, Caroline and Somerset counties are all making money. Now, we brought the first System in the State a little over a year ago, and there is over twenty agents now at work in the State, and all well pleased with it. Now, the time draws near when we must go to new fields, and you that want to learn the Cutter or go in the work, delay not or you may be too late, for the company is urging me to other fields, and soon I must go, and then your opportunity will be gone for either the Cutter or the work, so take warning in time and improve this grand opportunity. Call and see us at the Voshell House.
