Chestertown Transcript.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

THURSDAY, DEC. 11, 1890.

COLLINS & HOPPER,
EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

WE MUST again impress upon our correspondents the necessity of signing their names in full to all communications. This is a requirement from which we cannot possibly deviate.

THE OBNOXIOUS Force bill, it is expected, will be rushed through at an early date. Something is on the programme which Democrats fear will develope in some positive move to-day, and the mysterious something may be the Lodge Force bill.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

A Word to the Business Men Worthy Their Consideration.

To no people in the State would suggestions in regard to making radical changes from old methods be more in order than to the citizens of Chestertown. Possessing facilities not surpassed by any town in the State, there is no reason why Chestertown should not outstrip a vast majority of the towns of the State in point of business enterprise and a correspondingly healthy financial condition of its people. Situated in the very heart of one of the most highly improved and beautiful agricultural sections in this or any other country; with a beautiful river affording a depth of water sufficient to accommodate heavy draught steamers and merchantmen, at its very door; having a population whose industry, sobriety and intelligence is unquestioned, and at the same time having a reputation for a chivalrous hospitality which has become world-wide, there is no reason for a business or financial stagnation such as exists in many other less favor sections of our own or other States. As money makes money, so do enterprise and evidences of business capacity invite the enterprise and business capacity of others.

Surrounded by numberless advantages we have mills standing idle and a large working population desirous of occupation. Convenient to Baltimore by water; within a few hours of Philadelphia and New York, we offer advantages to manufacturers which needs only be shown them to be availed of. Easton and Salisbury have already recognized the importance of taking some definite and progressive action. Live Boards of Trade have been formed for the development of their business interests, and the towns have already felt the stimulating and strengthening influence of the movement upon their financial condition. Free excursions have been given to the people along the line of their railroad by which hundreds of persons have been brought into a closer relation to the advantages offered by their own county and its business institutions as well as the possibilities of a greater development of its resources. A recent excursion numbered a thousand. They were met at the depot by a deputation of the Board of Trade, headed by a band of music, escorted to the town hall, addressed in an able speech by a citizen appointed for the purpose, and afterwards introduced to the business men generally.

The people of a vast region of territory are thus brought together and become acquainted with each other, and their business interests are mutually subserved.

The business men of Chestertown must awaken to the demands of the moment. Let us appoint a live Board of Trade whose duty it shall be to set forth in the most Democratic Cæsar of the moment is whether to take the coronet is to risk the crown; whether to accept the Senatorship is to hazard the Presidency; and, again, whether to put aside the Senatorship is to lose both the Presidency and the Governorship.—Harper's Weekly.

THE ASSUMPTION that Mr. Cleveland would get the Democratic nomination for the Presidency even if he should not go into the National Convention backed by his own State is probably incorrect. It is not the habit of the Democratic party to choose candidates who have been repudiated at home. On the other hand, it is equally improbable, in case Mr. Cleveland should not carry his State, that Governor Hill or any other citizen of New York would be nominated. If the Democrats of New York should put a veto on the manifest choice of the Democracy of the other States they could not expect to be humored in further dictation. With Cleveland ruled off the course, the chance of New York would be lost; and the Democracy would look elsewhere for a candidate. It is reasonable to conclude that if Hill's candidacy should make Cleveland an impossibility, so also Cleveland's candidacy would make Hill unavailable.—Ex.

EARLY IN THE FIGHT.

Politics Already Assuming Form for the Campaign of 1891.

Notwithstanding the fact that at this early stage of the political season, Gubernatorial candidates should only be in the embrio state—in the delicate bud instead of the full-blown flower, the garden is already full of these gaudy creatures, and the conflict of favorites has even now commenced. Possibilities and probabilities are dotting the field from one end of the State to the other. While numberless dark horses are quietly watching the political straws, hoping to find in which direction the current is tending, Frank Brown and James Hodges are marshalling their hosts with a view of taking advantage of being early in the field and strengthening any weak places around their individual pastures. The seed have already been cast and the harvest is golden ripe, but from which field shall the Gubernatorial sheaf be gathered is the one great question. The solution rests upon so many contingencies that those most conversant with the political sky are somewhat puzzled in reference to the answer. Will or will not the Farmers' Alliance affect the issue is another matter of importance. The organization, it is true, started out to pursue its operations entirely independent of politics or political organizations, but that the Alliance will figure as an important factor in national and State politics has become an established fact.

In Maryland a State Alliance is in full operation as also a number of county organizations. That a movement may be inaugurated in this State in sympathy with the proceedings of the Floriday convention is not impossible. In the event of such a move where will the Alliance's strength fall? The order, feeling its inability to place one of its own members in the Chief Executive Chair of the State, will, in all probability, throw its balance of power with the candidate who may be most in sympathy with its interests. Now, "there's the rub." Mr. Brown is an extensive farmer and practical agriculturist. Will he receive the acceptable donation of the Alliance vote, or will the Alliance men endeavor to induce the party to take some other good Democrat from their own class; Gen. William McKenney, for instance, of Queen Anne's? Mr. McKenney has already been prominently spoken of for the position of Governor, but the great barrier in his path is that the Eastern Shore has had two Governors in succession. Then, too, Mr. E. B. Prettyman, W. M. McKaig, H. Kyd Douglass and several others have been quietly referred to as men acceptable to certain elements of the Democratic masses. Mr. Hodges and Mr. Brown are both claiming Baltimore city. Mr. Hodges is an Eastern Shoreman by birth, and is betting on a support from this section, while Mr. Brown, whose extensive agricultural interests and thorough sympathy with the farming community it is claimed will recommend his claims to the people in such a way as to capture the rural support of the State. The pot is boiling and is daily becoming more interesting from the nature of the vast mixture of pros and cons which are being boiled down. The fight is to be a big one, and all the aspirants will have their hands full in grabbing for the rich kernel of the nut which will be found exceedingly hard to crack.

THE FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

By a strange anomaly in our popular political institutions a defeated majority in Congress is permitted to legislate after the repudiation of its policy by the people at the ballot-box. In all other popular governments the defeated party must retire as soon as the decree of the ballot shall have been recorded. But though the majority which assembled in the House on December 1 has been shorn of half its strength and reduced to a helpless minority, it has power over all questions of legislation, in conjunction with a Republican Senate and President, until the 4th of March next.

If the elections of November had any political significance whatever, they emphatically condemned the McKinley tariff, the Force bill, the Subsidy scheme, and all the distinctive measures of Republican policy. Yet, in defiance of the popular revolution, the Republican House and Senate may, if they will, sharpen the spikes of the McKinley tariff. They can pass the Force bill, and prevent its repeal for some years to come. They can, in short, range at will for three months over the whole field of legislation, with no power to arrest them.

The only restraint upon the repudiated majority in Congress is the unwritten and often unheeded law of public opinion. Will the Republicans in Congress refuse to recognize the expression of public sentiment and prosecute their policy the same as if an election had never been held? Though Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, and a few other Bourbons have declared that the Force bill must be passed, a number of Republican Senators in the last session of Congress did not conceal their repugnance to this bill; and there is, doubtless, a number besides upon whom the elections have had a sobering influence. There are a few instances in which a repudiated majority has proceeded to enforce its policy in face of the popular verdict. Most majorities so situated have employed the short session in passing the regular appropriation bills with other non-partisan legislation, and have left political policies to their successors.

This singular power of a rejected majority to legislate between the election and the assembling of a succeeding Congress is an anomaly which should not be permitted to linger any longer in the American Constitution. If, however, the present Congress should persist in passing the Force bill and other obnoxious partisan measures, the demand for a change in the constitution in this respect would become irresistible. Abuse of power has led to most of the reforms in legislation and government.—Philadelphia Record.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, XMAS HOLIDAY RATES ON THE B. & O.—The B. & O. R. R. Co. will this year follow its annual custom of selling excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates on all of its lines during the Christmas holidays. The sale of excursion tickets will begin at all B. & O. stations east of the Ohio river, December 24th, and will continue until January 1st, inclusive. All tickets will be good for return passage until January 5th, inclusive.

THE FORCE BILL RESOLUTIONS.

At the Acola, Florida, convention of the National Farmers' Alliance, the members of that order entered the following emphatic protest against the passage of the Lodge Force bill; as given by the minutes of proceedings:

At the afternoon session Delegate W. S. McAllister, of Mississippi, introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted:

"WHEREAS, The President of the United States, in his annual message to Congress, recommends and urges the immediate passage of the measure known as the Lodge election bill; and

"Whereas said bill involves a radical revolution in the election machinery of the Union, both State and national, and its passage will be fatal to the autonomy of the States and cherished liberties of the citizens; and

"Whereas said bill is partisan in spirit and will be partisan in its application, thus revitalizing the gory ghost of sectional estrangement; and

"Whereas, in the holy war which we have declared against sectionalism, the firesides of the farmers of the North, East, South and West are the citadels around which the heaviest battles are being fought and to the end that victory may crown our crusade, let fraternity and unity reign; Therefore be it

"Resolved by the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union of America, in national council Assembled, That we do most solemnly protest against the passage of said Lodge election bill, and we most earnestly petition our Senators to employ all fair and legal mean to defeat this unpatriotic measure, which can result in nothing but evil to our common and beloved country.

"Resolved further, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions forwarded to each Senator in Congress."

GROWTH OF THE ORDER.

Nation Secretary Turner submitted his annual report last night, but it is incomplete, owing to the constant payment of sub-alliance dues during this session. During the past year 1,069 new charters were issued to sub-alliances as follows: West Virginia, 252; Colorado, 152; Indiana, 132; Michigan, 106; Virginia, 95; Illinois, 87; South Caroline, 83; Ohio, 61; Pennsylvania, 59; New Jersey, 20; Minnesota, 5; Iowa, 5; Oregon, 1; Oklahoma, 1. State charters have been issued to the following States: Indiana, Illinois, Colorado, Michigan, West Virginia, Oklanoma and North Dakota.

WOMEN CARRY THE DAY.

As supplementing the mention of last week relative to the final result of the vote on the question of, "Shall women be admitted into the General Conference as lay delegates," it seems to have been definitely settled that the day has been carried by the opponents of absolute man rule. The following from the Philadelphia Record is considered a fair statement of the vote and its result: The question: "Shall women be admitted into the General Conference as lay delegates?" has been submitted to the congregations of all the Methodists Churches in the United States, and the members of each were allowed to vote upon it. The voting was all done during October and November, mainly in the latter month. Results from the churches throughout the country are not all in yet, but the Philadelphia Methodist will say to-day that enough of the returns have been received to show that the women have carried the day, and so far as the popular will goes they are entitled to seats in the General Conference as lay delegates.

LIBERAL WESTERN STATES.

The vote everywhere was comparatively small. In Pennsylvania the sentiment seems to be against admitting the women, while in New York opinion is about evenly divided. The Western States are more liberal, and their voice is so strong for the innovation that it has drowned that from the Eastern section. The South, so far as heard from, is in favor of sticking to the old custom of only allowing men to sit in the Conference.

HOW THEY VOTED.

The following is a summary of all the returns received up to last night:

	Churches Heard from.	For.	Against.
Pennsylvania	125	2,014	3,269
Camden	9	169	239
Northern New York	70	1,047	1,053
New York City	57	1,638	1,850
Boston and vicinity	61	1,261	25
Cincinnati and vicinity	67	2,656	1,306
Michigan	88	1,534	289
Pittsburg	41	1,269	759
Chicago	90	3,002	977
Buffalo	29	811	330
San Francisco	26	939	32
Omaha	22	660	145
Washington	14	338	445
Total	699	17,338	10,619

This gives the women a majority of 6,719 votes out a total of 27,957, or 62 per cent. of all those who cast a ballot are in favor of admitting women as lay delegates. While the result of this popular balloting will not be binding upon the action of the next General Conference of the Methodist Church, prominent clergymen of that denomination express the belief that it will have a very great influence in shaping legislation relative to this interesting question.

MR. DELAMATER, who was recently annihilated by Governor-elect Pattison, is suffering from a flood of misfortunes. The failure of the Delamater firm of several days ago caused a tremendous wave in the sea of Pennsylvania finances. The following from Pittsburg of December 8 places the liabilities of the firm at an alarming figure. The despatch says:

Ex-State Treasurer W. B. Hart, for the use of present State Treasurer H. K. Boyer, has entered judgment in the Erie court against the Delamaters, as principals and sureties, for $200,000.

A special from Meadville, Pa., says: "The assignees of Delamater & Co. made the following statement: Assets, bonds and stocks, $213,751.90; bills receivable, $241,380; real estate, $15,000; office furniture, $2,800; due from correspondents, $617.73; total assets, $473,549.72. Liabilities as they appear upon the books, $544,700. How much the assets may shrink cannot be told. How many outside obligations, the parties composing the firm may have not shown by the books, it is not now known.

In this statement the valuable real estate belonging to the different members of the firm is not included, but is known to be valuable, and against which there are judgments entered to the amount of $115,000. Senator Delamater was at the banking house to-day assisting the assignees, and appears to have regained his old-time composure and energy. He has surrendered everything, and this is true of the entire Delamater family.

Application will be made to the court immediately for the appointment of appraisers, after which the assets of the bank can be more definitely stated, and the individual property of the assignors fully made known.

STATE AND PENINSULA.

The transfer steamer of the B. & E. S. RR. was disabled at Annapolis last week, and her passengers were forced to return to Baltimore.

The Farmers' Alliance, of Federalsburg, Caroline county, it is stated, propose organizing a stock company for the manufacture of harness.

Easton has a cooking club. Now let the men struggle for something to cook, and the thing should be a grand success.

Salisbury and Easton are booming themselves by giving free excursions over their new railroad.

A whale, eighty feet long, has been recently festivigating in the waters of the Chesapeake and was seen by a number of persons.

Governor and Mrs. Jackson recently celebrated the twenty-first anniversary of their marriage.

J. Hall Barton, a prominent farmer of Queen Anne's county, is dead.

The cases of the State against the boudsmen of Stevenson Archer, will come up for trial at Townsontown, December 18.

Fifty marriages took place in Cecil county during the month of November.

High License went into effect in Cecil county on Dec. 1, and is reported to have made no improvement in the general order and quiet of the town. Eight hotel and saloons have been licensed, five of which are in Elkton.

Alexander Bond, colored, of Centreville, received notice a few day ago of having secured a pension of $5,730. He was so overcome with excitement that he came very near dying in the magistrate's office. Restoratives had to be applied, and he had to be carried home in a wagon. He recovered sufficiently to sign the proper papers.

The residence of the late ex-Gov. Philip Francis Thomas, on Railroad avenue, Easton, has been bought for the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Easton for $6,700. Bishop Adams will occupy it about the first of February.

A Question as to Magistrates' Powers

HAGERSTOWN, Dec. 8.—In the Washington county court to-day the criminal appeal docket was taken up. A question as to the constitutionality of chapter 618 of the laws of 1890, conferring additional jurisdiction upon justices of the peace in criminal cases in the county, was raised. Under this law a prisoner taken before a magistrate has a right to demand a jury trial or to submit to a trial before the justice. In case of trial before a justice an appeal can be taken from the verdict. If a jury trial is demanded the justice simply holds the prisoner for court. The papers are sent up to court, and the case docketed on the criminal appeal docket and tried at the next term of court. The prisoner is not indicted by the grand jury and is tried simply on the warrant as issued by the magistrate. The point made by the counsel was that there was no ground for an appeal unless the magistrate had heard the case and passed upon it, and if the case was not heard by the justice the prisoner must be indicted by the grand jury before he can be tried.—Baltimore Sun.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions, and the use persised in, will bring you Good Digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by Colin F. Stam, Druggist.

SHERIFF'S SALE
—OF—
VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY
BY virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Kent county, at the suit of Klinefelter Brothers, against the goods chattels, lands and tenements of Joseph W. Thompson, to me directed, I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title, interest and estate, both at law and in equity of the said Joseph W. Thompson, of, in and to the following property:
ALL OF THOSE TWO LOTS OF LAND,
situated, being and lying in Chestertown, Maryland, on the south side of Cross street, and adjoining the lots of land now owned by A. J. Hynson and Jesse Duyer. The first of said lots fronting on Cross street 30 feet and running back in a southerly direction 249 feet. The second of said lots is situated partly in the rear of the above described lot, and also in rear of the Duyer lot with a front of 60 feet on a 15-foot alley, and being a part of the old grave-yard lands of the vestry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The interest of said Thompson being an equitable one, no deed ever having been passed to him by the vestry therefor.
And I hereby give notice, that on SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1891,
AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK A. M., at the Court House Door, in Chestertown, Md., I will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, all of said property so seized and taken in execution to satisfy and pay said writ, interest and costs due and to become due thereon.
SAMUEL COMEGYS,
d11-ts. SHERIFF.
