COLLINS & HOPPER,
EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

THE TRANSCRIPT and its editors collectively and singly extend their best and most sincere wishes to each and all of their friends, wishing them a joyous Christmas season and a happy, happy New Year. "To do good and distribute, forget not," during this season of "Peace on earth, good-will toward men."

PARNELL, the Irish leader, has been endorsed by the Irish-Americans of New York in a series of strong resolutions.

SIGNOR SUCCI has beaten the record of all fasting cranks and has completed his forty-fifth day. He broke his fast on a cup of cocoa.

A COMPANY has been incorporated in Baltimore city having in view the manufacturing, owning and operating devices and appliances for the moving and transplanting live forest trees and extracting stumps and roots.

SENATOR EDMUNDS is now relied upon by his party to pilot the Force bill through. It is asserted that he has volunteered to force the matter, and preside with even a more arbitrary disregard for the rights of the minority than did Czar Reed.

THE amount of grain being handled by Baltimore grain operators is reported as being the lightest for ten years past. The short crops in parts of the country last year is said to be the cause of the depression, and even in the West it is asserted that millers are forced to pay at their mills prices equal to Baltimore quotations.

THE SPEECH of Senator Stewart of Nevada, delivered last week in opposition to the Force bill, was a manly and open protest against the autocratic usurpation of power by his own party. The speech was of especial interest as being the first public expression on the floor by a Republican Senator in antagonism to the oppressive measure.

DR. KOCH'S lymph is gradually gaining a foothold on this side the ocean. The reports of the experiments now being carried on in Baltimore are as follows:

The consumptive patients at the Johns Hopkins Hospital who were treated with Koch's lymph show signs of being benefitted by the treatment. Dr. Henry M. Hurd, the superintendent, said that the cough in a majority of the cases has ceased. Dr. L. McLane, Tiffany, professor of surgery at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, exhibited some of the lymph, which was received directly from Dr. Koch's laboratory, to the students of his class. The lymph will be used upon one of the patients.

SENATOR PASCO has been at some pains to collect statistics of voting in all the States to ascertain whether the facts point to a suppression of votes anywhere. He finds that in 1888 there were in the whole United States 4,774,487 persons of voting age who did not vote. Of these 1,854,142 were in Democratic States and 2,920,343 in Republican States. The number of persons not voting for representatives were in New England 16,557 to each representative, in the South 15,582. Can it be that voters are murdered, driven from the polls and intimidated in Massachusetts to a greater extent than in the South? The facts seem to say so, providing not voting is proof of election crimes that require a force bill. Senator Hoar says, however, in effect, that not voting is proof of crime in the South, but not in New England. He is guided by knowledge in judging New England and by malice and partisan bigotry in judging the South. That accounts for his unequal conclusions.—Bal to. Sun.

GEOGRAPHICAL POLITICS.

The Whys and Wherefores of the Situation.

However premature it may appear to thus early venture within the speculative territory of State politics, the erratic movements of the political pendulum continues to invest the situation with so much of uncertainty, that even the most inactive members of both the great parties are moved by an almost irresistible impulse to watch the constantly changing maneuvers in the arena of State politics. Contingencies are the trifles which may at any moment become potent factors in deciding the many-sided contest.

While the congressional contest was at its height and the, to some extent, new geographical line drawn by the Choptank was being considered by the convention, State matters were being, and, indeed, have always existed on broader principles, enclosing more extensive territory. Independent of local interests numerous capital prizes will be drawn for in 1891, namely, Governor, Comptroller, Attorney-General, Clerk of the Court of Appeals and United States Senator. The Governorship looms up as the grand first prize in the political grab-bag. The first four positions named represent the four geographical positions of the State, Baltimore city, Western Maryland, Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore. Then, too, there are local interests—sub-divisions of the greater body, also legislative and executive appointments, all of which enter in as prime considerations in the great distribution. Of first importance among these are the offices of State Treasurer, filled by the Legislature; State Tax Commissioner, and commander of the oyster navy, appointed by the Board of Public Works. The two most prominent contestants for gubernatorial honors, ex-Postmaster Frank Brown and ex-Mayor James Hodges, with Mr. Spencer C. Jones, of Montgomery, as a less prominent figure.

Now the Eastern Shore is a looker-on, having been ruled from the race because of the fact that she has had the last two Governors of the State. With howevermuch force this principle of established precedent may be urged, the Eastern Shore has never had but three Governors since the time of Governor Hicks, and but one of them, Governor Jackson, was elected by the people. Governor Groome having been elected by the Legislature to fill out the unexpired term of Governor Whyte, who was elected to the United States Senate, and Governor Lloyd as president of the Senate, succeeded Governor McLane when he was appointed Minister to France by President Cleveland. Now as the governorship swung across the line for two terms and Eastern Shoremen wielded the executive the comptrollership which had become a fixture on this side the bay drifted off to Col. L. Victor Baughman. Then, too, the Treasurer and commander of the oyster navy have gone from their Western Shore moorings, and the Tax Commissionership, a set piece of furniture in the Eastern Shore political household, has settled in Carroll. These considerations will force themselves into the coming contest in arranging the final pros and cons of the situation.

Now, the following is about the way an American writer views the situation of the governorship:

If Mr. Brown is nominated, Baltimore will almost certainly again name the attorney general, and if Mr. Hodges should be the choice of the convention, that office will go to one of the counties. The Brown people say it is very desirable that the attorney should come from Baltimore. As the governor will in any event be a Western Shoreman, and as Comptroller Baughman does not want to succeed himself, that office may swing back across the bay. It was well known befor the death of Tax Commissioner Woolford that he would not be re-elected, but that the office would be transferred to this side in order to further the chances of Robert F. Brattan for comptroller. But there are several strong reasons why neither the Eastern Shore nor Mr. Brattan may get the place.

First, as to why the Eastern Shore may not get it.

The Eastern Shore now has the treasurer, Mr. Brown, and he will presumably seek an election by the next legislature. It is not likely that comptroller and treasurer both will go the same way. Again, the Democrats will seek to hold all the strength they can in the Sixth Congressional district, and to that end, may deem it advisable to keep the comptrollership there, for the present at least, and nominate Mr. Weber.

WHY ONE MAN MAY NOT GET IT.

Next, why Mr. Brattan may not get it.

For the same reason just mentioned, the treasurership, because Somerset county has the congressman, and because Somerset county has had more offices, proportionately, than any other county on the Shore.

Mr. Brattan's chances, however, appear at this time to be better than those of any of his opponents on the Eastern Shore, and if the treasurership is brought back to this side again, he may receive the nomination.

The tax commissioner, it is likely, will now belong to the Western Shore indefinitely, and the Eastern Shore may hold on to the commander of the oyster navy.

The chances are largely in favor of Dr. Wells for clerk of the Court of Appeals, though by some it is said that Mr. Jones, while apparently seeking the gubernatorial nomination, is in reality looking toward another term in his present position. This is seemingly unjust to Mr. Jones, as he is probably sincere in his desire for the higher place.

For the comptrollership the Eastern Shore can so far show the largest number of candidates. Robert F. Brattan, of Somerset; ex-Comptroller Turner, of Talbot, and E. W. McMaster, of Worcester. Comptroller Baughman will not be a candidate for re-election, and Western Maryland may have another man for the place in President W. E. Weber, of the Third National Bank of Cumberland.

Southern Maryland puts in a claim for clerk of the Court of Appeals with Dr. Geo. Wells, of Annapolis, and the Eastern Shore would like Mr. Luther H. Gadd, of Caroline county, to fill the place of Mr. Spencer C. Jones, should he be transplanted to the executive mansion.

The dignified office of attorney general is holding modestly in the background, and the only candidate so far heard of is Mr. Philip D. [illegible]d, of Montgomery county.

Beautiful Souvenirs From Far Away Texas.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—Please accept a few "souvenirs" gathered by Gale Usilton for his mother, in and about the city of Houston, Texas. I send you a mistletoe bough, draped with moss, which grows in beautiful festoons from the forest trees; a stem of snowy cotton, the principal export of Texas; bananas and pomegranates gathered from the trees December 10, Spanish daggers, white and blue violets, Cape Jessamine, Easter lilies, a rose jar filled with the leaves of blooming roses, presented while there; also an Angora goat skin, fine and silky, are among the mementos of a visit to the city of magnolias.

Texas is a State of "magnificent distances," offering great inducements to home-seekers and speculators. Millions of acres of prairie land are awaiting those who are desirous of leaving their Eastern homes for life on the frontier. Within a few miles of Texas, school land can be bought at fifty cents an acre, on twenty years time and ten years without interest.

Houston, a city of forty thousand inhabitants, the coming metropolis of Southern Texas, is enjoying what they call a "boom"—real estate is held at almost fabulous prices,—with thirteen railroads centering there; the greatest cotton market in the world, a water-way system to the sea; street car system, sewerage, paving (Bois de-arc blocks) electric lights, a climate unsurpassed in mildness, making winter a dream of delight to one accustomed to the chilly north; all combined make many willing to leave the homes of their childhood, for a busy life among strangers,

Respect, S. M. U.

Many thanks for the beautiful remembrance. The combination of snowy cotton, graceful moss and the poetic mistletoe was most appropriate. Mr. Usilton is one of our well-known Kent young men, and has been very successful since casting his fortunes with the Lone Star State. The little souvenir is now a conspicuous ornament in the editorial sanctum. A merry Christmas and a happy New Year to our absent friend.

Accusation Against an Elder.

A correspondent had the following published in the Peninsula Methodist recently:

* * * In a third charge the same noble presiding elder tried clandestinely a whole year to make sentiment against the pastor and at the close of the second year suggested to his official men to ask for a change as a motive of promising to send them Brother———. They accepted the suggestion. The pastor was removed greatly to his disadvantage, but the elder did not send the man he promised. None of these pastors referred to knew anything of the intrigue of their elder until it was too late to repair the injury. These are a few specimens of the mildest type of Jesuitical practices indulged in by some parties in our conference. We have lots of them on file.

The Rev. John France, presiding elder of Easton district of Wilmington Conference, says such practices are not followed on his district, and he does not believe any of his colleagues are guilty of these charges. He challenges the correspondent to produce proof. Concerning the correspondent the Peninsula Methodist says: "He is one of the wisest and most trusted members of the Wilmington Conference; a man of high character and of large experience as a diligent and successful pastor. His name we consider an ample guarantee for any statement of fact he may make."

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

A FINE FARM

IN KENT COUNTY, MD.

By virtue of three writs of fieri facias issued out the Circuit Court for Kent county, at the suits of Eugene Gooding, The Rasin Fertilizer Company and Henry S. Cook respectively, against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of John C. Sutton, to me directed, I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title, claim, interest and estate at law and in equity of the said John C. Sutton, in and to ALL THAT FINE FARM lying in the Second Election District of Kent county, Md., on the east side of the public road leading from Black's Station to Chestertown, adjoining the lands of Andrew Woodall and the Balto. & Del. Bay R. R., containing 237 Acres of Land, more or less, and being the same land which Richard Hynson, trustee, conveyed to John C. Sutton by deed dated 24th day of January, 1860, recorded in Liber J. K. H., No. 2, folio, 149, &c., and being the same land on which said Sutton now resides. The Improvements are all first-class, and the Farm is one of the best in Kent county; And I hereby give notice, that on SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1891 at 11 o'clock A. M., at the Court House Door, in Chestertown, I will offer for sale the said property so seized and taken in execution, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy said writ of fieri facias, interest and cost due and to become due thereon.
