Equitable Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.

Before assuring your life, or investing your money, examine the Twenty-Year Tontine Policies of The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S.

Policies maturing in 1891 realize cash returns to the owners, of amounts varying from 120 to 176% of the money paid in, besides the advantage of the Assurance during the whole period of twenty years.

The following is one of many actual cases maturing this year:

Endowment Policy No. 61,925.
Issued in 1871, at age 27. Amount, $5,000.
Premium, $229.90. Total Premi. Paid $4,798.

RESULTS
at End of Tontine Period in 1891:

Cash Surrender Value, $8,449.45
(Equal to $176.10 for each $100 paid in premiums, which is equivalent to a return of all premiums paid, with interest at 7¼ per cent. per annum.)
Or, in lieu of cash,

A Paid-up Life Policy for $19,470
(Equal to $405.80 for each $100 paid in premiums.)
Or,

A Life Annuity of $633.55

One fact is worth a thousand theories. There is no assurance extant in any company which compares with this. The Equitable is the strongest company in the world and transacts the largest business.

NEWS ABOUT WOMEN.

Prize-Takers in More Lines Than One—Pleasant Personalities.

A prize of $50 for the best original design by a woman of an article of furniture has been won by Miss Gertrude E. Fonda, of Vermont. A book-case in form of a book was the shape she gave her design.

In eighteen months Miss Kate Smith rose from a $60 clerkship under the Government to one with a $1600 salary. She is the only woman chief of division in the service of the Government.

Lady Tennyson is known as the composer of some charming music, although age and ill health have rendered her unable of late to do much in that line. At the recent celebration of the Laureate's 82d birthday, at Freshwater, his words were sung set to his wife's music.

Miss Xavier, formerly instructor in Spanish in Wellesley College, has been appointed Secretary to the French and Spanish Consulate. She is mistress of Spanish, French, English, German and Italian and is the first woman ever appointed to the office she holds.

Gathered Treasures.

In proportion as we get away from self, we get nearer to God.

They never fear a fall who never scale the heights.

Would you have light? Use the light you have.

To some men meditation is a task, to the man of cleansed ways it is a joy.

We must take the current when it serves, or lose our ventures.

Despise not little duties; they have been to many a saved man an excellent discipline of humility.

The best helps to growth in grace are the ill usages, the affronts and losses which befall us.

We should not imagine that all are friends that flatter, or enemies that censure.

Life is too short to be spent in animosity or registering wrong.

The only true spring of good manners is genuine consideration of others and forgetfulness of self.

To have what we want is riches, but to be able to do without is power.

No amount of business enterprise or success can make up for a neglected family.

There is little pleasure in the world that is true and sincere besides the pleasure of doing our duty and doing good.

Sleep for Ladies.

Polly Peppers says early rising wears out women too fast: "I notice that thrifty great-aunts and grandmothers had a habit of dying early and giving their husbands an opporunity of leading two or three bushing brides to the altar. Now, I don't propose to leave any chance for my husband to get any such double or triple bliss as that. I don't intend to have other women walking around in my shoes, appropriating my kisses and doing other disagreeable things which I should object to. I mean to take care of myself so as to last as long as my better half. No woman has any business, ordinarily, to get up and go to work at 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning. If there is anything in the world that a woman needs it is plenty of rest. If she feels tired and languid in the morning and hates to get up, it is a sure sign that she is overdoing and wearing out. Six o'clock is as early as any one ought to get up and go to work.

The Per Capita Circulation Since 1860

The Secretary of the Treasury, in response to requests for information as to the quantity and kinds of money in circulation from 1860 to the present time, has prepared a pamphlet showing the money per capita and the circulation per capita each year. In 1860, when every one was getting along comfortably on the old basis, the circulation per capita was $13.85; in 1862, when the civil war was under way, it was $10.23; in 1865, when money seemed so abundant, it was $20.57; in 1873 it was $18.04; in 1878 it was 15.32; in 1881, a time of great prosperity, it was $21 71; in 1884, when there was a certain amount of depression, it was $22.65; in 1891 it is $23.45, or more than it ever was at any previous time—even during the war period. There has been a progressive increase in the per capita circulation and along with this a largely increased use of checks instead of money.

The Perfect Woman.

The New York Recorder is an able newspaper and all that, but it carries presumption too far when it informs its readers that a woman 5 feet three inches tall should weigh 130 pounds and measure 24 inches around the waist, 31 inches around the chest, 8 inches around the forearm and so on.

Why should she do all these things? Whence comes this rule? Is it, then, that a woman of 5 feet 3, who has a 22-inch waist and weighs but 120 pounds, may not be beautiful, healthy strong and well formed? Shall the lover go around with callipers and tape line to choose a wife?

There is a deal of nonsense about this perfect woman. As well attempt to define a perfect rose or a perfect landscape.—Boston Globe.

Fun Poked at Lovers.

"I see Jack and Mollie have made up again. Why was the engagement ever broken?"

"They had a quarrel as to which loved the other the most."—Life.

Chappie—"I am sorry to find that my ancestors were not always in the swim."

Alice—You surprise me."

Chappie—Yaas. At the time of Noah they were in the ark."—Harper's Bazar.

Miss Emilia—"My sister fell and broke her limb."

Old Mr. Jones—"Which limb?"

Miss Emilia (blushing)—"Well, if I must tell you, it was her left walker."—Harper's Bazar.

It's a Pity

That love grows cold.

That true wit is scarce.

That man must eat to live.

That debts were ever invented.

That we're not more charitable.—Music and Drama.

Why It is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

Wonders

Are wrought by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor in restoring gray hair to its original color, promoting a new growth, preventing the hair from falling, keeping it soft, silky, and abundant, and the scalp cool, healthy, and free from dandruff or humors. The universal testimony is that this preparation has no equal as a dressing, and is, therefore, indispensable to every well-furnished toilet.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair to use Ayer's Hair Vigor as a dressing."—Mrs. Lydia O. Moody, East Pittston, Me.

"Some time ago my wife's hair began to come out quite freely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

not only prevented my wife from becoming bald, but it also caused an entirely new growth of hair. I am ready to certify to this statement before a justice of the peace."—H. Hulsebus, Lewisburgh, Iowa.

"Some years ago, after a severe attack of brain fever, my hair all came out. I used such preparations for restoring it as my physicians ordered, but failed to produce a growth of hair. I then tried, successively, several articles recommended by druggists, and all alike fell short of accomplishing the desired result. The last remedy I applied was Ayer's Hair Vigor, which brought a growth of hair in a few weeks. I think I used eight bottles in two years; more than was necessary as a restorative, but I liked it as a dressing, and have continued to use it for that purpose. I believe Ayer's Hair Vigor possesses virtues far above those of any similar preparation now on the market."—Vincent Jones, Richmond, Ind.

ANDERSON'S SHORTHAND TYPEWRITER

Prints A Word At One Stroke.

THIS is the machine that is used in the Office, Court-room, and for reporting lectures and sermons.

While its speed is greater than any other known method, it is so simple that any intelligent person can gain a speed of 100 or more words per minute, in five or six weeks, without the aid of an instructor. Circulars and testimonials sent to all who mention this paper.
