—AGENT FOR—
R. J. BAKER & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
HIGH GRADE FERTILIZERS
Baltimore, Maryland.

Special Fertilizers for particular crops are claiming general attention, as practical, experimental farmers and planters have demonstrated that Fertilizers for each crop are necessary to insure such returns as will pay them for their labor and care. We make a specialty of furnishing in quantities, to suit purchasers, every article used in fertilizing the soil. We will sell separate or will manipulate and mix to order, according to any formula which may be required. We were the First House in Baltimore who furnished this facility for obtaining either the Unmixed Chemicals or the Compounding of Special Formulas.

OUR SPECIAL WHEAT PHOSPHATE

we can confidently recommend as an excellent wheat producer. It has been used for years, and the general satisfaction it has given warrants us in making the statement. We have also constantly in stock our carefully prepared brands of

Ammoniated Bone Superphosphates,
Pure Ground Raw Bone, Pure Dissolved Raw Bone,
Dissolved South Carolina Phosphate, Muriate Potash,
Sulphate Potash, Kainit,

And in fact anything farmers may want in the form of Fertilizers or Fertilizing Material, at Bottom Prices. Orders solicited. We do not publish certificates, our goods speak for themselves. Correspondence by mail promptly attended to.

TRADE MARK

BECAUSE
They are home manufacturers as well as the pioneer manufacturers of the Shore, and if home industries are not encouraged by home people, from whom may they expect help?
BECAUSE
They are in a position to give you more for the money than anybody else, buying largely as they do and accordingly low, and sell to you direct, thereby saving you a profit.
BECAUSE
They have the latest and best equipped Fertilizer Machinery, and are at less expense than the city man, and do not take advantage of this saving in selling you.
BECAUSE
They put their goods up in 167-lb. bags as well as always have them in first-class drilling condition and sell all goods delivered without freight, on time if desired.
BECAUSE
They have held their trade, some of their customers having dealt with them for fifteen consecutive years, and some of these very people have threshed this season the largest yield they ever had.
BECAUSE
Just as sure as 2 and 2 make 4, it stands to reason that the more solid value you can buy for the least money, the more money there will be left to go in your pocket.

We Are Still Offering Our A. A. BONE SUPERPHOSPHATE at $27, time, although some materials have advanced, and our Imperial Compound at $22, time.

Purify The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

THE SILENT ORGAN.

[WRITTEN FOR THE TRANSCRIPT.]

'Twas on a Sunday morning of September's warmest days,
That we sauntered up to church, to hear them sing and praise;
And to listen unto all that we thought for our good,
To give us hope of better sights, and gain some living food.
The bell had just stopped ringing, but no music as before
Fell upon our ears, as we entered the church door:
But all seemed still and silent: some one was heard to say,
"I wonder what's the matter that the Organ doesn't play?"

A magnificent Organ it was, and cost lots of money, too;
It was bought and managed by people who generally put things through,
And have them nice and extra, no matter what they cost;
The till is full of cooper, no matter what is lost;
Then, too, our sister church had one they bragged so much about,
Which made our people careful, and then they too looked out
Where they could get the best for the least money spent.
So they purchased, and into the church our grand new Organ went.

Some one I think was schooled away to hold the sweet keys down,
And bring us forth sweet music with the anthemed song;
And learn to work the treddles, and all that kind of thing,
That tend to fill the long, high pipes, and make the music ring.
It was sweet to listen some times, to the strains that were made,
Filling our very souls with the anthems that were played;
But then, what was the matter on this bright September day?
Every thing so silent, and the Organ didn't play.

So we saunter up the steps, and took our usual seat,
Waiting to hand the hymnbook to the stranger we chanced to meet.
And all was calm and still; the choir were at their post,
Waiting for the signal, for they were a mighty host.
The parson he got up, gave the Doxology to sing,
(As is the usual custom when they the church begin.)
"What's the matter with the Organ,' I heard some one say.
"Why, the Organ has no pumper, and the Organ will not play."

The old "Praise God" was started, in the old-time way begun,
By the ever faithful leader, down through Holy Ghost was sung;
You could see the heads a turning back to where the Organ stood,
With faces full of crosses, "I'd play it if I could."
And heads to heads a leaning, we know just what about,
These are the times for people to squirm around and pout.
"What's the matter with the Organ?" said a lady across the way.
"Why, the Organ has no pumper, and the Organ will not play."

Just then, silently watching, you could see around the room,
That the people wanted music as well as Psalms and song;
And when a soul needs music, like water far away,
Or thirsty in a desert you want to hear it play,
And so the roving spirit of music swayed the more,
And wished for something sweeter that laid in Organ's store.
The mirth and joy, and happiness were lost and cast away,
For the Organ had no "Pumper," and the Organ wouldn't play.

Aye! You who hear no music, nor feel its sweetest strain,
Are either lost at wits end, or cracked in upper brain.
When in sorrow and misfortune, we sometimes often fall,
It's the sweet song hummed in silence, makes us overcome them all.
And in this world we drift our barks carelessly along,
Doing our work the best we can with an original song;
We hum and study in business, and carelessly drift away
Into the rifted anthems, when our Organs will not play.
But soon we strike the key note, we sound it all along:
"Tis done! 'Tis done! I've triumphed! we hail the happy song."

oh! music sweet within my soul, what are the world's cares to thee?
Thou art, my sister, so beloved! from sorrow's pain so free!
Unto my life thou art a balm that sways my every will;
That calms oftimes my troubled brain, with a gladsome, "Peace be Still."
Thou art, with song and melody, my dream of peace and joy!
When burst the notes on beds of pain, and all my pains alloy!
And so sing on sweet strains, and lose my soul in thee:
'Tis then I'll burst the captive chains, and from all sin be free.

But I'm losing quite myself—The Organ didn't play,
And so the service was conducted in the old-time usual way;
But the deadness was awakened by the parson, young and strong,
And let me say, God bless him, all praise to him belong.
He struck the key-note gently first, on Holy Ghost and fire,
And then he let the Gospel come—you'd think he'd never tire!
He plainly spoke, told, if these two only had the sway,
That the Organ would have a pumper, and it would surely play.

He told the truth unto the end, and proved it right along.
If they'd had more Holy Ghost and fire, they sure would have more song.
And if they'd come into the ship, and get themselves booked in,
He'd warrant all our churches would break down every sin
That our community suffered with, no matter how strong,
For the bulwarks of the righteous are mightier than the wrong.
And out into the desert we'd drive these things away,
And our organ would have a pumper, and surely play to-day.

Some might not have liked it, yet it was the truth you know,
And when the cap just fits us, we haven't far to go:
For truth sticks so closely, that our clothes won't button on,
And when we try to shield it, we but carry it along.
Oftimes, when not thinking, we show it on the road,
And it catches us a blinking at the harvest we have mowed.
But the shield fits us, "More Love! Yes, that's the way,
"And our Organ will have a pumper, and it will surely play."

It's no use a pausing when Christianity you profess,
To live and have no Charity, to die with nothing less.
No man can serve two masters, or when profess to love
Prove it on earth. The proofs will soar above,
And from the Holy Palace, an influence will drop down,
That all we poor sinners, will in good paths be found,
And when you name the anthem, to give the music sway;
The Organ will have a pumper, and it will surely play.

WANTING FAITH, instead of taking God at his word like Abraham, and thereby glorifying his name, is not to be like Cleopas and his friend—"slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken." It would greatly help to preserve and strengthen our faith if we often compared Scripture with Scripture, and prediction with fulfillment. Two rabbis, we are told, approaching Jerusalem, observed a fox running up the hill of Zion. Aged Rabbi Joshua wept, but Rabbi Eliezer laughed. "Wherefore dost thou weep?" demanded Eliezer. "I weep because I see what was written in the Lamentation fulfilled: "Because of the mountain of Zion which is desolate, the foxes fall upon it.'" "And therefore do I laugh," said Rabbi Eliezer; "for when I see with my own eyes that God has fulfilled his threatenings to the letter, I have thereby a pledge that not one of his promises shall fail, for he is evermore ready to show mercy than judgment.—Selected.

Poisoned by Scrofula.

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason, arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all traces of the disease, and gives to the vital flood the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

THE worst cases of scrofula, salt rheum and other diseases of the blood, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.
