FOR CONGRESS:

HON. HENRY PAGE,

OF SOMERSET COUNTY.

THE selection of Hon. Henry Page to succeed himself in Congress, was one in thorough accord with the wishes of the Democracy of the first Congressional district.

DR. MCGILL, JR., Frederick's uncompromising champion of Mr. Cleveland, was arrested on Saturday night on a charge of having assaulted Mr. J. Roger McSherry. The fight was the outgrowth of some political misunderstanding.

FOR twenty years Adlai E. Stevenson has been President of a coal company, and has never had a strike. What a contrast to the case of the Republican candidate for vice President, who for sixteen years has had his old Union employees locked out?

COL. A. K. MCCLURE, of the Philadelphia Times, has invited Governor McKinley, of Ohio, to a joint discussion of the tariff question. Governor McKinley has expressed his willingness to accept, but has referred the matter to the Republican National Committee.

WORKMEN in a Hickville, L. I., pearl button factory are on a strike, notwithstanding the fact that the McKinley bill has placed a four hundred per cent. protection on the "infant industry." The workmen in spite of the substantial protection were only able to earn 84 cents a day, and as this wouldn't support them they struck. Four hundred per cent. for "protection," and 84 cents for a day's labor.

REV. J. S. WILLIS, the Methodist Episcopal minister who has on several occasions addressed large congregations in Chestertown, and is well known by Methodist churchmen throughout the Peninsula, has his novel "John Martin, Jr., or a Story of the Iron Mask," in the hands of the publisher, and it is expected, that it will, at an early date, be given to the public. It is stated that the production has been submitted to the most prominent literati of this country and they have pronounced it a work of great merit—equal to, if not superior to "Ben Hur."

ON OUR front page will be found several interesting notes on the efficacy of spraying as used for the destruction of insects and fungous destroyers of fruits, and in cases tubers as well. For the past several years we have made a strenuous effort to keep the subject of spraying before the fruit growers of the county, believing as we do that the future success of fruit culture depends to a large extent upon a scientific and common-sense use of this latest and most potent remedy in combatting those enemies which at once threatened to completely destroy the great fruit interests, not only of Kent, but of the entire fruit world.

SENATOR GORMAN, has returned from New York strongly impressed that Cleveland will win, and that on the fourth of March next he will be inaugurated president of the United States. More representatives from the Northwest as well as from other States, were seen and all the reports were most encouraging. The representatives from the Northwest are confident that Cleveland will carry Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska. It is hardly probable that all of these States will be found in the Democratic column, although, as the Senator playfully remarked, this is a period of surprises. In New York there is every indication, the Senator says, that the Democracy is determined to win, and the same feeling is expressed by the members of the committee from other States.

DOUBTLESS it is somewhat refreshing to the Baltimore Sun, to see with what anxiety and distress of spirit some parasitic journals of the State, who owe their very existence to the pap drawn from political henchmen, are squirming and calling for silence in regard to certain criticisms. This old and ghostly bug-a-boo of injury to Mr. Cleveland, is again being dragged out to stay the voice of those who, while they are forced to rebellion against certain men and methods, are still loyal to the principles which those men and methods so ignobly represent. Our unique contemporary recently in speaking of the Baltimore Sun, said: "Not only the Sun, but possibly some of its readers in Maryland have become so prejudiced as to be more anxious to beat certain leaders they dislike than elect Cleveland. This is certainly the way it looks to unprejudiced minds." "Unprejudiced minds!" indeed, surely, when these gentlemen start out as authority upon "unprejudiced minds," it is time that the Sun should cease to shine, for there is something so "rotten in Denmark" that sunlight would truly be objectionable. "Unprejudiced minds," how, under heaven, became these gentlemen acquainted with "unprejudiced minds?" Surely, it was not from association. If such phenomena are understood at all by our friends, it is only by hear-say and not from actual or personal knowledge. Better that Mr. Cleveland should suffer from the kindly but unwisely directed efforts of his friends, than be ignominiously slaughtered by the dastardly thrusts of "unprejudiced" advisers to those who have kept his standard from trailing in the dust, and have elevated him to the candidacy for President of the richest and most powerful nation on the globe.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION of the First Congresional District, met at Ocean City on Wednesday of last week, and was in session but one hour and five minutes. Hon. Henry Page was nominated by acclamation, to succeed himself as the Democratic representative in Congress, from the first district. Dr. R. M. Price, whose fair rulings two years ago commended him as a desirable chairman, presided over the meeting of last week. Resolutions were adopted enthusiastically indorsing the platform of the national convention and the principle of tariff reform as advocated by the great leader of the people, Grover Cleveland. Mr. Henry J. Gray represented Kent as one of the vice-presidents. Mr. Charles W. Clements, of Crumpton, was the vice-president chosen from Queen Anne's.

CAPT. WILLIAM C. SPENCER, who is well-known in Maryland, and has many friends in Kent, has been restored to the army, with the rank of a captain on the retired list. Mr. Page has been untiring in his efforts to secure the passage of this bill, and now has the satisfaction of knowing that it only awaits the signature of the President. Says the Baltimore Sun: "Captain Spencer served in the army with great credit in Indian campaigns before the civil war. At the breaking out of the war no officer stood higher in the army than did Captain Spencer, who served in the campaign against Richmond until he was informed of the arrest of his uncle, Judge R. B. Carmichael, who was dragged from the bench while holding court at Easton, when he uttered such sentiments as caused his arrest for disloyalty. He was not brought to trial and finally resigned on account of dissatisfaction with his treatment. The bill, which had already passed the Senate, went through the House without further delay, and now only awaits the President's signature.

[COMMUNICATED.]

A WORD FOR MR. BLAINE.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the history of this nation, will the prints of the public press, or the sound of the Republican toesin, announce to the world that James Gillespie Blaine is again a candidate for the American presidency. The name of Blaine, which, for more than two decades, was recorded and engrossed on the roll of the Republican roster, as its party standard-bearer and chief candidate for the presidency, has been finally erased, and forever obliterated from all future perception of mortal ken. In the convention hall at Minneapolis, the name of this distinguished oracle of the "party of great moral principles" failed to magnetize as in the halcyon days of yore, and he who had been the forerunner in the past of more than one Republican messiah, was wantonly left in the jungle of the radical forest, a victim of the basest ingratitude and treachery ever chronicled in the annals of partisan politics. Humiliation never accompanies defeat, or mocks the defeated and vanquished chieftain, when the tryst for which he fought the final combat is one of distinguished honor and glory, and the victor and victorious host, a champion "worthy of his spurs," and of the victory he achieved. The tryst for which James G. Blaine fought and fell, is one of distinguished honor and glory—the American presidency. And as the defeated and vanquished ex-premier stalks aimlessly along the rocky and weather-beaten coast of Bar Harbor, the National Democracy beholds one of the greatest Republican leaders unhorsed in the fore of the fight, humiliated beyond endurance, and mocked by the office-holders, henchmen and placemen of the victorious Force bill candidate. The plume and name of James G. Blaine has faded and paled into utter insignificance, and so will Benjamin Force Bill Harrison, and his aggregation of heelers, boodlers and bribe-takers when the Democratic frosts of November round up the National voters of this, the greatest of all Republics. The political downfall of the "Pine Tree Statesman" has shaken the radical firmament from Portland, Me., to Portland, Oregon, and from the queen city on the lake to the queen city on the gulf. The rattling wheels of the Republican ambulance is distinctly heard, and in November next, the Democratic hearse will silently convey the political remains of Benjamin Harrison to that realm where forgetfulness knows no end, and where only those who have been knocked into smithereens by a tax-ridden people, eternally and forever abide. To-day, and at this very hour, the greatest of liberty loving people in all the world's history are shackeled in the clutches of monopoly, and bound in the fetters of trust combinations. Beneath the starry emblem of our American Union, in the world's citadel of liberty, the bloated and banded bond-holders, millionaire monopolists, trust combinations and commercial robbers are fostered and protected under the paternal care of a radical tariff, and crushed with the iron heel of despotism, are our struggling masses of American freemen. The robber barons of our constitutional liberties, the radical free-booters and spoilsmen, the frothing-mouthed advocates of radical Force bills and the enemies of true Americanism will be scattered to the four corners of the earth, when the ballots of our American freemen are again recorded. Long live that champion of the people and of the people's rights—Grover Cleveland. D'NORMOT.

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC.

Chinamen are being smuggled into San Francisco.

A prisoner in the Philadelphia jail has committed suicide.

Dr. Boylan, a former Baltimore physician, says there is no Asiatic cholera in Paris.

Ten barns were burned in lower Buck's county during a thunder storm on Monday.

A young man was drowned in the Cave of the Winds, Niagara Falls, on Sunday. He was the first to be drowned at that point. He took a short cut, going without a guide, and slipped.

Reports have been received that a Mosque tower, which has recently been restored in Alexandria, collapsed during a religious service, and several hundred persons were killed. Many discredit the report.

Alva, the magnificent steam yacht of William K. Vanderbilt, was sunk while lying at anchor at the Nantucket shoals, off the Massachusetts coast, by being run down by a steamer during a fog. All were saved.

Philadelphia was swept by a terrific storm on Monday, and lightning played many wild pranks. Several hundred houses were unroofed by the storm, and a whole row of new buildings were brought to the ground.

The thermometer at New York on Monday stood 99°; at Detroit, 102°, fifteen cases of heat prostration; Shenandoah, Pa., 95°; the citizens of Miles City, Mont., slept under double blankets at night; Harrisburg, Pa., 102; Milan, Tenn., 99; St. Louis, Mo., 96; Cincinnati, 100°; Washington, D. C., 103; at Louisville on Sunday, 110°.

Ten persons were killed in a fearful cloudburst which swept over the Ohio valley on Monday. John Doty, who, with his wife and three children, had celebrated their wedding anniversary by entertaining a number of friends, lost their lives in the flood. The cloud burst in the valley at midnight, and in fifteen minutes Doty's house was swept away, and not one of the nine occupants escaped. Reports have been received of the drowning of another family in the same vicinity, but they were not confirmed. The property loss will be enormous.

Uncle Sam has sent a challenge to John Bull to have a trial of speed of engines built by companies of the respective countries. This will be a novel feature of the World's Fair. The plan is to bring over an English locomotive of the latest patent, which will burn English coal, with a crew who will speak an English accent. The run will be made from New York to Chicago and return, either with a heavy or light train, or possibly both. The run West may be made with a heavy train and the return with a lighter one. The American engine will carry the same weight and go by the same route, and the palm will be awarded to the one making the run in the shortest time.

H. C. FRICK ATTACKED.

The Manager of the Carnegie Works Assassinated.

Excitement was revived, and intense feeling awakened on Saturday evening last, by the assassination and almost fatal wounding of H. C. Frick, manager for the Carnegie Steel Company. Mr. Frick was seated in his private office just before two o'clock, when a dark complexioned young man, with a Jewish cast of countenance, of medium height and fairly well dressed, was, by direction of Mr. Frick, admitted to his presence. The stranger made a rush at the unsuspecting man, drew his revolver and pulled the trigger, but the first cartridge failed to explode; the second, however, entered the back of Mr. Frick's neck. The wounded man made an effort to escape from his assailant, but in another instant a ball from the would-be assassin's pistol took effect in the left side of the neck. A Mr. Leishman then grappled Mr. Frick's assailant, and tried to wrest the pistol from him. At this stage the would-be murderer drew a dagger and plunged it into the side of the already seriously wounded man. Several other slighter dagger wounds were inflicted. Mrs. Frick, who had about ten days before given birth to a son, was very ill at the time, consequently the details of the affair were kept from her. A full investigation of Mr. Frick's wounds was followed by the official announcement from his physicians, that, though seriously wounded and having made a marvelous escape from instant death, his injuries were not considered of a necessarily fatal character.

The assassin of Mr. Frick, at the investigation gave the name of Alexader Bergman, a compositor of a New York newspaper, age 26. He refused to give the name of the paper. In reply to the question: "Did you know Mr. Frick?"

The prisoner replied: "We all know Mr. Frick."

When asked to tell why he attempted the murder, Bergman responded: "That is a queer question to ask; you know why."

When the prisoner was searched nothing beyond a few 18-calabre cartridges, some pieces of candy and a nickel-plated watch were found. Later the prisoner was taken to have his photograph taken. Seated in the chair, the only action of the young man that indicated any nervousness was a peculiar movement of the jaws. This aroused the suspicion of Police Surgeon Meyer, who afterward made a search and found a small shell in the prisoner's mouth. The deperate man refused to open his mouth and it was necessary to choke him till he was black in the face before he would give the shell up. It was taken to the establishment of Arthur Kirk & Sons, where it was pronounced to be a dynamite cartridge of the same kind used by Lingg, the Chicago anarchist, to kill himself. It was considered a miracle that Bergman was not blown up.

A SYMPATHISER IN CAMP.

When the attack upon Manager Frick became known, private Iams, of company K, tenth regiment, shouted for three cheers for the assassin. Col. Streator heard the remark from his quarters. He ordered the regiment to be paraded in double quick time and stated to his regiment: "I heard the voice distinctly. I think I recognized it, and I want the man who made the statement to advance two paces."

The Colonel had recognized Iam's voice and he was standing directly in front of the accused when he was talking. Immediately Private Iams stepped to the front. He was trembling like as aspen, and he seemed unable to hold his arms. "You offered three cheers for the killing of Mr. Frick, did you not?" the Colonel asked.

Iams did not answer. He hung his head and nodded in the affirmative. He was ordered to the guard-house. The Colonel and his staff, including the surgeons, then took charge of the criminal, and at the Colonel's orders he was hung up by the thumbs for thirty minutes.

The surgeons remained with the unfortunate man during all his punishment. One of them kept watch on his pulse while another looked after his heart, and at the end of thirty minutes Surgeon Neff ordered him taken down. When released young Iams was limp and apparently unconscious. The surgeons remained with him for an hour, when he was taken to his quarters.

The severity of Iams' punishment was due to his refusal to take back or apologize for the expression. On the following day one side of his head was shaved and the buttons cut from his uniform, of which he was then stripped. He was given a suit of cast-off plain clothes, part being a pair of overalls, and was at once drummed out of camp. The proceedings were approved by General Snowden. Young Iams lives at Waynesburg.

Four fine horses of a team belonging to the Singerly Pulp Mill, in Cecil county, became unmanagerable and were drowned in Big Elk river.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Order of Publication.

Henry H. Mitchell, Executor of Mary B. Lum, Plaintiff.

vs.

Richard R. Cochran, Francis R. Cochran, Defendants.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity.

THE object of this bill is to recover certain money due the estate of Mary B. Lum, it being to set aside a deed given by Richard R. Cochran to his wife Francis R. Cochran to enable her to recover the arrears of her dower interest in certain valuable real estate in Kent county, Md., of which a certain Isaac A. Lum, late of New Castle county, Del., died, seized and possessed, leaving a widow, the said Mary B. Lum.

The bill states that Isaac A. Lum, of New Castle county, Del., departed this life leaving a widow, Mary B. Lum, and two children, Charles A. Lum and Clara Lum, and at the time of his death was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate in Kent county, Maryland, and that the said Mary B. Lum, widow as aforesaid, was entitled to a dower interest in said real estate.

The bill further states that the said Clara Lum intermarried with Richard R. Cochran and subsequently departed this life, whereupon the said Richard R. Cochran became entitled to a life estate in the said real estate, and as life tenant held the said real estate many years prior to the death of the said Mary B. Lum, and by his writing obligatory bound himself to pay unto the said Mary B. Lum, annually the sum of her dower interest as determined by arbitrators to whom the matter had been submitted, as will be shown by complainant's exhibit No. 1.

The bill further states that the complainant, executor of Mary B. Lum, deceased, instituted suit and obtained a judgment in the Circuit Court for Kent county, Maryland, for the sum of $793.00, on October 23d, 1885, a certified copy of which is filed in this cause, and that on the 27th day of July, 1892, he caused to be issued out of said court a writ of fieri facias on said judgment, directed to the sheriff of said county, and he caused the same to be levied on the life estate of the said Richard R. Cochran, in and to the said farm.

The bill further shows that the said Richard R. Cochran, after executing bond for the payment of the said dower interest, executed a deed to his wife, Frances R. Cochran, for the pretended and simulated consideration as expressed in the deed, of $300; a copy of which deed is filed in this cause, and marked exhibit No. 4, and the complainant is prevented from collecting aforesaid judgment, because of the fact that the said Cochran is insolvent, and his said life estate is the only property out of which it is possible to collect said judgment.

The bill further states that the said Richard R. Cochran at the time of making said deed was largely indebted and insolvent, and that he had not the means of paying his debts apart from the property so conveyed by him to his said wife, and that the conveyance was fraudulently made, and was for the purpose of hindering and delaying the creditors of the said Cochran in their efforts to collect their just dues, and that notwithstanding said conveyance the said Richard R. Cochran hath since the date thereof continued to occupy and enjoy the same as he did prior to the said conveyance.

It is thereupon ordered this 27th day of July, 1892, that the complainant, Henry H. Mitchell, executor of Mary B. Lum, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 25th day of August next, give notice to the said non-resident defendants, Oliver Kennard and Elenora Kennard, of the object and substance of this bill, and warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of August next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

The PAGE WOVEN WIRE FENCE

The Best Farm, Field and Garden Fence on Earth. Master of Contraction and Expansion.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

Being a self-regulator, is always ready for business; slacks up at 30 below, and takes a new grip in the shade. Gently persuades a runaway team to reconsider its action. An unruly bull is as safe as a canary in its cage. It says to the festive hog, "Thus far shalt thou go," etc. The fierce wind and snow heeds it not. The "trespasser is not led into temptation," and the rail stealer's occupation is gone.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

This time a decided hit will be made and the bottom completely knocked out of prices. What does this mean? It means a transfiguration in our business, and in order to move what is left in medium-weight suits, Cost will be an after consideration. This is no imaginary change to take place, no fanciful dream, but having had a good season, necessarily there are a great many broken lots which have been marked at manufacturer's first cost, which, in a few words, means there is no opposition to affect, and intending to deepen and widen our business the coming season, is just why this sacrifice will be made during July and August. The FINEST LINE OF BEST-FITTING AND BEST-MADE SUITS ever offered in Chestertown, will be at your disposal, which must be sold.

Come early and take your choice.

Respectfully,

WM. E. MOODY.

The Chestertown Branch

OF THE BALTIMORE

Building and Loan Association.

This branch of the association, though only established a short while ago, has made wonderful progress. It offers good inducements for investments, and its reliability cannot be questioned, as it is composed of some of our best citizens and business men. The Mercantile and Financial Times, of New York city, a paper devoted to the interest of money institutions, in an editorial dated June 8, 1892, strongly recommends this institution as one of the strongest and best managed in the country. Parties having small amounts to invest monthly, can do no better than subscribe to this stock. If you are dissatisfied you can be refunded at any time by giving the secretary thirty days notice.
