R. HARRISON COLLINS. C. COX HOPPER

COLLINS & HOPPER,
EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

GOVERNOR BROWN is reported as being much improved, but is still very weak as a result of his severe spell.

POLITICAL GOSSIP relative to the Chestertown postoffice continues, and as the time advances, the list of applicants increases.

THE movement being made in Baltimore city to organize "A White Republican" party, it is more than probable will "die a bornin."

MARYLAND politicians have kept beautifully clear of President Cleveland with their requests for office. There will be found "Method in their madness."

THE "Grand Old Man," William Ewart Gladstone is ill, and Ireland pauses in a vertible paralysis of anxiety, while the whole world is an interested watcher.

THE Tax Conference frittered out just about as was expected. The money lords have been given the queue and the convention has adjourned without date and without benefit to the people.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has made the announcement with much emphasis, that ex-office-holders need not apply for appointments. In cases where marked efficiency has been shown, however, exceptions will be made.

REV. DR. HARCOURT, of Baltimore, has announced from his pulpit that the death penalty is a "relic of barbarism." What does the reverend gentleman consider the wilful and cold blooded murder of a fellow man a relic of?

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE, it is stated, will be petitioned by a number of Kent county oyster tongers to restore the fifteen days which were taken off in 1892. The request of the oystermen will be strongly backed and vigorously pushed.

THE board of county commissioners will appointment on April 11, a keeper of the standards of weights and measures for Kent county. The place pays about sixty dollars. The applicants so far as known are: J. H. Greenwood, James Roe and James G. W. Hart.

A MASSACHUSETTS WIDOW is to pay her coachman one hundred thousand dollars to marry her, he to take the name of her dead husband. Should the coachman back out, if the generous widow will come to Kent, her substantial offer will possibly find several ready takers.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL POE's decision relative to the tenure of office of the present board of county commissioners, it is stated has completely put the local "managers" at sea, and the cord which binds the political Siames twins is stronger than ever. It is "Where thou goest I will go," "Useless each without the other."

MR. D. H. INGRAHAM, the newly elected Mayor of Portland, Maine, has refused to take his seat because of a shadow of fraud resting upon his election in the pivotal precinct. What a glorious state of affairs would exist could the political parties find more such men. This is a refreshing reminder that political honor is not yet altogether dead.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S formal announcement that the brilliant stars which render trancendently radiant the editoral sanctums of the country will not be appointed postmasters, falls with chilling effect upon several aspirants for political preferment in Maryland. It is expected however that in this State the matter may be just slightly modified.

THE strawboard mill of Chestertown, which was burned in February, 1892, has been rebuilt and is once more in active operation. New machinery was secured, and the plant is much better in every way than it was before. The fact that an industry of this kind not only can be supported in Chestertown, but can be rebuilt and enlarged after being visited by fire speaks volumes for the enterprise of the Kent county-seat.—Baltimore Herald.

IT IS REPORTED that Mr. Cleveland inquires anxiously, when being pressed by applicants for positions in the public service, whether the cand dates do or do not drink. This is probably not correct; but the President no doubt recognizes, what a great many other men have done, that intemperance is not the fashion, and that the non-drinking man is becoming more and more important as a factor in professional, business and commercial life. Politically, Mr. Cleveland may make the application in a restricted sense.—Philadelphia Record.

MR. W. IRVING WALKER, who has taken great interest in securing for Queen Anne's county better roads, and through whose instrumentality the Queen Anne's Road League was formed, was in town last week. Mr. Walker said, in referring to the new road system of Kent, that it possesses some admirable features and at the same time some difficult points which it will be no easy task to overcome. The system, he continued, is certainly worthy a trial and shows a disposition on the part of the county commissioners to investigate and introduce improvements if possible in this very important matter.

THE Democrats now have complete control of both branches of Congress, and it remains with them entirely whether the magnificent work made possible and inaugurated by Mr. Cleveland shall result in a perpetuation of Democratic rule. The present roll-call of the Senate shows forty-four Democrats, thirty-eight Republicans, one Populist, one Independent and one Farmers' Alliance, and three vacancies. The vacancies are one each in Montana, Washington and Wyoming. Two of these vacancies have been temporarily filled by appointment: Beckwith (Democrat), from Wyoming, and Lee Mantle (Republican), from Montana; but should all three vacancies be eventually filled by the election of Republicans, which is barely possible, the Senate (even with the combined forces of the Populists) would still be a tie, with Vice President Stevenson holding the controlling vote. The composition of the house, as shown by unofficial returns, is: Democrats 217, Republicans 128, Third party 8, and vacancies 2.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the TRANSCRIPT one per year.

THEIR TAXABLE PROPERTY.

The Baltimore Evening News published the amount of taxes paid by each delegate to Farmer Brown's convention. Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, is the heaviest tax-payer of the conference, and is down on the tax books for $335,841 real, and $100,000 of personal property. But this does not give the extent of Mr. Bonaparte's wealth. He is the joint owner of a lot of property with Jerome Bonaparte.

The father of the Hayes bill, Thomas G. Hayes, is not assessed on any personal property. His real estate holdings, according to the books, amount to $2,528.

B. Howard Hayman, the agitator of the oyster leasing system, is down for $26,237 in real estate and $1,815 in personalty, some of which is held in Kent county, and, by the way, Mr. Hayman is himself originally from Kent. William Pinkney Whyte is put down at $25,267 in realty and $1,865 personalty, and John K. Cowan for only $3,100 personalty.

The Baltimore News further says:

While the county men, in the aggregate, pay less taxes than the city delegates, nevertheless there are fewer non-tax-payers from the counties than from Baltimore.

Charles T. Westcott, president of the Chestertown National Bank, is also one of the largest farmers in the State. He paid taxes last year amounting to $935.70.

Judge William S. Walker, of Kent county, paid $271 91, and James S. Harris, a prominent farmer in that county, paid $288.11.

Dr. William H. De Courcy, of Queen Anne's county, is assessed on real property $31,100; personal property, $3,540.

Ex-State Treasurer Edwin H. Brown is assessed in real property $14,545 and personal $1,095. Joseph Mallalieu, the other delegate from Queen Anne's county, is assessed on real property $8,589, and on personal property $1,446.

The largest tax-payer from the counties is Edward Llod, of Talbot. Col. Lloyd is assessed on real property valued at $108,050, and personal property amounting to $18,183.

FROM CECILTON.

Complimentary to a Kent Countian in Cecil.

CECILTON, MD.

MESSRS EDITORS:—I notice in last weeks issue of the Cecil Democrat, that Mr. W. O. Shallcross, formerly farming near Sassafras, Md., but at present on the Eldridge farm near Cecilton, is to sell his entire stock of horses, cattle, and farming implements. No doubt this is a great surprise to the community, and much regret is expressed at the loss of Mr. Shallcross, who has won the esteem of all who have the pleasure of knowing him. Not only in this, (Cecil county) but many say that Maryland does not possess a more energetic and industrious farmer. In my travels through Cecil county I stopped in to see him, we having been acquainted with each other for a long time. He would not hear of my leaving until I had gone over his entire stock, among which I found 27 head of horses, which are as fine driving animals as any in Cecil county; also 30 head of very fine milch cows, 56 head of hogs and shoats and 37 head of pigs. These are a very superior lot of hogs, as fine as I ever saw. I join with the community and wish Mr. Shallcross much luck and prosperity in his new field of labor, whatever it may be.

Yours respectfully,
COMMISSION MERCHANT.

ROCK HALL NEWS.

Gloomy Prospects Among the Oyster Tongers—Local Matters.

Spring has come at last, at least we think so, and it brings everything but bright prospects for the residents of this place, as far as the near future is concerned. Now that it is fit for the oystermen to work, the price of the bivalve has fallen to 35 and 40 cents per bushel, at which price the people can hardly make a living, and the summer season fast approaching will find many who will have nothing whatever to do, unless they go out of the county to look for a job.

Capt. Hyland has been assisted during the past week by the steamer Governor Thomas, commanded by Capt. Howard. The people are commending Mr. Smith, of the Board of Public Works for responding so readily to Capt. Hyland's request to have one of the boats to assist him the remainder of the dredging season.

The little steam yacht Ivanhoe brought over to Rock Hall from Baltimore last Friday Mr. George M. Sharp and a dozen or more of his friends. What their business was we could not learn, but take for granted that it was to further arrange for the extensive improvement of the new town.

One of the best entertainments ever held at this place was given by the young folks of Rock Hall, for the benefit of the M. E. Church last Wednesday evening. Long before the hour for the opening, Downey's Hall was packed to its utmost capacity, many having to stand. About $75 was realized. Special credit is due Prof. Judefind and his singing class, also Miss Maggie V. Hersch, who had charge of the literary part of the programme, for the success achieved.

We see that the Toichester correspondent of the TRANSCRIPT favors the plan of making Rock Hall and Salem churches a charge, and then the two could pay a good preacher a good salary. It is a capital idea, and has the support of some of our people.

We regret to announce the death of Marion Dashiell by drowning in Wicomico river one day last week. He kept store under the Pythian hall for severl years, up until last June, when he moved his goods to White Haven, and R. S. Crew moved in the room formerly occupied by him. The firm was known as J. H. Dashiell & Brother. Marion was a first-class boy, and made many friends here who will regret to hear of his untimely death.

The missionary anniversary of the M.E. Church was held Sunday night. There was a goodly number present, and enough was realized to bring up the apportionment, which is $115, a good amount for a small charge to raise.

Come down and see us, Messrs. Editors, for the readers of this place always have a kind word and a pleasant smile for the man who represents the paper which represents the best wishes of all. X.

CRUMPTON NOTES.

Bently Bard's Graphic Description of a Chicken Thief's Trial.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT:—The first herring of the season put in an appearance in our waters march 9th.

Mr. Samuel H. Walls and Mrs. Ella N. Anderson were quietly married on the 13th, by Rev. J. B. Merritt, all of Queen Anne's county.

Jake Cooper, of Pond Town, a colored settlement south of Crumpton, came to town a few days ago in search of stolen chickens and was in a peck of trouble. "De hen was a favored hen and as for dat rooster he had been waking me up o'mornings for years, and now dar is no rooster on de place to crow." He found and identified the fowls at one of the large stores and ascertained that Arthur Smith of Bob, had sold them to one of the clerks. A writ was gotten out for Arthur and in due time the officer brought him before the Crumpton court, Justice Ryland on the bench. As the elder Smith had several sons, the chief witness could not certainly say that the prisoner at the bar was the identical one that stole the chickens. But Arthur not willing that an innocent brother should be implicated in a crime of which he was not guilty, spoke up and said "I's the one dat brought the chickens." He was found guilty of course and while the officer of the law was gearing up his team for a ride to Centreville, and the magistrate was busy making out papers of commitment, the front door being guarded by the deputy, Arthur, like a black ram butted through the back door and escaped. It is thought from the way he leaped over the fences and men that by this time he is in Jersey. Some think that some person in the court room winked at Arthur and winked at the back door. We are well assured that the deputy had no part in the winking. Cooper was much disappointed that the thief was not sent "over the slop" for five years, two and one-half for the hen and two and one-half for the rooster, but is happy in the fact that "de hen and de rooster are home again."

Postmaster Ryland, Mr. John Harrison and Mr. Henry Coleman are on the sick list, all are better to-day.

Two of the children of Mr. Robert Logan have been quite ill with pneumonia.

The preachers are moving toward Middletown, Del., to attend conference.

A Correction.

CHURCH HILL, MD., March 6, '93.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT;—In your issue of March 2, you published a letter from England by Professor Twilley. Among other confused statements about Henry VIII and his divorce, is the following: "Henry VIII established the Protestant Episcopal Church with himself as Pope."

The learned professor probably meant to perpetuate the old blunder that the Church of England was founded by Henry VIII. since her daughter, the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, had not then been born.

Will you kindly give place in your columns to the following fact, to which I hope you will call the gentleman's attention when he returns from abroad: "In the 9th century the Church of England leased a piece of real estate in the city of London to the government for 999 years. A few years ago this lease expired, when the property was turned over by the proper authorities to the same church." There was no objection from any quarter. No other religious body claimed it. Now, if the Church of England was in existence in the 9th century, how could she have been established by Henry VIII who did not live until the 16th?

The above fact ought to convince those of their error, who, from prejudice or ignorance, will persist in claiming Henry as the founder of the English Church, thus unconsciously, no doubt, playing second fiddle to both Puritan and Romanist.

Very respectfully,
A. BATTE.

BETTERTON ITEMS.

MARCH 14, 1893.

TO THE TRANSCRIPT:—A number of our fishermen have clubbed together and chartered from Turner & son the schooner scow H. B. Moore and will fish for rock down about Miller's Island. The party will live aboard the schooner, but will make up separate crews and fish from skiffs with drift seines. Rock were very abundant last spring and a great deal of money was made by fishermen near Pool's Island, Bush river and Miller's Island. Heavy runs of rock are scarce, though, last year being exceptionably good; this season there may be none. 'Tis entirely a speculation rigging up for the fish. Those who compose the party are Eben Crew, John H. Crew, Harvey Brice, W. A. Crew, Thos. B. T. Brice, Sam Brice, J. S. Owens and G. R. Crew.

John Brice has completed negotiations with Mr. Richardson, of Plum Point, selling his beautiful skiff Annie Brice and his entire outfit of nets, shanties, etc. Capt. Brice will be employed by Mr. Richardson the entire year. During the spring he will fish the nets and in the summer the dainty little steam launch and sail yacht will be in his charge.

Susquehanna ice filled the head of the bay on Sunday and at this writing is still pouring over the flats and into the bay. Some cakes of ice measured from twelve to eighteen inches in thickness.

Miss Ella Knabb, of Philadelphia, has returned to Betterton. A warm reception was given her by her many friends.

Mrs. W. A. Crew is visiting friends in Baltimore. OLD SALT.

THE Y. W. C. T. U., Of Chestertown, will give a SUNFLOWER TEA in the supper room of Stam's Hall, this (Thursday) evening, March 16, beginning at six o'clock. The Tea will be a most pleasant affair, and none should fail to attend. It.

JOHANNES MIERSCH, Violin Virtuoso;
PAUL MIERSCH, Violoncello Virtuoso;
WILHELM ANGERMUNDE, Double Bass; assisted by
MISS MARION S. WEED, Mezzo-Soprano.
The above concert will be superior to any entertainment ever given in Stam's Hall, and it is not likely that our people will have another opportunity of hearing such beautiful music in Chestertown. Beautiful music, like a beautiful poem, has a high and elevating influence, and our natures are lifted up to a much higher plane of intellect by it; such was the Greek idea and such the modern world is striving to revive. We trust the concert will be liberally patronized by our people.
