R. HARRISON COLLINS. C. COX HOPPER

COLLINS & HOPPER,

EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

CHARLES D. HILL, nephew of ex Governor Hill, has been given a postmastership at Walden, Mo.

DR. W. FRANK HINES, was on Tuesday appointed health officer and jail physician for Kent county, by the local board of health.

DR. JAMES A. STEUART, of Baltimore, was on Saturday elected by the State board of health, to succeed Dr. C. W. Chancellor, as secretary to the board.

IN the decision of the court in the case of John Judefind vs. the State, reported last week, the reference to the case of Carter vs. Burr, 113 U. S. S. C. Rep., was a mis-citation. The reference should have been Soon Hing vs. Crowley, 113 U. S. S. C. Rep.

THE MEMBERS of the Denton bar have forwarded to Gov. Brown a petition asking that Hon. John M. Robinson be designated as chief judge of the Court of Appeals. The paper was drawn by Hon. George M. Russum and signed by every member of the bar. This action of the bar is one which has been followed by every bar of the second district.

WE are indebted to the Baltimore Herald, as well for the splendid cuts which rendered the article on Rock Hall, printed two weeks ago, doubly interesting, as for the intensely readable article itself. The Herald literally bristles with interesting and authentic facts in its daily edition, while its Sunday edition is excelled by no journal in the South. While just a few have taken issue with some of the facts set forth in the article, we have received numerous compliments relative to its interesting character. The Herald is foremost in the ranks of the most aggressive and sprightly news-gatherers of Baltimore city.

BECAUSE OF THE LARGE AMOUNT OF ADVERTISING MATTER, and much interesting local and general reading matter, we are forced to issue a supplement with this issue. Never, we dare say, within the history of the TRANSCRIPT, has it enjoyed so flattering a recognition from an appreciative public. During the entire year it has been recognized as the most aggressive newsgatherer, and its columns as the leading advertising medium in the county, which will be strikingly shown beyond all controversy, by a careful examination of our files. We invite comparison with the best of our rural brothers in any respect. The TRANSCRIPT now stands as the leading advertising medium in Kent county,—in consequence, the necessity of an extra sheet.

HON. JOHN B. BROWN is another one of those Democrats who should stand in a peculiar position of nearness to Mr. Cleveland, and his appointment to the position of Collector of the Port, would be a handsome recognition on the part of the administration, of loyal and unswerving devotion to a higher political standard in State and nation, as well as a royal devotion to the President in his battle before and after the convention at Chicago. In the enemy's camp he stood as true as steel; when the shadows of defeat threatened, he never for one moment left his post, but raised his voice in defense of right and in behalf of the people. Mr. Cleveland has had no more loyal or courageous advocate than John B. Brown, and his appointment would be a substantial compliment to a great number of earnest friends of both the Senator from Queen Anne's, and that greatest American, Grover Cleveland. Intellectually, physically and morally, Mr. Brown is one of the most thoroughly equipped men for the place, in the State.

THE appointment of Collector of Internal Revenue, remains the focal point around which most interest is centred in State politics. The friends of that sterling Cleveland Democrat, Philip D. Laird, of Montgomery county, the courageous enemy of machine politics, and the author of that bomb which shook to its very centre the citadel of political chicanery which overshadowed the halls of our last legislature, are vigilant and active, battling for a recognition of his services to his party and the people. The contest is not one in which Mr. Laird's political aspirations or financial interests are paramount, but one in which the purity and permanency of our political institutions, the best interests of the State at large, and the right of American citizens to govern themselves without boss dictation and political misrule are the vital issues. Without drawing disparaging comparisons, we say without fear of contradiction, that for eminent fitness in every respect Mr. Laird is the equal of any gentleman in the State, while from a standpoint of merit because of marked *con*sistency and unswerving *per*sistency in defending the claims and strengthening the hands of Mr. Cleveland against his enemies in the State of Maryland and beyond her borders, Philip D. Laird stands without a peer. The refusal of Mr. Cleveland to recognize the claims of the distinguished Marylander and his friends in the present instance, would, we are free to admit, be a stunning blow.

REFERRING to the number of executions which have taken place in the State within the past two years, Governor Brown, following the suggestion first made in the TRANSCRIPT two years ago, says:

"They have strongly suggested to him the advisability of having all executions in the State take place hereafter in the penitentiary. He has determined to recommend to the next Legislature the passage of a law to this effect. He says the law he will suggest will provide that immediately after the signing of the death warrant, the condemned person shall be taken to the penitentiary and kept there till hanged. This, he believes, will lessen the danger of lynching in aggravated cases, and will also reduce the expense to the county in which the criminal is convicted.

"The State could set apart a portion of the penitentiary grounds and erect a house in which all hangings would take place. A permanent scaffold could be built, which would relieve the counties of this expense. The Governor is of the opinion that where all the appliances used at executions are permanent the danger of accident, which so frequently occurs with temporary apparatus, will be lessened. The change, it is also said, would make hangings more private.

"In the event of the passage of the suggested law, the sheriff of the county in which the criminal is convicted, will be required to go to Baltimore at the appointed time and conduct the execution."

THE WORLD'S FAIR OPEN.

At eight minutes past twelve o'clock, on Monday, the Columbian Exposition, the most magnificent national celebration which the world has known, was formally opened by President Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland made a brief speech, after which he pressed an electric button, and the fair was open to the world.

It was an ordinary telegraph key, except that it was of gold instead of brass, and the button of ivory instead of rubber. It rested upon a pedestal covered with navy blue and golden yellow plush, and on the sides of the lower tier, in silver letters, were the dates, 1492 and 1893.

The touching of the button was the signal for the audience to burst into a thunderous shout; the orchestra played the Hallelujah chorus, the wheels of the great Allis engine in Machinery Hall began to revolve. The fountains in the lagoon threw up their jets of water, a flood of water gushed from the McMonnes fountain and fell into the basin, and the thunder of artillery came from the vessels on the lake.

At the same time the chimes in Manufactures Hall and on the German Building rang out a merry peal, and overhead the flags at the tops of the poles in front of the platform fell apart and revealed two gilded models of the ships in which Columbus first sailed to American shores. Hundreds of flags of all nations and all colors were also unfurled within sight of the platform, and an immense United States flag fell out from the top of the central staff in front of the stand.

CHIEF JUSTICE ROBINSON.

One of the most eminently satisfactory official acts of Governor Brown, during his incumbency of the office of chief executive of the State of Maryland, was the appointment on Tuesday, of Judge John M. Robinson, of Queen Anne's county, to the chief judgeship of the Court of Appeals, in place of Judge Alvey, of Allegany county, who was made chief justice of the Court of Appeals, of the District of Columbia.

Hon. John Mitchell Robinson, was born in Caroline county, December 2, 1827. In 1847 he graduated at Dickinson College; studied law with Carmichael & Brown at Centreville; was admitted to the bar in 1849, and began the practice of law in Centreville. In January, 1851, under the old Constitution, he received from Attorney General R. J. Brent the appointment of deputy attorney-general for Queen Anne's county. In November of that year the new Constitution went into effect, and under it he was elected State's attorney. In 1864 he was elected judge of the circuit which comprised the counties of Queen Anne's and Kent. In 1867 he was elected judge of the Second Judicial Circuit, and again in 1882, both times without opposition either in the convention or at the polls. His present term of office will expire in 1897.

Judge Robinson has been twenty-eight years continuously on the bench in this State. For twenty-five years of this time he has served as associate judge of the Court of Appeals, being the only member now remaining of that tribunal who was first elected after the adoption of the present Constitution. During this service, after a quarter of a century, Judge Robinson has delivered upwards of 400 opinions in this court alone, which, if published in books similar in size to the Maryland Reports, would make at least six volumes. Those opinions, covering a multitude of subjects, include among them some of the most important that have ever been handed down by the court to the present time, and rank admittedly with the strongest and best utterances of the Court of Appeals. Should Judge Robinson fill out the remainder of his present term—four years and a-half—he will have served longer on the bench of this court than any other judge who has ever been a member of it since its erection, in 1787, and it may literally then be said that he has had more to do with settling the law of the state of Maryland than any other son within her borders. The appointment is generally conceded by the members of the Kent bar and the citizens of the county, as the very best that could have been made, as will be seen from the following:

THE MEMBERS of the bar of Kent county on Saturday, April 22d, united in a memorial to Governor Brown, urging the appointment of Judge John M. Robinson, chief judge of the Second Judicial Circuit, as chief judge of the Court of Appeals, and it is understood that similar memorials were sent by the members of each bar in the circuit. A dispatch from Chestertown puts the situation thus strongly:

"The desire for Judge Robinson's appointment for this position is not merely the outcome of the respect and regard entertained by the bar for a capable and upright judge presiding over it. Those who have been accustomed to appear before him in the Circuit as well as in the Court of Appeals, have found in him 'that absolute judicial impartiality which can only exist when a tender and vigilant conscience is joined to an instructed and self-reliant intellect and a firm will, and his eminent qualifications for this position are well-known throughout the State. When it is remembered that he is the sole representative of the Court of Appeals as organized in 1867, and that his physical vigor and mental activity are unimpaired, the reason for his appointment, without instituting any comparison with other members of the appelate bench, would seem to be controlling.

A Clever Swindle.

A number of the school children in Kent have been industriously at work making words from the letters of the words "World's Fair." This is one of the cleverest swindles on record, and is being worked from Toronto, Canada, under the guise of a "free trip" to the World's Fair, a racket which beats the swindling of the green goods men all hollow.

The bogus concern calls itself the "Scott Seed Company, Toronto, Canada." Its advertisements ask the reader to separate the words, "World's Fair," and use the letters to spell as many words as possible, not using the same letter in making any one word more times than it appears in "World's Fair." The swindle goes on to say: "If you are good at word-making you can secure a free trip to the World's Fair and return, as the Scott Seed Company will pay all expenses, including railroad fare, hotel bills, admission to the Columbian Exposition, and $50 in cash for incidental expenses, to the first person able to make seventy words from the letters contained in 'World's Fair.' They will also give a free trip to the World's Fair and return, with $25 dollars for incidental expenses, to the first person sending sixty words, also to the first person sending fifty words without cash accompaniment.

"To the first person sending fifty words will be given $50 in cash; to the first person sending forty words, $25 in cash; to each of the first five persons sending thirty-five words, $10 in cash; and to each of the first ten sending thirty words will be given $5 in cash.

The letter also contains a circular, including a list of flower collections and a "Certificate of Reward," which is filled up ready for the name and address of the "lucky" competitor for prizes galore, who agrees to send $2.75 for expense of "boxing, delivery and guaranteeing safe arrival of extra prize."

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the TRANSCRIPT $1 per year.

THE BELL ENTERTAINMENT.

A Magnificent Success at Rock Hall and a Treat in Store for Chestertown.

They say at Rock Hall it was most emphatically the greatest theatrical treat they ever had. The performance began at 7.45 P. M., and the hall was crowded both nights. The musical overtures and voluntaries were especially fine in the hands of Prof. George K. Bitter and Christian Bitter. The "Rough Diamond," was notably pleasurable and extremely select in character. Sir Wm. Evergreen, represented by Mr. J. Frank Wheatly, of Edesville, was nicely rendered throughout. Lord Plato was nobly characterized by Mr. T. E. W. Crew. Mr. Horace Willson graced the uniform of Captain Blenheim, and Mr. J. T. Saylor, as Cousin Joe was funny indeed. T. S. Wallis and T. B. Willson, Jr.'s, appearances were short and sweet. The ladies were deserving of special compliment. Miss Bryan has made her name of dramatic fame. Miss Matthews supported the character handsomely. The Quiet Family was of more stirring cast. The family seemed to be anything, rather than a quiet one. Miss Nannie Wallis makes an apt servant and Mr. Camp filled out his part as servant most properly. Mr. Charles Miller brought out the character with noted force. Mr. J. Page Strong made a good appearance as Peter Parker. Mr. Joseph Saylor could not have done better, and Miss Camp as Mrs. Barnaby gave splendid support. Miss Sappington was well suited to her part, and last but not least, Miss Georgie Wallis was charmingly dramatic. The players owe their merit to the zealous and personal labors of their talented director, Mr. L. R. Shewell, who complimented them all for their excellent manner of rendition. The minstrel performance was the best ever given in the history of the place. They were black as black could be and awfully funny. It would fill a volume to describe their funny words and actions. The players manifested professional traits. Lawrence Whaland can certainly string out a joke and shake out a shuffle. We must pay the same compliment to his companion, Jacob Urie. Rollison can shake the very life out of a pair of bones. B. Frank Urie made a big hit with the old darkey impersonation. Wm. Taylor is great. Mr. Hartman makes a good interlocutor. The autoharp was sweetly handled by Marion Miller. The minstrels showed the fruits of the careful labors of Mr. W. Eugene Willison, their able director. We must say a word in compliment of the musical part. Miss Matthews has a most pleasing voice. Miss Bryan's recitation was captivating. The "Joys of Spring," and the instrumental duet were beautifully rendered by Misses Anna M. and Clara E. Downey, of Chestertown. Dina Williams was especially good. Marcus Ascher and his accompanist, Mr. Whitely were loudly encored. The entire affair was a great success. Thanks are sincerely expressed in the name of the church to all concerned and all its patrons. We hope it will have a crowded house in Chestertown on Friday night next.

THE BASE-BALL SEASON.

The first game of the present base-ball season was played on the Washington College grounds on Saturday afternoon, between the Washington College team and a nine from Locust Grove. The visiting club has some good material, and everything considered, put up a good game. It was evident, however, from the first that they were no match for their more thoroughly practiced opponents. Brice, as usual played an A No. 1 game, while Woodruff, Blackiston and Gould all played fine games. Burris and Zearfoss, the home battery did fine work. Kelley of the Locust Grove team played fine ball. The teams took position as follows:

L. G.	POSITION.	W. C.
Mulford	Pitch	Burris
Scotten	Catch	Zearfoss
Hayes	First base	Gould
Greenwood	Second base	Woodruff
G. Greenwood	Third base	Polk
Kelley	Short stop	Brice
Holloway	Left field	Blackiston
Howard	Centre field	Franklin
	Right field	Parker

The score stood 2 to 18 in favor of the college team.

The uptown team, Fallowfield captain; Fallowfield pitch, and C. McWhorter catch, defeated the down town team, Hynson Rogers, captain, Toulson in the box and Lucas catch.

James Orr, Margaret K. Orr,
vs.
David James Smyth, Sarah Smyth, Samuel Orr, Jr., Maria Orr, Mary E. Twaddell, James Twaddell, Jane Leitch, Malcom Leitch, Benjamin Orr, Isabella Orr, William James Orr, Mamie Orr.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated in Kent county, Maryland, and the distribution of the proceeds of sale among the persons entitled to the same.

The bill states that by an order of this court passed on the 27th day of April, 1893, leave was granted to the complainants in this cause to file an amended bill of complaint, the object of which was to suggest the death of Lawrence Orr, one of the defendants named in their original bill of complaint, and to make William James Orr and Mamie Orr, children and heirs at law of the said Lawrence Orr, defendants in the cause, which amended bill charges all the matters and things alleged in said original bill of complaint.

The bill states that John Smyth, late of the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, deceased, was, in his lifetime, and at the time of his death, seized in fee simple of certain real estate, consisting of a farm of 115 acres of land, more or less, lying in the First Election District of Kent county, Maryland, on the road leading from Crumpton to Millington, which he purchased in his lifetime of George Vickers, trustee for the sale of the real estate of Richard Embry, deceased. That being so seized the said John Smyth departed this life in the year 1873, without leaving a widow surviving him, and leaving the following heirs at law: David Smyth and Ellen Orr; that David Smyth has since departed this life leaving the said David James Smyth, his only son and heir at law, and Sarah Smyth, his widow, and the said David Smyth likewise left a paper which it is pretended, was his last will and testament, devising all of his real estate to the said David James Smyth, subject to the dower of the said Ellen Smyth, which said will was offered for probate in the office of the register of wills in the city of Philadelphia, but a caveat was filed thereto, which caveat has never as yet been disposed of, and the said Ellen Orr died intestate during the lifetime of her father, John Smyth, and the said Ellen Orr left her husband, Samuel Orr, surviving her, and the following children and heirs at law: Samuel Orr, Jr., who intermarried with Maria Kendig, now Maria Orr; Mary E. Twaddell, who intermarried with James Twaddell; John Orr, your orator, James Orr, Jane Leitch, the wife of Malcom Leitch, Benjamin Orr, who intermarried with Isabella McNutt, now Isabella Orr, and Lawrence Orr, who has since departed this life, leaving the following children and heirs at law, namely: the said William James Orr and Mamie Orr, both of whom are infants under the age of twenty-one years, and all the children or grandchildren of the said Ellen Orr by the said Samuel Orr, Sr. All the said parties in interest are of full age except David James Smyth, William James Orr and Mamie Orr, who are infants under twenty-one years of age.

That James Orr, Margaret K. Orr, John Orr and Samuel Orr, Sr., reside in Kent county, Maryland; David James Smyth, Sarah Smyth, Samuel Orr, Jr., Maria Orr, Mary E. Twaddell, James Twaddell, Jane Leitch, Malcom Leitch, Benjamin Orr, Isabella Orr, William James Orr and Mamie Orr reside in the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania. The bill further states that a partition of the said property among the parties entitled thereto, according to the several interests thereto as aforesaid, cannot be made without material loss and injury to the parties entitled, except by sale of the said real estate and a division of the proceeds of such sale among the parties entitled thereto according to their respective interests.

It is thereupon ordered this 2d day of May, 1893, that the complainants by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 3d day of June next, give notice to the said William James Orr and Mamie Orr and all other non-resident defendants of the object and substance of this bill, and warn them to appear in this court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of June next, to answer the premises and show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

James L. Willis and Hope H. Barroll, administrator, c. t. a. of Lydia A. Willis.
vs.
Henry C. Pennington, Lydia P. Pennington, Lottie V. Hayes, Owen W. Hayes, John W. Willis, Harry P. Willis, John E. Willis, Mary P. Willis.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity. No. 166.

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree of this court determining the ownership of certain money or real estate, of which Lydia A. Willis, late of Kent county, died, seized and possessed, whether it belongs to the heirs at law, or to devisees under the last will and testament of the said Lydia A. Willis, deceased, and for a division of the same among the persons entitled thereto according to their respective interests therein.

The bill states that a certain Lydia A. Willis, late of Kent county, deceased, died sometime in the year 1886, leaving a last will and testament, by which last will and testament she devised a certain mortgage indebtedness of $3500 unto and what distribution should be made of the same, but the bill states that at the time of her death the said Lydia A. Willis did not own or possess any mortgage of $3500, but that the mortgage indebtedness, which the said Lydia A. Willis supposed she had due her, consisted in point of fact of a deed for certain real estate described in a deed given by James Willis to the said Lydia A. Willis, a copy of which deed is filed in these proceedings.

The bill further states, that after the death of the said Lydia A. Willis, the said James Willis held the said real estate during his lifetime, but the said James Willis has since departed this life, and letters of administration c. t. a. upon the estate of the said Lydia A. Willis, have been granted to Hope H. Barroll, one of the complainants in this cause.

The bill states also that the said Lydia A. Willis left the following heirs at law, namely: Jas. L. Willis, one of these complainants, Lottie V. Hayes, wife of Owen W. Hayes, both of whom reside in Kent county, Maryland; Lydia P. Pennington, wife of Henry C. Pennington, both of whom reside in the State of Delaware, and John E. Willis, whose residence is unknown.

The bill also states that under the will of the said Lydia A. Willis, the $3500 mortgage in question would be distributed, one-half unto John W. Willis and Harry P. Willis, both of whom reside in the State of Delaware, and unto Mary P. Willis, daughter of John E. Willis, whose place of residence is unknown.

It is thereupon ordered, this 1st day of May, 1893, that the complainants, James L. Willis and Hope H. Barroll, administrator c. t. a. of Lydia A. Willis, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed and published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of June next, give notice to the said Lydia P. Pennington, Henry C. Pennington, John W. Willis, Harry P. Willis, John E. Willis and Mary P. Willis, the non-resident defendants in this cause of the object and substance of this bill, and warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of June next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
