EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

CARLYLE W. HARRIS, the murderer of his girl-wife, paid the penalty of his crime on Monday, in Sing Sing prison, N. Y. Harris was electrocuted.

THE COMMISSIONS of Hon. John M. Robinson, as chief judge of the Court of Appeals, were received by Clerk Lemuel Dunbracco, at Centreville, on Thursday of last week.

THE PLACE OF POET LAUREATE, made vacant by the death of Lord Tennyson, has been tendered by Prime Minister Gladstone, to the distinguished art critic, John Ruskin.

GOVERNOR BROWN, on Monday, appointed William T. Brantly, a prominent member of the Baltimore bar and a professor in the law school of the University of Maryland, to succeed the late Edward W. LeCompte, who died of consumption, at his home in Cambridge, on Friday morning last, as Secretary of State.

CHESTERTOWN is asking the government to either build them a post office building or allow them $400 per year rent. We don't object to our sister town getting what they desire in this particular, but we think Elkton has as good if not a better claim to a government building.—Cecil Democrat.

Friend Democrat, we are not discussing your merits. We want the building and the four hundred dollar allowance and mean to get it if possible.

BETTERTON NEWS.

BETTERTON, MD., May 8, 1893.

TO THE TRANSCRIPT.—The storm of Thursday played havoc along this part of the bay. Several gilling skiffs at Barnard's wharf were badly damaged and the seines washed out. A small craft, schooner-rigged sailed by Joseph Warram, was driven ashore on the rocks several hundred yards above Betterton wharf, and an old schooner, used by the wrecking company in raising the sunken buyeye went to the bottom. Warram was generously assisted by all the sailors and fisherman here, numbering fifty or sixty, and was fortunate enough to get his vessel afloat, not however until the rocks had nearly used her up. The boat was hauled off by means of a stout rope run from the craft to the end of the wharf, and hauled on by a large force, with block and tackle purchase. On sliding into deep water the boat immediately captsized. After working her to a good sound bottom, she was beached. James A. Ross, the ship carpenter patched her up and managed to float her to Georgetown, using four oil barrels to buoy her up. It is a question whether or not it will pay to repair her.

The shad have dropped off and the impression prevailing is that the season is nearly over, due to the freshet. This week promised to be best of spring. A fair catch and high prices have brought our people in a very considerable sum.

T. J. Lockard is spending several days in Philadelphia.

R. C. Young and Walter Brice, of the Ericsson line spent Sunday at home.

Joseph R. Owens, who has been doing a nice mercantile business at Coleman's for several years, has sold out to Wm. J. Coleman, and will leave the last of this week to accept a position in Philadelphia.

OLD SALT.

TOLCHESTER IMPROVEMENTS.

Newspaper Men Royally Entertained by the Tolchester Company.

TO THE TRANSCRIPT:—Tolchester is nearing the end of the beginning; never in its history has so much been done to beautify the place and add to the comforts of its patrons, as has been done this year. Much still remains to be finished, but with good weather, everything will be in shape by June 1st.

The first excursion will be here May 29th, then a short rest until June 1st, when the palace steamer Louise will begin to land thousands daily. The outlook at the Baltimore office is bright indeed, there being over sixty charters more than at this time last year.

The steamer Giles, on Saturday last, landed at the Beach, with flags flying, and bringing a large number of representatives of the Baltimore press, who seemed delighted at the many changes. The grounds, the new, the remodeled and the repainted buildings were carefully inspected in detail and were declared to be models of convenience and comfort. Capt. Eliason, who is never so much at home as when extending the courtesies and hospitalities of his company to visitors, was at his best, and that a royal good time was enjoyed by the guests, goes without saying. After laying the corner stone of the new cottage, the visitors again boarded the steamer, where a table laden with a bountiful supply of luxuries awaited them.

The fishing season here is about over, and those who were engaged in the business, say that it was a fairly good one until the heavy blow of Wednesday, when the storm did some damage. Mr. George Bramble lost one of his large boats valued at sixty dollars.

The new building at Gresham Hall is well under way to completion, and when finished will be one of the largest and best farm houses in this section of the county.

Our farmers are somewhat backward with their spring work, owing to the very wet weather.

The heavy rains have again filled the bay with logs and trash, brought down from Williamsport and other ports along the Susquehanna. Some of the logs are the finest ever seen in the bay. HAPS.

STILL POND FARMERS' CLUB.

April 29, 1893.

The farmers club held its regular meeting to-day, at the residence of Mr. E. B. Pennington, and although the most stormy day the club has experienced, the attendance of members and visitors was fully up to the average. The usual morning session was dispensed with, and after a sumptuous dinner, the club was called to order by the president. Owing to the absence of the secretary, the minutes were omitted, and Mr. J. S. Harris was appointed secretary pro tem. On motion, the ladies were excused from reading the minutes of their meeting in general session at this and future meetings. Questions were then declared in order, and W. D. Pennington asked what were the merits of the bunch lima bean.

Mr. E. B. Pennington replied that they were less trouble to grow than the pole bean, but they were not so productive.

The next question was: What are we to do to prevent violations of the Sunday laws? This elicited considerable discussion by both the ladies and gentlemen. Many cases were cited of great and frequent violations of these laws by the patrons of pleasure resorts, fishermen and others, which were going unpunished.

The following resolution was then unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this club, that all violations of our Sunday laws are damaging to society, and should be suppressed. (If the secretary had been present, I have no doubt he would have tried to amend it so as to include a pledge to vote for Bidwell in the future.)

What will kill the grass on gravel walks? was asked by Mr. Lusby. He was advised to apply salt heavily. Mr. G. W. Rodenhiser advised coal oil from a sprinkler as a sure remedy.

Mrs. E. B. Pennington asked: Is it the exclusive duty of wives and daughters to maintain cheerfulness in the family?

The discussion brought out the fact that the ladies considered the husbands and brothers equally responsible (they never mentioned the beaux), while the gentlemen speakers thought that as the sterner sex had the financial interests of the family to look after, they were entitled to leave to the finer natures of the ladies the task of buoying up the spirits of the household.

Mr. E. B. Pennington then asked: Is it to the advantage of farmers to ship to commission men who are also buyers?

This question brought out a long discussion, and the general opinion was, that the men doing a strictly commission business were the safest agents for the farmer to consign his produce to, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is not to the best interests of farmers to consign produce to commission men, who, in addition to their commission business, buy and sell largely of such produce as we ship on commission.

Arrangements having been made to ship asparagus direct to New York from our wharves, a discussion arose as to the cost of transportation. This brought out the fact that after the middle of May, New York is a very uncertain market for a net profit to the grower.

The next question was: Is it best to keep asparagus covered deep or allow the crowns to be near the top of the ground?

The discussion showed, that while the shoal-covered crowns gave the earliest cuttings, the deep-covered gave largest anp finest grass, also the largest quantity of late grass.

The next question was: What is the condition of the blackberry canes? Reports showed that they are badly winter-killed, and the prospect was for a very small crop. Raspberries, however, promise well.

The regular question was then taken up, Which of our birds are injurious, which beneficial, and which harmless to the farmer. It was opened by Mr. Jas. S. Harris, who presented a list of over seventy varieties, only six of which were finally declared to be injurious to farmers.

This question was taken part in by nearly all present, including the ladies, and was highly interesting, and kept the club together long after the usual hour for adjournment.

By invitation, the club will hold its next meeting at the residence of Mr. Thomas J. Shallcross, on the last Thursday in May. The question for discussion will be the growing and marketing of fruit.

I am sorry I was compelled to omit reporting the March meeting held at Mr. J. S. Harris'. The attendance there was full, and the questions discussed were important ones to farmers. ANNIE ROONEY.

DRAMA AND MINSTRELSY.

Chestertown Pays a Rousing Compliment to Local Talent.

It must have been extremely gratifying to the members of the Rock Hall Dramatic Company, to hear such charming compliments, so generously expressed by the people of Chestertown, as a token of their highest appreciation of the entertainment given on Friday evening last, at Stam's Hall. They universally pronounced it, the great dramatic success of the season. The entire performance was of strong dramatic effect, and professional abilities were manifested by several of the players. The dramas owe their superiority of presentation to Mr. L. R. Shewell, a retired professional actor and stage manager, now residing in a beautiful suburban home near Rock Hall. The performance was limited to two dramatic farces and a grand finale of minstrelsy. We feel in justice bound to express a personal remark of appreciation for the individual efforts of the actors and actresses. The dramatic farce "A Rough Diamond," is of refined cast throughout. Perhaps the special laurels of success must be awarded to Margery and Cousin Joe, represented by Miss Lizzie A. Bryan and Mr. Joseph T. Saylor. They have made their abilities of greatest comment. We are delighted to compliment them both most highly, but wish also to express our hearty appreciation of Sir Wm. Evergreen, in the hands of Mr. J. Frank Wheatley. Mr. Wheatley did well Our friend Mr. Horace Willson manifested soldierly dignity and reserve, while Mr. T. E. W Crew was rightly selected and made a noble English lord. The youthful servants T. S. Wallis and T. B. Willson, Jr., served obediently and well. Miss Mamie Matthews seemed to be entirely at home on the stage and showed marked ability. The "Quiet Family" was loudly applauded. Mr. Jos. T. Saylor was again able to make a big hit. He did his part "saliboriously," to borrow some of his funny expressions. Snarley and Grumpy, represented by Miss Nannie Wallis and Mr. William Camp were especially fine. Mr. Charles Miller is a forcible actor. Mr. J. Page Strong makes a good Peter Parker. The ladies are to receive special comment. Miss Camp had a difficult part and her quickness of expression was well manifested and aptly done. Miss Sappington as Selina, was presented beautifully. Miss Georgia Wallis makes a charming appearance upon the stage, and her character was gracefully acted. Now let us sing a rousing reception to the darkey boys. Mr. Eugene Willson certainly fashioned them immensely. Lawrence Whaland and Jacob Urie cannot be beaten when clogs and jokes are on the carpet. Rollison is a daisy bone shaker, and his bone companion, Frank Urie, charmed the audi with his "Old Darkey Song." Wm. Taylor is little, but he gets there all the same. We seldom hear of Dutch darkeys, but Hartman can certainly fill the bill. We will not forget to thank Mr. M. Miller for his sweet accords from the autoharp, and during the intermissions Prof. Bitter and his brother filled the air with select musical strains. The entire affair was most warmly appreciated. It will suffice to say, that the glowing comment from the lips of every body should be a gracious recompense to those participating. All concerned in the entertainment express their sincere thanks to the public for their presence and grateful appreciation.

James L. Willis and Hope H. Barroll, administrator, c. t. a. of Lydia A. Willis, vs.
Henry C. Pennington, Lydia P. Pennington, Lottie V. Hayes, Owen W. Hayes, John W. Willis, Harry P. Willis, John E. Willis, Mary P. Willis.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity No. 1040.

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree of this court determining the ownership of certain money or real estate, of which Lydia A. Willis, late of Kent county, died, seized and possessed, whether it belongs to the heirs at law, or to devisees under the last will and testament of the said Lydia A. Willis, deceased, and for a division of the same among the persons entitled thereto according to their respective interests therein.

The bill states that a certain Lydia A. Willis, late of Kent county, deceased, died sometime in the year 1886, leaving a last will and testament, by which last will and testament she devised a certain mortgage indebtedness of $3500 unto James Willis for life, and after his death, directed what distribution should be made of the same, but the bill states that at the time of her death the said Lydia A. Willis did not own or possess any mortgage of $3500, but that the mortgage indebtedness, which the said Lydia A. Willis supposed she had due her, consisted in point of fact of a deed for certain real estate described in a deed given by James Willis to the said Lydia A. Willis, a copy of which deed is filed in these proceedings.

The bill further states, that after the death of the said Lydia A. Willis, the said James Willis held the said real estate during his lifetime, but the said James Willis has since departed this life, and letters of administration c. t. a. upon the estate of the said Lydia A. Willis, have been granted to Hope H. Barroll, one of the complainants in this cause.

The bill states also that the said Lydia A. Willis left the following heirs at law, namely: Jas. L. Willis, one of these complainants, Lottie V. Hayes, wife of Owen W. Hayes, both of whom reside in Kent county, Maryland; Lydia P. Pennington, wife of Henry C. Pennington, both of whom reside in the State of Delaware, and John E. Willis, whose residence is unknown.

The bill also states that under the will of the said Lydia A. Willis, the $3500 mortgage in question would be distributed, one-half unto John W. Willis and Harry P. Willis, both of whom reside in the State of Delaware, and unto Mary P. Willis, daughter of John E. Willis, whose place of residence is unknown.

It is thereupon ordered, this 1st day of May, 1893, that the complainants, James L. Willis and Hope H. Barroll, administrator c. t. a. of Lydia A. Willis, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed and published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of June next, give notice to the said Lydia P. Pennington, Henry C. Pennington, John W. Willis, Harry P. Willis, John E. Willis and Mary P. Willis, the non-resident defendants in this cause of the object and substance of this bill, and warning them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of June next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

David James Smyth, Sarah Smyth, Samuel Orr, Jr., Maria Orr, Mary E. Twaddell, James Twaddell, Jane Leitch, Malcom Leitch, Benjamin Orr, Isabella Orr, William James Orr, Mamie Orr.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated in Kent county, Maryland, and the distribution of the proceeds of sale among the persons entitled to the same.

The bill states that by an order of this court passed on the 7th day of April, 1893, leave was granted to the complainants in this cause to file an amended bill of complaint, the object of which was to suggest the death of Lawrence Orr, one of the defendants named in their original bill of complaint, and to make William James Orr and Mamie Orr, children and heirs at law of the said Lawrence Orr, defendants in the cause, which amended bill charges all the matters and things alleged in said original bill of complaint.

The bill states that John Smyth, late of the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, deceased, was, in his lifetime, and at the time of his death, seized in fee simple of certain real estate, consisting of a farm of 115 acres of land, more or less, lying in the First Election District of Kent county, Maryland, on the road leading from Crumpton to Millington, which he purchased in his lifetime of George Vickers, trustee for the sale of the real estate of Richard Embry, deceased. That being so seized the said John Smyth departed this life in the year 1875, without leaving a widow surviving him, and leaving the following heirs at law: David Smyth and Eilen Orr; that David Smyth has since departed this life leaving the said David James Smyth, his only son and heir at law, and Sarah Smyth, his widow, and the said David Smyth likewise left a paper which it is pretended, was his last will and testament, devising all of his real estate to the said David James Smyth subject to the dower of the said Ellen Smyth, which said will was offered for probate in the office of the register of wills in the city of Philadelphia, but a caveat was filed thereto, which caveat has never as yet been disposed of
