LAST SUNDAY it is thought, was the last Sunday on which the gates will be open to the public at the World's Fair. Sunday opening proved a miserable failure.

THE PRIMARIES of next Saturday, it is expected, will be extremely animated and abundantly interspersed with the fancy "team work" of the professionals.

CARDINAL GIBBONS has accepted the invitation of the World's Fair Commissioners to offer the prayer and bestow the benediction on Maryland Day, September 12, at the World's Fair.

THE PUBLIC MIND is fully prepared for any little surprises which may be evolved either at Saturday's primaries or in Tuesday's convention. Indeed, some little political bomb is fully expected.

WE ARE GLAD to again welcome to our exchange table the Wilmington Conference Herald. Our old friend comes to us giving evidence of care and editorial ability in its management, and we hope that its record may be long, bright and successful.

THE Baltimore News states that there is a storm brewing which threatens the disintegration of the Maryland political machine. Senator Gorman and Mr. Rasin, it is claimed, are not content to work together, consequently trouble is anticipated.

AH! INDEED! "Uncertainty pervades the Democratic camp in Kent, and although it has been conceded that Comptroller Smith will carry the county, the gravest fears are expressed for the fate of the local ticket. The Hines family row is on the verge of breaking out with all its former virulence, and the return of Capt. William D. Burchinal to the scenes of his former triumphs is regarded with apprehension."—Baltimore Sunday News.

IT IS with a feeling of peculiar pleasure that we extend congratulations to our energetic neighbor, the Centreville Observer upon its twenty-ninth anniversary. Merited success has crowned its twenty-nine years of existence, and the Observer to-day stands recognized as one of the most progressive and reliable journals in the State. To our friends, Messrs Busteed, the veteran, and Bryan and Price, the young life of the paper's management, individually and collectively we extend congratulations and best wishes for continued honors and success.

THE Baltimore News says: "It is now understood that all the principal Maryland appointments have been practically agreed upon by the Maryland Senators and a majority of the State delegation, except that of postmaster for Baltimore. The slate which will be presented to the President will be as follows: For Collector of the Port of Baltimore, Dr. J. Pembroke Thom, of Baltimore. For Naval Officer at Baltimore, Congressman Barnes Compton. For Surveyor of the Port of Baltimore, State Senator E. Stanley Toadvin, of Wicomico county. For United States District Attorney, William L. Marbury, of Baltimore. For United States Marshal, Isaac S. Sanner, at present sheriff of Baltimore city." Whether "the boys" will really stick by this, their claimed offspring, remains to be seen.

AS WE VIEW THE SITUATION, the continued firm foreign quotations for American wheat, and the constant exportation of grain to European ports should result in much encouragement to the American agriculturist. Steamers for no less than 9,842,000 bushels have been engaged, and they will be outward bound as soon as they can be loaded. This enormous volume of wheat and corresponding invoices of flour must be paid for in gold, and after all, our gold reserve may not be entirely exhausted. The charters of Baltimore alone are for 1,750,000 bushels. Boston has 1,500,000 and New York leads with 200,000,000. Says an exchange: "These figures carry with them a good deal of encouragement for the country at large, and for Baltimore in particular. With good prices abroad for agricultural produce, and a vast volume of it going over the ocean, the commercial depression of the United States cannot last forever.

THE CLOSING OF THE POLLS on Saturday next at six o'clock, will deprive the respective candidates of fifty-three Seventh-day Adventist votes in the fifth district. Saturday is the Adventist Sabbath and upon conscientious scruples they will of course refuse to cast a ballot. The vote would however, be distributed were it to be cast. At the last election the hour of closing the polls was extended to half-past six o'clock, to enable the Adventists to vote, but no such provision having been made by the committee it is now too late to remedy the trouble.

THE Centreville Record, in referring to the excursion of Philadelphia commission men, made up Chester river on Thursday last, and having in view the establishment of a direct peach route from Chester river to Philadelphia, says: "Owing to the fact that wharf facilities cannot be obtained, the project will be abandoned. The fruit will, therefore, go to Baltimore as heretofore. The Chester River Line own either in fee or by leasehold all the wharves on the river and refuse to rent any of them to the Philadelphia syndicate." We were present at the conference of commission men and a number of peach-growers, and could gather no such information from them during their visit up Chester river. Nothing definite was given out, but so far as we could learn, the matter was not indefinitely abandoned. It was claimed, that twelve or fourteen landings can be secured on Chester river and its tributaries. Of course we do not mean of our personal knowledge to say either that the calculations of the visitors may materialize or that the line may be established. Possibly the Record had later advices.

ON SATURDAY NEXT will close one of the most hotly contested political fights known within the later history of Kent county. The positions to be filled all carry with them responsibilities requiring for their proper discharge, gentlemen of intelligence and a high degree of personal honor. Men whose characters and personal fitness recommend them to the intelligent, law-abiding citizens of the county at large. No time-servers of factions, or personal representatives of the thoughts and interests of others—men who, while discharging the functions of their office, will command the respect and confidence of the people whom they serve. In a contest such as confronts the voters of the county at present, the man who ignores or neglects his right of franchise in the primaries proves recreant in his duty to himself, his county and his State. The man who absents himself from the poles on the day of the primaries, has no moral or legal right to object when vicious and improper nominations are forced upon him, he simply reaps the inevitable result of his own unpardonable neglect of duty. In the name of sound local government and purer political methods, we appeal to the intelligent, thinking masses to be at their posts on Saturday, and vote, not with a feeling of bitterness, but after having duly considered the merits of the respective gentlemen who are asking that they be ushered into positions great in responsibilities and public trust. Let every voter meet the issue fairly and candidly, and no mistake will be made in the result.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Superlative Description of its Beauties.

The world in miniature!

That is the World's Fair, the Columbian Exposition!

Gather your superlatives from all the dictionaries from Johnson's down to the Century's. Search all languages, rifle all literature, beggar all ages! Pile them up one on the other till the irridescent pillar tops the loftiest peaks of earth, then apply them once, twice, thrice! and you have not exaggerated the beauty, grandeur and richness of this exhibit of the earth.

Agriculture has laid upon its altars its choicest and rarest fruits and grains; industry has brought hither her most beloved handiwork; manufacture has contributed her most wonderful products; science has added its amazing discoveries and art has unloaded her richest treasures. The earth and the sea, the air and the hidden interior of the globe have yielded up and all ages and climes have been levied upon. The civilizations of the East and the civilizations of the West have poured out their offerings. The savants of Europe, the mystics of Asia and the heathens of the tropics have sent the favored children of their hand and brain.

Seek what you will you will find it here. You can be furnished object lessons in all the 'ologies and all the 'isms. The dances of all nations, the music of all peoples, the customs and the costumes of all races and tribes pass before you here in this panorama of Cosmos.—Baltimore News.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

Four persons were killed in Chicago by an accidental explosion of fireworks.

Since 1887, 154 persons have been roasted alive in Pittsburg, Pa., by the accidental explosion of kerosene lamps.

Kansas' corn crop promises to be the largest in the State's history, except for the year 1889, when it was 273,000,000 bushels.

Eighty carloads of Southern watermelons passed through Wilmington on Saturday.

The Delaware Railroad has fitted up 1400 cars with which to market the peach crop.

A Russian exhibitor was heavily fined for having sold some articles of his exhibit at the World's Fair.

Brazil has a rebellion to deal with.

A net balance of $1,127,418 profit is the Fair's record for May and June. According to the statement, the total gate receipts were $2,121,661, including $282,449 received prior to May 1. The total expenditures to June 30 were $20,610,160. Of this amount $16,456,663 is charged to construction. The estimates, however, put the operating expenses for May at $609,884, and receipts at $719,403. During June the estimated receipts were $1,660,820, and expenses $642,921.

A Kentucky man on Friday walked into court and confessed murder in order that he might save an innocent man.

Pretty Anna Wilkower was until last Sunday a chambermaid at the Palmer House, Chicago. Now she is Baroness Schilberln, wife of a millionaire Austrian nobleman. The courtship began about a year ago while the Baron was a guest at the Palmer House. It was renewed last spring and Saturday, when the Baron made his third visit to Chicago, the couple were married.

Three cases of Yellow fever are quarantined at the capes of the Chesapeake bay.

Yale College has received a bequest of $85,000. What's the matter with Yale! Pretty nearly all right we would say.

SUMMER BOARDERS.

Might not the Taking of Summer Boarders be Made the Source of a Handsome Revenue to Our Farmers?

With wheat at sixty cents, and possibly less per bushel, with all the products of the soil at a distressing minimum in prices, and real estate itself selling at from fifty to seventy-five per cent. less than it did not many years ago, the farmer now has forcibly impressed upon him the stern necessity of directing his attention to new and heretofore unexpected sources of revenue to enable him to counteract the general financial depression which confronts and depresses all agricultural industries.

The question has been asked, "could not the vast number of farmers having airy and comfortable homes beautifully situated along the water courses of Kent county, turn these advantages to substantial account by taking summer boarders from the city?" We promptly give answer that we believe they could, and just here we want at least to suggest the matter to our farmers and their wives. A large number of Baltimore business men and their families would be only too glad to find a quiet and delightful retreat in our midst to spend their summer vacations, and the only thing necessary is to let them know that we have the facilities and inclination to accommodate them.

The inquiry for boarding accommodations in this section of the State is greater than ever before. Now is the time for our people to take advantage of the opportunity afforded them to make this section better known.

Talbot county, as well as Anne Arundel, have availed themselves of the opportunity, and large sums are added to the treasury of the farmers each summer. The farmers for miles around Baltimore city on all the railroads make much money from this source alone. These boarders pay good prices, and for the sake of a quiet, invigorating rest beneath rural shade have not shown themselves unreasonably exacting as to accommodations. A clean, comfortable room, fresh, healthful food and restful quiet are all they ask, and all of these the Kent county farmer has to offer with comparatively little expense or trouble. Our historic and beautiful county would furnish a rich field for amusement and the gratification of the rural tastes of the visitors. Now, with comparatively little trouble and limited expense many of our farmers could accommodate from two to ten boarders each, which in the aggregate would add thousands of dollars to the annual wealth of the county.

A number of the farmers along the bay have for several years been taking summer boarders from the city, and find them a most desirable class not only in the home circle but socially in the community. The magnificent water situations which are so numerous throughout the county, could be transformed into sources of a splendid annual revenue with a little care and judicious management. Doubtless, with proper effort a sufficient number of Baltimore visitors could be induced to summer in the bay-shore sections to justify the putting on of a morning and afternoon boat from Rock Hall or some other convenient point, and should this be the case, it were safe to say that the Chester River Steamboat Company will not hesitate to meet the demands of the occasions. Business men cannot afford to go to remote places to spend the summer, and with a convenient boat placing them and their families within less than two hours of the city, Kent county is the most accessible of all the sections of the State having so much to offer to summer visitors. A short advertisement from Kent recently appeared in a Baltimore daily, offering summer board, and by the first mail there were over twenty responses.

There would be nothing undignified or humiliating for any farmer, no matter what his social or financial position, to introduce into his family few or many ladies and gentlemen of means and culture. It is purely a business matter, having about it many desirable features, and would result in the introduction into our social circles, for the summer at least, of a class of refined and elegant people, who would be willing to pay handsomely, or at least well, for their entertainment and comfort. The relation existing between the farmer and his guests would not be one of inferiority on the part of the farmer, but of social equality and friendship, for it is a fact known and accepted, that the average Kent county farmer is the peer of any class of citizens of the State or elsewhere.

This is a matter worthy the consideration of our farmers, and will again be referred to. It is proposed to secure the names of those in the county who will take boarders, and establish a bureau of information, as it were, to furnish particulars to the many who have already or may in the future enquire for information relative to boarding places in the county. Of course this can only be done with the cooperation of the farmers, and we will be glad to hear from any farmers relative to the matter.

Kent County

SAVINGS BANK!

Its Plans and Advantages!

THE primary object of this Bank is to make money for its stockholders and permanent depositors; to foster and encourage habits of providence in the people of Kent and adjoining counties, and especially of young people and those of small means, and to protect and promote their interest when they become permanent depositors.

The Kent County Savings Bank will be open for business July 1, 1893, at Chestertown, opposite the Kent News building—bank hours from 9 A.M. to 3 P. M. daily, and from 7 to 9 on every Saturday evening. We pay 3 per cent. interest on deposits if left on time, and take as small amounts as 25 cents.

You can deposit any amount in this bank and check it out as you wish, or you can leave the whole or any part of it on interest by so arranging it with the cashier when making your deposit.

We receive the accounts of any person, corporation, lodge or association subject to check, or on interest, just as the depositor wishes.

All accounts will be strictly private, as under our by-laws the directors of the bank are not allowed to pry into depositors' accounts. Every facility will be accorded our depositors in the transaction of their bank business that any bank can offer.

We will loan money on Note, Stocks, Bonds, Mortgages or any approved security. While we are here to do business and make a paying institution of the Kent County Savings Bank, we shall exercise the greatest caution that its patrons, depositors and stockholders shall be fully protected and their best interest looked after.

We have secured two of the well-known Diebold Fire and Burglar Proof Safes of the most modern and approved patents to secure against loss by either fire or burglars. The cashier will have his family residence in the building, thus insuring the presence of some one in the bank or adjoining rooms at all times.

We invite you to visit us and examine our methods of doing business.

If you wish to borrow we loan you money at simple interest, and do not take the interest off you in advance.

We believe we can be of service to you and ask you to deposit with us in any manner that suits your convenience.

MR. L. and lies on the public road running from Chestertown to Galena, and thence to Middletown. It is one of the most desirable and prominent properties which has been placed upon the market in the last score of years. It lies in the midst of the finest agricultural section of Kent county, and fronts nearly a mile along this much-traveled public highway. The land is a rich, medium loam, with red clay subsoil, and quickly responds to generous cultivation.

The Buildings consist of

The tenant is Mr. Wm. T. Money, and he will take pleasure in showing the place to any one.

IT CONTAINS

more or less, of as fine land as a plow ever turned the furrow on. It lies adjoining the magnificent estate of David Clements and Eugene M. Bonwell's Spry Farm, and is of the same character of soil as the land comprising these two well-known farms, with not a foot of waste land on the entire tract. It lies opposite Crumpton Lane, on the north side of the public road running from Chestertown to Millington, one mile from Crumpton on Chester river.

There are no buildings on this tract which will be sold with the land. It offers a chance seldom afforded to one desiring a small farm in the best of heart, surrounded by fine estates and highly improved lands. A few years ago it would doubtless have sold for $80 or $90 per acre.

It is tenanted by Mr. Wm. I. Clark, and he will cheerfully show it to any one wishing to examine it.

of land, more or less. This fine tract of land borders on Chester river, is one mile from the thriving town of Crumpton, where daily shipments of grain and produce can be made by water. The farm lies opposite the gates of the well-known David Clements Farm. The character of the soil is similar to that of the Clements Farm, and the land is gently rolling and thoroughly well-drained. Attention is particularly called to the back part of this farm, which consists of a beautiful stretch of excellent land, with an easy slope to the waters of Chester river, where can be found an abundance of fish, game, etc.

The Buildings consist of a Two-Story and Attic

Barn, Stable and other farm buildings. The place is well-set in young and
