THE CENTREVILLE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION of Tuesday, was one of surprises, the outgrowth of exceptionally clever political work. The Kent county fight was only a "make believe" when compared with the Queen Anne's cyclone.

IT IS RELIABLY STATED, that the recent Democratic primary in the Kennedyville district, was run strictly upon the principles of the most exacting moral standard. By mutual consent whiskey, money and political juggling were not allowed, and the agreement was carried out.

THE QUEEN ANNE'S TICKET

After one of the most heated political contests in the history of Queen Anne's county, the Democratic county convention met on Tuesday and nominated a full ticket for the approaching campaign. The primaries which were held on Saturday last, served to multiply rather than to relieve the embarrassments of the situation. The first district elected a delegation unpledged for clerk, but with three members of what is there known as the Brown faction. Godwin won in the second, Finley in the seventh, with one tie, and Davidson carried the fifth and Cecil swept the sixth district. In the other districts compromise delegations were elected. When the convention met on Tuesday, however, the outlook was cleared to some extent, and leaders of the Keating faction confidently asserted that they had the situation well in hand. On the other hand, representatives of the Brown faction, while less confident, were hopeful of making such combinations as to at least insure their securing a portion of the ticket.

The result, however, shows a sweeping defeat for the leaders of the Brown faction. Mr. Brown, it is positively asserted, did not closely identify himself with the interests of either side, and while the gentlemen representing a faction usually adverse to Mr. Brown's political interests won, it is claimed that that gentleman's position of strength in his county is in no way impaired. The convention was orderly and quiet and each gentleman nominated was named on the first ballot. B. F. Legg was made chairman of the convention, and John George secretary. On the first ballot, W. H. Cecil for clerk received 20 votes, Godwin, 10 and Legg, 4. For the Senate, Finley, 18 and Olin Bryan, 16. The ticket as elected is W. H. Cecil, clerk; Woodland P. Finley, for the Senate; Col. William Henry Legg, John O. Phillips and Charles W. Clements for the House of Delegates: Charles B. M. Bryan, sheriff; John E. George, county commissioner and G. Knotts, surveyor.

FROM CRUMPTON.

Election Day Echoes, Union Meetings and General Locals.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT:—The week just closed has been one of excitement and stir in the little town of Crumpton. We have had a festival, an election and a village camp. The Rev. Mr. Boem and the Rev. Mr. Hodge, of the M. E. and the M. P. churches, united in holding an extemporized meeting in an extemporized tent on the Fenimore lot. This brings the churches together in goodly fellowship. "Behold, how grand, how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

The festival was well-attended, and no doubt was quite a success.

The result of the election held on Saturday gives seventeen delegates on the one side and eighteen on the other. The Hon. John B. Brown, as heretofore, has won the victory and wears the crown. The Keating faction still holds this district by a very small majority. This will give us the State Senator or sheriff or a legislatureman. The cost of holding the election, which is only a primary, is estimated all the way between $2500 and $5000. We have about 250 voters. Everything passed off quietly until after the close of the polls, and then there was some disturbance. Joshua Walls and Cout Carroll, a gentleman well-known in Crumpton and the regions round about, had quite a battle with fist and knife. Walls was stabbed in the side and Carroll was badly bruised in the face. The wounds in neither case are supposed to be fatal. There will probably be no arrests, as both are thought to be sufficiently punished.

A little boy from Wilmington, Del., on a visit here, broke his arm in a double fracture above the elbow by falling out of a wagon. This occured on Sunday, and the little fellow is about with his arm in a sling.

Mrs. William Robinson, daughter of Mr. Rochester Woodall, of Double Creek, was buried yesterday in the beautiful cemetery on the hill.

Mr. Thos. Sheats, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, are visiting their mother who has been quite ill.

Master Clarence Bradley, of Philadelphia, is on a visit to his father, Mr. John Bradley.

Rev. J. B. Merritt is to preach next Sabbath at St. James' in the place of Dr. Mills, the pastor, who is off on a camp meeting tour.

BUSY GREY'S INN.

Rock Hall's Progressive Neighbor.

Kent county has no busier village within her boarders than is Grey's Inn, and debarring the valuable property of the American Strawboard Company at Chestertown, the most complete, extensive and successful manufacturing plant in the county is situated at this point. Busy and energetic Rock Hall, from a manufacturing standpoint has been long since outstripped by her suburban neighbor, and notwithstanding the fact that several years ago the steamers of the Chester river company were withdrawn from the pretty stream upon which Grey's Inn is situated, and were transferred to larger Rock Hall, the day of Grey's Inn's glory has not departed, and she is to-day a hustling, busy place, strong and vigorous with enterprise and life.

In 1870 George E. Leary, a native Kent countian, then in the vigor of ambitious young manhood, cast his financial fortune with those of the little village on the banks of Grey's Inn creek. A saw-mill was put in place and a general lumber business inaugurated in a modest way. Judicious management, industry, singleness of purpose and honesty, were the corner-stones upon which year after year the superstructure of a now established and splendid lumber business grew. Mr. Leary has associated with him in his extensive business enterprises his son, Elmer Leary, and the firm name is now Geo. E. Leary & Son. A description of Grey's Inn would be incomplete without a more or less detailed account of the lumber yard, saw-mill, etc., of the Messrs. Leary. Their lumber yard and buildings are seven hundred yards long and embrace five acres of land. A railroad with steel rails runs entirely through the grounds, and has switches leading into each building and department. Spacious sheds form ample room for the storing of all of the most valuable lumber. A hardwood room contains the choicest materials, including such valuable hardwoods as are in local demand. White pine flooring, peach basket and box materials are carefully stored from the weather. An experienced mechanic does the blacksmithing work for the mill. The saw and planing mill is one of the most complete on the Eastern Shore, every convenience being embodied in this model mill and many of the most important improvements being devices of Mr. Leary's own ingenuity and mechanical skill. The saw-mill, wood and iron lathes, plainers for the manufacture of anything from a barn sill to the delicate bead of a window sash, and machines of the most improved pattern for other work are all under one roof. The mill is provided with a complete system of fire apparatus. Hose and tanks are at convenient points in the mill, the hose being attached to a duplex pump capable of throwing a stream of water over the high smoke-stack. Thirteen men are being employed in making peach baskets and a large force in making peach boxes, all of first quality and of standard size, giving a daily capacity of 4000 packages.

There is also a boat railway in connection with the other business. The beautiful steam launch, Midge, built at Cowes, England, of African teak, a wood more valuable than mahogany, gives ample facilities for delivering goods at any point on the water. The little steamer is supplemented by a scow having a capacity of 10,000 baskets. This firm are now employing, independent of boatmen and men engaged in the forest getting out timber, over thirty hands daily. The stock of pine, poplar and gum being used in the manufacture of their standard-grade peach baskets and boxes is secured principally in Queen Anne's county. Large booms for logs stretch along the water front. The logs are, as a rule, gotten from the forests of Virginia and North Carolina. An extensive business is carried on in boat building material, and we were shown magnificent boat sides running from 24 to 32 feet in length, and from 16 to 24 inches in width, of gulf cypress and Georgia pine. Their yards are kept constantly stocked with every class and description of the finest building material.

The most perfect system pervades the entire place, and a visit to the establishment of this wide awake and progressive firm is truly a revelation to the average Kent countian. From this mill last year were built over eighty boats, and a vast majority of the buildings in the villages of Grey's Inn, Rock Hall and Edesville are built of lumber supplied almost exclusively by the Messrs. Leary. The wharf which was originally used as a steamboat landing is now used by sailing craft almost exclusively.

The villagers live in comfortable homes, and the large fleet of vessels and smaller boats give evidence unmistakable that their livelihood is to a great extent drawn from the waters of the Chester river and the Chesapeake bay. Picturesque Grey's Inn Creek ceases to be navigable at this point, and is invaluable to the financial success of the enterprises of Grey's Inn village.

AT THE BEACH.

Salem M. E. Sunday School's Outing at Tolchester.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Friday, July 28, ushered in a bright cool day. In Fairlee all was bustle, hurry, skurry to get off to Tolchester, knowing full well the pleasure awaiting them at that place. Carriage after carriage passed through the usually quiet village, filled with bright expectant children and baskets whose contents would satisfy the most fastidious. For it was picnic day for Salem Sunday School. One little girl could not wait and left on her bicycle as early as 7 o'clock. The school met on the ground at 10 A. M. and took possession of the park with all its amusements. The carousal was captured first, the employees were powerless. One little girl took charge of the engine, and every available space on the merry-go-round was filled. Round and round they went for 4 hours, when the superintendent, after much persuasion, prevailed upon them to leave and take the razzle dazzle, which was soon filled to its required capacity with old men, old women, young men, young women, children and babies, razzling and dazzling in the cool breeze. The striking machine was next visited, here the muscles of the arms were exercised in trying to excel one another. 17,000 was the greatest stroke, made by Mr. James Bramble. The superintendent tried to surpass this, but if he shoots ideas with the same force with which he strikes the wedge, I am surprised at his occupying the position he does. The shooting gallery came next, and to the surprise of all, the pastor (who last fall shot at a rabbit and hit a dog standing several feet from it), succeeded in piercing the bull's eye. From here the school marched to the pavilion, where tables were loaded with everything for the inner man, and judging from the run made on our drug store for jamaica ginger and cholera mixture, ample justice was given it. Contrary to the regulations of our much taught physiology, no time was allowed for digestion as Mr. Potts extended an invitation to use the kiss-me-quick. Now, Messrs. Editors, I do not wish to cast any reflection, but the way a certain young man and lady from Zion looked after emerging from the tunnel was very suspicious. Another pastor (not Salaris) admitted that he was opposed to violating any rules of the Tolchester company; draw your own conclusions, reader. It seemed as if they would never tire of this place, load after load of old, young, big and little passed through this kiss-me-quick, and the writer did not see a black look from an anxious mother, or a faithful wife. Every means was exhausted to induce them to repair to pike's peak. Finally, on being informed that this place also permitted the same liberty, they vacated "kiss-me-quick" for "no kissing allowed," and at every return of a coach one could read from their expressions that for want of time this rule was obeyed. From here the school again repaired to the tables where ice cream and cake were served to one hundred and eleven scholars. At 6 o'clock all bade adieu to the persons and places which had afforded them so much pleasure and requested the writer to extend to the employes their sincere thanks for the kindness and generosity extended to them. THE PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

A Full Ticket Named and Strong Resolutions Passed.

The Prohibition Convention met at Stam's Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, and organized by selecting G. M. Covington as chairman and Henry Krusen as secretary. Mr. Covington called the convention to order, and Rev. J. W. Easley opened the proceedings by offering a fervent prayer for the advancement of the cause. On motion, Rev. Mr. Easley then read a communication from the National Executive committee. On motion a committee of three was appointed by the chair and reported the following, which were adopted:

Resolved, that this convention destres to call the attention of every member of the Prohibition party and of every good citizen, to the importance of intelligent and aggressive action in the interest of our party and the enforcement of our local option law.

Resolved, that it may be affirmed with all calmness of statement, that the only political party in the county to-day that has the courage to enforce our local option law, condemn lawlessness and espouse the cause of the toiling masses against the oppression of unjust class legislation is the prohibition party.

Resolved, that the patriotic demand which brought the Prohibition party into existence is growing hourly more urgent, and the signs of the times indicate such a disintegration of old parties and rearrangement of voters along new lines as may well inspire us with renewed zeal and incite us to increased activity.

Resolved, that we occupy no hesitating doubtful or compromise position upon any question, and will content ourselves with no makeshift policy or half-way measure in lieu of the reforms we seek.

Resolved, that we highly appreciate the valuable services that have been rendered to the prohibition movement by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. In all parts of our land that organization has rendered us incalculable service in the past, and we have no doubt will continue to stand faithfully by the only party that represents the interests for which it contends.

Resolved, that we denounce the flagrant violation of the local option law of Kent county, and the connivance of the officers of the law in said county, at such violation; and grand jury in its failure to ferret out and indict such offenders, equally with offenders against the laws of theft and murder, and the political party in power in not looking forward to the better enforcement of this law. We are convinced that these things make for the increase of lawlessness and the depression of property values in our county.

The convention next proceeded to nominate candidates for the various offices to be filled. The nominations were as follows:

For sheriff—Joseph W. Downey.

For legislature—R. T. Turner, Jr., Joshua R. Jarrell.

Delegates to State convention—G. W. Covington, J. R. Jarrell, W. S. Culp, C. S. York, B. F. H. Caulk, H. Krusen, E. Apsley.

PEACH YELLOWS LAW.

An Act to Provide for the Destruction of Fruit Trees in the State of Maryland Infected With the Disease Known as the "Yellows."

For the benefit and protection of those who are so unfortunate as to have peach trees infected by the "yellows," as well as for the protection of those who may be purchasers of the fruit, we print the Act of Assembly governing the shipment of "premature," or peaches to market which are affected by the disease known as the "yellows." The Act, which is applicable to Kent county, reads in substance:

Section 1: That it shall be unlawful for any person to keep, or allow to be and remain on his lands, any peach tree infected with the contagious disease known as the yellows, or to offer for sale, or shipment, or to sell or ship to others any such trees or the fruit thereof in any form; and any person convicted before any justice of the peace of selling or shipping said trees or the fruit thereof in any form, knowing the same to be diseased, shall be fined a sum not exceeding ten dollars and costs, or upon a failure to pay the same shall be confined in the county jail for a term not exceeding thirty days.

Section 2 provides: The trees and fruit so infected shall be subject to destruction as a public nuisance, and no damages shall be awarded in any court against any person for destroying such trees or fruit, if done in accordance with the Act. It is made the duty of every one knowing of such diseased trees or fruit owned by him, to forthwith destroy the same by burning.

Section 3 makes it the duty of the county commissioners, on application of three citizens, to appoint each year, three competent peach-growers for such election districts as they may see fit, to act as "Tree and fruit inspectors," to hold office during the year following, or during the pleasure of the county commissioners.

The duty of the inspectors shall be to mark all infected trees and to give notice to the owner of said trees, and the trees are required to be destroyed within fifteen days, and in the case of fruit, it shall be immediately destroyed by fire. Upon refusal to destroy the said affected fruit or trees, complaint shall be lodged before a justice of the peace, and if such trees or fruit is found the inspectors or constable may enter upon the premises and destroy them.

The "yellows" is declared to be contagious.

The pay of the inspectors is put at $2.00 per diem, to be paid by the county commissioners. All expenses, however, arising out of the failure or refusal of the owner or occupant of any lands or premises to obey the order of the Tree and Fruit inspectors, and that they shall be put to in the removal and destruction of trees and fruit shall constitute a lien on the lands, to be collected as taxes are collected.

The fifteen-day requirement of this Act is considered unreasonable by many peach growers, and so far no effort whatever has been made to effect its enforcement in Kent, notwithstanding the fact that the disease is constantly spreading in the county, gradually working its way into new territory, and is now much farther down the county than ever before.

$100 Reward, $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, Section one of Article fourteen of the Constitution of Maryland makes it the duty of the Governor to order the publication in certain newspapers to be designated by him, of any bill, or bills, passed proposing any amendments to the said Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at the January Session, 1892, of the General Assembly of Maryland, a bill was passed proposing an amendment to the Constitution, which amendment is Chapter 313 of the Acts of 1892, and is as follows, to wit:

CHAPTER 313.

AN ACT to add an additional section to Article four of the Constitution of this State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, Three-fifths of all the members of the two houses concurring, that the following section be, and the same is hereby proposed, as an amendment to the Constitution of this State; and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided, the same shall supercede and stand in the place of Section thirty-nine of Article four of said Constitution.

And the General Assembly may reapportion, change or enlarge the jurisdiction of the several courts in said city.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, by the auth rity aforesaid, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the direction contained in Article fourteen of the Constitution of this State; and at the said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter may elect, and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the votes for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said fourteenth Article of the Constitution.
