The Postoffice.

So far as can be ascertained the statement of last week relative to the Chestertown postoffice was premature. No instructions have been received by either the town commissioners or postmaster Brown in regard to the matter. A delegation visited Washington, but could not see the inspector's report or specifications, so no further definite information has become known to the public since our last issue, other than the premature matter given currency by some papers last week.

Save the Fish.

BETTERTON, Aug. '93.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your notice of sharks and sturgeons in the waters of the Chesapeake depleting the fishing for perch and rock, is nothing compared to the illegal pound-net fishing from Turkey Point to Poole's Island, allowed to proceed at all times. Only within the last two weeks pound-nets were used off Spesucia Island and the catch was enormous, the proceeds netting hundreds of dollars, while the sportsmen coming to the fishing grounds of Kent, particularly Betterton, go away with empty baskets and dejected appearances of disappointment. Since the failure of the authorities to enforce the law against pound fishing, instituted against Mr. Crownhart last year, pound nets as large as eight hundred feet long have been laid from Banard's Wharf to the Island, a clear infringement of the law of Maryland, and yet no notice is taken of such proceedings, though the stakes can be seen by every one passing up or down the bay. It is to be hoped that such open defiance of the law will be stopped by the authorities before long, or the waters will be completely depleted of all small fish.

I enclose my card and will help to stop these illegal poundings if called upon.

Yours respectfully, ANGLER.

A TRIP THROUGH PEACH LAND.

Mr. Editor:

If you think you have seen peaches and plenty of peaches, let me tell you about a trip to the peach farms of Kent and Queen Anne's counties. Our party left the quaint old town of Chestertown at 3.30 on Tuesday afternoon on the splendid tug "Cantou," and after a four-mile ride down the Chester river we stopped at Wilkins' wharf, where we were handsomely entertained by Mr. B. N. S. Wilkins, who by the way, is a warm friend of our townsman, Mr. C. R. Thackery, they being schoolmates. Mr. Wilkins has what in Kent county is termed a medium sized orchard, it, however, contains one hundred acres, from which he expects to gather 20,000 baskets of some of the finest peaches I have ever seen. The amount of labor incident to getting this fruit to the market is enormous, requiring the employment of thirty-five men, and several teams. Twenty men are constantly employed in the orchard picking. Three men with teams haul the fruit to the fruit house where thirteen to fifteen are found busy sorting, marking and boxing the fruit, whence it is hauled a short distance to the wharf. It is then loaded on the boat and taken to the Baltimore market, and thence to——do you know where? I don't. Our tug with the two schooners had 2,000 crates on and it was not the largest of eleven boats that run out of the Chester river. About 7 o'clock our party left Baltimore for "Wye Island." I thought I saw peaches yesterday, but to-day cast yesterday in the shade. Upon our arrival Mr. Groves, whose guests we were, showed us over the farm upon which there is an orchard of 240 acres, containing 24,000 trees. From this orchard he expects to gather 60,000 baskets of prime peaches. Mr. Groves has six orchards in which there is about 80,000 trees, from which it is impossible to estimate with any degree of certainty how many baskets he will have. The fruit that is now being shipped from the orchard is of a fine quality, and brings the top price in the Baltimore market. Our trip from Baltimore to Wye Island was made upon the new steel tug "Dorthy," built at Sparrows Point. The tug is under the command of Captain Cullison, who is a master of his profession and a very kind and considerate gentleman. After we had taken a view of Mr. Groves' orchard and farm, we were invited by Mr. Shuster, the tenant, to supper, and I am sure we all agreed that Mrs. Shuster is one of the Eastern Shore's famous cooks. We were not the only guests at the island, as we learned shortly after our return from the orchard by being introduced to three of the most handsome young ladies we had met on our trip, Misses Frove, Maslin and Craig. These young ladies are of the true Southern type of beauty, and I am sure that notwithstanding Master J. W. S. was the only single one in the crowd, that the boy's heart beat a little faster than ordinary when we said "farewell." On our return trip we brought about 3,000 crates of fruit. We had plenty of instrumental and vocal music on the boat, Jerry playing the flutelette and Horace singing his favorite songs. Upon our arrival in Baltimore we sized up the great men in the United States, and our party was of the unanimous opinion that our host, Mr. Groves, was the biggest man in this country except old "Grover."—C. H. SMITH, in Cecil Democrat.

FROM BETTERTON.

Betterton is filled to overflowing, and the hotels are unable to accommodate the many visitors now pouring in from all directions. The neighboring cottages are helping the hotels out by accommodating quite a number of people at night, the sojourners taking their meals at the hotels.

The yacht Major Allen, from Baltimore, was here last week and had on board the following well-known business men of Baltimore: Horace Slingluff, Dr. Frank Slingluff, T. M. Kent, Landon Kent, Jno. M. Williams, S. Langer, Wm. M. Boyd, John Boyd, Joseph Wilson, Harry Jones.

Straw rides are popular with the guests of our hotels. Camp meeting wagons find business good.

The Dromio, Star and Bazuyie Camping Clubs of Philadelphia are down.

The Amity Camping Club, of Philadelphia, is at Barnard's Wharf.

The Pocono Camping Club are summering at Gale's, and are a jolly set of fellows.

Cottages seem to be in demand.

Fishing is not so good, yet the people still come.

The Ericsson Line and Sassafras river boats are having good passenger traffic.

IN PLEASURE'S CIRCLES.

A Series of Delightful Events in the County.

TO THE FISHING GROUNDS.

The police schooner Anna B. Smith, set sail at 11 o'clock on Tuesday night, for a trip to the fishing grounds of Swan Point, Tolchester and Betterton, and a cruise to St. Michaels and other points on the lower Eastern Shore. The party consisted of: Rev. D. L. Greenfield, W. B. Usilton, J. K. Aldridge, William R. Aldridge, J. D. Bacchus, T. D. Bowers, James Chapman Jr., C. L. Dodd, John N. Dodd, W. B. Usilton Jr., Earle Usilton. Provisions and every requisite for an outing were taken along.

IN THE MOONLIGHT.

What is summer without a strawride? Insipid and dull. No jollier party ever enjoyed a more delightful ride, on a more charming night, than did the strawriders of Tuesday evening who went under the chaperonage of Mrs. Allen Harris and the special supervision of Miss Mary Beck, to the beautiful home of Mr. George Beck, on Lankford's bay. Sardines scarcely ever enjoyed closer packing, or four mules a heavier load, yet, with sandwitches of dust, music and moonlight there was nothing left to complete an ideal strawride. Miss Violet Beck, whose guests the party were, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Johnson and Miss Edna Ringgold, while Mr. and Mrs. Beck were untiring in their elegant attentions. The handsome home, as also the beautiful grounds were brilliantly illuminated. An elegant feast of ice cream, cake, melons, peaches, etc., were enjoyed. The party reached Chestertown on the return at 2 o'clock. The ladies present were: Mrs. Allen Harris, Misses Susie and Lizzie Roberts, Jeanie Dennis, Margaret Deaver, Madge Meeteer, Sallie Beck, Carrie Harding, E. M. Pearson, Mary and Jennie Vickers, Belle Aldridge, Louise Houston, Nelie Walker, Mary Beck, Mattie Constable and Bessie Hughes.

HO! FOR WORTON MANOR.

A glorious strawride was enjoyed by a large party of pleasure-seekers on Tuesday afternoon, to Worton Manor Beach. Six mules skillfully managed by Mr. Copper, the chief of drivers at the paper mill, drew the heavily freighted wagon. Mrs. Wm. T. Matthews and Mrs. Lucie Greenlie chaperoned the party. To say that the occasion was a royal one is putting it lightly. The moonlight return was a pleasant feature of the trip and all declare that the entire affair was a splendid success. The ladies who injoyed it were: the Misses Annie Estes, Katie Smith, Alice Thompson, Mamie Thompson, Marion McKinsey, Lillie Bristow, Alice Bristow, Hettie Greenwood, Lillie MacEwen. The occasion was in honor of the Misses Lillie Bristow and Lillie MacEwen.

CYCLERS ENTERTAINED.

Mr. L. C. Justis Jr. tendered the members of the Chestertown Cycle Club, a most pleasant entertainment on Friday afternoon, at his home near Kennedyville. A long table was arranged under the trees on the beautiful lawn, and a lavish and royal bachelor's reception was tendered the visitors. The genial host was never more at home than while catering to the pleasure of his friends on the occasion referred to. The wheelmen, dust-covered and warm, arrived about half-past five o'clock, and after arranging toilets, were ready for the tempting spread of splendid coffee and sandwitches. This course partaken of, the visitors indulged in a free-and-easy time on the lawn, or inspected the fine stock or equally fine fruit on the model farm. Peach and vanilla ice cream, cakes, frozen watermelons and cantaloupes constituted the next course, and was not less enjoyed than the substantials of the earlier feast.

This portion of the delightful programme disposed of, all repaired to the house and the time-honored "Feast of reason and flow of soul" was indulged in.

Dr. J. Horton Kelley was made chairman, and in a neat and appropriate speech extended the sincere thanks of those present to Mr. Justis for his elegant entertainment, opening his remarks with: "Let Justis be done though the heavens fall." He was excused, however, for this timely pun upon the name of mine host. The doctor also referred flatteringly to the work being done by the wheelmen throughout the country in improving the great public road systems of all nations. Mr. Justis, in most happy vein, stated that his greatest pleasure is in adding to the pleasure of others, and that his home is ever open to his friends, among whom he is glad to number the wheelmen of Kent county. He is an uncompromising advocate of better roads, and recognizes the great good which has already resulted from an agitation of the question by the wheelmen. This speech was a most happy effort and was responded to by Messrs. W. F. Russell and C. Cox Hopper. Mr. Justis was admirably assisted in entertaining by Mr. James Cochran, recently returned from San Domingo. The wheelmen present were: Messrs. H. Rickey, M. A. Foulson, W. W. Chapman, J. Lloyd McFeeley, W. F. Russell, R. Snowden Thomas, John H. Aldridge, E. F. Perkins, Jr., H. Rickey, Jr., Wottie McKnett, F. M. Miller and W. B. Copper.

Mr. Justis is one of the most extentive as well as one of the most successful farmers in Kent county, and his farm of over 300 acres is a magnificent property. His herd of about eighty-five, is one of, if not the finest herd of thoroughbred Holstein cattle in Maryland. He has thirty-five head of horses, among which are some beautiful and promising youngsters. The farm is splendidly tilled, and doubtless L. C. Justis, Jr., is one of the most systematic and energetic farmers of the county. His twenty-acre tomato patch is green and beautiful in spite of the drought, and is one of the curiosities of the district. The estimated yield per acre is between ten and twelve tons.

A BIRTH-DAY FETE.

A number of the young lady friends of Miss Elise Beck, tendered her a watermelon birth-day party, on the beautiful lawn of Mr. Jervis Spencer, on Princess street, on Saturday evening. The grounds were brilliantly lighted with gorgeously colored Japanese lanterns, and under the trees was a large table laden with that most beautiful of fruits, the watermelon, tempting and cold. The occasion was one of unusual pleasure. The ladies present were: The Misses Elise Beck, Louise Houston, Viva Perkins, Antoinette Merritt, Martha Constable, of Baltimore; Bessie Hughes, of Mount Washington; Mabel Graham, Washington D. C.; Sallie and Page Beck, Grace Wilkins and Amy Russell.

A DELIGHTFUL STRAWRIDE.

A moon-lit night, bracing breezes and joyous hearts, in spite of dusty roads, made of the strawride tendered on Friday evening by Miss Bertha Hynson to her friend Miss Agnes Southard, of Newark, New Jersey, one of the most delightful social events of the season. About nine o'clock the merry party started on their trip in a large peach wagon drawn by four horses. Flags, bells and horns made an amount of jolly noise sufficient to send a thrill of joy to the heart of the most exacting school boy.

After a long but delightful ride beneath an August moon, the party returned to the home of Miss Hynson about 10.15 o'clock, when a dance and elegant refreshments were enjoyed. Ladies present were: Mrs. C. C. Perkins, Miss Southard, of Newark, New Jersey; Miss Culver, of Colorado; Miss Guion, of New York; Miss Tustin, of Philadelphia. The Misses Mattie Constable, Bessie Hughes, Antoinette Merritt, Viva Perkins, Hettie and Louise Houston, of Baltimore. The Misses Anna Stewart, Marie Westcott, Belle Aldridge, Clare Perkins and Elise Beck.

THE CATHOLIC PICNIC.

The picnic held in McCauley's woods on Thursday evening, was a grand success socially and financially. There were over 300 people on the grounds. The picnic consisted of a bountiful supper served in good style, plenty of chicken and fresh fish, broiled and fried on the grounds. Food of all kinds was noticably in abundance. The orchestra did pleasing work and two young ladies were one feature of its success. A large sum of money was realized from the gold watch raffle, the lucky number being drawn by Mr. C. H. Tonkin, of Millington. A shower interrupted the evening's pleasures for a few moments only, and then the programme was again resumed. The whole affair was a most pleasurable one and was not marred by a single unpleasantness. Many visitors from Chestertown were present. Rev. Fathers Flynn, of Wilmington, Del., McAran, of New York, and Ott, of Chestertown were gueste of Father Connelly, who deserves great compliment for the manner in which the evening's enjoyment was conducted. There were about six hundred persons present. The picnic was the largest and most successful ever given by the congregation.

Interesting Comparison.

In the midst of heavy peach shipments with prices ruling low, it may be of interest to make comparison between the prices of 1891, one of the heaviest peach seasons ever known, and the prices of the present year. The prices given below are taken from the actual returns of one of the largest growers in the county, and as nearly as possible have been given of the same varieties of fruit and on or as near the same date, as can be done.

Variety.	Month.	Date.	1891.	1893.
St. John's.....	August	3 and 4		75c@80c.
Mt. Rose.....	"	8 and 11		35c@45c.

Now the figures of 1889, when the crop was almost a total failure, are somewhat more interesting. The grower furnishing the following figures had over 5000 packages of fruit, the lowest, as will be seen, selling for 60 cents per basket, the highest for $2 00, and the entire crop averaging $1 00 per basket:

Mt. Rose—July 31, 60c.; Aug. 1, 80c.; Aug. 2, 75c.; Aug. 3, 60c.

Crawford's Early—Aug. 5, 75c.; Aug. 6, 95c.; Aug. 7, $1.15; Aug. 8, $1.30.

Reeves—Aug. 9, $1.50 and $1.90; Aug. 10, $1.55 and $2.00; Aug. 12, $1.75; Aug. 13, $1.40 and $1.50; Aug. 14, $1.50 to $1.60. Aug. 15, $1.55; Aug. 16, $1.35; Aug. 17, $1.25; Aug. 19, $1.30; Aug. 20, $1 to $1.15; Aug. 21, 75c. to $1.30; Aug. 22, $1.30; Aug. 23, $1.15 to $1.30; Aug. 28, $1.00.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
