$3,000.00 A YEAR FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS.

If you want work that is pleasant and profitable, send us your address immediately. We teach men and women how to earn from $5.00 per day to $3,000 per year without having had previous experience, and furnish the employment at which they can make that amount. Nothing difficult to learn or that requires much time. The work is easy, healthy, and honorable, and can be done during daytime or evenings, right in your locality, wherever you live. The result of a few hours' work often equals a week's wages. We have taught thousands of both sexes and all ages, and many have laid foundations that will surely bring them riches. Some of the smartest men in this country owe their success in life to the start given them while in our employ years ago. You, reader, may do as well; try it. You cannot fail. No capital necessary. We fit you out with something that is new, solid, and sure. A book brimful of advice is free to all. Help yourself by writing for it to-day—not to-morrow. Delays are costly.

THE HEART'S DISCIPLINE.

[W. WILBERFORCE.]

I.

Within this leaf, to every eye
So little worth, doth hidden lie
Most rare and subtle fragrancy.

Wouldst thou this secret strength unbind?
Crush it, and thou shalt perfume find,
Sweet as Arabia's spicy wind.

II.

In this dull stone, so poor and bare
Of shape and luster, patient care
Will find for thee a jewel rare.

But first must skilful hands essay,
With file and flint to clear away
The film which hides its fire from day.

III.

This leaf, this stone! It is thy heart;
It must be crushed by pain and smart,
It must be cleansed by sorrow's art—

Ere it will yield a fragrance sweet,
Ere it will shine, a jewel meet
To lay before thy dear Lord's feet.

OUR RELIGIOUS COLUMN.

In a sermon recently preached the declaration was made that "no man can write the philosophy of the plan of salvation," and the distinguished speaker said that he had thrown down upon his desk a volume with this title, saying, the task was futile.

"Philosophy," said Clemens Alexandrinus, "led the Greeks to Christ," and from the time of the Greeks philosophy has concerned itself with the scheme of revelation. This philosophy has been growing with every era, until to-day it absorbs the attention of scholars in every department of learning. There is no science that has not a Christo-centric tendency, or else it is distinctively Christo-eccentric. Christ fills the entire measure of the thought of men.

The philosophy of Christ's life, which involves the whole divine process of redemption, is as much a legitimate field of inquiry as the philosophy of his discourses. Indeed if there were no such thing as a philosophy of this life, I do not see how men of large mind could be brough to interest themselves in the Savior. Nor do I see how theology could have been written unless there had been a manifest plan of salvation disclosing itself with every advance of revelation under patriarchs and prophets, and completing its marvelous development in the advent, crucifixion and ascension of Jesus.

The little book whose title called forth the above remark ("philosophy of the plan of salvation," published by S. C. Griggs, Chicago) ought to be in the hands of every thinking Christian. It has reached an enormous sale and has been translated into every European language and into some Asiatic. It is a mighty weapon against infidelity and was written indeed by a sceptic whose investigations of Bible truth led to his acceptance of Christianity. Of it the Edinburg Free Church Magazine said, [the biblical critics of America] are equal to any in the world; and in plain and practical common sense, in vigorous and sound thinking, it has men who are entitled to hold no second rank. The book before us is one of singular merit. We would not hesitate to place it side by side with Butler's Analogy, merely as a specimen of close and unanswerable reasoning, while it is far superior with regard to the evangelic view which it gives with regard to the plan of salvation. * * The gospel scheme of salvation is so succinctly stated and so strongly reasoned that it seems impossible to escape from the conclusion at which the author arrives."

We would be glad if the able minister would shed a little light on our darkness.

"James J. Corbett, the champion pugilist, arrived not very long since in Ballinrobe, Ireland, the town in which his father was born. The pugilist was received by thousands of people at the station, and was carried to his hotel. He afterwards gave a performance in aid of the fund for a new chapel, which is being built by the Rev. James Corbett, his uncle. People came by excursion trains from adjoining districts to see Mr. Corbett, and he was presented with numerous bouquets as well as an address of welcome." It would be interesting to know to what denomination the Rev. James Corbett belongs, and whether this acceptance of his nephew's aid in raising money meets with general approval among the body of Christians with which he is affiliated.

It's Astonishing,

how Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts upon nervous women. Its marvelous remedy for nervous and general debility Chores, or St. Vitus's Dance, Insomnia, of Inability to sleep, spasms, convulsions, or "fits," and every like disorder.

Even in cases of insanity from functional derangements, the persistent use of the "Prescription" will, by restoring the natural functions, generally effect a cure.

For women suffering from the chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down or overworked; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and, later, at the critical "change of life"—it is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates, and cures.

It it does'nt, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What more can any one ask?

Is anything that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good?"

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION.—Fashion is always tender with women of age. It now decrees that they wear a bow of silk and lace where a bald spot might be on their heads. A man is not only not allowed to put over his bald spots, but is compelled to take off his hat in public.

Specimen Cases.

C. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by M. A. Toulson, Drug store.

OLDEST IN THE I. O. O. F.

Baltimore Has the Patriarch of the Odd Fellows.

The oldest Odd Fellow in the world lives in Baltimore. It is Henry L. Buehler of 1513 Mosher street.

Mr. Buehler was 86 years old June 28, and is yet hearty and in the full possession of his mental faculties. He likes hot weather better than cold, and says he always has a good appetite in hot weather. Every two or three weeks he attends lodge meeting. It is a habit he has cultivated for more than 60 years.

Mr. Buehler was born at Heidleberg, Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, on June 28, 1808. After spending the earlier years of his life in acquiring an education and the usual time in the army, he emigrated to this country, arriving here on June 1, 1833. At that time, Mr. Buehler says, Baltimore was not much more than a country town. October 18 of that year Mr. Buehler became a member of William Tell Lodge, one of the six lodges of the I. O. O. F. in the city.

This order was at that time in its infancy, as far as Baltimore was concerned, and the building designated in the records by the high-sounding title of Odd Fellows' Hall was a little one-room, one-story frame structure that stood on the northwest corner of Gay and Lexington streets, and it was there that Past Grand Sire Wildey, to whom the monument on Broadway was erected, received his title, and it was there that the order in Baltimore received the impetus that resulted in its present membership of about 15,000 and the erection of its magnificent hall on the corner of Cathedral and Saratoga streets.

ESTABLISHING A LIBRARY.

In giving it this impetus Mr. Buehler was prominently concerned. In 1837 he was made a past grand, and three years later, in 1740, he was made chairman of the library committee, which consisted of three members from each of the six lodges, and through his efforts and the efforts of his fellow-committemen, 300 second-hand volumes were collected and placed away without classification in one corner of the one-story structure, at that time still known as Odd Fellows' Hall.

It was through the efforts of this same committee that later each lodge appropriated $25 for the purchase of more books. This money was placed in the hands of Mr. Buehler, the chairman of the committee. The German element wanted some German books bought and the English element wanted all English books bought. The membership of the order at that time was about 2500 persons, 900 of which were German. By many arguments and more statistics Mr. Buehler, at the head of the German element, came off triumphant and the German members got what they wanted. The $150 was expended, and from this small beginning the present superb library of German books in Odd Fellows Hall, numbering 7000 volumes grew.

In 1843, in recognition of his services and worth, he was admitted to the Salem Encampment. In 1847, however, he withdrew from this and formed what is now known as one of the most prosperous encampments in the city, the Schiller Encampment, No. 12.

In 1848 he was made past grand patriarch and admitted to the Grand Lodge, and also the encampment of Past Grand Patriarchs.

THE ODD FELLOW MURDER.

It was near this time that the murder was committed that created so much excitement and for years afterwards was known as the "Odd Fellow Case." Mr. Buehler says a member from Atlanta, Ga., who was on his way home from New York, where he had been to replenish his stock, came to Baltimore on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, whose station at that time was on Pratt, near Charles. Arriving at the station late one evening he was accosted by Pat Kerry, a runner for the Neugari Hotel, which occupied a site on South Charles street, four doors west of Pratt. Pat Kerry told him he could take him to a hotel where he could find excellent lodging. Mr. Cook placed himself in Kerry's hands, and Kerry, carrying his valise, led the way around to the hotel and gave him a room on the fourth floor.

Nothing more was heard of him that night, and when he failed to appear at breakfast or dinner next day, his room was broken into, and he found lying in a pool of his own blood.

A great outcry was immediately raised and a diligent search was made for the valise, which contained a great deal of specie. While searching his clothes the fact that he was an Odd Fellow was discovered, and the grand lodge immediately had the body laid out in state in the little one-story Odd Fellows' Hall.

So much excitement was raised that the city offered a reward of $500 for the detection of the murderer. This was followed by an offer of $500 more from the Grand Lodge, and the State of Maryland followed with an offer of $500 more, making a total reward of $1500 for the detection of the assassin. Intense interest in the case developed, the people held indignation meetings and joined in processions, and the newspapers printed columns after columns concerning the case. About two weeks later Thomas I. Ridgely, whose monument stands in Hariem Park, and a member of the order named Jack Cook, discovered a clue that pointed Pat Kerry as the murderer. The same day they left for New York, where they caught Kerry just as he was boarding a steamer bound for Europe. He was brought back to Baltimore, tried and hanged.

Mr. Buehler some years ago was created past grand chief patriarch. This is the highest honor that can be conferred on a member or the order. Mr. Buehler takes his honors quietly, and is spending a happy old age surrounded by relatives, among whom are several chubby grandchildren. He is inclined to be fleshy and has a fringe of gray whiskers around his face and under his chin. He appreciates the visits his friends make him, and says he "is always glad to see anyone who takes an interest in an old person." He walks slowly, but from all appearances he might live another 86 years.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.
