DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For the Unexpired Term in the Fifty-Third Congress,

W. LAIRD HENRY,

OF DORCHESTER COUNTY.

For Representative in the Fifty-Fourth Congress,

JOSHUA W. MILES,

OF SOMERSET COUNTY.

GRAND RALLY

—OF THE—

Democracy of Kent County

In Chestertown,

Thursday, Oct, 18.

The voters of Kent County, without regard to past political affiliations, are invited to meet in Chestertown, in STAM'S HALL, on THURSDAY, Oct. 18th, to hear discussed the great issues of the present campaign.

The meeting will commence at 3 P. M., and be continued in the evening at 7½ o'clock.

Hon. ISIDOR RAYNER.

one of the most distinguished members of the National Congress, and an eloquent speaker, will positively be present and speak.

Hon. JOSHUA W. MILES,

—AND—

Hon. W. LAIRD HENRY,

the Democratic candidates for Congress for this District, will also be present, and their well-known ability and eloquence is the guarantee of an intellectual feast. EVERY DEMOCRAT in Kent especially should make it a point to attend.

HARRISON W. VICKERS,
ADAM F. HUEY,
GEO. W. HATCHERSON,
State Central Committee for Kent County.

COMPTROLLER M. DEKALB SMITH is said to have put at rest while at the Easton fair the report that he desired to be a candidate for the United States Senate, as successor to Senator Gibson. S——G——!

THE ANNAPOLIS Evening Capital says: "The Capital nominates for Governor of the State of Maryland, Hon. Spencer C. Jones, and moves his election by acclamation." Boss Gorman will doubtless second the motion and put the question, but will the people acclaim? May be they will, but we doubt it.

MESSRS. A. LINCOLN DRYDEN AND JOS. MALLALIEU, Republican candidates for Congress in the First District, were in Chestertown on Tuesday and met and discussed the political outlook in the district with a number of prominent local leaders. No definite plans for the campaign in the county have as yet been determined upon.

THE POPULISTS of the Sixth Congressional District have a family quarrel on hand. Horace Risley, the Sixth district thinker, who, as the New York Sun puts it of the Hon. Kope Elias, was once tugged like a wish-bone, has declined, and the two factions have each made nominations, the one taking a minister and the other a lawyer as a standard-bearer.

A MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICAN STATESMAN wishing to take advantage of the lesson taught by the defeat of a former candidate for Senatorial honors, who was defeated because of a charge that he put Cape Cod two feet under beer when nominated for the Senate, insisted that the entire convention lunch with him at a lunch prepared by the W. C. T. U.

A TELEGRAM from the county commissioners of Queen Anne's to the TRANSCRIPT on Tuesday, announced that bicyclists will be allowed to ride their wheels across Chester bridge on the day of the races, October the tenth. The Kent county commissioners last week granted pesmission if the Queen Anne's board did not opject. Entries will close on next Tuesday. The meet promises to be a royal success.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINEE W. LAIRD HENRY has disclaimed all responsibility for utterances in his paper, the Cambridge Chronicle, during the remainder of the present campaign. This, says the senior editor, "Is necessary because as a candidate upon the Democratic Congressional ticket Mr. Henry will be called away very frequently to discuss the issues of the campaign, and that from now on he may be free to give his undivided attention to assisting to lead the Democratic hosts to what we believe will be a signal victory."

THE "Liver Pad" man who so completely swindled a number of persons in Chestertown about ten days ago, has, we learn from our exchanges throughout the State, served nearly every town of the Eastern Shore to a similar dish of unpalitable experiences. Now let our town commissioners embody in their list of reforms, a law prohibiting fakirs from using the streets to carry on their work of swindling an unsuspecting people. A license granting them the privilege of carrying on their nefarious work should not be granted under any consideration.

WITHOUT a more careful canvass than but the more directly interested politicians is disposed to give it, the result of September registration in Kent county has no special significance relative to the approaching fall election. Yet there is a significance which the following table will show. The following gives the result of the September registration in the various districts:

Districts.	Newly Registered. W.	Newly Registered. C.	Transferred. Removed, Dead. W.	Transferred. Removed, Dead. C.
First District	18	6	43
Second	19	7	14	0
Third	11	5	4	5
Fourth 1st pr.	14	2	9	3
Fourth 2d pr.	3	1	5	0

ELSEWHERE IN THIS ISSUE appears the announcement of the Baltimore News, offering the daily and Sunday editions to subscribers by mail for fifty cents from now until January 1. The political course of the News and its great improvement as a newspaper have attracted widespread interest in the counties, and its reduction in price will doubtless result in giving it a general circulation throughout the State.

THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE.

Who Are and Who Are Not in it at Present.

BALTIMORE, Oct., 1894.

If I should be asked, this early in advance, to name the probable winner of next year's gubernatorial race, I would promptly and unhesitatingly pin my faith to Governor Brown. Of course, I realize that ten months is a long way to look ahead, and I further know that man's perspicacity, as a rule, extends little beyond the measure of his nose. Many changes may occur in ten months. When the next Democratic State Convention meets, in June or July next, Governor Brown's name may scarcely be mentioned. But as we necessarily live in the present and deal with the things of the present, I am only stating the political situation in Democratic ranks as I now find it. Today, Governor Brown stands far in advance of all other aspirants for the coming gubernatorial nomination, and he must lose ground fearfully during the coming months in order to miss the coveted prize. Will he lose that vantage ground? Well, I do not know, neither do your readers, but I am willing to wage my reputation as a political prophet, that he not only holds his own, but will come under the wire an easy winner.

The above is a pretty bold statement, you say. Yes, that's true. But why not be bold in the face of undeniable facts? Here is a man who is already at the head of affairs of State. In their administration he has been wise, economical, conservative to a certain extent and yet progressive along lines wherein progress was sadly needed. Some of his acts have been condemned, yet no one has ever impeached his honesty of purpose or his loyalty to the best interests of the commonwealth. The people know him in the capacity of chief executive; anyone else must be an experiment. Is it likely that the average business man of the State will prefer an experiment to a known factor, and one that has proven satisfactory?

"But," one says, "business principles do not always prevail in politics; indeed, too frequently the reverse is true. Practical politics plays the most important part nowadays in the selection of our rulers. Let me whisper a word on that score: Those who imagine Frank Brown a tyro in politics will find themselves vastly deceived. He has shown himself a past master of the art; he astounded older politicians by the wonderful tidal wave he created in his favor in 1891, and he has given them frequent surprises since. Comparatively few people who undertake to "play politics" succeed, and yet Governor Brown has rarely played his hand in vain. He is wealthy, he is shrewd, he is keen-witted and far sighted, and more than all, he understands full well the value of winning combinations. Isn't a man who has mastered all these degrees of the inner lodge a dangerous competitor in the game of political maneuvering?

But first, in order to more fully understand the strength of Governor Brown's position, suppose we take a bird's-eye glimpse of the fields patrolled by other candidates. There is Col. John Walter Smith, of Worcester, a most suave and estimable gentleman, a man of wealth, position and influence. Col. Smith, however, cannot hope for the support of counties any ways remote from his own. Local pride and carefully-cemented alliance in the lower counties of the shore may insure him the votes of Dorchester, Somerset, Wicomico and Worcester. But those votes combined amount to only sixteen. Where are the others to come from? Will the counties above the Choptank contribute? Well, scarcely. The action of the overzealous but for once imprudent colonel at Ocean City last summer alienated all friendly feeling in that direction, for he not only deliberately froze out those counties but declined with the resolute air of a dictator to even listen to their pleas. Colonel Smith was in control at Ocean City, but his very supremacy brought him a waterloo. Can he hope for support on this side the bay? Baltimore city is not likely to go for the Worcester statesman. Southern Maryland is not, for if there is any section of the State preeminently wedded to Senator Gorman's interests it is Southern Maryland. And every one knows that Mr. Gorman would move heaven and earth to make Spencer C. Jones the next Governor. Can Col. Smith hope for aid from Western Maryland? Frederick county will hold fast to Col. L. Victor Baughman, stand or fall; Washington county will be wielded by Surveyor Buchannan Schley, and go to Baughman or Jones before Smith. Allegany and Garrett are too friendly to Brown to be swerved from the path of affiliation. So where does Col. Smith look for the votes necessary to bring him the prize. It is true he has formed an offensive and defensive alliance with Ex-Governor E. E. Jackson, who fondly hopes to succeed Mr. Gorman's shadow, sometimes referred to as Senator Gibson, in the United States Senate, but Mr. Jackson, while he holds Wicomico county in the palm of his hand, holds little else except an extensive bank account. So where does Col. Smith, estimable gentleman and personally popular man that he is, come in?

Now as to Spencer C. Jones, it is true that he has been promised the support of the bosses, and is really their choice. So he was three years ago, but he was not heard of in the convention that nominated Brown. Mr. Jones will be backed by Montgomery county and possibly by a few Southern Maryland counties, but he has before him a much harder fight than he seems now to expect before the coveted prize is his.

Then there is Congressman Isidor Rayner. A brilliant man is Mr. Rayner; an honest man and a gentleman in whom there is no guile. He will make a pyrotechnic canvass of the State; his wonderful eloquence will warm and enthuse the people, but will he win votes thereby. Being a resident of Baltimore city, it would seem that his only chance would lie in first securing the support of his own constituency. As a candidate for Congress he could rely upon the support of the fourth district yet for several terms, but as an aspirant for gubernatorial honors he cannot expect the undivided support of Baltimore city. In fact the outside world will be late in ascertaining the preference of the city leaders, as they have a way of holding back until the counties are heard from. The candidate who then knocks at their doors with the most counties in his vest pocket is apt to be invited inside. Just now the feeling in Baltimore is slowly crystalizing about a genuine regard for the present affable chief executive. It is from Baltimore, however, that Mr. Rayner expects his biggest lift, for he is calculating on the entire twenty-one votes of the city in a lump. Usually studious, reserved and retiring, Mr. Rayner has of late developed a perchant for meeting people, going about to public places and cultivating the acquaintance of men who are supposed to be adepts in games of political skill. Frequently he may be seen dining at Dorsey's with "Sonny" Mahon, Jonnie Leonard, or "Great Chief" Rasin himself. But withal the general opinion is that Maryland's next governor will not be named Rayner. No, not quite.

Of course there are others. Colonel Baughman would yield up much of his comfortable earthly inheritance for a chance to bear his party's banner in the next fight, but the fact that the Colonel is a Catholic and his connection with affairs of State at the time of the Archer exposure, when many people thought the high official had not been sufficiently vigilant, will injure his chances. Then he has some very powerful enemies in this city who will fight him to a finish whenever he crops up as a candidate for public office. Ex-Mayor James Hodges, of this city, would prove a strong candidate were it not for his advanced age and precarious health. Internal Revenue Collector Murray Vandiver's chances are not worth serious consideration because he has none, and no one but himself really imagines him in the race. Consequently at present the running is between Messrs. Brown, Smith, Jones and Rayner. We have in a measure gone over the chances of all these together, and I think I have, to some extent at least, shown the reasons for the Brown faith that is in me.

Quite a number of people up here are quietly cherishing a somewhat unique opinion in regard to the two Eastern Shore Smiths. They think Col. John Walter will be the next State Comptroller, while the Hon. Marion deKalb will go into active training for a shy at Senator Gibson's seat at Washington.

STILL POND FARMERS' CLUB.

Questions of Unusual Interest to Farmers Discussed.

STILL POND, Sept. 27, 1894.

The Farmers Club held its regular meeting to-day at the home of Mr. T. J. Shallcross. The weather was extremely disagreeable, but the attendance was very fair nevertheless. After being called to order, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Questions were then declared in order and it was asked if any of the members had tried growing the second crop of potatoes for seed? Mr. W. D. Pennington said he had for one, but the season was so very unfavorable that his prospects for a crop were not good. He said that many of the potatoes planted did not come up for six weeks and some were still coming up. Those that came up first had potatoes on them as large as duck eggs, but the later ones were just in bloom and he thought that frost would be likely to catch them before they matured. Mr. G. W. Rodenhiser's experience was similar to Mr. Pennington's. Mr. E. B. Pennington said that he had reserved ¾ of an acre of ground for his experiment, and that considering the season they were doing fairly well, but at the same time he thought that if he had planted the entire amount of ground early, sold the product and bought his seed it would have paid him a great deal better.

The question was then asked if it would not be a good idea to plant in the fall so as to get them extra early? Mr. T. J. Shallcross said he had tried that three times and failed twice. Several others thought that they would not come any earlier if planted in the fall and the risk of their rotting was too great, so this idea met with no encouragement. All were agreed as to the superiority of the second crop seed.

The next question was: "Has any one tried any new crop and what was the result?" E. B. Pennington said he had tried oats which had yielded 25 bushels alongside of wheat which produced 21½ bushels. He thought he would prefer to grow wheat. Mr. T. J. Shallcross had tried cucumbers, but it cost from 4 to 5 cents per basket to cut them, and they did not weigh as heavy as tomatoes. He thought tomatoes more profitable at six dollars per ton than cucumbers at nine. Mr. W. D. Pennington said that from one acre of cantaloupes he had received more money by half than from the same in tomatoes, but of course cantaloupes could not be grown as extensively as the tomatoes, which would be a drawback.

The tomato crop and the income from the same was then discussed at length. While a few growers had succeeded in growing fair crops the majority reported less than half a crop. The heaviest yield reported was by Mr. James G. Harris on Howell's Point, 13½ tons per acre. The trouble seems to be that in the height of the season the canneries get overstocked, and many are left on the growers' hands. Mr. Jarrell stated that one week in which he was compelled to ship his tomatoes to the city, his loss was about two hundred dollars. Those who had contracted with Mr. Seneca, of Havre de Grace, reported that he had thrown their fruit up on them in the height of the season, and their loss was heavy. Very few of them would take contracts from him next year. It appears that Mr. Seneca's contracts were only signed by the growers and was only binding upon them. The men who grew tomatoes for Mr. Numsen, of Baltimore, had the most satisfactory contracts and there was no complaint whatever on their part. On the whole, the tomato crop was looked upon as barely paying expenses, if it did that. The dinner hour having arrived the club took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The minutes were read and approved. The host then made a very appropriate address, in which he stated that it was singular but true, that the same cause that made crops profitable here finally drove them away. He cited the case of the peach. He said the yellows in Pennsylvania and New Jersey had made it possible for us to grow them at a profit, and now the yellows were taking them away again. In regard to grain. Grain crops were profitable until the last few years, when low rates of freights and improved machinery we are not able to compete with the West. In Dakota a farmer can freight his crop of grain to the Eastern markets for less money than it costs here for the phosphate used to produce a crop with the improved machinery. Two men can now do what ten used to do, so it behooves us to look out for some crop to raise which cannot be shipped so far. Now in regard to small fruits, our county is well adapted, but we have no facilities to get them to market. We want railroad facilities and steamboat, so we can gather in the morning and have them in the city the next morning, and until we have those facilities small fruit is a dead letter.

The club then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. On motion of Mr. J. S. Harris, the old officers were re-elected in a lump. There were no reports from committees, so questions were again declared in order and the following were read: Has the hora snake ever been seen by any member of this club? Answer no.

One of the members stated, however, that Mr. Wm. B. Price, of Turner's creek, had killed one a year or two ago. The peculiarity of this snake is that it has a sharp horny substance for a tail. Many naturalists dispute its existence and a specimen dead or alive would settle the question.

The next question was: Is it a superstition that a contract with a canner is in any way binding upon him? This produced considerable laughter. Several thought that there was a small basis of fact in it, but it depends altogether as to whether he was overstocked or not.

The next was: "Are women mentally weaker than men?" This was received in silence. The ladies held their breath and waited for the attack, but none came. The universal depression has evidently reached the spirits as well as the pocket-books of our heretofore sturdy agriculturalists.

The next was: "What constitutes success in life?" This was discussed by J. D. Kemp, J. S. Harris and Mrs. E. B. Pennington. The opinion expressed was that success did not consist in the mere accumulation of wealth.

The regular question, "When women take man's place in the labor world what will be the effect on the home?" was then discussed at length by a number. The effect on the home was not generally thought to be elevating.

The hour for adjournment having arrived the question, "Is it the duty of the State to furnish free school books?" was selected for discussion at its next meeting, which will be held at the residence of W. J. Pennington on the last Thursday in October. The club then adjourned.

$5,000 Policy.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, is again called upon to pay the death claim of Mr. Thos. H. Horsey, of Galena, who has been insured for several years in this company for $5,000. This makes four claims this company has had in Kent county since the first of July, all of which has been paid very promptly.

Should there be any feeling in the minds of our people as to this great company, we do not see how there can be as this should set very clearly in their minds that this company is the one in which they should carry life insurance for the protection of their families.

When it is taken into consideration that this company has paid out in death claims since organization over $375,000,000 and to-day has cash assets of over $190,000,000 it is certainly a wonderful showing.

As we stated before, this company has insurance on the lives of many of our most prominent men in this county, and we should advise all those who are able, to put themselves in communication with the general agent of the company, T. Howard Lewis, Wilmington, Del., or J. Herman Ireland, special representative, Kennedyville, Md.

It is thought proper to publish in connection with this notice the subjoined sections of the registration law so far as they are applicable to the counties, which bear particularly upon the powers and duties of the Register and the rights of the citizen:

3. Each of the said officers of registration shall have in addition to the other powers hereinafter conferred upon him, or which may be hereafter conferred upon him by law during the respective times of his appointed sittings, the power of the justice of the peace to preserve order and enforce obedience to his lawful commands at or around his place of registration; to keep the access to such place open and unobstructed; to prevent and suppress riots, tumults, violence and disorder, and all other improper practices at, around or near to his place of registration tending to intimidation or to the obstruction of the work of registration, or the revision of the registration, and to protect and keep safe the registries of voters hereinafter referred to while in his custody and possession; he may compel the presence of witnesses before him while sitting as an officer of registration for all purposes connected with the performance of the duties of his office by summons and attachment; he may while sitting as such officer of registration commit for trial any person committing at or around his place of registration any offense forbidden by this article; he shall have the power to issue any of said summons, attachments or commitments when sitting in any county of this State to the sheriff of said county or to any constable thereof; all such processes shall be served by said respective officers in the same manner as if they were issued by a judge of a court of record having jurisdiction of the subject matter or by a justice of the peace exercising police powers within such respective jurisdiction; the sheriff or any constable in any county in this State who shall serve any of the said processes shall receive the same fees and in like manner as it is or may be by law provided that he shall receive fees in other State cases, but no officer of registration shall charge or receive any compensation for any service performed under this article except such as is provided by this article.

15. All persons who prior to the passage of this act shall have vacated or removed from or have gone with their parents from the place of their actual abode, domicile, dwelling-place or habitation within this State, and shall have taken a domicile, dwelling-place, abode or habitation out of this State, shall be conclusively presumed to have thereby intended to abandon their legal residence in this State, and to have surrendered their right to registration as legal voters in the State unless within thirty days after the passage of this act they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall have so removed or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if their removal shall have been from said city, and make and acknowledge before such clerk an affidavit that when they so removed they did not intend to change their legal residence within the State, but that they had a fixed purpose to return at a definite time, and that they intend to return to this State and take up their actual domicile and habitation therein, on or before six months next preceding the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, eighteen hundred and ninety; * * * and unless the persons respectively making such affidavits shall actually return to this State and shall actually take up their abode, domicile or habitation therein six months before the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, eighteen hundred and ninety, they shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their legal residence therein and shall not be entitled to registration as legal voters, and the officers of registration shall strike off their names from the registry, if they be entered thereon; and after the passage of this act all persons who shall vacate and remove from the place of their actual domicile, abode, dwelling-place or habitation out of this State shall be conclusively presumed to have lost their residence in this State, and shall in consequence thereof become disqualified to vote, unless at or about the time of such removal or within ten days thereafter they shall go in person before the clerk of the circuit court for the county from which they shall so remove, or before the clerk of the superior court of Baltimore city, if such removal be from said city, and shall make and acknowledge before him an affidavit declaring that notwithstanding such removal from their domicile, abode, dwelling-place or habitation, they do not intend thereby to change their legal residence, but that they have a fixed and definite purpose to return to this State on or before six months preceding the next succeeding election in November; * * *and if the persons making such affidavits shall fail so to return and take up their actual abode, domicile, dwelling-place and habitation in this State on or before six months next preceding such November election, they shall be conclusively presumed to have abandoned such declared intention, and shall thereupon become disqualified to vote in this State, and the officers of registration shall refuse to register them as qualified voters, or shall strike off their names from the registry if their names be entered thereon; the clerk before whom such affidavit shall be made, shall retain, index and record the same, and shall be entitled to demand and receive for each acknowledgement the sum of thirty cents, and for indexing and recording affidavits and acknowledgements thereto, the same compensation as is allowed by law for indexing and recording deeds, such costs to be paid to said clerks by the commissioners and mayor and city council of Baltimore respectively; such affidavits shall not be admissible in evidence as evidence of the right of the persons making the same to registration, unless they are recorded within five days from the date of the acknowledgement thereto, and a duly certified copy thereof shall be receivable in evidence in the same manner as a certified copy of a deed; false swearing in any such affidavits shall be deemed to be perjury, and shall be punishable as perjury is by the Code of Public General Laws, article twenty-seven, title "Crimes and Punishments," sub-title "Perjury;" said officers of registration shall require the production of such affidavits duly recorded, or a duly certified copy thereof in all cases where they shall have reason to suspect that the person applying to be registered as a qualified voter has lost his residence by reason of his removal from the State hereinbefore mentioned, and they may also in such cases put any question which they may deem proper to such applicant, concerning the place where he dwelt in the county or legislative district before such removal out of the State, his occupation before such removal and since, the time when he so removed, and when he returned, and all other pertinent facts and circumstances touching the right of such person to be registered, and they may require the truth of the answers of all persons to such questions to be corroborated by independent evidence if in their discretion they shall think proper; and if in answer to their questions or upon testimony produced before them it shall appear to their satisfaction that the person applying to be registered had left the State without any intention of returning at some definite time in the future he shall not be entitled to be registered as a legal voter.
