Transcript's Xmas Bulletin.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., DECEMBER, 1894.

A Merry Christmas and a Joyous New Year to All

The Chestertown Transcript, brighter then ever; more vigorous and aggressive than ever; older, wiser and stronger than ever, with a royal holiday greeting, wishes its friends, one and all, a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year. Never within the history of journalism in Kent, has so striking an array of live, spicy advertisements of vigorous, hustling advertisers been given to the public, than during the present year. Its worth as an advertising medium is considered to be second to none; its reliability stands unquestioned, and its position as a clean family journal is in the front—at the top—in the first rank. Closing this, the sixth and most prosperous year in the TRANSCRIPT'S history under its present management, with a renewed determination to merit success, and an unwavering faith in the future, it offers congratulations of the season to all, and asks that the unstinted blessings of an All-wise Providence may make fruitful and happy the coming year.
