THE SPLENDID RECORD of the Kent county treasury system is a matter of which Kent and the people may well be proud. Then, too, her improved road system is another cause for gratulation.

IN THE list of available material for gubernatorial honors, the Baltimore American names the following gentlemen: John B. Brown and Edwin H. Brown, of Queen Anne's; James Alfred Pearce, of Kent; Murray Vandiver and George W. Jewett, of Harford; Judge Charles B. Roberts, of Carroll; ex-Mayors James Hodges and Robert C. Davidson, of Baltimore City.

CANDIDATES for place on the Democratic ticket this year are unusually numerous so early in the season, but it is a reasoning fact that some of the gentlemen being discussed are the most representative citizens of the county, and men whose past records are a warranty that no mistake could be made in their selection or promotion to high political place. The ever watchful, robust and sturdy manhood of the county are fully awake to the importance of the situation and are guarding with jealous care the political lists. The blighting influence of the political boss will have no place in the personnel of the next ticket. The delicate surgery of the local Siamese twins, if called into use at all, will be in performing operations upon their own immaculate persons. The dainty tread and touch of dear Little Lord Fauntleroy will be called into requisition only in making Uriah Heap obeysance to the will of the people. With proper men on the ticket, placed there by proper methods, Kent will drift back to her old political mooring of Democracy, but Gormanism, either directly or as introduced through parasitic representatives at "Political temple" will not be tolerated. Political legerdemain or trickery in the make-up of the next ticket means Democratic suicide in Kent county.

KENT ISLAND IN THE SIXTIES.

A writer in the New York Sun, graphically depiciting the delights of a ducking trip to Kent Island "in the sixties," with even greater ignorance than imagination, says of that then fertile and delightful spot: "Kent Island is a lonely, desolate spot in Chesapeake bay, uninhabited, save by an old colored man, who eked out a precarious living by fishing and oystering."

He says: "The proprietor of the island was a kind-hearted, docile old fellow, always willing to accommodate and oblige his patrons. He had two bedsteads in his cabin, one of which he occupied himself and the other he reserved for visitors. He fed his patrons on slapjacks, oysters, and fish. Such vanities as cream, sugar and butter had not yet reached the isolated spot."

What this writer did not know about the picturesque and fertile island of Kent, is remarkable.

GORMAN OR THE PEOPLE.

The fine Italian hand of Maryland's Senior Senator is again casting its awful shadow over the State and National Democracy. The Biblical leopard may not have been able to change his spots, but the Maryland chameleon, by some chemical process best known to himself, is not so unfortunate, and with startling suddenness can change his political garb as the best interests of the overshadowing Ego may suggest.

Governor Brown has withdrawn from the Gubernatorial contest, and now the strongest fight for the succession is being waged by Hon. Isador Rayner. Of course the fearless honesty, the unselfish patriotism and the broad statesmanship of Mr. Rayner while in Congress, were not expected to awaken that agonizing, perspiring enthusiasm with Mr. Gorman and his friends which will characterize the fervid, sweltering endorcements of the Gorman press for the picturesque Maryland statesman, and for the genial Spencer C. Jones, at the proper time as a candidate for the Governorship of Maryland.

We do not desire to be understood as endorsing Mr. Rayner's gubernatorial aspirations as against the field of future possibilities, for while we admire the splendid record of the congressman, we recognize the fact, that there are requites which even a Congressman may or may not possess. It has been an open secret from the first, that Mr. Jones is to be a candidate for the Governorship, and that at the proper time he or his friends will make the necessary announcement. And further, that the inspiration of his contest is drawn from the fact that he is the warm personal friend of Gorman, and that Gorman wants him in the executive chair. Personally there is no more affable gentleman in the State than Mr. Jones, but may not as much be said of his political god-father and sponsor Gorman, with whom he has so much in common?

While it may be gratifying to Mr. Gorman to be consulted and venerated as the infallable oracle of the Maryland Democracy, and to see, while he waves off any pretensions of personal authority, Maryland thumbs still go up or down at his mere nod, it would be accrediting that gentleman with an unwarranted amount of political stupidity, to for an instant insinuate that he has not become convinced that the people of the State and of Kent county have become restless to the point of open rebellion against the political bondage which has held them, and will demand in the future that the matter of making and unmaking Governors, United States Senators, and other State and local officials, he relegated to the people in their sovereign capacity, rather than to self-constituted bosses and their subsidized henchmen. Can Senator Gorman of right lay claim to the distinguished honor of being a Democrat, that he should dictate Democratic candidates, or appointments by Democratic officials? Is it true, as has been with consummate effrontery claimed, that the Sphinix-like dictator has kept his solemn and imperative pledges, and the pledges of the party whose blinded generosity and forbearance has promoted him from the position of page to that of Senatorial representative of sixty-five millions of outraged people? Rather, has he not shown himself the arch-conspirator in defeating the will of the people, and a traitor to his party in her hour of greatest need? Did he not, with a coterie of others, sell his very political birthright for a mess of political pottage, and make it impossible for Democratic national measures to become Democratic National law and policy? Has he not become, for selfish, personal aggrandizement the champion of bounty-loving sugar-growers, millionaire iron and coal kings, rather than the defender and advocate of the rights and best interests of the American people? Then, does he imagine, and will his confederates in his party's betrayal have the effrontery to ask that such an unparalleled misuse of political power shall be rewarded by being allowed to dictate gubernatorial candidates? Shall the next governor of Maryland be the political offspring of the political Judas, or shall he be the free and unqualified choice of a sovereign people?

It will not be enough that gentlemen moved by the laudable ambition of filling positions purely within the gift of the people, shall say that they are not the creatures of Maryland's Senatorial Siamese lordlings, but their records must substantiate their claims.

The endorsement of Mr. Gorman has ceased, we believe, to be a royal insignia of honor, and a warranty of political success. The people are ready to try their hands at exercising the rights of citizenship, free from the dictates of the political demagogue and patronage-mongers at Washington.

A PEACH REPORT.

W. Irving Walker, one of the most extensive peach-growers of near Chestertown, read an interesting report before the Peninsula Horticultural Society, in session at Dover last week, on "Peaches." Mr. Walker, among other things, said:

With the exception of a few orchards along the water courses, the peach crop of 1894 was the usual off year failure, but I believe this failure, following the heavy crop and low prices of 1893, has produced good results, by causing growers who were holding on to trees of inferior fruit, to pull all such trees out, which, in case of a good crop this year, should relieve the market of the grade of peaches so demoralizing to the trade.

The peach belt is not moving south as rapidly along the Chesapeake side of the Peninsula as it is along the line of the Delawere division of the P. W. & B. railroad, there having been comparatively no unhealthy trees removed south of Chester river during the past year.

The Maryland and Delaware Peninsula is the peach sections of the States, and ever will be so far as quality of the fruit is concerned, but it rests with the grower to put his fruit, carefully assorted, in a convenient and attractive package, to sell on the market by the side of that marketed by the progressive fruit marketer of California.

Two principal reasons for low prices to the Peninsula grower, are:

First—The lack of systematic distribution of the crop.

Second—The careless attention given by the majority of growers to the assortment and packing of the fruit.

This year promises a big crop, which will bring paying prices, providing distribution can be properly made and care is given as to package. I would suggest ...committee of five be appointed by ...nt to formulate a plan for ...5 peach crop (providing ...n to be submitted ... manner as the ...able. ... Pears," by Dr.

ROCK HALL MATTERS.

Sunday, January 13, Presiding Elder Rev. Alfred Smith, preached at night at the M. E. Church. The church was crowded, though the weather was severely cold. His text was taken from Nehemiah; 4th chapter and 6th verse: "So built we the wall." Quarterly meeting held at the church at 7.30 P. M., Monday, 14th inst.

Judging from the loud reports which came from the direction of Swan Point oyster bar, early Sunday morning, Capt. Hyland must have given the dredgers a warm reception out there.

Captain Joseph Ashley, an old and respected citizen of Piney Neck, was paralyzed Saturday morning. Dr. Selby is attending him.

The little five-year-old son of Mr. Hayward Middleton, met with quite a painful accident Monday morning. He was playing round a straw stack, and stuck a pitch fork in one of his limbs, penetrating the flesh about four inches. Dr. Selby was in attendance ond dressed the wounds.

Misses Lula Webb and Ada Proctor have returned from Baltimore after a delightful visit to friends.

Miss Ida Newcomb, of Kennedyville, has been visiting Mrs. John W. Downey.

Mrs. Wm. Wagoner, of near Edesville, is doubtless the most prominent "whip" of the lower district. Mrs. Wagner delights in a spirited horse and handles the reins as gracefully as an expert driver. She never wastes any time on the road.

Mr. Joseph Hogans is having his home papered by Chestertown paper-hangers. This looks suspicious Joe, people say you are going to house-keeping.

Mr. John A. Hersch has in his possession some remarkable firearms relics of the Revolutionary war and were used by his grandfather. Mr. Hersch is now 77 years of age. The arms consist of pistols made over a hundred years ago. Mr. Hersch's grandfather, Michael Shorr, was taken prisoner by the Americans during the war and imprisoned in this country, and after his release the arms were returned to him. The present owner received them about two years ago.

For several years past the subject of making decided improvements to Rock Hall harbor has been agitated through the TRANSCRIPT, and it is somewhat encouraging to find that the reports of assistant engineer Stierle, engineer to the House of Representatives is favorable to cutting a channel across Swan Point bar at an expenditure of $9,600. Of course this is not sufficient but it is an encouraging "starter." Let the people keep the improvement before the authorities.

Mr. Joseph Downey, has sold out his splendid mercantile business to his brother, Mr. J. M. Downey, who is a first-class business man and will continue the progressive work.

Maxwell Lodge installed the following officers: N. G., B. H. Coburn; V. G., Wm. Harrison; R. T., John W. Boyer; F. T., Milton Maslin; treasurer, James Casey; chaplain, D. K. Ayers; warden, John W. Downey; I. S. G., J. Frank Coleman; O. S. G., John Urie; R. S. to N. G., J. W. Joiner; L. S. to N. G., Wm. Porter; R. S. to V. G., Wm. Lorrimore; L. S. to V. G., Chas. Harrison; S. S., Darius Scott and Wm. Hines.

Mr. Charles Middleton, who a few weeks ago, fell on the ice and fractured a small bone in one of his limbs, is now able to go out again. REGULAR.

KENNEDYVILLE NEWS.

Sad Deaths Cast a Deep Shadow Over the Community.

Since last writing, at which time pleasure and social events held sway, our community has been overshadowed by a cloud of grief and sorrow, two deaths having occurred in less than a week.

Mr. Leonard A. Pennington, one of the oldest citizens of the community, and who, for a number of years, was register of voters for the second district, died Wednesday night, Jan 9th, about half-past twelve o'clock, in the 77th year of his age. He had been an invalid for several years, and with the infirmities of age, was quite a sufferer. He had married twice, and leaves a widow and eleven children, seven sons and four daughters, all of whom are the children of his first wife. Funeral services were held at the M. P. Church, on Sunday, at eleven A. M., Rev. R. L. Lewis officiating. The pall bearers were: Mr. Painter, of Middletown, Del.; J. H. Harris, of Philadelphia, a son-in-law; and four sons, Messrs. Adky, Leonard, Jacob and Casper Pennington.

Miss Mamie L., daughter of Mr. D. U. Dewees, died Monday morning at eight o'clock, a victim of the dreadful disease, consumption. She had been in decline for several years, but her death at this time was somewhat unexpected, as she had not been confined to her bed a week, since the last and fatal attack. The deceased was a very popular and estimable young lady, a communicant at Shrewsbury church, and a faithful attendant upon its services. She was about thirty years of age. Funeral services will be held at Shrewsbury, this, (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock.

Harry Jarrell is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Chas. F. Sneed, of Odessa, Del., has been visiting his sister, Miss Bertha, the adopted daughter of J. P. Hendrickson.

Miss Minnie Hessner is visiting friends in Baltimore.

L. C. Justis, Jr., was present at the inauguration of Gov. Marvel, of Delaware, on Tuesday.

George M. Glenn, who recently left for Northern New York, expecting to locate, returned last week and has accepted a position with Mr. John Medders. "No place like home."

Besides a number of serenaders, numbering about twenty-five persons, the following were also entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Money, one evening last week. Miss Dozen, of Wilmington; Misses Mollie and Maggie Hayes, of Georgetown; Messrs. Hayes and Redding, of Georgetown; J. A. Money, Lynch's; J. H. Weer, Kennedyville.

Mr. W. S. Hurlock killed two wildgeese one day last week. Mr. J. A. Toulson also killed one.

Wm. Reynolds, the successful colored huntsman, went out Monday with dog and gun, and returned with two raccoons, one opossum and a wild duck. JUNO.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Wm. P. Howard to the Front.

Important notice of removal to the stand lately vacated by P. B. Darrel, on Front street. Something remarkable—tender beef in Chestertown. Having secured larger quarters I am now better prepared to handle the general trade. Our stock is New and Fresh, and consists of which will always be tender. Smoked Sausage received daily, while our Hams and Breakfast Bacon are the pride of the household. Flour by the barrel or sack.
