R. HARRISON COLLINS. C. COX HOPPER.

COLLINS & HOPPER,

EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

MR. MURRAY VANDIVER, collector of internal revenue, commenced the distribution of income-tax blanks on Monday. Doubtless the newspaper men will be counted out of the list this time.

SOME of the Baltimore city statesmen say that Mr. Hayes' gubernatorial candidacy is only a political "make-believe," and that his real fight is for the Attorney-Generalship. They claim that the ticket will be Jones for Governor, Hayes for Attorney-General and Smith for Comptroller. The hero of reassessment repudiates complicity in this make up, however.

SINCE THE TRANSCRIPT first referred to the matter two weeks ago speculations as to the number of persons in Kent to be affected by the Income Tax has continued with unabated interest. A prominent business man of Chestertown has made the following analysis of the matter: First district, 0; second, 1; third, 0; fourth, 12; fifth, 1. Total, 14. Local corporations are included in this estimate, but no partnerships, from the fact that no partnership in the county is estimated to produce the required $4,000 profits to the individual members of the firm.

CHIEF JUDGE JOHN M. ROBINSON FOR GOVERNOR.

From whatever standpoint the political situation throughout the State may be considered, the outlook is unpromising, and the future is dark with ominous forebodings of defeat. However unpleasant it may be to be considered pessimistic in affairs political, the time for silence has passed, the press and the people are called upon to bravely meet the issues of the occasion, and wisely counsel together. The Democracy of the State is rent by factional differences, the people are in open revolt against unworthy masters, and financial depression bears with relentless hand upon the overburthened masses. The Democracy of Maryland is threathened with dissolution, and only by wisdom, extreme care and moderation can party disaster be averted. Loyalty to party, and that broader patriotism which rises superior to selfish motives, must prevail in the deliberations of party leaders, or Maryland must drift irretrievably from her Democratic moorings. Already, candidates imbued with the laudable ambition to become the chief executive of the State, are commanding the attention of the people, yet none fully satisfy the demands of the great Democratic heart, or reach to that exalted standard set by the people as the gauge of merit required in their candidate for the Governorship.

The Eastern Shore, however, presents a son who may with safety be entrusted with the welfare of a loyal people, and the destinies of a sovereign and independent State. In Chief Justice John M. Robinson, of Queen Annes's county, are combined those qualities of mind and heart which eminently fit him for the high position, which, though he has never asked it of the people, many of his friends would gladly have given as a tribute to his worth. A jurist of transcendent ability, he has presided as chief judge of the Court of Appeals with marked distinction, and though placed in a position so conspicuous, his character has never once been called in question; the breath of censure has never dared to impeach the purity of his conduct, nor the eye of envy to question the sincerity of his motives. Both in public and private life his character has retained that dignity and purity which would do honor to any station, and the veneration and promotion of such a citizen could but show that the State is worthy of such a son. While taking a profound interest in the political affairs of his State, and in the broader field of national legislation, he has been allied with no petty factions, and his sterling integrity has removed him from the contaminating influences of political bosses.

A farmer himself, he is in touch and hearty sympathy with the great agricultural masses, and occupies a position which will enable him to take an independent stand upon all State issues. Such a man can but inspire the confidence and respect of all classes, without regard to faction, section or party, and in Chief Justice John M. Robinson, we believe, is found one of the few men who can lead the Democracy to certain success in the coming campaign.

A SLEIGHING CARNIVAL.

Many of Kent's "Speedy Ones" on the Snow.

A royal carvival on runners was enjoyed in Chestertown on Tuesday and Wednesday, and Kent's fastest flyers met in friendly contest on the snow. Those of the speedy "four hundred" flyers were: A. J. Hynson, with the rare Sailor Girl; Hydie Thompson, with the dauntless gray; John Startt, with a good one; John Gale, with one of the best; Frank Jester, with a gay deceiver; George Hatcherson, with one of the best of the list; Samuel Hicks, with his gray Lightning; Dr. Jarman, with his handsome youngster. Bert DeCorse, James McKee, George Stevens and others, with speedy youngsters. In the second class, but all first-rate for a quick pace, were: C. L. Dodd, Thomas D. France, M. deK. Smith, T. G. Wroth, Miss Clare Vannort, Miss Minnie Massey, Walter and Ellwood Morris, Thomas Toulson. Other first-rate teams were driven by Mrs. Wilbur Eliason, Mrs. Avis Vannort, Mrs. George Biddle, W. R. Aldridge, Allie Loud, J. W. Chapman, John Eliason, J. D. Bacchus, William Bell, William Beck, L. W. Wickes, Dr. W. Frank Hines, John Rose, Walter Lusby, Miss Whitely, G. B. Westcott, T. S. Dodd, Mrs. William McKee, Jessie Usilton, and Mrs. Dr. C. R. Twilley. The double teams were? Misses Wilkins, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Miss Anna Lambert, W. R. Kay.

Mrs. Biddle Hossenger, one of the most expert reinswomen in the county, was with the leaders of the "400."

Carson Harris, from Still Pond, had one of the finest in line yesterday; William Hendrix was out, and Grover S. put up a magnificent pace. Dr. Cooper was there with a beautiful two-year-old. Sailor Girl, however, is one of the charmers of the list.

There were many others "out on the snow."

Mr. Bert DeCorse slightly injured his trotter during the afternoon. As he was coming down at full speed a gentleman backed his carriage across the track, and before Mr. DeCorse could change his course sufficiently his horse was in collision with the wheel, but only grazed it, cutting a slight place on his leg.

M. Frank Jester was upset and thrown from his sleigh, but was not injured.

The body of a sleigh driven by two ladies slipped from the runners and landed them (nameless here) in the road near the paper mill yesterday.

AN EMBARRASSING POSITION.

JOSEPH W. POORE, FORMERLY OF MILLINGTON HAS A THRILLING EXPERIENCE—HIS NEPHEW KILLED.

Mr. Joseph W. Poore, formerly of Millington, and a brother of Mr. J. R. Poore, a citizen of that town, has had a most thrilling and embarrassing experience. On Friday last, Mr. Poore left the home of his nephew, John Jones, a young man aged 18 years, near Newark. Young Jones accompanied him and the objective point was Elkton, where Jones was to call upon a young lady. The men were provided with a quart of whiskey and drank freely on the road. Upon reaching Elkton, Poore says that it was found that the lady had gone to Middletown and his nephew determined to drive to Middletown to see her. He further states that on the road they became intoxicated, so much so that he does not remember anything of the circumstances which resulted in the death of his companion, and the accident which forced him to spend the night at a farm house nearby where he last remembers seeing young Jones. Poore says that at a certain point in the road between Elkton and Middletown a carriage tried to pass them, when Jones pulled out his whip and lashed the horse into a gallop. He did not recollect what occurred after that. He was thrown from the buggy and sobered by the shock, but upon his recovery could find nothing of the team or his nephew, and supposed that Jones had driven off home without him. While people living in the neighborhood where the body was found were inclined to believe that murder was committed; the most plausible theory is that the boy fell from the wagon while in a drunken stupor, and afterwards either stumbled or walked into the pool of water by the roadside, where he was found.

The strongest evidence in support of the accident theory is the absence of any possible motive Poore could have had for the murder of his nephew. So far as known, only the kindliest relations existed between them.

A colored woman living at Glasgow, claims to have seen the couple driving along the road in the early morning. She says they were quarreling and that the boy wanted the reins, which were in the hands of his uncle. If the murder theory was to be believed, the only motive that could be advanced was, that during a quarrel young Jones may have been thrown from the wagon and killed. But this theory was not generally credited, indeed, in the light of a thorough investigation, no one for a moment accepts the murder idea.

The team was found the next day. When young Jones did not return home Saturday morning, his father hitched up his horse and started to hunt for him, fearing that something had happened to his son. He had not driven far from the Homewood farm when he found the horse and wagon. The horse had evidently vaulted a fence by the roadside in endeavors to get over into the field. The animal was standing on one side of the fence and the hind-wheels of the carriage on the other side, which looked as though the horse had tried to jump over the fence, but was held fast by the wagon in the position described. The only feature of the case which gave any color to the story that Poore may have had anything to do with the young man's death, was the fact that he did not tell any one anything about the mishap along the road or notify the parents that their boy had met with an accident. But then, Poors says that he did not know anything had happened to his nephew, and further he did not care to say anything about his being thrown out, for the reason that he did not want people to know he had been on a "batter" with his nephew.

Poore was held in jail as a witness until the case was investigaited, but was released, there being no evidence to connect him criminally with Jones' death.

KENNEDYVILLE NEWS.

We were favored to have had with us on Sunday last, Rev. "Jimmy" Cook, the noted boy evangelist. He preached both morning and evening to attentive congregations. The young preacher has a remarkable voice and his sermons were delivered in a very forcible manner. His discourse in the morning was based upon the words found in Gen. XI, 4. He preached a very able and most impressive sermon in the evening from the text, "Prepare to meet thy God," Amos 4; 12.

Mrs. Susan A. Rutter, died early Monday morning of pneumonia, after an illness of only five or six days, at her late home in Shrewsbury Neck. The deceased did not live in our immediate neighborhood, but was very well known among us, and was a member of the M. P. Church at this place. Five children, two sons and three daughters, mourn the loss of a mother. Funeral services were held yesterday at the late home, at eleven o'clock A. M., Rev. R. L. Lewis officiating. Interment at Kennedyville. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Robert Comley, W. J. Hurlock, Tilghman Shafer, W. H. Kelley, John Price.

Next Sunday, Feb. 3d, will be observed as Christian Endeavor Day by the C. E. Society at this place. The programme will be very interesting, and the public is respectfully invited to be present.

Mrs. Maggie Melvin is visiting friends in Felton, Del.

Miss Laura McKnett, of Baltimore, spent part of the week with her parents at Urieville.

Miss Daisy Jones, of St. Augustine, Cecil county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. E. Hayes.

Mr. Frank Moch, the crayon artist, is doing considerable work for persons in this community. He delivered a two-horse load of crayons on Tuesday. The work is finely executed, and is spoken of in very satisfactory terms.

Mr. Samuel Webb, our popular liveryman, is giving close attention to his business, and is prepared to accommodate the public at shortest notice.

The sale of Mr. D. U. Dewees was largely attended, and goods sold for fairly good prices.

Mrs. T. Redmile, Misses Bertha Redmile, Clara Redmile and Mary McKnett, Messrs. Wattie McKnett, and Charles Herzog, all spent part of last week in Baltimore. JUNO.

POMONA LOCALS.

A Delightful Tea at Bond Chapel—Personal Mention.

The tea at Bond Chapel on Wednesday evening of last week, was a delightful success, financially and otherwise. The ladies in charge spared no efforts to make all feel welcome and to provide a tempting supper temptingly served. The menu consisted of roast turkey, chicken, salads, Maryland biscuit, tea, chocolate, coffee and the necessary dressings—and all for 25 cents. Ice cream and cake were also served at reasonable rates. The ladies having this splendidly successful tea in charge were: The Misses Wilkins, Misses Baker, Miss Groves, Misses Emma Knight, Mattie Edwards, Mettie Loud, Pricie Maslin, Julia Davis, Mr. W. T. Brown, A. C. Loud and others. They were ably assisted by Mrs. J. H. Baker, Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs. Walter Trew, Mrs. Carville Maslin, Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mrs. W. T. Edwards. Net proceeds, $53.00.

Mr. J. H. Baker spent several days last week in Baltimore with his son, J. Henry Baker, Esq.

Miss Mamie T. Baker is spending this week in Centreville, the guest of Miss Bessie Price.

Miss Minnie Maslin, of Baltimore, spent several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. H Maslin. D. C. J.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MASSEY'S NEWS.

Social Pleasure Still Holds Sway.

EDS. TRANSCRIPT:—News is very scarce with us, and there is very little for us to write about. Farming is at a stand still now and business is very quiet, but we are enjoying life all the same. Social dances are the order of the day, and a very pleasant dance was given at the home of Mr. Joseph Hudson last Friday night, and quite a large number of invitations were sent out, but the night proved to be very dark and stormy, and only about 15 couples turned out. Refreshments were served in abundance about 12 o'clock, and the dancing again went on until about three, after which a majority of the dancers departed to their homes, having had a delightful evening. A few remained until morning and took breakfast. Mr. Hudson and his good wife know just how to make you feel at home and have a good time. Another social dance is announced by Mr. and Mrs. H. Ransom for to-night. A large number are expected, and all who attend are sure of having a good time. Their music is to be furnished by Prof. Primrose, of Smyrna, Del., who is well known in this neighborhood for his good music.

The wedding of Miss Mary Galloway, of this place, and Mr. Morgan King, of Crumpton, is announced for Thursday evening. Reception at the home of the bride at 7.30. YOURS.

DANIEL HILL & SON,

KENNEDYVILLE, MD.

1895 still finds us selling the old Schuylkill, known as

RAMBO LIME.

Farmers must admit that it is necessary for them to use Lime to enrich and keep up their lands and there is none better than the above. It is the cheapest because it is the best; gives the best results and improves the land more permanently and lasts longer. All orders will be promptly delivered at any station on any of the Peninsula railroads. We are selling at prices to suit the depressed times; a substantial reduction from last year. Orders by mail will receive prompt and careful attention. Also for sale the Keystone Dehorning Clippers.

Any one desiring to have their cattle dehorned should write to us, and we will give the order immediate attention.

☞ Cash paid for Produce or taken in exchange for merchandise.

We are on the Point of Taking Inventory of Stock

Winter Goods Must Give Place to Spring Supplies.

It is a tedious task to measure thousands of yards Calicoes, Ginghams, Muslins and Dress Goods. Here are some prices we think will lighten the task, and for supplying future needs.

Offer You Rare Opportunities

Dress Ginghams, 20 patterns, 5c., worth 8 and 10; Apron Checks, your choice, best goods, 4c. per yard; entire stock of Calico reduced to 4c. per yard; Dress Goods, regular price 25c., now 16c. per yard; All-wool Underwear cut 25 per cent. $2.50 Boots, double upper, with or without heel-plate, $1.90 for a few days only. 90c. Horse Blankets now go at 69c.; $1.15 Horse Blankets now go at 90c., and they are going, too.

CLOTHING.

If careful buying and low prices count for anything, we propose to make this year one of unprecedented success in the clothing trade of Still Pond. Our first move will be to clear out present stock at reduced prices. Pants marked $1.00, now go at 75c.; $2 now 1.50; $2.25 now 1.90. Men's Suits that sold readily at $9.50 now go at 7.25; $7.75 now sell at 6.00; $4.75 now sell at 4.00. Think of buying a fine Beaver Overcoat for $9.00 that sold for $13.00. Ask our prices on Produce before selling. It may save you pennies, yes, dollars, in the course of a year.

JOHN W. DOWNEY,
—SUCCESSOR TO—
JOSEPH DOWNEY, ROCK HALL, MD.

Having bought the stock of goods of my brother at Rock Hall, I propose to conduct the business in the future under the name of John W. Downey, and respectfully call upon the people of this neighborhood for a share of the patronage. The stock consists of

Dry Goods, Groceries,

BOOTS AND SHOES

NOTIONS, TINWARE, CHINAWARE, HARDMARE, CLOTHING, OILS

etc., and everything usually carried in a well-equipped general store. These goods were bought low, consequently my customers will find some cheap prices not to be found elsewhere. The business will be conducted upon a square basis, never misrepresenting any article, and no catchpenny advertisements will ever be used to draw trade. Remember, I am here to do business with the people, feeling assured that those who patronize me with their trade will be fully convinced that I only advertise facts. Resp'y, etc., JOHN W. DOWNEY, Rock Hall.
