THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1895.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Creamery Prices.—The Kennedyville creamery paid 75 cents for milk the past month; Locust Grove, 65 cents; Crumpton, 65 cents; Still Pond, 60 cents; Fairlee, 70 cents; Sassafras, 71 cents.

Finished Thinning.—Commissioner W. Harrison Newman, of Queen Annes, is one of the early birbs, and finished thinning one field of corn yesterday. The cut worms are doing the work in Kent.

A Slight Fire.—By a slight fire at the home of Mr. Thomas Roeder, in Worton, last week, Miss Roeder lost her gold watch and chain, and some articles of clothing. The fire was promptly extinguished with but slight further damage.

Pensions to Kent Countians.—Pensions were granted last week by the National Pension Bureau to J. F. Howard, Joseph Reed and Joseph Cotton, of Chestertown; John W. Hall, of Still Pond, and John W. Saylor, of Rock Hall.

Drowned Out.—Mr. J. Nic Vansant, of near Gelena, claims that the heavy rain of Monday completely drowned out the cut worms. Mr. Vansant is to be congratulated upon his rare good fortune, but have all the farming comunity been so favored? It is feared not.

Late Frost.—Several citizens are confident that the cold spell of Monday night brought frost, though no material damage to crops is reported. Mr. B. F. H. Caulk says that the thermometer settled to 46°. The lowest point touched so far as reported was 44°, though but few discovered frost.

Bridge Work.—The draw of Morgan Creek bridge was taken out on Monday, and was found in a decayed and even dangerous condition. The work of putting in the new draw is now in progress. The masonry work at the Price's mill branch is completed, and is now ready for the super-structure, which will be promptly built.

Millington's Law and Order League. Following the example of Chestertown, Millington on Monday night organized a Law and Order League, with Rev. George Y. Burke, president; John P. Ahern was elected secretary, and T. J. McWhorter, treasurer. The following committee on constitution and by-laws was elected: J. P. Ahern, Henry Tonkin, E. W. Spear, J. T. McWhorter and Dr. F. A. Walls.

Mammoth Berries.—To Mr. George W. White, one of the most successful of Queen Anne's growers of splendid berries, is due the thanks of the TRANSCRIPT editors for a contribution of the finest berries seen, felt or tasted this season. The berries were as large as fairly-sized apples, beautiful in color, and of delicious flavor. Mr. White states that he will have fully 1000 quarts of the same variety of fruit. Thanks, Mr. White. May your berries and your magnificent hospitality never grow less.

Boating Association Formed.—The Chestertown Boating Association, having in view summer pleasures combined with business, has been formed with the following directors. L. B. Russell, J. R. Rollison, Wm. B. Usilton, Jr., Wm. S. McDonnell, Milton E. Baker, Vernon M Barnett, J. Allie Russell and Horace W. Reed. The snug little schooner Eva has been purchased from Capt. J. B. Watkins, of Eastern Neck Island, and will be put into service.

Daily Round Trips.—Beginning on Monday next, June third, the steamer Emma A. Ford will leave Chestertown at 7 o'clock A. M. daily, for Baltimore, stopping at Rolph's, Booker's, Quaker Neck, Bogle's, Queenstown and Kent Island. Will leave Baltimore for Chester river points at 2.45 P. M. The Steamer B. S. Ford will leave Centreville daily at 7 o'clock A. M., stopping at landings on the Corsica river, Jackson's creek and Rock Hall. Will leave Baltimore for the return at 2.30 P. M.

Decoration Day.—To-day, Decoration Day, is a national holiday, and in consequence the banks and public offices will be closed. The only formal celebration of the day will be by Charles Sumner Post and Sumner Relief Corps, G. A. R. colored veterans. The Post will assemble at the hall at 1 o'clock, and a committee of the Relief Corps and the Juvenile Love and Charity Association, preceded by the Oriental Cornet Band, will march to the cemeteries and pay their respects to the dead. Rev. N. B. Snowden held memorial services, and preached a memorial service at Janes M. E. Church on Sunday. Rev E. E. Hughes assisted in the services.

A Child's Escapade.—Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Robinson, living on the farm of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., on the suburbs of Chestertown, were given a genuine scare on Saturday morning by the sudden disappearance of their bright little four year old boy. Search was at once instituted and a colord woman stated that she had seen the child on a bridge spanning a ditch at play in which was about four feet of water. The father waded and rewaded up and down the ditch which led to the river, without success. Search was made under the house, but with no success, a small army soon engaged in the hunt, and finally Mr. Robinson thought of the barn, and crawling under it called lustily and long, and to his delight the child which had been fast asleep, answered his call. The little fellow had crawled under the building and forced his way through a narrow opening about nine inches wide in the centre pier, and had enjoyed a quiet three hours nap while his parents and friends carried on their anxious search.

Base-ball Matters.—The Washington College team will play the Baltimore Unions on the Washington College campus to-day. The Unions are a strong aggregation and were known as the Lutherville Outing Club last year, at whose hands the home team suffered defeat, the score standing 4 to 5. On Saturday the College club will play the New Windsor College nine on the Washington College pond. The College nine will go to Philadelphia and play the University of Pennsylvania team on Monday. The Rock Hall nine defeated the Chestertown Clings in a close and spirited ten-inning game on Saturday last by a score of 13 to 11. At the close of the ninth inning the score stood 9 to 9. The fourth team of Chestertown were given a sound drubbing by the Crumpton team on Saturday, the score standing 20 to 7. The Betterton Base-ball Club have organized with the following players: Pitchers, R. Crew and Greenwood; catchers, Howard Owens and Atwell; 1st base, Ewell Wilmer; 2d Rhoten Crew; 3d base, Andrew Atwell; r. f., C. Crew; l. f., Lew Atwell; c. f., A. Greenwood; short stop and captain, Willie Wheeler. Send challenges to Alex Mair, manager.

Western Maryland Peaches.—One of the Baltimore papers is running scare articles concerning damage to the peach crop in various counties in the State. These may be true, and if so, so much the better for Washington county, for in the peach belt growers are confident of a large crop. In very high regions and in isolated orchards where the soil is limestone, there may be a failure either total or partial, but elsewhere there is no cause for worry. The annual June drop only bothers the unsophisticated. The early Crawfords and perhaps the Bilyeus are two varieties which will suffer, but the rest are O. K.—Hagerstown Mail

A Splendid Chance for Purchasers.—R. T. Turner, Jr., as trustee, will offer at public sale on Tuesday next, some of the finest and most desirably located real estate in Kent county. Home-seekers and investers should visit the splendid properties and thoroughly acquaint themselves with the great advantages in location, soil and general improvements. The two farms aggregate 720 acress, and it is rare that so large a tract of Kent county real estate is offered at one time. For stock purposes, as a truck farm, or for general farming or fruit purposes, this is a rare chance for a profitable investment. Sale at Chestertown on Tuesday, June third.

Sales of Real Estate.—M. deK. Smith as trustee, on Tuesday, sold the real estate of the late William Ellis, situated near Massey, containing 40 acres of land, improved by a two-story frame dwelling and the necessary outbuildings, to Amanda Ellis, for $420. M. deK. Smith and William W. Beck, as trustees, sold on Tuesday, the real estate of the late Mrs. Martha J. Elbin, situated in Millington, and improved by a two-story frame dwelling, to J. Edward Hurlock, for $535. John D. Urie, as attorney for Miss Elma Rasin, has sold the C. C. B. Rasin stable property on Cross street, Chestertown, to Wilbur Eliason for $1,000. Mr. Urie has also sold for Miss Rasin a part of one of the college lots, to Mr. H. L. Boyd, for $300.

A Novel Remedy.—The most novel remedy possibly ever tried in this county to counteract the distructive tendency of birds in gardens and strawberry patches is that adopted by a colored man in Chestertown. The individual in question has a fine garden, and to keep the birds from injuring the growing vegetables, he has begged, captured and borrowed a number of cats which are securely tied to pegs in close proximity to each other among the patches of vegetables The felines have a box to go in, are abundantly fed and as animated scare-crows are in every way a success, and no bird dare flit within three feet of the ground any where over the jealously guarded trucks.

A Successful Enterprise.—Miss Mattie P. Wroth, Miss Jennie Wroth, and Miss Henrietta Perkins, all originally of Kent county, are making a marked success of keeping a hotel at Westminster for the accommodation of summer guests. Winchester Place has accommodations for about eighty boarders, and is a beautiful tree-embowered spot on the suburbs of Westminister, Carroll county. The Misses Wroth, five years ago assumed the management of this, now popular summer resort, and by dint of perseverance and eminent business ability, and an eye always single to the comfort and pleasure of their guests, the ladies now have one of the most popular of Western Maryland summer retreats.

L. C. Justis, Jr., Makes an Assignment.—As a result of the protracted and serious illness of Mr. L. C. Justis, Jr., and the imperative command of his physicians that he surrender business of every kind for a year, Mr. Justis, in order that his financial affairs might be promptly and satisfactorily adjusted, last week executed a deed of trust to M. deK. Smith, Esq. The real estate, including the valuable "Maxwell" or "Dunlap Farm," containing 382 acres, at a cost of $14,000, was deeded to Dr. F. A. Dunlap, an uncle, of Delaware City. Mr. Smith executed his bond in $20,000. The deed of trust requires that the growing crops and personal property shall be devoted to the payment of all standing liabilities, and it is expected that the property will be ample to discharge every debt. Mr. Justis has been for years one of Kent's most representative, intelligent and wide-awake farmers, and has one of the finest personal estates in the county. His magnificent herd of Holstein cattle stand scarcely second to any in the State. His financial embarrassments are universally regretted, but with renewed health and vigor, there is little doubt that the present misfortune will be but temporary.

The W. C.'s in Philadelphia.—The fame of the Washington College base-ball team has preceded them to the city of "Brotherly Love," and a gentlemen writes us, that in the handsome window of the large sporting goods house of A. G. Spalding & Bro., in Philadelphia, is a fine picture of the Washington College team. Attached to the picture is an artistically executed card, on which is printed, "Washington College base-ball team, Chestertown, Maryland, vs. the University of Pennsylvania, Franklin Field, June 3rd." The picture has been duly inspected by the base-ball fraternity, and the spunky appearance of the W. C.'s most favorably commented upon. The team will be quartered at the Hanover, the Mecca of all the large college teams of the country when in Philadelphia. During the great Cornell-U. P. game on Saturday, witnessed by 7,000 people, a large sign bearing the words of good omen to the Kent countians, "Washington College vs. U. P., June 3d," was the most conspicuous thing, to be seen. Success to the W. C's. now henceforth and forever.

Fruit Growers' Bank Won Its Case.—Judge Joseph A. Wickes yesterday handed down an opinion in the case of the Fruit Growers' National Bank of Smyrna, Delaware, against Charles T. Westcott, Esq. The case had been pending for three years, and had been watched with more than usual interest. C. Wright Spry inherited a large estate from his father, in which Sarah E. Spry had a dower interest. On April 4th, 1888, C. W. Spry, being insolvent, executed a deed of trust to Charles T. Westcott of all his property. On 28th May, 1888, Mrs. Sarah E. Spry executed a deed to Charles T. Westcott, by which she conveyed to him for $1000 all her interest in the lands of C. W. Spry, and also of a lot in Galena, which was hers in fee. The Fruit Growers' National Bank, of Smyrna, Del., filed a bill of complaint in equity through Hope H. Barroll and James P. Gorter, its attornies, alleging that the deed was in fraud of the rights of the creditors of S. Ellen Spry, and asked the court to set it aside, on the ground that the property passed by the deed was worth $7000. The court signed a decree setting aside the deed on the ground of inadequacy of consideration, but allow it to stand as security for the $1000 paid by the vendee, and the balance of the money received by him, including the value of the dower in the home farm to be applied as far as is necessary to the payment of creditors subsisting at the time of the execution of the deed. By the decision the creditors will be paid in full and Mrs. Spry will be entitled to about $1500 remaining over after the payment of the $1,000 and of debts of some $3,300.

Was it Infanticide?—Mr. James S. Byron, while on his way up Chester river on Friday, on a fishing expedition, when opposite the farm of Mr. T. R. Hubbard, noticed a white object floating in the river. He passed on, but being impressed by its peculiar appearance, he returned, and was astonished to find a perfectly nude, white female child floating with the tide. He started to lift the body into the boat, but the flesh was so soft that it left the bone at the slightest touch. A bag was then placed under it, and Mr. Byron took the body ashore and covered it with drift flags and other material, intending to stop the following day and carry it to Chestertown and notify Coroner Pippin. Two colored men whom he met up the river promised to stop for the child and carry it to Chestertown, but did not. Mr. Byron received a tow down the river on Saturday, behind a schooner, and did not stop, but made inquiry and found that the incident had not been reported at Chestertown. Coroner Pippin deputized him on Sunday to go for the body, which he did, but only the skull could be found. The tracks of dogs were found near the spot where the infant had been left and it is supposed that they had devoured it bones and all. When first found, the eyes had been eaten out and the face was disfigured, but excepting bruises across the stomach, the body was intact. Mr. Byron states that the child he would judge was not more than a few days old, was large and well developed, and would weigh from ten to twelve pounds. Coroner Pippin examined the skull and buried it near the rivershore near Hubbard's factory, but did not deem an inquest necessary. Several fishermen report that they saw the body floating on Friday morning near Downey's fishing shore, opposite Chestertown, but did not know what it was and did not examine it. The most probable solution to the mystery of the unfortunate little foundling is that it was consigned to the waters to conceal a mother's sin.

Of Personal Interest.

The many friends of "Father" Davis were glad to see him and his son Harry, of Still Pond, Md., in town this week. He is still a little lame from spraining his ankle last winter, and has not fully recovered from a late attack of grip, but he is bright and cherry, and carries the weight of 94 years with marvelous activity. He is always a welcome visitor to Middletown. His presence is a benediction.—Middletown Transcript.

Mr. Charles W. Kennard visited Kent last week, accompanied by a prominent official of the Carnegie Steel and Iron Works at Homestead, Pennsylvania. Mr. Kennard's guest was prospecting for a home on the bayshore of Kent, and declared himself delighted with the county and the beauty of many of its water situations.

Mrs. Susan M. Harding, has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Carolina Virginia Harding, to Mr. Charles Edward Perkins, on Wednesday morning, June 12th, at 8.30 o'clock, St. Mary's P. E. Church, Kinston, North Carolina. Miss Harding has been a frequent visitor to Kent and has many friends in the county. Mr. Perkins is a son of Eben F. Perkins, Esq., and is a successful lawyer of Philadelphia.

Mr. C. W. Baumgardner, the practical and expert machinist of Chestertown, has advertised his plant for sale preparatory to returning to his old home in Pennsylvania. His removal is necessitated by the recent death of his father. Mr. Baumgardner is a good citizen and a fine workman, and should he positively determine to leave Chestertown it will be a matter of regret.

A delightful lawn fete is being prepared for on the lawn of Mr. William Morris tomorrow evening.

Mr. William Huey, father of Messrs. A. F. and I. N. Huey, of Kent; James A. Huey, of Seaford, and Mrs. J. R. Cooper, Lancaster, Pa., died in Baltimore on May 5th, aged 80 years.

DAMAGE FROM CUT-WORM.

Farmers Planting and Replanting for the Second and Third Times.

Messrs. Isaac Cleaver, Robert Wallis, John Comegys, John Clendaniel, Oliver Cleaver, Charles Hill, Samuel Merritt, J. A. Toulson, D. J. Nowland, Andrew Woodall, several farms, some of them planted three times. R. A. Shallcross planted out six acres of tomato plants (15,000), and has scarcely 2000 plants standing. Victor Hendrickson has planted ninety acres twice. William Clough, on the Carvill place near Chestertown, states that his crop is totally destroyed, and he has found as many as nine worms in a hill. Mr. Hendrickson, it is claimed, beats this, having taken sixteen in a single hill of corn. Joseph Norris, near Lynch's, has had his crop cut off twice George S. Biddle says that his field of corn has been simply cut out of existence. From every section of the county, the same discouraging reports are received.

Betterton News.

Messrs. Owens and Son have returned from a fishing cruise in Chester river. J. A. Bone and crew are also home, and Scott Crownhart and crew returned yesterday, and all report poor success.

Capt. Harvey Brice, of the Chesapeake House; Mr. James T. Crew, of the Betterton House, and Mrs. S. W. Wilmer, of Hotel Wilmer, are all preparing for the season of summer boarders.

The Betterton base-ball team are making elaborate preparation for their festival to be held on Friday and Saturday evenings. Mair is into it and the success of the affair is assured. ALICK.
