HOT! HOTTER!! HOTTEST!!!

The Hot Wave Has Passed and Humanity Breathes Freer Once More.

FATALITY OF THE INTENSE HEAT.

The hot wave which pounced down upon Kent county and the country at large on Thursday last, was gently suspended on Tuesday morning, and suffering humanity was given a respite from the sweltering heat. Commencing with Thursday the thermometer started upward and until Tuesday ranged from 85° to 104°. Monday was by one degree the hottest day in Chestertown with the thermometer at 97° in the shade. Sunday registered 96°, Saturday 96° and Friday 95°. Mr. William Stewart states that the thermometer registered 102° at his place on Monday, the highest point ever touched by the mercury at his home to his knowledge. Mr. Josiah Massey states that about 2 o'clock on Monday his thermometer broke all previous records, and only stopped in its upward march when 104° was touched.

Mr. James S. Harris states that the thermometer at his place registered 102°, while Mr. William D. Pennington, states that at his home the almost unprecedented mark of 104° was reached.

The first three days of June this year will go on record at many points as record breakers of June heat.

FATALITIES OF THE HEAT.

Three of the colored men employed at the strawboard mill were overcome by the heat and as a result of drinking too much water on Thursday, and two others were similarly affected on Friday. By careful attention the men all recovered.

Mr. Bedford Roe lost a valuable work horse on Saturday. The animal was being worked and dropped in the corn field overcome by the heat.

Mr. Alick Crew lost a valuable horse on Saturday as a result of the heat.

The reported death on Friday of the valuable stallion Maryland Russell, belonging to Mr. William McKee, we are glad to state, was without foundation.

Mr. Thomas C. Blackiston, living on the Almshouse farm, also lost a work horse as a result of being overheated on Saturday.

Mr. Lemuel Hickman, living on the Mrs. Janvier farm, near Kennard's corner, also lost a valuable farm horse from the heat.

Mr. Dennis J. Nowland lost three fine hogs from the heat on Sunday.

The wife of Richard Dudley, a colored man living about a half mile from Millington, dropped, fatally stricken by the heat on Sunday. The woman was about 35 years of age, and had just returned from church about 5 o'clock P. M., and complained of a pain in her side. It was evident that she was extremely ill and a physician was at once summoned, but before he could reach the patient she was dead.

WHERE IT WAS HOTTEST.

The two hottest places in the country on Friday were Charlotte and Wilmington, N. C., where the maximum temperature was 100 degrees. The highest temperatures at various important points are given as follows: Philadelphia, 96; New York, 94; Boston, 60; Baltimore, 98; Washington, 98; Savannah, 96; Sandusky, 94; Atlanta, 94; Tampa, 84; Albany, 86; Buffalo, 74; Chicago, 96; Eastport, Me. 60; Port Huron, Mich., 94; Cincinnati, 96; Pittsburg, 84; St. Louis, 96; New Orleans, 84; Jacksonville, 92.

In Baltimore, on Monday, there were ten heat prostrations, two of which were fatal.

William Spurrier, a young bicyclist, suffered sunstroke while out riding, and in falling from his wheel struck his head on a stone, causing concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Lizzie Rayon, a very large woman 40 years old died in an hour after being overcome.

Six young women in a large shirt factory fainted from the heat, and another girl whose mind became deranged tried to leap out of a window.

Several factories shut down, the employes being unable to work.

The highest point reached was 97°, only once before in the first half of June has the thermometer ever pushed beyond that figure, and that was on June 9, 1871, when it scored 98°.

Last June there were only two days when the temperature went 95 degrees or above. They were June 23, 97 degrees, and June 24, 98 degrees.

Even July last year had only five days to compare with the present heat, and they were not consecutive. They were; July 12 95 degrees; July 13, 97 degrees; July 20, 97 degrees; July 28, 97 degrees; July 29, 95 degrees. August had no temperatues of 95 degrees or over.

HOT WEATHER HINTS.

Health Commissioner McShane, of Baltimore, gives hints for keeping cool:

First—Let the food be as simple as possible and let it be well cooked.

Second—Use as little of iced drinks as you can and by no means use stimulants.

Third—Avoid excitement of any kind.

Fourth—Keep the head cool, but protected. Use as light a headgear as possible and avoid the direct rays of the sun. The brain must be carefully guarded in hot weather.

Fifth—A bath before retiring will be cooling as well as generally beneficial.

Sixth—To induce sleep let the room be cool, but avoid draughts.

Chester Alliance.—The called meeting of Chester Alliance, was held at Mr. Josiah Massey's, on Thursday afternoon. The subject of harvest and harvest preparations were fully discussed and a barrel of machine oil was ordered through Mr. Joseph Guest, and the members orders for binder twine aggregating nearly a ton was placed with Mr. William Ford. After the business session, Mr. and Mrs. Massey invited the members into the dining room where an abundance of cake and ice cream was served. President Bell presided at both the official and refreshment meeting, and assisted by the worthy secretary, Mr. Isaac Parsons, reflected great credit upon the organization, in the capacity of epicures. The meeting adjourned to meet in special session at the home of Mr. William Ford, on Thursday, June 13, and all members who have ordered twine can get it on that day.

A Chester River Terrapin Farm.—Dr. James Cornell, who last year bought the Piney Point farm, on Chester river, last week returned from a protracted trip through the lower Eastern Shore counties, where he had been for the purpose of securing points relative to terrapin culture. Dr. Cornell is a gentleman of great wealth, and proposes to commence the raising of terrapin on a large scale on the shores of his Chester river farm. He is a wealthy New Yorker who last year bought this Queen Anne's farm of about 600 acres, originally a part of the Hermitage grant. It has a river and creek water front of about five miles and several fine coves for terrapin culture.

POSITIVE CLEARING SALE.

E. W. F. SIMPERS,

Front St., Chestertown, Md., Opposite Stam's Opera House.

1st.—At this season of the year I have too many winter goods on the shelves. They must go. The cut in prices for the next two weeks means our loss and your gain.

2d.—We call special attention to our line of CROCKERYWARE, probably the most complete line, and best assortment in the county. Sets of dishes at moderate cost, and a general assortment of Crockeryware to please most any one.

3d.—HOSIERY, BLANKETS, SHIRTS and GLOVES constitute a very important part of our general stock, and the low prices figure conspicuously. Don't forget this department.

4th.—Best of all—OUR GROCERY DEPARTMENT is now a household word. Everything is kept fresh and clean. Nothing stale goes over our counters, and the wife is always satisfied because it came from E. W. F. Simpers'. The Sugar-Cured Hams are always what you want, Flour in the choicest brands, either by the barrel or sack. The reader knows what a Grocery Department means; it means everything sold in a Grocery store, consequently it is useless to itemize every article. What about the prices? They are all right. Never higher than others, but sometimes a little less. Two weeks later we will have more to say about other lines of goods we are determined to clear out. So keep your eyes open on our advertisement.
