FOR CONGRESS:

JOSHUA W. MILES,

Election, Tuesday, November 3d, 1896.

Marion deK. Smith, Esq.,

will address the Bryan and Sewall Free Silver Club of the second district at Kennedyville, on Wednesday evening, October 14th.

Mr. Smith will address the WORTON CLUB on MONDAY EVENING NEXT on the great issue of Free Silver.

THE Chester Bryan and Sewall Free Silver Club will meet at Rolph's wharf on Saturday evening, when a speaker from Baltimore city will address the club.

"WHEAT'S STEADY RISE" is pleasant reading for the American farmer.

DAVID BENNETT HILL will vote for Bryan and Sewall, and it is expected, the New York State ticket.

IT IS ANNOUNCED that Senator Gorman will take an active part in the present Maryland campaign. He is booked for two speeches in Music Hall, Baltimore, and will speak at some of the Eastern Shore and Western Maryland mass-meetings.

WILLIAM Y. PEROT, Esq., who represents the "Honest (?) Money" contingent of the Baltimore City Democracy (?) is again in Chestertown applying the unctious ointment of consolation to the drooping spirits of the Kent county Honest Money Democrats.

THE Philadelphia Ledger, unquestioned Republican authority, stated on Wednesday that the National Committee had polled the compositors and pressmen of the Chicago morning papers, and found three hundred and seventeen for Bryan and forty-four for McKinley.

A BALTIMORE city gold bug journal, several weeks ago, sent a member of its reportorial staff on a canvasing tour among the factories of the city and State. The report of the canvass was that seven out of every nine factory men are for Bryan and free silver.

IN THE DEATH of Mr. Benjamin F. Beck the county loses one of its most respected citizens, and a man whose death will be profoundly regretted by all who were so fortunate as to know him. Uniformly affable and pleasant to all, he had drawn around him a vast number of devoted friends.

THE MAGNIFICENT OUTPOURING of commercial men to visit Mark Hanna's shadow, alias William McKinley, last week, is, in the light of subsequent developments, not so startling after all. A circular sent out by the Chicago Democratic (?) McKinley club contained the following suggestive clause: "Thransportation and sleeping apartments will be furnished you without cost."

MR. S. M. YEATMAN, a traveling salesman who has always been a Republican, is now on the warpath in favor of silver. He said in Chestertown on Friday that during his travels through Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia for the last thirty days, he has yet to find the first man who was for silver who is now for gold, but he can name to his certain knowledge fifty who were Republicans who will vote for Bryan and Sewall.

THE FOLLOWING is an extract from a letter from the cashier of the Bank of Commerce, of Sheridan, Wyoming, written to a relative in Chestertown under date of Oct. 1st: "I rejoice that the campaign is drawing to a close, as business of all kinds, especially the banking business, is unsettled. The indications point to Mr. Bryan's election, and if he is elected I have no fear that American institutions, American honor, or credit will be injured. In no sense is he a dangerous man. Slowly but surely the political power of the country is passing from the East to the West."

MR. ALLEN MCWHORTER, a staunch Philadelphia Free Silver Republican, spent several days of the present week the guest of Dr. G. Allen Jarman. Mr. McWhorter states that he is a protective tariff Republican, but considers that the subject of free silver is the great overshadowing issue of the present campaign, and believing that the issue as represented by Mr. Bryan represents the greatest good to the great masses of American citizens irrespective of party affiliations, he will cast his vote for the Democratic candidates. "And," said Mr. McWhorter, "there are many more like me in Philadelphia."

VICE-PRESIDENT STEVENSON has spoken in no uncertain way for the ticket headed by William Jennings Bryan. He says: "I am firmly persuaded that in the present contest the interests of all the people are bound up in the success of the Democratic party, whose creed upon the pending vital issue was the living founders of our government. Now, as in the struggles of the past, its appeal is to the judgment, the patriotism, the sense of justice of the American people. Its candidate for the presidency is an able and eloquent statesman whose words have cheered the despondent, given hope and inspiration to his countrymen, and whose inauguration will be the earnest of better days to the republic."

THE Easton Ledger gives the following bit of political speculation as to the First District's next representative in Congress: "Already the campaign arithmeticians are at work figuring on the majority one or the other candidates will receive in the First District. Dr. Barber's friends have thus far been able to give him on paper a majority of 300. State's Attorney Clayland Mullikin figured out Barber's majority like this:

Counties.	Barber's Maj.	Miles' Maj.
Kent	125
Queen Anne's		300
Caroline	100
Talbot	600
Dorchester	500
Somerset	300
Worcester		800
Wicomico		500
Total	1625	1200

Barber's majority. 425.

"Miles' friends can't see it that way and according to Prophet George Washington Wilson, the result will be something like this:

Counties.	Miles' Maj.	Barber's Maj
Kent } Caroline }	.....	50
Queen Anne's	600
Talbot		200
Dorchester		250
Wicomico	700
Worcester	800
Somerset	200
Total	2300	500

Miles' majority, 1,800.

Mr. Miles' majority in the district will reach 3,000.

AS A RESULT of the extreme care of Republican registrars not to register "foreign" Democrats, Kent county's foreign element has been increased to an alarming extent within the past few weeks. Gentlemen who have been lifelong voters in the county, some of them never having missed an opportunity to register and vote in thirty years, have been declared "foreigners" and consequently disfranchised. Messrs. George and James Bell, both of whom have been voters in the State for a number of years, and whose father was a naturalized American citizen before they were out of their teens, find themselves among this ostracised class. Mr. William Kline, who cast a vote in Kent for Buchanan and claims to have voted regularly ever since, because of the fact that he cannot produce his naturalization papers, is also denied the right to be registered. There are other similar cases throughout the county, all of which will be appealed to the circuit court. With regard to the duties of the registry boards in cases of naturalized citizens, the statute says: "No naturalization papers need be produced if a majority of the board are satisfied that, for three years next preceding, the applicant claiming to be naturalized, has been a registered voter in this State, and has actually voted on such previous registration."

THE LOCAL CAMPAIGN.

Henry W. Catlin, Esq., made a strong address to a largely attended meeting of the Worton Bryan and Sewall Free Silver Club on Monday evening. Mr. Catlin spoke in happy strain and held the undivided attention of his audience throughout his speech.

Hon. John Henry Keene, lawyer, author and political economist, of Baltimore, was given a warm reception by a full attendance of the Chestertown Bryan and Sewall Free Silver Club on Tuesday evening. A number were also present from other sections of the county to hear the masterly array of points presented in favor of free silver. Mr. Keene ignored politics and only based his remarks upon the patriotic principle of "the greatest good to the greatest number." The over production theory, so popular with those who endeavor to silence the clamors of the great agricultural masses for better prices, was exploded by cold facts and relentless figures.

The friends of Mr. J. C. Jones, of Lynch's, are urging that gentleman as a representative from that district in the next county commissioner's board. Mr. Jones is a gentleman of character and capacity, and will doubtless prove a factor in the fight should he decide to accede to the wishes of his friends and enter the contest next year.

The registration of white voters up to the hour of going to press, has been surprisingly large; a source of little comfort to those who staked so much upon Democratic apathy in a new registration.

The vigorous, outspoken sentiment of the first district Democracy is something refreshing. Every man is at his post, with an eagerness to work, which is most encouraging

Worton possibly has the honor of the most largely attended and most enthusiastic club meetings held in the county.

An "Honest Money Democratic and Republican meeting" sounds well in Democratic Kent county. Shams are the order of the day with the "Honest Money group" as it has always been with Republican leaders.

The Chester Bryan and Sewall Club of Queen Anne, held a rousing meeting at Crumpton on Saturday night. The attendance was large and Dr. Wallis presided. Robert E. Lee Hall, a member of the Baltimore bar, made an eloquent and convincing speech.

FAIRLEE ITEMS.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT:—The heavy wind storm of last Tuesday night was undoubtedly the heaviest we have experienced this year. There was, however, very little damage done. Some of the houses shook very much during the heaviest of the storm, causing some of the occupants to be very much frightened.

Sickness seems to have entered our neighborhood in full force. Mr. Vincent Lee was taken seriouslay ill about noon to-day. Dr. Dodd was sent for and rendered medical aid. He is now improving but is very sick.

Mr. E. O. Duyer is still very weak but says he is feeling better.

Mrs. George Bramble is quite sick. Mr. John Gardner is also quite sick.

Mr. Spencer Leaverton was reported no better to-day; his condition is very critical.

Mr. R. C. Neugents is again keeping bachelor's hall. His housekeeper, Mrs. Gossuch, has left him and gone to Baltimore to live with her daughter.

Master Oliver Payne has, through Mr. James Skirven, procured a position with the Standard Oil Company, of Baltimore.

A cutting affray took place at Bill Chambers' on last Saturday night while they were holding a festival. This is an ordinary occurrence with the colored people, but this time it was one of the female sex, Hester Robinson, while trying to cut her daughter, accidently cut her mother, who was trying to separate the couple. The act was done through jealousy.

Mr. Dodson, of near Hopewell School, is seeding wheat on his farm near Swan Creek.

Mr. Prettyman, of Philadelphia, will tenant the farm next year.

Miss Sue Ford and Miss Grace Hatcherson are visiting Miss Blanche Smyth.

Miss Lura Lee is visiting her sister, Miss Della. Mrs. S G. Lee is visiting her brother in Washington, who is very sick.

Mrs. John Gibson and three children, are very sick. One of the children is very ill.

Mr. James Fowler is also quite sick.

Mr. James Lewis has purchased of Mr. Rheinhart, the largest cow in the county. She is nearly a thoroughbred Holestein, and will weight as she stands, 1650 lbs. She is a beauty. Mr. Lewis has had some very fine offers made him for her.

Quite a lot of ear corn is being shipped. Farmers report corn turning out very well in this locality. EAST END.

SUSPECTED OF MURDER.

Two Colored Men Answering the Description of the Murderers of John Theophilus Henke, at Burlington, N. J., Arrested at Galena.

Two colored men, exactly answering the description of the supposed murderers of John T. Henke, a German storekeeper of Burlington, New Jersey, were arrested by Constable John F. Voshell, at Galena, on Saturday night.

The murder occurred on the night of August 22d, and circumstances point strongly to Thomas Cromwell and another colored man as the murderers. Cromwell and another colored man were seen by a neighbor of Henke's to leave the store after the hour of closing on the night of the murder. The murdered man was found on the following morning choked to death by a garrote-like arrangement, and with his hands tied behind him and his feet bound. Henke had money and robbery was the motive.

A reward of $500 was offered, and descriptions of the suspected men sent throughout the country, a number reaching Kent county.

Last week two strange men, answering the description with remarkable exactness and having money to spend, put in an appearance at Galena. Mr. Voshell was deputized to make the arrest, and the men were promptly placed in the town lockup, leg-ironed, and Mr. Voshell kept personal guard. Telegrams were at once sent to the Benjamin Franklin Detective Agency of Philadelphia, and Constable Voshell was ordered to hold his men, have their photographs taken and forward them immediately, and await further instructions.

The men stated that they first learned of the murder from reading the offer of a reward and description of the supposed murderers, posted at Chesterville. The man answering to the description of Cromwell and who gave his name as Harry Brown, said that he had been arrested once before for vagrancy, while the taller man, who gave his name as Hughes, and claimed to hail from Virginia, said that he had been arrested for sleeping on the street. Brown had a new six-barrel, self-cocking Harrington and Richardson revolver which he carried exposed in his hip pocket when arrested. Both protested their innocence. Constable Voshell had good photographs taken of the men on Sunday by a local photographer and forwarded them to the Franklin Detective Agency on Monday, and on Monday afternoon received a telegram saying that the men held were not the two wanted by the New Jersey authorities.

The resemblance of the two men in every detail to the published description of Cromwell and his associate, is nothing short of marvelous. The published descriptions were as follows:

"1st.—Thos. Cromwell, colored, about 24 years of age; about 5 ft. 6 or 7 inches in height, 155 lbs. in weight, skin quite dark, hair slightly pompadour in front, but cut much closer in back; small eyes; tosses head and winks with one eye when talking; short, thick neck; smooth face, shaves frequently, but could raise slight mustache, has what are called "razor bumps" on sides of face and under jaws, which would come from using a dull razor and would make the hair grow in; has a dimple, or something resembling one under lower lip, and his chin is inclined to turn up slightly; leans forward slightly and has swinging gait; always has both hands in pantaloons' pockets and is always laughing; has scar on one hand (possibly the right one) caused by a knife having been drawn through the same, starting from the palm, then between 1st and 2d fingers and across the back of the hand; usually wore cheap clothing and is likely to wear a rough, unlaundried, colored shirt. When seen on the night of the murder, he wore a black, slouch hat, crown bent in around the top, and the front and back of the hat turned up. At one time he wore a dark gray sporting cap. He generally wears two pairs of trousers and two shirts; wears leather belt around waist and carries a black-jack and razor. He plays the accordeon and mouth organ, and at one time always carried a mouth organ in his pocket, and is an inveterate tobacco chewer.

"2d.—Man (with Cromwell, also colored,) was taller than Cromwell, had a mustache, wore a brown slouch hat, and when standing had the habit of putting both hands on his hips."

The fellow answering to the description of Cromwell, was seen by a TRANSCRIPT reporter Monday, might easily be 24 years of age, and when measured on Sunday stood 5 feet, 6 inches, weighed 156½ pounds, skin quite dark, hair cut slightly pompadour, small round eyes, tosses his head and winks one eye when talking; short, thick neck, smooth face, has slight dimple under lower lip, leans slightly forward and has swinging gait, stood with both hands in pockets and smiled constantly. A mark on the left hand answered the description, but the man insisted that it was only an unusually deep crease in the flesh of his hand and was not a scar. When arrested he wore a dark cap, two pairs of trousers, two shirts and a sweater, but had no luggage; wore a suspender for a belt, but his only weapon was the pistol already referred to. He had no musical instrument, but bought a mouth organ on Saturday night just prior to his arrest. He is an inveterate tobacco chewer, but when seen by a TRANSCRIPT reporter, (who posed as a detective) in the lockup on Monday, he was smoking a cigarette and stated that he never wanted tobacco if he could get a smoke. In reply to the question whether or not he could make a cigarette, he said that he "could roll one up somehow." He was next asked how Constable Voshell fed them and replied: "He feeds us alright when we can find him."

Man No. 2 was lighter in complexion than his pal, was fully a head taller, had a mustache, but when arrested wore a straw hat. The tally of the men with the description sent out certainly warranted the arrest of the parties and their detention.

They were discharged from custody on Monday evening.
