MANY HAVE wanted to know why so many delegates to and speakers at the recent Mothers Congress, held at Washington, were unmarried women, and several delegates were men? The reason is, that it is an established fact that a woman need not of necessity hav[illegible]

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT:—It is easy to stand off and criticise the acts and conduct of one's neighbors. But however easy or however difficult, at times it becomes a public duty to criticise the conduct of those in public position. When the neglect of duty and evident incompetency of a public officer, is evident and glaring, then he merits public criticism and a just public indignation.

Our whole community has been stirred up as it has seldom ever been before by the outrageous assault committed upon Mrs. Wm. S. Godwin. A lady attacked by a brutal negro on the public road within three miles of Chestertown, on one of the most traveled thoroughfares of the county, is enough to startle the phlegmatic mind, but when we consider that a constable within a few hours of the assault, instead of closely following in the foot tracks of the fleeing villian, is in Chestertown making a public exhibition of the stone with which the assault was committed, we are apt to throw up our hands and exclaim: "Why are you not doing your duty? Why do you not return to the search and stick to it day and night until you have the scoundrel in the hands of justice? Why does not the Sheriff summons a posse, or why does he not have ten, twenty, fifty men, if necessary, immediately on the search, and why does he not keep up the search? Why does he not keep up the search day and night? If he or his assistants are incompetent or know nothing about detective work, why does he not use the wires and send messages for detectives who [illegible] work?"

[illegible] Crew celebrated [illegible] their marriage [illegible] Thursday evening [illegible] nds. The rooms [illegible] decorated with ever- [illegible] potted plants and beautifully [illegible] with pink lights. These gave [illegible] lightful effect to the many handsome costumes. Mrs. Crew was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Alonzo P. Crew, of Baltimore. The culinary department was under the skillful hand of Fairlee's celebrated caterer, and at seven o'clock supper was announced. The guests were led by Mr. and Mrs. Crew to a feast of good things that seemed doubtful at this season of the year, but everything the market could afford was there, and so was the Wesley Chapel preacher. After a blessing and supper, music and parlor games were enjoyed.

The St. Paul's social met on Friday at Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Beck's. About one hundred were present. A grand programme was rendered to the delight of all. The music, under the direction of Prof. Chas. Hurlock, was first-class. At ten o'clock refreshments were served, and we hope to see Jim's majority just as large. HAPS.

KENNEDYVILLE NEWS.

Mr. John Clendaniel, one of our most prominent and successful farmers, died early Monday morning at his home near the village. He had been a sufferer for a little over two years, having been confined to his bed during most of that time.

The deceased moved from Delaware in 1879 to the farm where he since lived until his death. He was in the 66th year of his age and leaves a widow and eight children, three sons and five daughters.

The deceased never united with any church, but long before death accepted Christ, and died with the full hope and blessed assurance of rest in Heaven.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Jesse Shreeve at the late home yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon. Interment at Chester Cemetery. The Pall bearers were: Messrs. Wm. Jones, Henry Jones, George Jones, Tilghman Shafer, W. T. Lane, Isaac Cleaver.

Revival services commenced at the c M. P. Church on Sunday. Rev. J. McLain Brown and Mr. G. Edward Brown are assisting. A deep interest was manifested from the very first service, and up to this time five or six conversions have resulted. The services will continue indefinitely, and a glorious revival is prayfully expected. All invited to attend.

Bible readings are given in the afternoon of each day at three o'clock.

Miss Nellie Barwick was home during a part of the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Shallcross is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bennett.

The entertainment given by the young folks of Grace Presbyterian Church, was a grand sucess. Each part was taken in a highly creditable and complimentary manner by each participant. The church extends thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Emma Shafer and others for their kind assistance. The play will be presented in Crumpton on Wenesday evening March 3rd.

Mr. T. A. Godwin has among his flock of pigeons a carrier bearing the following mark; "T.,5563."

Messrs. Shafer and Davies paid 80 cts, for last month's milk. RIVERA.

Golt's Gleanings.

A Stereoptican exhibition was given in the hall here on Friday evening. One half the proceeds were for the benefit of our minister the other half to be for the exhibitor, Miss Agnes Handry. Quite a good audience was in attendance and the pictures shown were very entertaining and amusing.

Mrs. Smith who has been on the sick list for some time is somewhat better at present.

Mrs. Ella Fretz, of Clayton, Del., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Watson Wharton.

Miss Sallie Thompson, of Green Spring, Del., is the guest of Miss Addie Matthews.

Mr. William Godwin of Millington, Md., is visiting his uncle, Mr. John Rolph.

Mrs. Celeste Schunder, of Delaware city, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Conner, of this place, during the past week.

Mr. Garrison P. Knox, of this place, left here last week to accept a position in Chester, Pa.

Several men have left for Perryman, Md., to work for Mr. G. V. Peverley.

Mr. W. S. Morris has sold out his butcher outfit to M. Jones and Bros. who will soon start in the business in his stead.

The Ladies of the M. E. church will give a lunch party Wednesday evening, Feb. 24, at the residence of Mr. G. T. Matthews for the benefit of the church. W. W.

TOLCHESTER NEWS.

Tolchester's Fair Already on the Tapis.

The fishermen are here and springtime soon will be. We know this by the arrival of the herring. The first of these were caught by J. A. McCleary on Friday. Rock and perch are also here, but our fishermen are not doing so well from the fact that they can't get out to where the fish are supposed to be.

Capt. Stevens says eight hundred yards and no more, and in order to be inside this limit they must put their stakes in the first mud bottom they find, that being the main channel, and their nets are almost daily damaged by steam boats and vessels.

The fair to be held here this fall is the talk of the farmers and horsemen. The book on rules and premiums will in a short time be in the hands of the public. Over three thousand dollars in purses and premiums will be offered, and it is hoped the greater amount will go to the people of Kent and Queen Anne counties.

Our community was thrown into a state of wild excitement and indignation when the news of that dastardly negro's act reached us, and to-day everyone is on the lookout for him.

Well! what has become of all our politicians? Are they like checker players, waiting for the other fellow to move, or are they waiting for the people to have a say? From a Democratic point we think this is the case. But how about our friends on the other side? We hear quite a number mentioned, among them T. H. M. Bramble for the legislature, also Virll W. Kendall. For register of wills,

THE KENT ASSAULT.

The lawlessness and lynchings in the South is a favorite subject of comment in some parts of this country. An eloquent colored woman in a speech before the Congress of Mothers, in Washington, plead against mob violence. But we look in vain for one word of sympathy for the unfortunate white women and girls who are the victims of the lust and ferocity of negro men who are lynched. Mob violence is to be deplored, lynching is wrong, the law should take is course, but as long as negro men commit such crimes as that in Kent county last week, summary vengeance will be taken upon offenders.

The only sure way to prevent mob violence is to cease giving provocations for it. When a man sees his wife or his mother or his daughter brought home in the condition that poor woman in Kent county was brought home, it is throwing words away to talk to him about law and the dignity of justice and the orderly punishment of offenders. When it gets so that a woman cannot go upon the public highway in a civilized and thickly peopled community, when she cannot be left alone at her home during at hour in the day without danger of this kind, then we have gotten back to Indian times, when the settlers were menaced by wild men and wild beasts. Men who commit such crimes are worse than the most ferocious beasts, and the danger is that, in [illegible] they will be treated as such [illegible]—Baltimore Sun.

FAIRLEE NOTES.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT:—Great indignation is felt around our community over the terrible outrage that was committed near here on last Friday morning. Everything is being done to find some clue to the would-be murderer, but as yet he is at large with no clue to his whereabouts

One of the most elaborate affairs of the season was a supper, given by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. W. Crew on Gresham Hall Farm, last Thursday evening. The table was filled with everything that was good and edible. There were about fifty present.

A masquerade and surprise party was given to the little boys of Mr. H. P. Jones on Friday evening by their little school friends. There were about 25 present and all enjoyed a good time.

Mr. Thos. Dowling is very sick at his daughter's, Mrs. Wm. Lee, on the Decourse farm.

Mrs. Wm. Mahlon is also very sick and has been quite a sufferer for some time. She is being attended by Dr. J. H. Hessey.

Mrs. A. L. Corey is also very sick. Her attending physician, Dr. T. H. Cooper, thinks she will be able to be out.

Miss Rachel Biggs returned home to Balto. Wednesday after having spent a pleasant visit with friends in Fairlee and elsewhere. She was accompanied by Miss Minnie Hudson who will spend some time with her in Baltimore.

Mr. L. J. Smyth, of Townsend, Del., visited his sisters, the Misses Minnie and Carrie I. Smyth, on Saturday last.

Miss Minnie Smyth has been quite sick the past week but is much improved at this writing.

Mrs. Lydia Hepbron and children, of Baltimore are visiting their paternal home, at the parsonage.

Miss Nellie Noland, of Crumpton, visited Mrs. George Bramble on Sunday last. EAST END.

—HOW—

To Make Money.

Hundreds Have Done it, and the chance is wide open.

YOU GET PAID BEFORE WE DO.

Since The American's remarkable offer was made several weeks ago thousands upon thousands of subscriptions have been sent in, and each day the number is growing. Those who have made money out of it—young ladies have bought new dresses with their earnings; young men have made it pay handsomely, and several clergymen have not only put a good newspaper into the homes of their congregations, but have put welcome dollars into their own pockets. In several instances churches and Sunday schools and clubs and libraries have been very materially benefitted by this opportunity. This is the offer:

Get five subscriptions to the Twice-A-Week American, price $1.00 per year, making $5.00 in all.

Keep $2.00 for your work.

Send us $3.00, for which we will send to each of the five subscribers the paper postpaid for a whole year. This paper goes to the home twice every week, and gives the news almost as promptly as a daily journal. It is the cheapest newspaper in the world.

We want two million subscribers to this paper, and we are willing to pay you to help us get them.

If you get ten subscriptions you make $4.00; if twenty, you make $8.00; if a hundred, you make $40.00; if two hundred, you make $80.00!

Not less than five papers under this offer sent to any one post-office address.

These subscriptions must come together in lists of five or more. For all over five, keep 40 cents for each subscription. Write plainly; give full postoffice address, and, above all else, be prompt in accepting this offer.

This is the Golden Age.

Send all remittances to.
