By order,

RICHARD D. HYNSON,
TILGHMAN SHAFER,
WILLIAM E. KEYSER,
State Central Committee for Kent County

IT IS PROPOSED TO REGISTER all Delaware troops before they leave the State for the field. The last session of the Legislature made provision for the proper registration of the soldiers.

THE ENDLESS CHAIN NUISANCE has struck Chestertown as it has struck many other places—with a vengeance. Fake chains have in great measure cast discredit upon this at-one-time meritorious method of raising money for meritorious causes.

THE CHESTERTOWN republican statesman and leader who did so much to defeat Mr. Wellington's aspirations for the chairmanship, may yet have to take a sugar-coated but alipathic dose of Wellingtonian politics. The Duke is not dead—not even sleeping.

STATE'S ATTORNEY URIE, during a hot-weather soliloquy, is reported as saying that he will not be a candidate for the State's attorneyship in 1899. How would the Senate suit you, Mr. Urie? Or, indeed, how would a vacation from official duties strike your fancy?

THE EXPRESSION: "Introducing politics into her public school system," seems to strike with an unusual degree of harshness upon the ear of Editor Downham, of the Middletown Transcript. Of course it does. Any "showing up" of republican methods by the democratic press is "amusing." (?)

SPAIN'S ANSWER TO AMERICA'S peace terms raises a number of new questions and is not satisfactory. A lack of power is alleged. Sagasta is reported to have asked that Spain be allowed to keep Porto Rico in return for which the Philippines will be ceded. A sharp note from the president is expected to be sent. Contents of Spain's answer to be given out to day.

THE TOTAL COST OF THE WAR with Spain for the four months commencing with April the first to August first, has been in money actually expended, $83,355,000. This amount does not include the actual cost of maintaining the army and navy on a peace footing, as shown for the corresponding months of last year to have amounted to $33,766,000. This added to the extraordinary or increased expense incident to the war gives a grand total of $117,121,000. It would be an error to assume that these figures actually represent the actual cost of the present war. Will a billion pay the total cost?

A PERPLEXING QUESTION for republican statesmen is in reference to a winning issue in the congressional campaign. The democrats hold that there is ample room for reform even in a war tariff. The democratic idea of economy in the administration of national affairs applies with even greater force to carrying on war than to the scarcely less important affairs of a period of peace. The Talbot county congressman will find that he will not be called upon to confront a stupid and issueless campaign when the proper time arrives. The new republican doctrine of imperialism will also present some interesting points to be answered when the campaign is fairly on.

IT IS NOT TO BE WONDERED AT that the apologist writer of the republican party should recognize in the defeat of Prof. Joseph Peterson for the position of teacher of the Chestertown public school, that the community at large has suffered a serious loss, and that he should disclaim responsibility, seeking to hold the prohibition party chargable. A gentleman of culture, highly educated and having had broad experience, the people of Chestertown felt convinced of the eminent qualifications of Joseph Peterson and presented a strong and representative petition asking that he be appointed. Mr. Peterson, it will be remembered, some years ago assumed charge of the Chestertown school, and his splendid ability as a disciplinarian served him in good part, and from a school notorious for its lack of discipline and inefficiency, he gave to the citizens of Chestertown one of the best public schools in the State.

But the republican apologist says that the petition was signed by the "democratic friends of Prof. Peterson." Can it be possible that this son of immaculate conception would deceive the public by even an insinuation that this petition was only signed by "democratic friends of Prof. Peterson?" Impossible. He simply did not know that that prince of Kent county republicanism, William H. Lambert, Jr., headed this petition and expressed himself as glad at the opportunity to sign, and was followed on the list by Benjamin N. S. Wilkins, a republican justice of the peace. He evidently overlooked the names of Wilbur Eliason, James W. Lambert and D. P. Jones. He had not heard that Captain William D. Burchinal, an ex-Senator by republican election, did not sign the petition of Joseph Peterson because of his absence from home and vigorously declares his defeat as "an outrage." Evidently Col. Wm. J. Vannort, once a republican candidate for Governor of Maryland, did not inform the writer of this recent article that he had sought out the petition and asked to sign it. Are James S. Bradley, Mrs. William H. Brown, Mrs. W. J. Vannort, Mrs. S. A. Hurlock, and nearly one hundred others to be classed as the "democratic" friends of Mr. Peterson?

SPAIN HAS BECOME DISGUSTED, and she is not easy to disgust, either. Independent of her territorial losses the war has already cost her over three hundred and fifty millions of dollars.

PROF. W. L. AMOSS' has arranged to hold his "Round-up Institute" at College Park, on Aug. 24-6. Agriculturists from every section of the State have been invited to attend, and it is proposed to make this one of the largest and most representative meetings of farmers ever held in Maryland. Questions bearing upon every department of agriculture will be exhaustively discussed by gentlemen fully qualified to deal with the subjects under consideration. The Maryland farmer now stands the acknowledged representative of the most intelligent and aggressive members of this great and honorable class of the citizenship of the country. This condition has been reached by persistent and intelligent discussions of the best means and methods to secure the great ends desired. Kent should send a large and representative delegation to the Institute. President Sylvester and Prof. Amoss will extend hearty welcome and the trip will be comparatively inexpensive and thoroughly pleasurable.

QUEEN ANNE'S TROUBLE.

A Shortage of $30,000 Claimed to Have Been Discovered in the County's Finances.

A startling rumor now confronts the tax-payers and county commissioners of Queen Anne. For several months a vague undercurrent has been felt pointing to trouble in the county's financial affairs. The storm has now burst and the reported shortage in the county's accounts is conservatively placed at $30,000. A report from Centreville on Tuesday said:

"The members of the board indignantly deny the existence of an improper deficit; but, for all that, there is a growing public demand for the employment of an expert accountant, who will furnish a full and confirmatory statement.

"The amount of the alleged shortage is about $30,000. Where it has gone no one attempts to explain, nor has there been made any direct charge of misappropriation. However, the public mind is now greatly exercised over the status of affairs, and men influential in both political and business life are resolved to press an investigation to its furthest limit. It is claimed that conditions as they now present themselves disclose either a most unpardonable negligence in the matter of book-keeping or else there are some funds not properly accounted for.

The alleged discovery is reported to be the result of accident. It was occasioned by the overhearing of a remark made by a gentleman more or less close to the county commissioners, which remark directed others to investigate the matter. The chain of investigation starts with the period a few years back, when the board borrowed $25,000 on bonds, then issued with the view of putting the county's affairs on a cash basis. At that time there were outstanding against the county warrants for the payment of money amounting also to about $25,000. It was generally supposed that the fund borrowed on the bonds would be applied to the liquidation of the warrants, and from that date the board would be in a position to meet dollar with dollar as each indebtedness arose. Had that been achieved according to the original plan, then the county's debits and credits should now about balance.

"It is alleged, however, that the commissioners' accounts show a very different and serious condition. It is claimed that there is yet outstanding a swarm of warrants aggregating not $25,000, as at first existed, but about $35,000. It is further claimed that there is to be found nothing of the original fund of the bonded loan with which to meet this debt. The claim also alleges that, while this mass of warrants has been allowed to accummulate rather than diminish, and while the $25,000 borrowed on bonds has presumably been expended, there are no satisfactory tracings as to where it has gone. There is no record in the levy list of any extraordinary expenses requiring an outlay of an extra fund like that. All the disbursements during the past few years have been for the accustomed average of current expenses. There has been no demand of an exceptional character which necessitated having recourse to the $25,000 fund. As a result, the public mind fails to comprehend why the outstanding warrants are now of so large an amount, when the money was obtained in the past to redeem them.

"Further than that, since the new assessment the taxable basis of Queen Annes has been raised fifteen per cent. Before that date, even on the old basis the current expenses of the county were easily payable on a tax levy of ninety five cents on the $100. This year, however, though there be the increase of fifteen per cent. in the taxable basis on which to operate, which at ninety-five should give a net gain in receipts of fifteen per cent., the tax rate has been fixed at $1. Last year it was ninety cents, which was deemed ample to meet expenses. This year shows a raise of over ten per cent. in rate, and yet there exist no extraordinary demands in the way of expenditure to require it. These yearly rates have been regularly levied at a figure sufficiently high to prevent an accumulation of outstanding warrants. Each annual levy should have abundantly met all the current expenses which the county incurred.

"That, it is argued, reduces the whole matter to the first mentioned margin of about $30,000, for which there is no satisfactory accounting. In order to ascertain the exact use made of all the moneys which have passed through the board's hands during the past several years, a popular clamor will be excited, which will force an investigation by a competent expert.

"The board as at present constituted consists of Messrs. John E. George, John F. Godwin and George Dever."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional treatment Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, therefore destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

CAPTS. PHILIP AND EVANS.

Rev. S. Reese Murray Writes to the Baltimore Sun of Some Religious Aspects of the War.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Noticing in your columns of this date the invidious comparison of the conduct of Captains Philip and Evans after the great naval battle of July 3, made by a Pennsylvania paper, one is led to remark upon the wretched indulgence of criticism upon such a point. These marked men of our navy, who, in the discharge of some of the most serious duties of life, have been suddenly lifted up before the strong gaze of the world, have served well both God and their government, and one deserved not to be reprobated and the other commended, so as to be brought into sharp and hateful contrast. The act of Captain Philip in asking his officers and men to give thanks to Almighty God was, taken at that peculiar junction of events, a sublime one, and the religious press and pulpit throughout our land have hailed it as such. But the immediate duty of Captian Evans was, as he says, to sink "that Spanish battleship," and to attend at once thereafter to the "250 dying and wounded prisoners of the Vizcaya," and a duty so splendidly discharged is as much allegiance to God as any formal act of prayer.

I do not think with Captain Evans that Philip's proclamation of his belief in Divine providence was "simply a matter of taste." I look upon it as not only a sincere act of religious faith, but an inspiring example to every American throughout our land. But I am none the less glad to know that Evans himself believes in the God of Heaven, and, as he puts it, "every drop of blood in his body sang thanks and praise to Almighty God for the victory we had won."

Captain Evans has won a distinguished place in the history of his land and is tremendously in the hearts of his countrymen.

Whatever our walks in life, and however we deplore and hate the descent of justifiable anger to profane cursing, we cannot help admiring the man—the intrepid commander, ever ready and swift to act—who has contributed so largely to the respect felt for our naval arm. We wish most heartily that, now his attention has been called so painfully to his profanity, the habit would cease with him; and, moreover, we express the hope—which his own reference in this particular awakens in us—that he will "stand with Captain Philip in the hereafter," in the bliss of the perfected life of heaven.

There has been nothing in this unequal contest of strength with Spain so radiant with moral beauty and so pregnant with hope for the ultimate glory of America as the profound religious trust of our officers and men. There have been deeds of daring, which already have been rehearsed in half-civilized lands; there has been a heroism of silent endurance which captains from foreign regiments have declared unparalleled; but better than all else has been the ever-present characteristic of the Christian life manifest in dependence upon God, in humble acknowledgement of His claims upon the soul, and in a compassion never before exhibited amid the wreck of war in so fine a form and upon so magnificent a scale. If America had nothing else to rejoice in, there would be abundant stimulation in this—that faith in the unseen still triumphs, and God reigns above the clarions and agonies of battle.

Abraham Alexander
Charles Henry Murry, alias Charles Coursey, Georgianna Johnson, William Jonnson, Emory Turner, Charles Turner, Samuel Turner, Frank Turner, Mary Isabel Rasin, Richard Rasin, Mary Carter and William Carter, Buck Bowers,

In the Circuit Court for Kent county, in Equity.

No. 1362.

Amended Bill of Complaint.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Kent county of which William Coursey died seized and possessed.

The bill states that William Coursey (colored), late of Kent county, Maryland, was indebted unto Abraham Alexander in the sum of $62.57, and intending to secure unto him the payment thereof, did by his deed dated March 1st, 1878, convey by way of mortgage unto the said Abraham Alexander, certain real estate situated and being on the north side of the public road leading from Chestertown to Eastern Neck, Kent county, Maryland, in which deed there is a condition that it shall be void if the said William Coursey shall pay on or before the 1st of November, 1878, the said Alexander the sum of $62.57, with interest and all costs thereon.

The bill further states that no part of the said sum of money, or the interest thereon accrued has been paid to the said Alexander, although the time limited for the payment by the condition aforesaid has passed, and payment thereof has been duly demanded from Charles Henry Murray, alias Charles Coursey, and was demanded of William Coursey in his lifetime, but the whole part of said sum remains due and owing to the said Alexander.

And the bill further states that the said William Coursey departed this life, having a last will and testament, by which said last will he devised the said land to his illegitimate son, the said Charles Coursey, alias Charles Henry Murray, and in the event of his dying without legitimate children, then over to said Emory Turner, alias Emory Murray.

And your orator shows that since filing the original Bill of Complaint in this cause, he has discovered that Emory Turner, colored, who lived in Broad Neck, departed this life some 10 or 15 years ago, leaving no widow surviving him, but leaving the following children and heirs-at-law, namely:

Georgianna, Turner, who married William Johnson; Emory Turner, Charles Turner, Samuel Turner and Frank Turner, all of whom are over 21 years of age, and each of whom reside in Kent county, Maryland; a daughter, Mary Isabel Turner, who married Richard Rasin, who resides in the State of Pennsylvania, both of whom are non-residents of the State of Maryland. The said Emory Turner likewise left a daughter, Ellen, who married Buck Bowser, and the said Ellen Bowser has departed this life leaving surviving her the said Buck Bowser, and a daughter, Mary B
