Order of Publication.

James Orr, Margaret K. Orr, his wife, vs.
John Orr.

In the Circuit Court for Kent county, in Equity.

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated in the first district of Kent county.

The bill states that the plaintiff and John Orr are seized as tenants in common in fee of a farm near Millington, Kent county, Md., and that John Orr is a person of unsound mind, and resides in the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, and that it is not possible for him to execute a valid deed, either of partition or of sale of said property.

And the bill further states that it is impossible to divide the said real estate between those entitled without material loss.

And the bill further states that because John Orr is of unsound mind it is impossible to have said property sold or divided without the aid of this honorable court.

And the bill further says that the said John Orr has never been declared non compos mentis, nor has any trustee been appointed for him.

To the end, therefore, that the real estate mentioned in these proceedings be sold and the proceeds distributed to the respective heirs at law,

It is therefore ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county, as a court of equity, this 26th day of July, 1900, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county once in each of four successive weeks before the 27th day of Aug., 1900, giving notice to the non-resident defendant of the object and substance of this bill, and warning him to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 12th day of September next, to answer the premises and show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

Caroline De Ward
vs.
Charles S. Smith, William A. Jones and May C. Jones.

No. 1387.

In the Circuit Court for Kent county, in equity

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated on Cross street, in Chestertown, Maryland, of which Rachel A. Salter, colored, died seized and possessed.

The bill states that Rachel A. Salter, colored, late of Kent county, died, seized and possessed of a house and lot of land which was conveyed to her during her life by Wm. D. Burchinal by deed duly recorded in the clerk's office for Kent county.

And that the said Rachel A. Salter died intestete, and her heirs at law are Caroline De Ward, who is a widow; Mary C. Jones, wife of Wm. A. Jones, both of whom reside in Baltimore city, and Charles S. Smith, who is an assignee of a part interest in said property.

And the bill further states that Rachel A. Salter also had another daughter, Elizabeth, who married a man by the name of George Daniel, who, your oratrix is informed, is now alive, and who is in the penitentiary in the State of Massachusetts.

And the bill further states that the only way in which an equitable division can be made is by sale of said house and lot, and the division of the same under the direction of this honorable court.

To the end therefore that the Real Estate mentioned in these proceedings be sold and the proceeds distributed to the respective heirs at law—

It is therefore ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county, as a Court of Equity, this 7th day of June, 1900, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 31st day of July, giving notice to the non-resident defendant of the object and substance of this bill, and warning him to appear in this court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of August next, to answer the premises and show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

ON THE OLD CAMP GROUND.

Baker's Woods Camp to Open on August 14.

At a meeting held last week it was positively decided to hold a camp meeting on the picturesque old camp meeting grounds known as Baker's Woods, about two miles from Chestertown. The management of the camp proposes to assume all the trouble, leaving nothing for the tenters to do but to move in and move out. They have already arranged for the erection of thirty board tents, two stories high, 12x16 feet, which will be rented at $10 each for the camp. Revs. E. C. Sunfield and J. M. Arters give out the following as governing the encampment:

There will be no tobacco, cigars and soft drinks allowed sold on the ground, and only luncheon shall be sold at the bread stand on Sunday. Those who want this stand must figure with this understanding.

The country people want this meeting and if the town people will enter heartily into it, and all work together, it will prove a great and lasting good to the churches and the unsaved will be brought to Jesus Christ.

All desiring tents will apply to pastors Arters and Sunfield by Wednesday, August 1st.

There will be two boarding tents on the ground with ample room for all who desire board.

About twenty tents have been engaged already, and there can be no doubt of the success of the project. The grove is beautiful and will be thoroughly cleaned up and put in good condition, with pumps and refreshing water, lamps to light your way, officers to keep good order, heart songs to thrill your soul, and excellent preaching to feed your spiritual nature.

Now, if you want it, come.

SHOOT AT TOLCHESTER.

Annual Mid-Summer Tourney of Crack Shots.

About fifteen Baltimore shooters arrived at Tolchester on Wednesday to take part in the annual shooting tourney.

"Mr. J. A. R. Elliott was the only shooter from a distance to participate in the sport. The grounds had been neatly laid out for the occasion. The programme for the three days' shooting was:

Wednesday—Nine events, at 15 targets each, $1.50 entrance; 10 pair of doubles, entrance, $1.50; three-man team race, 25 targets, $6 per team.

"Thursday—Live Birds—Event No. 1, miss and out, 30 yards, entrance $2; event No. 2, miss and out, 30 yards, entrance $2; entrance, No. 3, miss and out, 26 yards, use of one barrel, entrance $2; event No. 3, seven birds, 28 yards, use of one barrel, three high guns, birds included, entrance $5; event No. 5, miss and out, 30 yards, entrance $2; event No. 6, miss and out, 30 yards, entrance $2; event No. 7, 10 birds, handicap, from 25 to 31 yards, three high guns, birds included, entrance $7.

Friday—Eight events, at 15 targets each, $1.50 entrance; merchandise event, 50 targets, 10 high guns, entrance price of targets; 10 pair of doubles, entrance $1 50.

In the merchandise event the prizes were as follows: First, sole-leather gun case; second, 10 pounds Drum smokeless powder; third, 200 loaded shells; fourth, two bags of shot; fifth, 5 pounds smokeless powder; sixth, 100 loaded shells; seventh, box of cigars; eight, fine steel fishing rod; tenth, pocket knife and hand protector.

COMPARISON INCENSED HIM.

The Statement that Queen Anne Negroes Are Unaccommodating Caused Him to Shoot.

Dr. W. Frank Hines was called early Sunday morning to attend Emma Allen, a colored woman who lives and cooks in the family of Mr. Henry M. Anderson, in Queen Anne, about two miles from Chester bridge. William Jones, colored, works for Mr. Anderson, and on Sunday morning the woman asked him to help her milk the cows. The man refused, whereupon the cook, who is from Virginia, said, "Yes, it's just like you Queen Anne negroes to be unaccommodating." This unfriendly comparison of Queen Anne negroes, it is supposed incensed the negro, for he at once secured his pistol and opened fire at short range upon the defenseless cook. She took refuge behind a stove in the kitchen, but one of the three balls fired took effect in her back. Jones then turned and fired three shots at the woman's husband but none of them took effect. Dr. Hines located a ball in the muscles of the woman's back but did not remove it.

Jones was caught several hours after the shooting and lodged in Centreville jail. The man makes no denial of the shooting, but refuses to assign any reason for his desperate attack upon the woman and her husband.

SHOT NEIGHBOR'S HORSE.

The Brutal Act of Tom Buckner Because Horse Nipped His Corn.

An unusual shooting occurred at Worton Point, on Friday last. Benjamin Lively, colored, owns what was considered the speediest trotter to be met with at the trots on the local track. There are other colored citizens who claim to have "good ones" but Lively says he had refused $125 for this mare and that she could spin off a mile in three minutes with ease, a feat not accomplished by any of the other local flyers.

The mare was on pasture in the field of Mr. Reynolds, and bordering upon this pasture was the corn crop of Tom Buckner, also a colored citizen of the Point. The Lively trotter coveted the juicy blades of the Buckner corn field, and as only two poorly placed wires were in the way, proceed, it is claimed, on sundry occasions to reach through the fence and nip the blades. This enraged Buckner, and armed with a shotgun and breathing out such threats of vengeance as can only be found or heard among the colored sportsmen on Worton Point, the man went out, and at a distance of twenty-five yards deliberately fired a load of shot into the neck of Lively's mare. The poor brute fell with its neck horribly lacerated, a portion of the load having passed entirely through.

Buckner was arrested and given a hearing before Justice Russell, on Tuesday. He denied having fired the shot, but there were witnesses who heard him get the gun, heard him say that he had shot the mare and had heard him make threats.

The man was fined $10 and costs, and will be called upon to defend a suit in damages for having injured the Worton Point trotters' money-producing qualities.

Dr. Jarman thinks the mare will recover.

Church Notes.

"Hear Ye Him" will be the text at the Presbyterian churches, on Sunday, July 29th, at 3 P. M., at Kennedyville, and 8 P. M. at Worton.

Grace Presbyterian Church has been improved with new door sill, steps and walk, which have all been painted. New oak wood collection plates have been purchased for Worton Presbyterian Church. They will hold a large collection—come and try them. They will soon be here.

Rev. J. A. Arters, of Cecilton, will preach at the Chestertown M. E. Church to-morrow, both morning and evening.

Rev. Paul Strayer, of Baltimore, preached in St. Paul Cathedral, London, last week before a great temperance demonstration at the World's Convention of the Y. P. S. C. E.

Revs. E. C. Sunfield, J. M. Arters and Miss Anna G. Lambert, Third District officers, conducted Epworth League services at Bond Chapel, Pomona, last Thursday at 8 o'clock P. M., under the auspices of the literary committee.

Fairlee W. C. T. U. held a very interesting meeting on Saturday, June 30th, at the residence of Mr. Morris Bramble. The program on "Equal Suffrage" was rendered, and election of officers held, which resulted in the election of Mrs. Minnie Bramble as president, Miss Carrie B. Smyth as secretary and Mrs. L. J. Legg as treasurer. They will hold their regular monthly meeting to-day at the residence of the president at 3 o'clock.

THE TOLCHESTER FAIR.

The Outlook Bright for Exhibits and the General Programme.

Supt. George E. Noland is gratified at the outlook for the Kent and Queen Anne fair. Inquiries are coming in and the outlook is that all departments will be filled with exhibits.

Improvements will be made wherever needed, insuring increased accommodations for exhibitors and exhibits. The race programme will include many of the finest horses in the State and as usual will be one of the most interesting features of the big fair.

The ladies of both Kent and Queen Anne are showing an increased interest in the department of domestic articles and it is expected that the ladies will make the finest showing ever seen at a local fair. The premiums are substantial, and in addition to the commendable pride which every housewife feels in the excellence of her work, the money value of the premiums is no mean consideration. At each annual fair the ladies have secured many of the choicest premiums.

The poultry exhibit this year should, and doubtless will appeal with increased emphasis to all lovers of fine poultry. This has each year been one of the most popular departments of the fair and it is expected that the local exhibits will be greatly increased. As usual the farmers are preparing for a fine representation in the line of stock, grain and cereals.

All evidences point to a successful fair in every respect and Supt. Noland is making his arrangements accordingly.

OBITUARY.

MRS. THOMAS W. RINGGOLD.

Mrs. Mary Cruikshank Ringgold, relict of the late Thomas W. Ringgold, died at the home of her son-in-law, Rev. Chris. T. Denroche, at Fairlee, on Monday morning, in the eighty-first year of her age. The cause of death was a general giving way of the constitution after an active and useful life. Thomas W. Ringgold, the husband of the deceased was the owner of the fine property on Chester river known as Napley, now owned by Mr. Allen Harris, and it was there that he died.

Mrs. Ringgold was a daughter of James and Ann Cruikshank, and was born on what is now the "Almshouse farm." The following children survive her: Mrs. C. T. Denroche, Mrs. R. Sterling Jones, Mrs. Smith, Miss —. —. Ringgold, Thomas W. and James C. Ringgold. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. C. T. Denroche; interment at St. Pauls. The pall bearers were George Beck, Thomas W. Skirven, George Bell, James Bell, Walter B. Strong and J. Thomas Blackiston. Undertaker John N. Dodd had charge of funeral arrangements.

JOHN A. C. HANCE.

Mr. John A. C. Hance, of Calvert county, died at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Beck, Queen street, on Saturday evening. Mr. Hance went to Baltimore for treatment for a complicated throat trouble some weeks ago, but received but little relief. Two weeks ago he came on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Beck, but gradually grew worse and the end came Saturday night. Funeral services were held at Mr. Beck's residence, conducted by Dr. H. B. Martin, of Emmanuel P. E. Church. Interment was made in Chester cemetery but the remains will be removed to Calvert county in the fall. The bearers were: James G. Beck, Horace B. Constable, Joseph Brice, John Toulson, Samuel and Turbert Greenwood. J. N. Dodd, funeral director.

SAMUEL J. HILL.

Mr. Samuel J. Hill, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Kent, died at his home near Locust Grove, on Monday afternoon. Mr. Hill's age was about seventy-five years. His life was filled with busy devotion to his chosen profession, that of an agriculturist. He was an aggressive and successful farmer, always growing fine crops which were harvested in proper season and commanded the highest market price.

He came from Odessa, Delaware, to Kent county, about 1858, moving into the home in which his last hours were spent. He was a carpenter by trade but after coming to Kent devoted his every effort to his large farming interests. A man of strong convictions, no one was ever left long in doubt as to his position on any subject. His friendships were deep, and his feelings sympathetic and warm toward the poor or distressed. A rule of his business life was that his word should be as good as his bond, and a strict adherence to this principle gained for Mr. Hill the confidence and respect of all with whom he came in contact. Several years ago his wife died. This shock was scarcely greater to the devoted husband than was the brutal murder of his son, Dr. J. Heighe Hill, on the public road near Millington, in April of 1892.

The harrowing details of his son's murder had a crushing effect upon Mr. Hill, and from that time signs of age and feebleness manifested themselves. Little J. Highe Hill, who was only a few months old when her father was killed, became the idol of her aged grandparent, and with her mother, who became as a daughter in gentle devotion and love, spent every summer at his home near Locust Grove. They were there when the dread summons came, and with a beautiful devotion smoothed the pathway to "The Great Beyond." Mrs. George M. Beaston, the only daughter living, made her home with her father, and with that gentle love and unselfishness which only a devoted daughter knows, during the months of feeble health ministered to her father's pleasures and necessities. Death was the result of a general giving way of the constitution. The children surviving are: Mrs. George M. Beaston, Charles S. and Walter Hill.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon. Interment in Shrewsbury cemetery.

Mr. Hill was an uncle of Mr. Victor Hendrickson.
