THEY SAW BRYAN.

Kent Countians Help Swell The Great Crowd at Dover.

A MAGNIFICENT RECEPTION.

To say that Mr. Bryan's reception throughout Maryland and Delaware was a magnificent outburst of enthusiasm, is to put the matter mildly. His tour was the triumphal march of a popular hero. In a great burst of popular enthusiasm Mr. Bryan was received in every section of the two States.

Hundreds of persons in Kent were anxious to see and hear the popular champion of the people. At the last minute this opportunity was given by Messrs. Turner & Boyles, of Worton, who on Wednesday ran an excursion to Dover over the Baltimore & Delaware Bay Railroad. Two passenger coaches were literally packed with Kent countians, and had it been possible to properly advertise the fact that the trip would be made it is probable that one thousand persons from Kent would have gone. All who heard Mr. Bryan's speech of one hour were delighted. Among the visitors were a number of republicans.

Washington College sent a delegation of about twenty-five, President C. W. Reid being of the number. Because of the great rush (estimated at about 8000 people) but few of the Kent countians were able to shake hands with the destinguished visitor. Mr. Hynson Rogers was one of the few who did, and says that he literally ran Mr. Bryan down as he drove away in his carriage and shook his hand.

Among those who went to Dover from Kent were the following gentlemen:

Chestertown—Turbert Greenwood, J. R. Rollison, Foster Cannon, Warren Hurlock, Dr. Hessey, Robert M. Moore, Dr. Harry Simpers, Frank C. Kirk, Dudley G. Roe, Fred B. Noble, J. Turner Baden, Geo. W. Powell, Richard H. Rogers, L. B. Smith, Herman R. Insley, Geo. R. Biddle, Ernest Raser, D. G. Anderson, J. Garfield Moore, Geo. B. Twilley, Dr. Wm. S. Twilley, Geo. W. Smith, Jos. N. Wheatley, Ray Bowers, Jas. Newnam, Robt. Moffett, George Hatcherson, Milton Baker, Dr. Jarman, Elwood Whaley, Theodore Hayes, Geo. D. Lofland, Robert N. Boston, Joseph Massey and Mr. Massey.

Worton—Elwood Morris, Frank Clark, Spencer Biddle, George Biddle, George Dunn, Joel Dunn, Guy Turner, A. S. Turner, Charles Boyles, W. Morris, Marcus Ascher, Noble Gears, Wm. Carroll, Samuel Lee, Wm. Plummer, M. M. Rasin, Samuel Newcomb, Joseph French, W. B. Willis, George French, C. H. Crew, Rev. J. B. Merritt, Jesse Usilton, W. J. Tarbutton, W. S. Tarbutton, J. W. Lewis, Geo. Copper, Aug. Money, J. P. Sutton.

Lynchs—Dr. Maxwell, James Mathewes, W. Edwards, Tilden Cooper.

Blacks—Bedford Roe, Samuel Merritt, Lewis Grantland, Andrew Medders, Geo. Sutton, Spence Sutton, Thos. Pierce, Mr. Hudson, Herbert Chrisfield, W. M. Roe, Harry Kelley, Miss Etta Clinsfield, Miss Nanie Chrisfield, Wm. Dukes.

Lambsons—Samuel Todd, Henry Parr, Mr. Marks, Wm. Ford, John Quinn, Ned Waters, George Walls.

Massey—Frank P. Cochran, Jack Cochran.

It is estimated that 20,000 people stood in a drenching rain in Baltimore to hear Mr. Bryan. Tens of Thousands of others saw or heard him. Mr. Bryan said: "It was a magnificent meeting, a splendid audience."

He came into Maryland from Washington on Tuesday morning. The crowd at Frederick was the largest ever seen in the county, numbering about 20,000. Between one and two thousand horsemen formed an escort. At Westminister 10,000 people welcomed Mr. Bryan, at Rockville 2000, and many other places along the route turned out thousands to welcome the Bryan party, in spite of the rain.

By Chestertown Talent.—Messrs. Miller Maslin, Earle Barnes and John Nelson, will present an unique program at an entertainment which they propose to give at Betterton. The boys, all of them well-known in Chestertown, are the authors of the different selections, and promise a clean, up-to-date entertainment. The announcement of the ambitions of the young men came as a surprise to their friends as no one suspected that any of them aspired to honors on the stage.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Boulden Sentenced to Twenty-One Years in the Penitentiary—"A Very Fortunate Man" Says the Court.

Harry A. Boulden, convicted last week of carnal knowledge of his daughter, was yesterday sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary by Judge Stump. Boulden protested his innocense when brought into court to receive sentence. Judge Stump assured him that he was fortunate in having had a jury, declaring that had he come before the court his neck would have been stretched. Boulden showed but litte nervousness, and is said to have expressed himself as more than pleased with the verdict, as he had expected to "hang." The jurors in this case were allowed double pay for their arduous services.

The case against Harry B. Boulden occupied the court on Saturday. At the adjournment of court the jury was placed in charge of Court Bailiff J. Evan Thomas, and spent Saturday and Sunday night at the Voshell House. On Sunday morning they attended services at Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church. At night they heard Rev. E. C. Sunfield at the Methodist Episcopal Church. The jurors made the best of an unpleasant service and succeeded in getting considerable fun out of their peculiar surroundings. Mr. H. M. Brown and Mr. Willis, with their inexhaustable fund of laugh-provoking jokes kept the time from becoming unbearable.

MONDAY.

Senators John S. Wirt and Austin L. Crothers, made the principal speeches for their respective sides in the Boulden case. Mr. Crothers closed the speaking at 1.15 P. M., and the jury at once retired.

Bottomly vs. State was a case in which John A. Bottomly was charged with resisting arrest by Town Bailiff Harris, of Millington. Case dismissed by court. R. D. Hynson for Bottomly; Urie for State.

Johnson vs. State. Johnson, a negro, was charged with assault upon Constable W. T. Wood, of Galena, while making an arrest. At this point the grand jury brought in presentments against Joseph Robinson, for assault upon Officer Simpson, of Chestertown; Elwood Stevens, Merritt Spry, Clifton Spry, Charles Spry and George Ford, riotous conduct at Chesterville; true bills against George Smith, Frank Schoener (2 cases), Emory Sewell, George Johnson (2 cases), all charged with violating local option law. John R. Besowski, William Camp and Orville Stevens, purse-netfishing.

At the evening session the case of Alice J. Wilson vs. Joseph Riley was argued before the court. Barroll for Willson, M. deK. Smith for Charles T. Westcott, the real defendant in the case.

In the case of Johnson for assault, the court declared the accused guilty and sentenced him to ten days in jail.

TUESDAY.

Carvossa Willis vs. State. Appeal from Justice France. Mr. Willis was charged with disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and reckless driving through the streets of Chestertown.

At 11 o'clock, after having passed the night in the court house, the Boulden jury came into court. The verdict was, not guilty of rape but guilty of carnal knowledge, with a recommendation of mercy by the court. The penalty for the first count in the indictment was hanging. The penalty in the second count is imprisonment in the penitentiary for from one to twenty-five years. The court congratulated the jury in the highest terms upon its strict observance of every legal requirement in the case, and their unwavering adherence to duty.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty of disorderly conduct only, in the case against Carvossa Willis and he was fined one dollar and costs.

J. Thomas Lamb was found guilty of violating the local option law in selling whiskey. Sentence, to pay $500, or 12 months in the House of Correction.

State vs. George Baynard, charged with breaking into and robbing the store of Thomas S. Wickes. Urie for State, W. W. Beck for Baynard. Jury trial—verdict, not guilty.

State vs. Capt. Schoener, charged with selling beer from a yacht, off Betterton. It was proven that the sale took place on the waters of the bay and not within the jurisdiction of Kent county Urie for State, H. H. Barroll for Schoener. Schoener was fined $50 for selling without a license. Jury trial.

In the cases against Langdon, McKenna and St. Clair, charged with stealing a dressing case and clothing from the restaurant of J. C. Loud, Langdon plead guilty and was sentenced to 18 month in the penitentary. McKenna and St. Clair were acquitted. E. F. Perkins for Langdon, M. deK. Smith and Beck for McKenna and St. Clair.

WEDNESDAY.

Edward Williams was convicted of stealing razors, a guitar and other goods from the barber shop of G. W. Brown, colored, Chestertown, and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Vickers for Williams.

George W. Brown was convicted of selling whiskey in two cases. Sentenced to 12 months in the House of Correction.

State against Jesse K. Jester, charged with assaulting his brother, William Jester, with intent to kill. Jury trial. Verdict not guilty. R. D. Hynson for Jester. The William Jester case was carried over to next term.

THURSDAY.

State vs. Simeon Floyd, charged with stealing a watch. M. deK. Smith for Floyd. Jury trial—verdict guilty. Sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Daniel Brown, colored, was convicted of stealing a pair of shoes from F. H. Harper and Son. Court trial—verdict guilty. Sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

State vs. Richard Robinson, for selling whiskey. Jury trial—verdict guilty. R. D. Hynson for Robinson. Sentence, to pay $500, or 12 months in the House of Correction.

Emory Sewell was acquitted on the charge of selling whiskey. The case of Samuel Dorman, charged with cruelty to animals and with assault, was the case from Morgnec. It was shown that the shooting of the horse was accidental, but Dorman was convicted of common assault and sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction.

William Waters, colored, was convicted in two cases with violating the local option law, and fined $300 in each case or serve twelve months in the House of Correction. Hynson and Beck for Waters. Trial before the court.

State vs. "Dutch" Smith, charged with selling whiskey. Verdict not guilty.

FRIDAY.

State vs Whitely Johnson. R. H. Carey charged Johnson with assault. Jury trial, not guilty.

The evidence in the Chesterville riot cases was finished yesterday afternoon and last night's session was taken up in argument. H. W. Vickers represented the defense.

COURT LOCALS.

Two witnesses in attendance upon the present session of court, walked from near Coleman's and returned each evening, a distance of about twenty miles for the round trip.

It is jokingly told of Mr. J. C. Jones, of near Lynchs, who was on the Boulden jury for five days, and next to J. Biddle Hossinger and J. Page Gale, has served on more juries during this session of court than any other juror, that he has made a clear gain of nine pounds in weight. This excellent juror is certainly none the worse for his continuous jury service.

Mr. Hiram M. Brown, a juror in the Boulden case, kept an accurate record of the testimony of the different witnesses. This was an unusual proceeding, but Mr Brown received the thanks of his associates for his timely wisdom in this case.

J. H. Ballon, of Baltimore, the first negro lawyer who ever practiced in the Kent county court, argued a case in chancery at the night session on Wednesday.

The case in which St. Clair was charged with stealing the dressing case and clothing of Mr. Clifton Jarrell, was a record breaker. It required the court just about thirty seconds to dispose of it.

The Elkton correspondent of the Baltimore Herald has this to say of the Boulden verdict, in the Herald of Wednesday: "The verdict in the Harry Boulden case, which has been on trial before a jury in the Kent county court, was received in Elkton today with great satisfaction, and the citizens of this county will now be rid of one of the worst desperadoes ever in this county."

Mr. Charles H. Hurlock has acted as one of the bailiffs to the court during the present session of court.

Bailiff J. Evan Thomas was in charge of the Boulden jury during the five day trial.

It came out in the course of a trial at the present term of court that one section of Santiago, the negro suburb of Chestertown, is known as Hell's Delight; another section is Prospect,—appropriate namings.

A WORK OF ART.

A Fine Painting in Which The Transcript is a Conspicuous Figure.

A picture has been on exhibition at Stam's drug store this week which has attracted much attention and has been pronounced by every one who has seen it, a work of art. The picture is in oil and was painted by Mrs. Claude H. Schuyler, of Betterton. The subject represents a quantity of beautiful strawberries, which were grown on Stoneton Manor, the artist's ancestral home, near Betterton, and where her brother, Mr. C. H. Price, now lives. The fruit in Mrs. Schuyler's beautiful picture had been carelessly heaped in a TRANSCRIPT of the issue of June 9, 1900, and lay in a tempting mass. The name, style of type and the entire representation of the paper and fruit are artistic in execution and perfect in detail. Charles Wilson Peale, and Rosalie Mitchell Schuyler, are the only native born Kent county artists, both of whom belonged to the alumni of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, one of the greatest art centers in the world. Mrs. Schuyler's native county is naturally proud of her merited success. She has recently sold two water-color portraits at Newark, Delaware; two to a lady of Still Pond, one oil painting, a basket of Kent county blossoms to a party in Philadelphia, twelve water-colors of Betterton views to summer tourists this season, and is about to ship to Boston a large tapestry painting of Italian figures, purchased for drawing-room decoration in that city. She is now painting another large tapestry 36x48, which is ordered by a Philadelphia art-lover.

Mr. Claude H. Schuyler, has recently been in Williamsburg, Virginia, painting portraits of the Galt family, and one portrait of President Ewell, late of King William and Mary College, of Williamsburg. A painting in oil of the old Barton Episcopal church, in this same historic Virginia town will be exhibited later in Chestertown.

Mrs. Schuyler's sketches and paintings at her studio, Hawthorne Place, Betterton, are always gladly exhibited to her friends and lovers of art.

JOHN BRICE DEAD.

Passes Away After a Lingering Illness.

John Brice, prominent citizen and successful farmer and fruit grower, passed quietly away at his home on Queen Street, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Brice was in the 72nd. year of his age. For a year past he had shown signs of physical weakness and about six months ago stomach trouble developed which resulted in his death after great suffering. His splendid physical development and wonderful vitality enabled him to withstand the inroads of disease long after all hope of his recovery was finally abandoned by his family. Mr. Brice was a son of Joseph Brice, and was born near I. B. about seven miles from Church Hill, in Queen Anne county. He came to Kent county in 1854 and engaged in farming on the farm below Fairlee, now owned by Mr. William E. Keyser. In 1857 he moved to the Constable farm known as the Forest Farm, where Mr. George Bell now lives; in 1865 he moved to the fine property known as Fancy, where Mr. William T. Nicholson lives, and in 1867 moved back to the Forest Farm, where he lived until he moved to the fine Hudson farm of 300 acres, at Lankford, in 1871, and which he four years later purchased. It was on this farm that he became one of the most successful peach growers in the State, and was an acknowledged authority upon peach culture. As a fruit grower he reaped large profits, and his splendid farm became one of the most valuable in the county. He at one time refused an offer of $30,000 cash for the property.

He also became a factor in Democratic politics in Kent, and was prominent in every campaign whether local, State or National. An aggressive political fighter, he was recognized by the opposition as a force always to be reckoned with. Of a genial, happy nature, he was popular and had a wide circle of personal and political friends.

He was an assessor for Kent in 1876, was sent to the Legislature in 1887, and in 1896 became the democratic or minority representative on the Kent county board of election supervisors by appointment of Governor Lowndes. He was appointed a member of the present board of election supervisors, and was chosen president of that body.

His first wife was Miss Annie Ford, daughter of Mr. George B. Ford. By this marriage he leaves the following children: W. Tilden Brice, John Brice, Mrs. James L. Beck, Mrs. Frederick Fountain, Mrs. C. W. Whaland, Miss Nannie Brice, Mrs. John D. Welch, and Miss Annie Brice. His second wife was Mrs. Elizabeth Beck, widow of the late John Beck.

Funeral services will be held at the residence on Queen street, at 1 o'clock P. M. to-morrow (Sunday). Dr. Henry B. Martin, rector of Emmanuel P.E. Church, conducting the service. Interment will be made at St. Pauls.

Mr. Brice selected the following bearers: Wm. B. Usilton, Chas. T. Westcott, Geo. B. Westcott, R. D. Hynson, J. B. Burchinal, Josiah Massey. Undertaker John N. Dodd had the arrangements in charge.

MRS. EMILY LOUISE HOWARD.

Mrs. Emily Louise Howard, wife of Mr. John F. Howard, died at her home on High street, at 8 o'clock, on Wednesday night, in the sixtieth year of her age. Mrs. Howard was stricken with paralysis last week, from which she never rallied. She was a member of Christ M. P Church, and her life was marked by a sincerity and lovable disposition of character which won all with whom she came in contact. She was before marriage Miss Emily Louise Lusby, daughter of the late Charles T. Lusby.

A husband, and one son, William Howard, survive her. The funeral took place at her home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. John M. Gill conducting the service. Interment in Chester cemetery. The bearers were: James W. Chapman, Samuel Todd, J. W. Lambert, S. Frank Smith, T. Waters Russell, George. W. Hatcherson. John N. Dodd funeral director.

MRS. WILLIAM KEATING.

Mrs. William Keating died at her home in Rock Hall, last week. She was a daughter of Mrs. Amanda Garrett, of Chestertown, and was interred in Chester cemetery. She was a member of the order Patriotic Daughters of America, and the members of the order attended the funeral services in a body. A correspondent from Rock Hall pays this beautiful tribute to the deceased: "Her noble christian character and unselfish disposition made her the first attendant among the sick in this section of the county, and it will be a long time before some one can be found possessing all the qualities which are necessary to make a success of nursing the sick. The deceased was a consistent member of Rock Hall M. E. Church and was very active in the spiritual work of the church."
