GEO. W. SMITH,

Eliason Building, - - Chestertown, Maryland.

FROM CHESTERVILLE.

There are very few peach orchards in our community. Mr. J. W. Jarman, Mr. Wesley Davis, on Mr. W. E. Jarrell's farm, near Mill Branch, and Mr. Irving Hurlock are the only parties who cultivate that delicious fruit, and who were shippers.

We have heard a good deal of talk about the failure of the tomato crop, but certainly, a great many have been hauled through our village, and for those who did not contract with the canners, they have proven a big bonanza—sort of a Klondike gold region. We learn they are bringing 30 to 35 cents per basket, which is about $225 or $230 per acre, with a fair yield.

With the cutting off of corn, preparing the land for seeding, hauling of phosphate, farmers are busy as bees. Next in line the husking and then—why, after that is done and having realized good prices, they can sit down by their firesides and smoke their pipes in peace.

Rev. I. Ryder commenced protracted services here last Sunday week. He would be happy, a faithful worker that he is, to see more visible fruits of his earnest appeals. A good and zealous man has said, "Good counsel rejected returns to enrich the bosom of the giver, and though it may not mend others, it will surely lift ourselves higher—nothing is lost."

Miss Ethel M. Solloway is getting on finely with her school, and enjoys the high regard of her pupils whom she faithfully instructs. The school-house grounds have been ploughed, harrowed and sown down in grass. To use the language of one of your esteemed townsmen, "'tis certainly a wonderful improvement." The house has received some little repair, and will soon have more extensive ones. Mr. Thos. Bennett spent a good deal of time and labor in accomplishment of the improvements, however, alluded to.

Mrs. J. W. Mann, after a week's pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. E. A. Crittenden, has returned to her home in Newark, Del. She reports that Mr. Comegys Mann, her father-in-law, is in enjoyment of excellent health, though far advanced in years. He was at one time one of the most widely known men in this county, and will be pleased to see at his home near Wilmington, any of his old friends with whom he has spent many hours in social converse sweet "in days of 'auld lang syne.'" His two surviving sons are Mr. Samuel Mann, a prosperous farmer near Lynchs, and Mr. J. W. Mann, a telegraph operator at Newark, who by his native ability, steadfast habits and strict attention to business, now occupies one of the most responsible positions on the P., W. & B. Road. His services should be duly appreciated and amply rewarded.

Mrs. Chas. Cole, with several of her family, is quite sick. Samuel, who has been in Wilmington for several years, returned here in a low state of health, but under Dr. Sheppard's skillful treatment he is much better, and assists his brother Charles in working the farm.

Mr. Robt. E. Walmsley's little girl has about recovered from her attack of scarlet fever, which we are glad to state extended no farther.

With the nearing approach to the closing of the year, it is rumored that there will be many changes. Our worthy neighbor, Mr. W. F. Melvin, will be greatly missed in our community, where he is deservedly held in high esteem. He goes on his farm in Morgnec. We are not advised positively of many more.

Mr. H. W. Anthony, who has been engaged for several years in the milling business near Galena, has rented Mr. George Harrison's farm, now tenanted by Mr. E. N. White.

We were pleased to greet to-day two of your young and hustling townsmen, Messrs. E. Parsons Beck and his brother, J. Gale Beck. May success ever attend them.

Mrs. B. J. Coppage has bought a house and lot in Rock Hall. Mr. Dan'l Clements, Jr., will, we hear, carry on the farm which she vacates.

OCCASIONAL.

CLIFF CITY ITEMS.

A Prominent Fruit and Oyster Shipping Point on the Chester.

However strange it may appear, when the wharf at Cliff City was first spoken of as a possibility, there were prominent farmers who opposed it. Since that time Cliff City wharf has become one of the important shipping points on the river. During the oyster season oyster shipments of from one hundred to two hundred bushels per day have been made, and fruit shipments have averaged from twelve hundred to fifteen hundred packages per day. Fifty baskets of peaches was the shipment of last Saturday. Though the Keiffer pear crop is not full, yet there is a quantity of fine fruit in the Neck.

A Typical South American Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctors advice is almost out of the question. Whithin one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty, of these, within the past 12 months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlains Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by M. A. Toulson.

MILLINGTON MATTERS.

Little Folk Make a Beautiful Appeal For Temperance.

The Y. W. C. T. U. had charge of the services at Asbury Church Sunday evening of last week. Mrs Henry Tonkin, the local president, had the meeting in charge and a well-gotten up program was rendered to a large audience. Several recitations, all on temperence, were given by the little folk, Masters Kennard Baily, Henry Tonkin, Jr., and Paul Jacobs, did splendidly. Misses Arminella Gambrill and Mary Ahern each recited nicely. Mrs. Dr. Jacobs and Mrs. T. A. Vansant recited very appropriate selections which were very much appreciated. The choir sang a pretty anthem, and solos were sung by Mrs. S. W. Mallalieu, Miss Margaret Jones and Mrs. F. L. Smith. Relatives here of the United States Ambassador to Mexico, Powell Clayton, have received news of the engagement of Miss Maggie Clayton to the Baron Ludivor Moncheur, recently appointed the Belgian Minister to Washington, D. C. The formal announcement of the betrothal was made public in the City of Mexico a few days ago. The wedding will take place in that city the latter part of October, and the Baron will bring his bride to Washington immediately afterward. Baron Moncheur is well-known in Washington. He was the guest of the former Belgian Minister, Count Lichtervelde, for several weeks last autumn. He is in his 30th year, and has been married before to an American lady. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Saved His Boys Life.

"I believe I saved my (nine year old) boy's life this winter with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says A. M. Hoppe, Rio Creek, Wis. "He was so choked up with croup that he could not speak. I gave it to him freely until he vomited and in a short time he was all right." For sale by M. A. Toulson.
