"Vive la Republique!"
VIVE LES PILLULES VEGETALES INDIENNES DE WRIGHT!

LONG LIVE THE REPUBLIC! LONG LIVE WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS! Another crisis in the affairs of humanity has passed; another FEVER turned; the hostile elements have met—the battle is fought and won!

FRANCE IS FREE!

A long struggle it has been—first bursting into the wild excesses of sudden political emancipation—then relapsing under a victorious leader; then snapping the chains imposed by the allied powers—and again yielding to time-serving conservatism. But France has tasted the sweets of Liberty. Could she forget it? No! Her perfidious king was, in the splendor of his power, driven ignominiously from his throne, and France—glorious, liberty-loving France, has again taken her place in the van of nations.

VIVE LES PILLULES VEGETALES INDIENNES DE WRIGHT!

Napoleon said that "the stomach governs the world." Nations are distinguished by the quality of their cookery, and are indebted greatly for energy of character to the perfection of digestion. While the ancient Romans lived in simplicity, they were invincible; but when luxury crept in, physical and mental enervation followed, until they were no longer able to resist the more hardy northerners. By improving digestion, and removing morbific humors, WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS become a great moral and political engine. They clear the head, and by the buoyancy of spirits which they impart, improve the heart. They thus exercise a powerful influence in favor of civil liberty. The energy of a people depends measurably upon the health of a people, and the maintenance of their rights depends upon their energy. Therefore give health, and you give energy, and sustain popular government.

Let all, then, cherish health, not merely for the enjoyment which it brings, but for the gigantic interests which depend upon it. Let Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills be used in the spring, to prevent disease in the fall. Had Louis Philippe been a man of common sagacity, he would have ceded to the people those little reforms for which they asked, and would thus have staved off a revolution. But he not only denied them, but added insult to injury, by curtailing the few privileges which the people had. Matter and mind are governed by the same general laws. Abuses may accumulate in the human body, which a revolution alone can remove; whereas, by moving in time, the evil day is postponed indefinitely,

TO THE FREEMEN OF DORCHESTER COUNTY.

I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff, and respectfully solicit your suffrages, at the next election.

I have thus announced myself, because I thought it was my privilege as a freeman, and because many friends from various sections of the county (and of both political parties,) have advised me to this step.

You all know my politics, and if you did not, there is no occasion for me here to avow them.—I do not come before you as a party candidate, because I honestly believe party opinions or prejudices have nothing to do with the administration of justice. I ask your votes, fellow citizens, on higher grounds. The public business, in all its varied relations, is in the keeping of the Sheriff. Life, liberty, and property are all in his hands, under the law; and to be a faithful and impartial officer he should know, in the discharge of his duty, no particular party.

I promise you therefore, if elected, to endeavor to perform the duties of the office of Sheriff in strict accordance with the views here briefly expressed. My Jurors shall be fairly selected from THE BEST MEN OF BOTH PARTIES, and the great complaint on this important matter heretofore, shall, if I am elected be silenced, during my administration of the public duties.

I shall feel thankful for your votes, and with a wish and hope that I may get enough of them to elect me. I am very respectfully your humble servant.
