Marine, Stevens, Andrews and Gill, of the sophomore class, won the mile relay. Jefferson, Biddle, Nicholson and Noble, representing the seniors, were second, with Porter, Merrikin, Trader and Stevens, freshmen, third, and the preps fourth.

Mrs. Hope H. Barroll gave an informal reception to the young ladies of Normal Hall and the faculty of Washington College, from six to eight o'clock at her home, Byford, on Tuesday evening. She was assisted in receiving her guests by Misses Anna V. Smith, Mary Rogers, Lottie Wickes, Annie and Louise Stam, and Rebecca Eliason.

PIERIA EVENING.

The annual entertainment by the Ladies of the Pieria Literary Society, took place in Stam's Hall on Tuesday evening. Miss M. Louise Edwards, recitationist, one of the most charming entertainers in the State held her audience delighted thoughout the following pleasant program:

Trial Scene—"The Merchant of Venice," Wm. Shakespeare; Music; "Magdalena or the Spanish Duel," J. F. Waller; "Sandy McDonald's Signal," Anon; Music; "A Set of Turquoise," T. B. Aldrich; "The Lady or the Tiger," Frank Stockton; Recitationist, Miss M. Louise Edwards.

ALUMNI BANQUET.

After the exercises at Stam's Hall about sixty members of the Alumni Association assembled in the parlor of the Voshell House preparatory to partaking of a feast, Mine Host Lambert, had prepared for the Association. The committee in charge of the banquet, Prof. J. S. W. Jones, W. B. Usilton, Jr., and Dr. H. G. Simpers, left nothing undone to make this affair one of the enjoyable parts of the Commencement exercises, and well did they succeed.

When the guests assembled around the festive board the menu cards announced the following:

MENU.

Spring Chicken, Maryland Style.
Wine Baked Ham, Soft Shell Crabs a la Kent.
Chicken, a la Terrapin, Beef Tongue,
Chicken Salad, Potato Salad,

Every one present did justice to the sumptous supper before them. Having feasted the inner man, Hon. Marion De Kalb Smith who was toastmaster, announced that the time had arrived and we would now enjoy a feast of reason. This proved to be the most enjoyable part of the banquet. Dr. J. R. Micou, in his usual witty manner responded to the toast, "The Faculty." Other responses were made to toasts as follows: "The Alumni" Harry J. Hopkins, Esq., of Annapolis; "The Ministers," Rev. J. Wilson Sutton; "Medicines," Dr. H G. Simpers; "The Press," S. Chester Coursey, of Centreville, and Oscar Purnell, of Snow Hill; The College—its future—Dr. C. W. Reid. Before leaving the banquet table the guests sang "Auld Lang Syne."

The degree of A. M. was conferred up on William C. Poole, class of '99 and upon William N. Sherwood, '98.

Misses Ida G. Dean, Clara L. Jones and Isabelle P. Barber were granted life certificates in the Normal Department.

The annual game of baseball which figures as one of the exciting and interesting events of each commencement, was played on Wednesday between the college team and a picked nine from Middletown, Del. While some rather poor ball was played on each side, there were spurts of really professional work and the game was intensly interesting from start to finish.

The record of the game follows:
