Shirts.

Bought away last October, before the exhorbitant prices of cotton affected the wholesale markets—hence our low prices on them. Genuine Madras Shirts for 25c; a better one wit cuffs attached or detached at 50c. These are goods that we can't buy today at these figures—no duplicates—better come early.

Clothing.

As fine a collection of Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits as ever graced the tables of an Eastern Shore clothing house. Prices right. Everything marked down in plain figures here. We despise discrimination. We are for straight-forward, open and above board business every time—reliable merchandise at a legitimate profit. We sell nothing below cost.

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF BURIAL LOTS IN CHESTER CEMETERY.

The Chester Cemetery Company by recent action of its Board is now prepared to enter into a contract with its lot owners to keep their lots in first class order perpetually. This guarantees the owner that his lot will be taken care of, not only after his death but even after the death of all the family.

There is no sadder sight in a cemetery than to see the lot of a one time prosperous owner in weeds, briars, overgrown bushes, &c., and for reason that the family have either all died, removed or else forgotten their duty to the remains of their ancestors.

Those who secure a contract as above will have no apprehensions of this fate to their lots. For terms apply to

A Fine Programme.

From present prospects the concert to be given by the Glee and Mandolin Club on Thursday evening next, May 5th, will be a grand success. Many of the town people are anxiously awaiting the day, as is evident from their continuous inquiries. Dr. Cain who was instrumental in organizing the two clubs, has from the start given his valuable assistance, without which the degree of efficiency which the clubs have now obtained would never have been reached.

Proceedings of Circuit Court.

When we went to press on Friday afternoon the case of George Thomas White vs. James Brice, in a suit for $3,000 damages due to injuries received by the bite of Mr. Brice's dog, was before the jury. The case was given to the jury on Saturday afternoon, and after deliberating for some time, the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff of $40 and costs. M. deK. Smith, Esq., was counsel for Mr. Brice, and Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., and John D. Urie, Esq., for White.

MONDAY.

Court convened on Monday with Judges Pearce and Brown on the bench. The case of Harrison W. Vickers vs. Jefferson D. Bacchus was called. This is a case in which Mr. Vickers sued Mr. Bacchus for damages done by the defendants employees to the woodland on the plaintiff's farm near town. The entire day was consumed in hearing the testimony of the plaintiff and his witnesses.

TUESDAY.

Judges Pearce and Brown on the bench. Case of Vickers vs. Bacchus concluded. Case given to the jury in the afternoon. Verdict for the plaintiff for $25 damages.

These cases, together with the Washington College case proved very interesting to the people generally, and during their continuance the court room was filled with interested listeners. R. D. Hynson, Esq., represented Mr. Vickers and M. deK. Smith appeared for Mr. Bacchus.

Court adjourned until Tuesday next, when the case of Fannie B. Roy against the Tolchester company will be heard.

OYSTER SEASON ENDS.

One of the Most Unprofitable in the History of the Business.

The oyster tonging season on the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries closed on Monday last after one of the most unprofitable years ever experienced by the Maryland contingent that follows oystering for a livelihood. The boatmen have had until today in which to dispose of stock which may be on hand. The succulent Chesapeake bivalve is now outlawed until next September and the clam will be left in undisputed possession of the field. It is the general opinion of the tongers and buyboat captains that the season has been one of the worst in the history of the business. With the great army of tongers in enforced idleness during the greater part of the winter months, their vessels have been practically out of commission for a longer time than was ever known, and heavy losses resulted. The oystermen of the county had but five days work from the first of December to the first of March, practically speaking, but since that time weather conditions have been more favorable and the oystermen have been able to work, though the catch has been small.

Now that the closed season has arrived many of the tongers, or those who own suitable vessels, will engage in the freighting business on the Maryland rivers. This work is pleasant and moderately profitable. Many of the boats will freight grain, tomatoes and fruit to Baltimore, and will bring back freights of coal, fertilizers, lumber and general merchandise. The prospect is for an abundant crop of fruit, and a fair crop of grain; and the oysterman may be able to make up for his lost time in the winter. A prominent oysterman said the other day, "no one in the business has been able to make 'both ends meet' this season., and I am glad the business is over. When the grain and fruit season comes on we may be able to do a little better."

State Council Jr. O. U. A. M.

The Thirty-Fifth Convention of the State Council of Maryland of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics began on Tuesday, and closed Wednesday afternoon, at Heptasophs' Hall, Cathedral and Preston streets, Baltimore. The principal business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows:

State Councilor—G. Webb, of Baltimore.

State Vice-Councilor—Jas. H. Smith, of Cecilton.

State Secretary—C. S. Davis, of Baltimore.

Assistant State Secretary—C. F. Lindsay, of Baltimore.

State Treasurer—W. L. James, of Baltimore.

State Conductor—J. A. Young, of Cumberland.

State Warden—J. F. Grinder, of Creagertown.

State Inside Sentinel—C. N. Satterfield, of Rock Hall.

State Outside Sentinel—R. F. Richards, of Hampstead.

State Chaplin—J. H. Phelps, of Savage.

National Representatives. For three years—C. L. Dusang, of Hagerstown.

For one year—G. E. Mason, H. G. Stover of Baltimore, and L. C Webster, of Somerset county.

It was decided to meet at Hagerstown next year.

Deputy National Councillor W. C. Graham, of Philahelphia, and State Councilor George W. Arnold, of Pennsylvania, addressed the body on Wednesday, and when the new officers were installed the annual session closed.

The annual report to the State Council showed a total membership of 21,344; a gain of 2474 for the year.

CONFESSES THE MURDER.

Mrs. Mary Powell Confesses to the Murder of Estelle Albin, Near Bowers Beach.

A correspondent from Dover, Del., to the Baltimore papers on Monday, says:

Mrs. Mary A. Powell today confessed to the murder of Estelle Albin, her foster daughter, at the Powell home, near Bowers Beach, on February last. The confession was made shortly after the grand jury had returned a true bill of indictment against Mrs. Powell.

The murder of Miss Albin was unusually brutal. Her body, which was cut and bruised in scores of places, had been dragged from the cellar to the attic of the Powell home. Suspicion rested upon Mrs. Powell as she was the only person who had been seen about the house on the morning the murder occured. She was arrested on the day of Miss Albin's funeral, but maintained that she was innocent up to the time of her confession. Jealousy is said to have prompted the crime.

Later reports from Mrs. Powell's counsel deny that Mrs. Powell has made any confession whatever of having committed the crime.

A New Postoffice.

It is rumored that Rev. Samuel A. Thomas, of Philadelphia, has leased his store room on High street, recently handsomely remodeled by contractor Walter T. Pippin, to the United States Government for use as a post office for Chestertown. The rumor goes that Mr. Thomas' contract with the government requires that the building shall be equipped with modern cabinets, call boxes, etc., and all the facilities of a first-class post office. Postmaster M. W. Thomas was not concerned in the deal except as to the interior arrangements, negotiations having been made directly between the post office department and the owner of the building. It is said that the new office will be ready for occupancy by the first of June.
