BY M. F. T. TUCKER.

This is a simple song, 'tis truc-My songs are never over-nice; Aud yet I'll try and scatter through, A little pinch of good advice. Then listen, pompons friend, and learn Never to boast of much renown; For fortune's wheel is on the turo, And some go up, and some come down.

I know a vast amount of stocks A vast amount of pride insures; But fate has picked so many locks, I wouldn't like to warrant yours. Remember, then, and never spurp, The one whose hand is hard and brown, For he is likely to go up, And you are likely to come down.

Another thing, you will agree, (The truth may be as well confessed,) That "Codfish Aristocracy," Is but a scaly thing at best; And though the fishes, large and strong, May seek the little ones to drown;

Yet fishes all, both great and small Are going up and coming down. Our lives are full of chance and change, And chance, you know, is never sure; And 'twere a doctrine new and strange,

That places high are most secure, And though the fickle god may smile, And yield the sceptre and the crown, 'Tis only for a little while, That B. goes up and A. comes down.

This world for you and me, my friend, Hath something more than pounds and pense; Then let me humbly recommend A little use of common sense; Thus lay all pride of place aside,

And have a care on whom you frown, For fear you'll see him going up, When you are only coming down.
