ROCK HALL.

There is scarcely a town in the county that is more desirably located for the advantages of trade than is the town of Rock Hall. Conveniently located on the bay, and in the heart of a thickly populated district, it has sources from which to draw purchasers and attract buyers. The people of Rock Hall are among the best and most substantial in the county. Industrious, zealous of their rights, and yet ever extending the glad hand to the stranger, they are home builders and guard the precincts of their domiciles with commendable zeal. The merchants of Rock Hall know the needs of their trade; and their stores are well stocked with the commodities that are necessary to meet the demands of the public. The interior arrangements of their places of business and the general tone of their surroundings indicate thrift and ability to conduct a successful business. In a word the people and merchants of Rock Hall are thoroughly abreast of the times, and are as hospitable and loyal in their social relations as it is possible to be. Aside from these features Rock Hall possesses the rarest opportunity to become one the largest and most thriving towns on the Eastern Shore. With its magnificent expanse of water front and its abundant supply of labor, there seems to be every inducement for the attraction of manufacturers who could employ this labor. There is also the desirable water location for a summer home which the city man so much desires, and if the people of the town organize for the purpose of advertising the advantages, there is no telling what may happen to Rock Hall when the railroad is extended there, and when its citizens realize what an opportunity they have to boom their town. There is no town in the State so admirably located for manufacturing purposes if the people will but offer the inducement of fine sites, or something equivalent, and there is no better place in the world for the location of the summer home, if the people can only make the city man believe that the bay in front of the town is alive with fish, oysters and crabs, and that the atmosphere is conducive to splendid health. All that is needed is to properly advertise these advantages to the outside world. We would say that Rock Hall immediately organize an Improvement Association for the development of their town. We may safely advise that the Pennsylvan ia railroad will be extended to the town in the near future, and now is the opportunity for the People of Rock Hall to organize for such development and progress as will provide ample means of support should the oyster leave its old haunts, and the crab and fish seek other waters. We believe the people are alive to the situation, and we are sure they have shown sufficient energy and public spirit in the past as to justify us in the belief that they will make the town what the opportunities offer.

G. E. LEARY & SON.

Lumber, Planing Mills.

Prepared by an excellent stock and mechanical equipment and by the ownership and operation of its own transportation facilities to execute contracts of any magnitude the lumber yards and planing mills of G.E. Leary & Son may well claim the distinction of enjoying advantages possessed by few and excelled by no similar concern on the Eastern Shore. This enterprise is located just outside of the village of Rock Hall on Grey's Inn creek, a tributary of the Chester river, and occupies an area of nearly five acres of ground which has a water front to wharf ten feet in depth. The plant comprises large stocks of lumber for structural work of all kinds, a planing mill equipped with three planers, moulding machines, turning lathes, mortisers, band saws, etc., a saw mill and tracks for tram cars throughout the property, making each department easily available and maintaining thereby time and labor-saving facilities. By the superiority of their equipment, Leary & Son are prepared to supply complete bills of lumber, and manufacturing window and door frames and all kinds of turned work, they are in a position to quote figures that mean a saving to the contractor or property owner. They also manufacture a patented peach basket. This basket's hoop of wood is reinforced by a wire encircling it all around thereby giving it additional strength to stand all the necessary wear and tear of handling. Orders are excuted for property owners and contractors residing throughout Kent, Queen Anne's and Anne Arundel counties in which territory an established patronage is enjoyed and which continues to grow constantly in a gratifying manner. Recently Leary & Son added to their equipment a handsome 25 H.P. boat of the Chesapeake "bugeye" type which in construction and mechanical equipment is a "model" of its type. This boat is used for the transportation of the crude and finished material and its ownership and operation controls conditions that enter largely into the cost of all building material. The advantages derived from the ownership of the "Bye," so called from a nursery name given to one of Mr. Leary's family, have resulted in an increased business of over thirty three per cent. and growing constantly. This business was established in 1870 by G. E. Leary, father of the present owner and former partner of the co-partnership, and who died in 1899, leaving the ownership and management to his son, E. E. Leary, who has since conducted it succesfully, and by adopting and enforcing the most progressive methods has brought it up to a leading and an important position in its line. Mr. Leary is assisted by his son, G. E. Leary, who attends to all the office duties in which he has demonstrated pronounced efficiency and business ability.

In its equipment, in the progressiveness characteristic of its career, in the exceptional character of the facilities possessed, facilities that secure the minimum cost of manufacture, the enterprise conducted by Leary & Son has nothing whatever to fear from competition in its line, and can as a result of the advantages possessed insure prompt delivery on all contracts, the lowest prices to be obtained anywhere and a class of productions that bear all the evidence of experienced skill and practical knowledge. E. E. Leary, the owner and manager of the business, is one of the representative citizens and business men of the Eastern Shore and has achieved success through hard and earnest effort, enterprising methods, reliable representation and performances and pronounced business ability. These qualities are the most effective trade builders and in this, as in all other enterprises where they are to be found, they have achieved for the business a prosperous career in the past and a promising future.

THE ROCK HALL DEPARTMENT STORE.

M. T. Miller, Prop'r.

In the variety of its stock equipment, anticipating as it does a wide range of life's necessesities and carrying out effectively the department store method of many stocks under one roof thereby maintaining the advantages of convenient and time saving methods in buying, the department store conducted by M. T. Miller maintains constantly for the inhabitants of this community the most modern facilities in store keeping and trade conditions that in some respects are on a par with the best of metropolitan advantages and in other respects exceed them. This stock equipment includes a choice collection of dress goods, notions, furnishing goods, a splendid line of ladies', men's and children's shoes; novelty goods that anticipate an endless variety of needs, a full assortment of the best productions in pure foods, queensware, mattings and oilcloths, stoves, harness, stock and poultry foods, garden seeds, paints and painters' supplies, farming implements, etc. The present enterprise had its inception in 1894 when Miller Bros. succeeded A. Casey who had for a number of years conducted business at Rock Hall. Miller Bros. began at once to lay the foundation for a successful career and introduced methods whose enterprise and aggressiveness found an immediate response. This career was in a measure checked by the fire of April 13th, 1900, when a total loss was experienced and from the wreck of ashes and disappointed hopes and ambitions arose the present enterprise, the successor, and conducted by a member of the copartnership of Miller Bros. Its rise again to popular favor after such a discouraging experience and once again in the possession of a superior stock equipment are evidences of that grit, perseverance and determination which are only stimulated by reverses and calamity and which in rare instances rise superior to them. Behind the building-up process was that element of reliability which had characterized all trade relations, which was indestructible and which in starting over again was the most valuable because the most popular asset.

Mr. M. T. Miller is a native of Kent county in the vicinity of Rock Hall, throughout which section he is esteemed for his integrity, reliability and business ability, qualities that are the best of trade builders and keep alive trade conditions wherever are honest equivalents, a cordial service and the most satisfactory relations from the beginning to the end of every transaction.

M. KRAMER.

Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes.

With a choice and carefully selected stock equipment and with a service characterized by both courtesy and promptness in anticipating and supplying the needs of patrons, M. Kramer maintains for the inhabitants of Rock Hall and its adjacent territory the very best of trade advantages. These advantages comprise variety of both quality and price to satisfy all conditions and tastes and productions of the leading mills and markets that stand the test of being honest equivalents.

Mr. Kramer carries constantly select assortments of dry goods, clothing, notions, furnishing goods, mattings, an excellent collection of shoes, which collection contains the Rice and Hutchin's men's shoes, the "Snow" footwear, the Dolly Madison, Faultless and Popularis makes, so well known and so thoroughly established. The clothing line represents the productions of leading makers and contains the latest styles in a variety of sizes and qualities based on first-class workmanship and sold at prices guaranteed lower than can be secured in Baltimore. Mr. Kramer began business in Rock Hall about five years ago and has by honest and reliable methods during the intervening years built up a splendid patronage and a stock equipment that gives patrons money-saving trade advantages. As a citizen and business man Mr. Kramer is among those who co-operate earnestly for local development and loses no opportunity to advance Rock Hall's interests in every way possible. He takes an interest in fraternal affairs and as a member of the order of Red Men and of the Knights of Pythias cultivated that spirit of good fellowship and fraternity so characteristic of these organizations.

T. B. DURDING.

Pharmacy.

The pharmacy occupies a position of pronounced importance among the retail enterprises of every community, since in its ministrations it conserves health, supplementing in this respect the skill and knowledge of the practitioner. In the pharmacy conducted by T. B. Durding the inhabitants of Rock Hall and vicinity enjoy every advantage known to the line. These advantages are embodied in a select and complete stock equipment, and in a service of recognized reliability and of admitted skill and accuracy in the prescription department. The stocks carried comprise a full line of drugs, all the leading proprietary medicines, druggist sundries, perfumes and toilet articles, and a complete assortment of stationary and confections. This establishment is the selling agency for the celebrated B. P. S. Paints of which a complete line of colors is kept constantly on hand.

Mr. T.B. Durding is a native of Kent county and has spent his lifetime with its people. He established his present business in 1893, and from its inception dates the superior advantages that have since been maintained in this line, and which meet with substantial recognition in a nice business and an established patronage. Mr. Durding is among Kent county's enterprising citizens and business men and the standing and reputation his business enjoys reflects the characteristic of reliabiiity, energy and honest endeavor so essential to the success and popularity of every undertaking engaged in supplying the needs of the public.

He is also a director in the Second National Bank of Chestertown, one of Maryland's thriving and popular monetary institutions.

J. F. LEARY.

Pharmacy, Dry Goods, Groceries.

In securing drugs and medicines great care should be exercised to select an establishment presided over by a pharmacist of pronounced skill and experience, and whose accuracy and reliability are thoroughly established.

Possessing all these qualifications to an eminent degree J. F. Leary maintains for the people of Rock Hall and vicinity the most favorable advantages in his line.

A native of Baltimore, in which city he served a thorough apprenticeship at the drug business and attended a complete course at the Maryland College of Pharmacy, of which institution he is a graduate, J. F. Leary settled in Rock Hall in 1876 and began business. At his storequarters he carries a full line of drugs, the leading proprietary medicines, toilet articles, druggists sundries, etc. He also keeps in stock the best values to be obtained in dry good s and notions and the established pure foods in a general line of groceries. As a pharmacist Mr. Leary holds a certificate for efficiency from the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association, of which organization he has served as vice-president and on several important committees, positions which are the substantial recognition of his ability and experience by the druggist fraternity of the state.

In his line Mr. Leary offers every advantage, and being among the reliable and representative citizens of the community, enjoys an established patronage and the confidence and esteem of the public at large.

THOS. H. CASEY & CO.

Funeral Directors and Embalming.

The important consideration in the care and burial of the dead is the character of the service rendered. This service is first class only when the embalming is done satisfactorily and when the eqipment is such in funeral furnishings and appointments as to respond to the reqirements of the occasion in point of refinement and in the observance of all ceremonials befitting the occasion and in conformity with the most approved methods and prevailing customs.

Such a service is rendered by the firm of T. H. Casey & Co., of Rock Hall, who began business five years ago, successors to the late Jas. E. Blackiston, and who have during their career built up an excellent reputation as funeral directors and embalmers, a reputation which has received the recognition and preference of leading families throughout the entire southern part of Kent county. Aside from the thoroughly practical knowledge possessed by T. H. Casey as an embalmer this concern possesses an equipment of two funeral cars, a team of jet black horses and all the equipment for a prompt and an excellent service. Casey & Co. carry constantly a stock of the latest desgins in caskets and fine funeral furnishings so that orders can be attended to immediately on receipt and the best of service rendered.

F. H. and James A. Casey compose the firm. They are among the represenative citizens and reliable business men of Kent county and are well and favorably known throughout this section. Their equipment supplies an unexcelled service for which they are to be commended for their enterprise and progressiveness and merit for their efforts in providing the best facilities known to the profession, the recognition accorded them, when the occasion demands the services of the funeral director and embalmer.

TRADE REVIEW.

A. ALEXANDER & SON.

General Merchandise.

For nearly forty years the name of Alexander has been familiar in the homes of the people in this section, and during all that period and to-day it stands and has always stood for honest values and reliable representation. It meant the best possible market advantages by means of which food and clothing have been kept down to the minimum cost to the consumer, and by means of which investments for living needs at home brought greater results than could be obtained in Baltimore or any of the great cities. This business had its inception in the gloomy period succeeding the Civil War, and was founded by A. Alexander, who has during every day of its career given it personal supervision, and who, with his son, M. Alexander, later admitted to partnership, has built up a representative patronage and an exce lent reputation. This concern carries constantly a large and select line of dry goods, dress goods, notions, furnishing goods, millinery, hats and caps, boots and shoes, oil cloths and mattings, hardware, furniture, farm implements and a variety of articles used in the home, the garden or on the farm. All the stock equipment is the result of careful and experienced buying judgment, and contains the productions of leading mills and makers bought direct from the warehouses and factories, and represent the best values for the money to be found anywhere. As a result of facilities enjoyed and the liberal and reliable policy pursued in all trade relations, Alexander & Son enjoy a large, select and growing patronage, and rank among the leading retail enterprises of this section.

WILSON & MARLSBERGER.

General Merchandise.

Another of Rock Hall's reliable retail enterprises, and one which maintains for the community the most advantageous trade conditions through honest representation, honest equivalents and cordial treatment is the establishment conducted by Wilson & Malsberger, and which has done business here since 1897. This concern offers constantly the best productions for the morey from leading mills and makers in dress goods, dry goods, notions, boots and shoes, furnishing goods, groceries, queensware, etc. These goods are the result of years of buying experience, are sold strictly on their merits and as guaranteeing the full measure of value. This concern follows plain, practical and commonsense principles of conducting business, "bargain counter" methods prevail today in the large cities of the country, which attract but to disappoint and, otherwise, maintaining trade relations with patrons wherein reliability is the popular and pronounced feature. Reybold Wilson and A. H. Malsberger compose the firm which began business in Chestertown in 1894. Mr. Wilson has the entire management of the Rock Hall store, Mr. Malsberger's time being taken up with his business at Massey.

Mr. Wilson is among the well-known citizens and business men of Kent county, with whose affairs he has been associated for a lifetime, and with the result of being thoroughly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout this entire section.

R. S. CREW.

General Merchandise, Clothing, Furniture, Etc.

Having given an entire lifetime to the business of general merchandising, and possessing as a result a thorough knowledge of makers' and their productions of values, and of popular tastes and needs R. S. Crew is excellently prepared by this knowledge and by a select stock equipment to respond to all demands in his line. Having followed successfully his present business in the northern part of Kent county, R. S. Crew established his present enterpriss in Rock Hall twelve years ago, and during all the intervening years he has maintained for the people of this section progressive and reliable trade advantages. At his establishment he carries constantly the best values that can possibly be procured in dry goods, notions, furnishing goods, clothing, hats and caps, boots and shoes, mattings, queensware, groceries, furniture, etc., and quotes figures that are fair and, as compared with Baltimore prices, money saving During his career in Rock Hall Mr. Crew has built up an established patronage and an excellent reputation for integrity and reliability, verifying the familiar saying that at his storequarters the "child can buy as cheaply as can the man." R.S. Crew is among the esteemed citizens and business men of the community, and has contributed his share in maintaining trade conditions that give the people of this section excellent opportunities to secure at minimum prices the most satisfactory living advantages.

Government to Aid Oyster Survey.

The bill which had previously passed the House authorizing the Federal Government to co-operate with the Maryland Shell Fish Commissioners, in the oyster survey, passed the Senate the early part of last week. The measure was thoughtfully prepared and it is broad in its provisions. The Secretary of Commerce and Labor is authorized to designate such officers, experts and employes of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and of the Bureau of Fisheries as may be necessary to co-operate with the Maryland officials, and is to furnish the use of such instruments, appliances and steam launches as may be requisit e for the purpose. The act provides for making all the plats necessary to show the results of the survey and the location of the natural beds, and the Board of Shell Fish Commissioners are to be supplied with copies. The act gives the assistance of the Federal Government with the utmost liberality, and not only will the work of the Shell Fish Commissioners be immensely facilitated, but there will be a great saving of expense to the State.

The bill authorizes the expenditure of $15,000 in carrying out the purposes of the act.

TRADE REVIEW.

LANKFORD.

There is no town in the county which seems to serve such a unique purpose as the town of Lankford. It is the nucleus of a splendid agricultural community and is the headquarters whence emanate the supplies which the people cannot secure from any other source without considerable travel and inconvenience. The centre of the mercantile life of this important little village is the general store of Mr. Thomas W. Trew, where the people in Broad Neck and the surrounding country find an excellent supply in all the necessities of life. Lankford is one of the oldest towns in the county, and it supplies a want to that community which would be greatly missed by the inhabitants were the town blotted out of existence. Mr. Trew is the man who keeps alive the mercantile life of the community, and his store is well equipped with all that can be found in a well-stocked general store.

T. W. TREW.

General Merchandise.

Offering constantly the best values to be secured from leading mills and makes in a line of general merchandise T.W. Trew responds to the demands of patrons with honest equivalents and renders a prompt and courteous service.

Mr. True began business at Lankford about six years ago succeeding at that time J. V. Kilbourne. Under his ownership and management every effort has been exercised to maintain for the inhabitants of the vicinity the very best market conditions in both price and quality and as a result an established patronage is enjoyed. T. W. Trew is among Kent county's representative citizens and business men and is held in high esteem for the qualities of integrity and reliability which are features of all his representation and performances.

BETTERTON.

Betterton, the popular bayside resort and a thriving business center.

MRS. M. V. TURNER.

General Merchandise.

Since the inception of this business, four years ago, the inhabitants of Betterton and the adjoining neighborhood throughout Kent county have benefitted by the conveniences and advantages it has constantly maintained in supplying excellent market conditions for food and clothing. The stocks found in this establishment have been carefully selected and judiciously purchased from the leading wholesale markets and manufacturers at the lowest fractional figures. So the advantages of honest prices and fair equivalents Mrs. M. V. Turner adds a service in supplying the needs of patrons characterized by promptness and the most cordial and satisfactory trade relations.

Every effort is made to please and satisfy, and only through the medium of satisfaction is recognition and preference relied on. Mrs. Turner offers the best values in dry goods, notions, furnishing goods, tin, and granite ware, and pure foods in staple and fancy groceries.

Since beginning business Mrs. Turner has built up a select and a growing patronage by selling goods strictly on their merits, and by appreciating the recognition of patrons in rendering for every dollar invested its full measure of value.

The Transcript.

Subscription $1.00 Per Year.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1906.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Half Holidays.—On and after to-day (Saturday,) the Transcript office will be closed at noon on Saturdays' during the summer months, in order to give the editors and printers the benefit of the Saturday half holiday. This observance however, will not interfere with any pressing contracts or such jobs that may be on hand.

Elkton Man Buys Flyer.—The fast gelding "Elderone" by "Box Elder," 2.05¼, winner of the $5,000 stakes at Columbus, O., in 1903, won by Miss Fannie Jones, of Smyrna, in a lottery, in which there were 1200 chances at 50 cents each, has been sold, a special from that town says, to T. J. Murray, of Elkton, for $275. It is understood Mr. Murray bought the horse for a Philadelphian.

Sale of Cecil Bank Stock.—George W. Albaugh, a prominent capitalist of Westminster, largely interested in Maryland enterprises, has purchased part of Mrs. E. S. France's holdings in the Cecil National Bank, of Port Deposit, and with G. Baker, of Baker, Watts & Co., of Baltimore, was on Thursday elected a director. Mrs. France will continue as president, and L. G. White as cashier.

Farm Buildings Burned.—Fire last Friday afternoon destroyed the outbuildings and stables on the farm belonging to Mr. R. T. Turner, situated near Betterton, and tenanted by Mr. Loton Rasin. Mr. Rasin was at work sawing wood, and it is supposed that a spark from the engine set fire to the straw in the barn yard. About 100 bushels of corn were also burned. The buildings mere insured in the Kent Mutual. Mr. Rasin's loss, including farming implements will be about $500, with insurance in James G. Beck's agency.

Fine Strawberries.—Messrs. Chas. A. Smith and John C. Ryan, of Rock Hall, will please accept our thanks for several quarts of the finest strawberries we have ever seen. The berries are of the "Sharpless" variety, and we measured several. They measured 5¼, 4½ and 4 inches respectively in circumference, and were of delicious flavor. The berries were grown by Mr. John A. Smith, of Rock Hall, who has 10,000 of the plants for sale. Mr. Smith has a fine crop of the berries, and is receiving fine prices in city and local markets. It would pay any one to write to Mr. Smith for prices on his plants.

Petition to Combine Schools.—A delegation of patrons of what is known as the upper and middle schools in Quaker Neck, that is the school near Lover's Lane, taught by Miss Peterson, and the one below Pomona taught by Miss Ford, was before the Board of County School Commissioners on Tuesday for the purpose of securing a combination of the two schools into one to be located in the village of Pomona, and to so readjust the course of studies as to give better advantage to the school children of Quaker Neck. The patrons of the schools claim that such a combination will greatly benefit the community, and made a strong plea to the county board.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Andrew Woodall, of Baltimore, was in Chestertown on Tuesday on business in connection with the estate of his deceased father, Capt. Andrew Woodall. It is said that Mr Woodall is desirous of locating in Chestertown if he can purchase a desirable home.

J. H. C. Legg, Esq., of the Centreville bar, has been elected president of the Charlotte Hall Alumni Association.

Mrs. Jacob F. Thompson will please accept our thanks for a lovely bouquet of roses. There is no one in Chestertown who loves flowers more than Mrs. Thompson, and she usually has one of the prettiest flower yards in Chestertown.

The trustees and faculty of Maryland Agricultural College will please accept our thanks for invitations to attend the college commencement exercises from June 10th to 13th. The theses of the graduates, among whom is Mr. James Jesse Thomas Graham, of Queen Anne's, show the excellent training received at the college by the students, and the college is second to none in the standard and character of its graduates.

Mr. Samuel Vannort went to Baltimore on Thursday to make the first trip on the steamer Louise on the occasion of the opening of Tolchester Beach. Mr. Vannort was one of Capt. Eliason's guests on the afternoon trip. He returned to Baltimore, and he and his wife are spending Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Jas. W. Chapman, Jr.

Mrs. H. C. D. Wilkison and little son are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Barnes, on High street.

Mr. John Hudson, of the New York Clothing House, Baltimore, has been in Chestertown during the week "showing a fine line of samples of clothing" for which that reliable firm is noted.

Mr. William McIntyre, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McIntyre, on Kent street, during the week.

Miss Etta C. Briscoe, of Middletown, Del., is the guest of friends in Galena.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Robinson arrived in Baitimore from Goldfield, Nevada, on Wednesday, and went from there to visit his mother in Frederick county. They will be the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. Vickers at Lauretum Place, in about ten days. Dr. Robinson will remain East a month, but Mrs. Robinson will spend the summer in Chestertown.

Mr. Harry Rickey, of Philadelphia, visited his many friends in Chestertown on Thursday. Mr. Rickey is spending a month with relatives on Swan Point.

Mrs. Nevin, mother and sister, of Colorado, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. M. Brooks, at their country home near town.

Col. Wm. J. Vannort was present at the presentation of the handsome silver service to the Cruiser Maryland by the people of the State through Gov. Edwin Warfield, on Thursday. The presentation took place on the deck of the handsome cruiser, at Annapolis.

Mrs. Effie McIlheny, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Lambert on Mill street.

MISS. MILDRED KELLER.

RESTORED TO HEALTH. THANKS TO PE-RU-NA.

Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate.

Miss Mildred Keller, 718 13th street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can safely recommend Peruna for catarrh. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back.

"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried Peruna, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me.

"It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong."-Mildred Keller.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the above. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is receiving.

REVISED FORMULA. "For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of grateful friends, urging that Pe-ru-na be given a slight laxative quality. I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quite a length of time, and now feel gratified to announce to the friends of Pe-ru-na that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine which, in my opinion, can only enhance its well- known beneficial character.
"S. B. Hartman, M. D."

What shall it be?

That's the question that is asked over and over again when there is a present to be chosen for a school graduate.

Most people agree that it should come from a jewelry store—because somehow jewelry and presents are always associated.

If those interested only knew it, we could relieve them of their uncertainty in a minute.

Our stock furnishes the hints. It reveals in a minute more appropriate presents than anyone could sit at home and recall in a whole day.

So we invite buyers of presents, and we promise to make their choosing easy and their choice satisfactory.

Goods bought at our store will be engraved free.
