APPROVES CROTHER'S COURSE.

Grand Jury of Cecil County Rebukes Attacks on Him.

[From the Midland Journal, Rising Sun.]

In view of the fact that articles and alleged interviews have recently appeared in the columns of the Baltimore News censuring Judge Austin L. Crothers for his action in suspending sentence for violation of law in three cases of liquor selling by parties who pleaded guilty after being indicted by the grand jury of the March term of court, we, the members of that grand jury, wish to publicly state that Judge Crothers' action and disposition of the cases specified met with our unqualified approval and that we consider the articles an unwarranted attack on the integrity of the Court and an attempt to bring into disrepute the most effective prohibitory statute Cecil county has ever had in force. Amos R. Brown, (foreman), Cecil B. Ewing, Adam Peeples, James H. Maxwell, Walter W. Allen, Alfred Davis, Albert T. McCrery, Milton D. Fletcher, William J. Smith, Millard F. Magraw, Joseph S. Scarborough, George W. Williams, William P. Rowan, Harry M. Brown, Isaac T. Rogers, Isaac H. England, James M. Tosh, James T. Garrett, C. Jackson Campbell, Samuel H. Moore, Cecil C. Squire.

A few weeks ago the Baltimore News started a muck-rake campaign against Hon. Austin L. Crothers, Democratic nominee for Governor, and raked Cecil county over for muck of all kinds with which to besmirch him. Woven in with a few, very few, facts of minor import, to which no one would give passing notice, were scurrilous charges with no foundation whatever.

Among these latter was the charge direct and further by implication that he used his position on the bench for political purposes by suspension of sentence in a number of cases where the grand jury at the March term of court has brought indictments against parties for liquor selling and gambling and the parties had pleaded guilty. It was charged that the guilty parties were political friends and henchmen of Judge Crothers, and that further, he held in disregard the present prohibitory statute and contrary to the sentiment and desire of the citizens of the county suspended sentence in each instance.

In this connection it is pertinent to state that a local-option campaign is being waged in Delaware and the Wilmington Every Evening in espousing the license interest has been publishing alleged interviews with citizens of Cecil county—prominent and otherwise—in its efforts to prove local option an utter failure in this county. Among those interviewed were a number who stated that the law had been and was still being disregarded, and to their knowledge liquor was sold openly.

A reference to the court records of last March will show that among these prominent (?) citizens who have given this kind of testimony in the interviews are some who were summoned before the grand jury and that there are no indictments brought on the strength of their testimony. The inference is clear, therefore, that their desire is to discredit the law when they now state that there is as much liquor sold in the county as under license, and, further, when they express both publicly and privately their disapproval of the suspension of sentence in the cases mentioned it plainly shows political malice against Judge Crothers in the hope of creating sentiment hostile to his election as Governor.

The grand jury at that term of court is credited in these interviews and articles with being fearless and earnest in its labors to secure convictions, and the inference is given that they were much disappointed at the disposition Judge Crothers made of the indictment.

The grand jury was composed of men of various political faiths, three or more avowed Prohibitionists, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, and at the time they were a unit in their approval of Judge Crothers' action. To refute the unjust charge brought for campaign purposes, a personal letter from the Midland Journal to each of the grand jurors has brought forth their unqualified assent and desire that their names be attached to the foregoing card.

Thus is one of the malicious charges shown to be untrue and others could likewise be proved false were they worthy of notice.

The News can conduct a sewer campaign in Baltimore with its surplus muck. Cecil countians desire no more of it in a Gubernatorial campaign.

*†*Mr. Frank H. Greenwood, living on the Walker farm, will discontinue farming next year, and will remove to town, where he will occupy the Kelley residence on Queen street.

Camp 34 P. O. S. of A.

As the old flag floats to the breeze from the school houses and other institutions of learning teaching lessons of patriotism and fraternity, that will live as long as the world stands, and honor will be given to whom honor is due, it is a great pleasure to me to speak of Brother Wm. E. Valliant, who is one of our most splendid members, who has had the honor of being made President of our National Camp by a unanimous vote, which is an honor to Brother Valliant and to Camp 34, for he is one out of a thousand. Brother Valliant passed through the chairs of the State Camp and now sits down into the national president's chair of the P. O. S. of A., fully able to lead the national brethren by the still waters and through the green pastures of life to the tree whose leaves never wither and whatsoever it doeth shall prospes.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Capt. S. W. Bullen Found Unconscious in a Doorway.

Badly bruised about the head, Capt. Stanford W. Bullen, a native of Queen Annes county, and at one time an officer at the House of Correction, was found in an unconscious condition early Saturday morning sitting in the vestibule of his boarding house, at 206 Hanover street, Baltimore. He was carried to his room on the fourth floor, where he died shortly after 9 o'clock without regaining consciousness.

Capt. Bullen was 64 years old, and whether he met with foul play or not is a mystery which Coroner Otto M. Reinhardt, of the Southern district, who has been at work on the case, with the assistance of Sergeant Shulte, is trying to clear up.

However, the police are inclined to believe that his death was due to natural causes, as Mr. Reinhardt said that the bruises were not of a serious nature and could not cause the man's death. Behind his right ear his head was badly cut, but the skull was not fractured, while his nose was badly bruised and bleeding. He resided with his son, Hilbert Bullen, who is a painter.

After a careful investigation as to the cause of death, Coroner Reinhardt, of the Southern District, Monday rendered a verdict of death from an accidental fall.

Capt. Bullen was well-known in Rock Hall and the lower part of this county, where he was at one time in charge of the local police boat in Chester river.

Wedding Bells.

OREM—HARPER.

Miss Edith Harper, daughter of the late John C. Harper, of near St. Michaels, was married to Prof. Nicholas Orem, School Superintendent of Talbot county, Wednesday evening in Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, St. Michaels. Rev. O. W. de Venish, rector of the church, performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of panne crepe over taffeta, elaborately trimmed in princess lace. Her wedding veil was fastened with sprays of lilies of the valley. She was given away by her twin sister, Miss Ethel Harper, who was maid of honor. The matron of honor was Mrs. George G. Seibels, of Norfolk, Va., wife of Paymaster Geo. G. Seibels, United States Navy. Sidney Orem, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Robert S. Dodson, of St. Michaels; John S. McDaniel, of Easton; James Keating, of Centreville, Clifton Doll Benson, of Baltimore; Frank Seth, of Annapolis, and James D. Harper, of St. Michaels, brother of the bride. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at Beverly, near St. Michaels.

After a tour through the New England States Professor and Mrs. Orem will reside at the Hotel Norris, Easton.

Sporting Notes.

The annual foot ball season will open at Washington College on the new athletic field this afternoon when the college team will rush the pigskin against the strong Rock Hill College team. Game called at 3.30 P. M. Give the boys a crowd.

One of the greatest contests in the baseball world is the struggle for first place in the American League between Philadelphia and Detroit, the latter team being managed by Hugh Jennings, formerly of the Baltimore Eastern League team. There is only a hair's breadth between the two teams, and the loss of one game may decide the battle. Detroit in now ahead.

The fall harness meeting of the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Baltimore, which begins October 21 and continues for five days, promises to be the most successful in the history of the association. $10,500 has been offered in stakes and classes, and as it comes after the close of the Grand Circuit, some of the best horses in the country will be seen in the races. The entry list is said to be the largest in years.

Severely Injured.

Master Jessop Wilmer, the 13-year-old son of Mr. W. B. Wilmer, formerly of this town, met with a distressing accident on Monday afternoon. While driving from Lankford school to the home of his uncle, Mr. Charles Jessop, in Broad Neck, the lad got his foot caught in the carriage wheel. He was drawn out of the vehicle and terribly mangled, one leg was fractured, several ribs broken and his body crushed and lacerated. He was taken to a hospital in Baltimore Tuesday morning, accompanied by Drs. Hines. He is reported to be resting well.
