THE "Ladies Store" is now all aglow with the very newest things (FOR FALL) and you'll find that generous assortments are features in all departments; jewels of "purest ray serene" at prices that mean bargain prices. In fact, taken all in all, the "Ladies Store" presents the "Fairest of all the Autumn Openings."

While all departments are brimming full of the season's best articles, lack of space prevents giving each special mention, and we direct your attention to the thing mostly needed at present, viz.: Dress Goods, Silks, Shoes and Millinery and suggest that you read carefully what we have to say on these lines then journey hither and inspect, and we feel assured that the goodness of these articles will be recognized with a glance.

FALL DRESS GOODS!

Never before in our history has our Dry Goods department ever exhibited such a vast selection and varied line as may be seen this season. Everything that you may desire or could wish for is here in the greatest abundance at prices pleasingly moderate. Brown, which is the leading shade FOR FALL, is here in all the dainty checks, neat stripes and fancy plaids.

SILKS. SILKS.

We've every shape and model needed for every foot requirement.

New Fall styles are beauties. Remember, please, we guarantee our shoes.

MILLINERY!

Two Miles of Fairland.

Baltimore, Md., Sept.—"Two miles of fairyland passing in review before delighted spectators," this was the reply given by Mr. Jerome H. Joyce to a representative of this paper when asked to describe the electrical pageant that will form the night feature of Thursday, October 17th, of Old Home Week.

Mr. Joyce is chairman of a hard working committee that has been diligently laboring to make the pageant the most splendid affair of the whole week of beautiful parades. He has been pushing the details of the work so successfully that the entire program of that luminous night is now complete. The cars are under construction and the fairy queens, and beauteous maidens and elfs, and all the little people of the lands of wonder are training for the parts they are to play in the spectacle.

The electrical pageant will present a series of beautiful allegorical pictures that will stand out in the darkness of the night under the rays of thousands of multi-colored electric lights that will be mounted on the floats themselves. In order that the effect of the handsome pictures may not be marred by insinuating rays from outside sources it is purposed to have every light along route of the parade extinguished before the head of the procession arrives, thus leaving the luminous carnival to light its own way as well as to illuminate itself, which it will be abundantly able to do with the legions of incandescent bulbs which form such an important part of its adorment.

Five bands will furnish enlivening music for the noiselessly gliding floats, which will represent a variety of fairyland scenes, suggestively picturing the floral products and the seasons of Maryland. The human or fairy roles on the floats will be enacted by young men and women of the German singing societies who are training for their tasks with the usual vim evinced by these people in matters of this kind.

As an evidence of the magnificence of the parade it may be stated that the production will represent an outlay exceeding $10,000.

The parade will start from Baltimore and Smallwood streets, at 8 o'clock prompt, Thursday evening, October 17th, and move by way of Baltimore street to Broadway, to the foot of Broadway, and return over the same route.

The titles of the floats will be as follows: No. 3, The Birth of Day; No. 2, The Waters Under the Earth; No. 3, The Playground of the Sea; No. 4, Spring; No. 5, The Fernery; No.6, The Bower of the Wild Rose; No. 7, Summer; No. 8, The Wealth of Wisteria; No. 9, Where the Lily Blooms; No. 10, Autumn; No. 11, Maryland Daisies; No. 12, The Happy Land of Golden Rod; No. 13, Winter; No. 14, The Haven of Happiness; No. 15, Father Time; No. 16, At the Gate of Sleepyland.

A description of the floats is interesting and gives an idea of the ingenuity displayed in the organization of the big pageant.
