My! How Comfortable

When you say a thing is comfortable you mean it makes you feel pleased with yourself and all the world.

You close your eyes and forget you have feet, they feel so easy.

You open your eyes, look at your feet, and their tasty, natty appearance and feel more comfortable.

You open your pocket book, look at the dollar you saved and feel still more comfortable, and all because you bought

Wedding Bells.

HOOKER—STAM.

Miss Annie Harding Stam, daughter of Mrs. Annie H. Stam, of Chestertown, will be married at eleven o'clock this morning in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, to Dr. Richard Sydwell Hooker, of Philadelphia. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Henry B. Martin, rector of the church. The bride will be attired in a traveling suit of dark blue broadcloath, hat and gloves to match, and will be attended by her sister, Miss Louise Antoinette Stam, as maid of honor, and little Miss Susan Roberts Stam, the youngest sister of the bride as flower girl. Mr. Rudolph Stam, brother of the bride will give her in marriage. The groom will be attended by his nephew, Mr. William S. Hooker, of Philadelphia, as best man. Mrs. Mary Beck Roberts, aunt of the bride, will play the wedding march.

The ushers will be J. Guyon Roberts, Esq., of New York, Messrs. Donald F. Stam, Wm. S. and R. H. Collins, of Chestertown, brother and uncles of the bride. A wedding breakfast will be served after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, to the families of the bride and groom. The wedding party will leave in the afternoon. The out-of-town guests will be Miss Nellie Hooker, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wallace, of Washington; Miss Nannie Munnikuysen, of Belair; and Miss Janie Cooper, Miss Adams and Mr. Denning, of Baltimore.

MCKINLEY—YOUNG.

St. John's Church, Rock Hall, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning, when Miss Lillian Elizabeth Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Young, of Washington, D. C., became the bride of Mr. Joseph Leo McKinley, also of Washington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Heavey, and was followed by a nuptial Mass. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, roses, chrysanthemums and potted plants, intermingled with ferns. The bridal procession entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, skillfully rendered by Miss Nannie Taylor. First came the ushers, Messrs. William Camp and Paul Massey; next the matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Massey; then the maid of honor, Miss Mary Ringgold, with the best man, Mr. Lester McKinley, of Washington. Following these came the bride and groom. The bride wore a brown traveling suit with hat and gloves to match and carried bride roses. The groom was dressed in conventional black. The matron of honor wore white organdy and the maid of honor pink organdy, both wore pink and white hats and carried carnations. The ushers and best man wore black suits, white vests and ties and grey gloves. The bride and groom left on the noon boat for a trip south, after which they will reside in Washington. During the services Miss DeFord sang "O promise me" and "My Rosary". The bride comes from families that have been prominent in Maryland since colonial times. Mrs. J. C. Ringgold, with whom the bride has spent much time, tendered the bridal party a dinner Tuesday afternoon. The presents were many and varied—cut glass, silverware, Haviland china, pictures, rugs, etc. Among the guests from a distance were: Mrs. George Young, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Clark, Mr. McKinley, of Washington; Miss Mabel Pettyjohn and Mr. George Camp, of Wilmington, Del.

CREW—SIMPLER.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Mollie Crew, in Betterton, on Wednesday evening by Rev. E. H. Collins. The contracting parties were Mr. Leonard Monroe Crew, of Betterton, and Miss Emma Simpler, of Baltimore. The bride was beautifully attired in white net over white persian lawn, and carried a lovely bunch of white chrysanthemums. The groom wore the conventional black. The bridesmaid was Miss Grace Crew, sister of the groom and the best man was Mr. Chas. Snitcher, of Crumpton. After the ceremony refreshments were served in abundance. They received many useful presents among them being a very handsome chair. The room was beautifully trimmed in bush ivory ferns and chrysanthemums. Among those present were:—Rev. E. H. Collins, Mrs. Mollie Crew, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fogwell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry White and son, Mrs. Harry Crew and son, Emmit, Mrs. Charles Brice, Mrs. T. Wilmer, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Lewis McDade, Mrs. Clarence Newsome, Mrs. Fountain Crew, Mr. John Henry Crew, Misses Mary Kelley, Georgia and Myrtle Smith, Ida Brice, Helen and Hettie Crew, Abbie and Annie Kiker. Messrs. Melvin and Oliver Crew, Edward Kiker, Harris Crew, George Brice, Herman Crew, Tom Silcox, Norman Warren, Minor Crownhart and many others. Mr. and Mrs. Crew will reside near Still Pond.

WOODALL—MORGAN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Morgan, near Galena, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday at 12 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Mary W., became the bride of Mr. Walter R. Woodall, son of the late Richard Woodall, and grandson of the late Capt. Andrew Woodall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. C. Baker, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride was attired in a very becoming traveling suit of gray with hat and gloves to match. Immediately following the ceremony a luncheon was served to the family and guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Woodall left on the afternoon train for an extended wedding tour.

The Artesian Well.

Mr. Shanahan, who is boring the new artesian well for the Chestertown Water Company at their plant, reached a depth of 581 feet last week, when he struck a supply of water, which he believed upon an actual test would furnish 100 gallons of water per minute, as required by the contract which he had with the Water Board. This depth is but one foot greater than the present artesian well, and is located about 100 feet from the old well. It was hoped that the water in the new well would be of different character from that in the old well, and that it would be of an abundant supply. Mr. Shanahan, and the Water Board's superintendent, Mr. Wm. B. Usilton, began a test of the new well on Wednesday morning and they had not been pumping a half hour on the new well before they discovered that the supply of the old well was rapidly diminishing and that the character of the water in the new well was precisely what it is in the old. Consequently at a meeting of the Water Board and Town Commissioners on Wednesday evening with Mr. Shanahan, it was unanimously decided to go further down, and Mr. Shanahan was instructed to go down until he strikes a copious supply of pure water. Mr. Shanahan stated at the meeting that he believed this would be done somewhere about 800 feet. It is the intention of the Water Board to supply the town with an abundance of good, pure water, and it is believed that it can be done without trouble or excessive expense. The work of boring has been resumed. A new boiler has been put in the plant this week.
